The World Series Trophy

In just their fourth year of existence, the Diamondbacks brought the state of Arizona its first major sports championship in 2001.

The First Seven Years

1998 - D'Backs Debut in Desert

(65-97, Fifth in N.L. West)

*3.6 million visit Bank One Ballpark
during inaugural season*

After years of dreaming, and a three-year building process, Arizona finally entered Major League Baseball on March 31, 1998, as the Diamondbacks played their inaugural game against the Colorado Rockies in Bank One Ballpark. Andy Benes was the first-ever starting pitcher, and Travis Lee produced the franchise's first base hit and home run. The first win for the Diamondbacks occurred on April 5, with a 3-2 victory at home over San Francisco after the club opened up with 5 consecutive losses. The belief that Arizona was ready for the majors was validated at the box office, as the Diamondbacks played to 21 sellouts at Bank One Ballpark, and drew a total of 3,602,856 fans.

Arizona, like all expansion teams, struggled out of the gate, losing 31 of its first 40, but under manager Buck Showalter's guidance, the Snakes shed the look of an expansion team, and eventually tied a major league expansion team record by putting together a 7-game winning streak in early September.

The year was highlighted by players who came to Arizona from different paths. Free agency brought Jay Bell, who hit 20 home runs, while a trade on the night of the Expansion Draft brought Devon White, who led the club with 85 RBI and 22 stolen bases while tying Lee for the club lead in home runs with 22. Benes, who was signed as a free agent, posted a 14-13 record, with the 14 wins tying Tampa Bay's Rolando Arrojo for most wins by an expansion pitcher.

The Expansion Draft produced pitcher Omar Daal, whose 8-12 record was deceiving, considering his 2.88 earned run average, infielder Tony Batista, who hit 18 home runs, and outfielder David Dellucci who hit .260 while playing in 124 games. Reliever Gregg Olson, signed by the club as a minor league free agent, ended the season as the club's Pitcher of the Year, earning 30 saves, the second highest total in Major League expansion history.

Arizona gained national notoriety in an 8-7 win at San Francisco on May 28. With an 8-6 lead, two out in the bottom of the ninth and the bases loaded, Showalter elected to intentionally walk Barry Bonds, bringing home a run to cut the lead to 8-7. The move paid off, as Olson got Brent Mayne to line out to right to ice the win.

Interleague play was highlighted by a late June home series with Seattle, in which outfielder Yamil Benitez hit two dramatic homers. The first was launched 452 feet into Friday's Front Row, then 2 days later, Benitez hit a game-winning solo home run in the ninth, giving Arizona 2 of 3 against the Mariners. Benitez had made his way into the record books 2 weeks earlier, clubbing his first career grand slam on June 9 vs. Anaheim. In the top half of the same inning, Cecil Fielder also hit a slam, the sixth time ever that each team hit a grand slam in the same inning.

White and Lee represented the Diamondbacks at the annual All-Star Game, with White going 3-for-3 with a triple in the mid-summer classic in Denver, and Lee participating in the Rookie Skills Competition. Daal produced the first complete-game shutout in team history on July 30, blanking the Cubs on 4 hits.

Arizona posted a 13-16 record in August, with Olson saving 6 of the 13 wins. The highlight victory of the month occurred in the nightcap of a doubleheader in Philadelphia. After losing the opener 11-1, the Diamondbacks scored 5 times in the top of the ninth to tie the second game at 9-9, with White's three-run homer in the 11th producing a 12-9 victory. White drove in 5 runs in the contest, the third of 5 5-RBI games during the season.

By September, the Diamondbacks had left their first 40 games behind them, and played more like a contender. Not only did they split the 24 games played in the season's final month, 2 of the wins came at the expense of the Giants, who were battling for the National League Wild Card spot. Brian Anderson tossed a 1-0 shutout at Pittsburgh on September 3, while Benes posted a 3-0 record and 0.47 ERA for the month. Olson picked up 7 more saves, including his 200th career save on September 7. The month, and the inaugural season, ended with the Diamondbacks taking 2 of 3 games from the eventual National League champion Padres.

1999 - Fastest to First Division Crown

(100-62, First in N.L. West)

Diamondbacks dominate by 14 games with 100-win season...

Big Unit captures Cy Young Award

The Diamondbacks' commitment to winning produced historic results in 1999, becoming the fastest team to go from expansion to post-season, winning 100 games and the National League West in their second year of existence.

The foundation was laid during the winter, when the club made a series of free agent signings and trades to transform the roster. Randy Johnson, Todd Stottlemyre, Armando Reynoso, Steve Finley, Greg Colbrunn and Greg Swindell were signed as free agents while G.M. Joe Garagiola Jr. made trades to acquire Luis Gonzalez and Tony Womack.

With new talent surrounding them, returning veterans Jay Bell and Matt Williams flourished. Bell led the club with 38 home runs, while Williams hit 35 and drove in 142. Finley added 34 homers and 103 RBI. Gonzalez had a breakout season, batting .336, with 26 home runs and 111 RBI. Womack, who had led the National League in stolen bases the prior two seasons in Pittsburgh, topped the majors with 72 thefts, 1 shy of Arizona's team total in the inaugural season of '98.

Johnson, who returned to the National League midway through 1998, going from Seattle to Houston, anchored a pitching staff that posted a 3.77 ERA. The Big Unit led the majors with 364 K's and the league with a 2.48 ERA to procure his first N.L. Cy Young Award, second of his career. Omar Daal had a career season with a 16-9 record and 3.65 ERA, while Reynoso went 10-6.

Even with all the new talent, it took time for the Diamondbacks to gel, going 13-11 in April after a 1-5 start. Included was a 16-inning, 5-hour, 14-minute marathon against the Dodgers on April 13, highlighted by Kelly Stinnett's pinch-hit home run in the bottom of the 16th to tie the game at 6-6, and Dante Powell's game-ending RBI single. On April 11, Gonzalez began a hitting streak that would last 30 games, while Williams earned N.L. Player-of-the-Month honors, batting .357, with 8 homers and 25 RBI.

Arizona's fortunes turned in May as the club was 18-10, going from third place when the month began to a 3 1/2-game advantage by the end of May. Gonzalez continued his torrid hitting streak, a streak that ended in San Francisco on May 20. The marquee wins of the month were 3 consecutive victories at home over Montreal on May 10-12, all coming on home runs. Jay Bell ended the first game of the series in the ninth inning, then Luis Gonzalez was the hero in the middle game, extending his hitting streak with a 10th inning walk-off shot, followed in the series finale by Matt Williams, who capped the sweep of the Expos with a bottom of the ninth blast. Travis Lee's second grand slam of the season keyed a 7-3 win in San Francisco on May 18, putting Arizona alone in 1st place for the first time in franchise history. One setback in May occurred the night before Lee's grand slam, as pitcher Todd Stottlemyre was diagnosed with a partial tear of the right rotator cuff on the 17th.

The Diamondbacks struggled through June as their offense hit a collective slump. The low point came on June 25, when St. Louis righthander Jose Jimenez pitched the first no-hitter in Bank One Ballpark history. To make matters worse, Arizona wasted a strong effort by Johnson, who allowed just a run on 5 hits, while striking out 14. The lone run of the game came in the 9th inning. Things didn't get much better for the Big Unit over his next 3 starts as he was blanked each time out, giving the opposition 4 consecutive shutout victories over Johnson to tie a major league record, while the D'Backs were no-hit, 1-hit, 2-hit and 3-hit in succession.

With the All-Star break approaching, Garagiola worked some trade magic by making a dramatic move to improve Arizona's bullpen on July 9, acquiring closer Matt Mantei from Florida in exchange for pitchers Vladimir Nunez, Brad Penny and a player to be named. Mantei's first appearance as a Diamondback came 2 days later, as he earned the save in a 7-4 victory over Oakland in the final game before the break. That was also the day that Jay Bell won $1 million for a fan by hitting a tie-breaking grand slam in the fifth inning, the player and the inning that was predicted by that fan.

Out of the break, the Diamondbacks embarked on an 8-game road trip that proved to be the turning point of their season. On July 20, with Arizona just 4 games above .500, and 2 1/2 games out of first, Johnson took the mound against his former teammates in Seattle's new Safeco Field, and tossed an 8-hit shutout for a 6-0 Arizona win, the first-ever shutout in the Mariners' new home. The win sparked a run that saw the Diamondbacks post a 51-17 record over the season's remaining 68 games. It also started a run that saw the D'Backs win 10 out of 11 to close out the month.

Just 2 nights after Johnson's performance in Seattle, the Diamondbacks recorded another key victory as Tony Womack hit an inside-the-park grand slam off of Houston's Billy Wagner in the Astrodome to stake Arizona to a come-from-behind win. It was the first inside-the-park homer in franchise history.

Johnson was named National League Pitcher-of-the-Month for July, despite posting a 2-3 record. During the month, Johnson's ERA was 1.13, and he recorded 64 strikeouts.

The winning continued in August, as Arizona posted streaks of 5, 4 and 6 games, en route to a 20-8 record for the month, the best monthly mark in club history to date. Most impressive was that the majority of the winning occurred on the road, as Arizona took 5 out of 6 on a trip to Philadelphia and Chicago, and 6 out of 7 on a swing through Pittsburgh and Florida. Gonzalez led the offensive charge, batting .342 for the month, with 7 home runs and 24 RBI. In his first full month with the club, Mantei recorded 7 saves, allowing just 1 earned run over 10.1 innings pitched. By the end of August, the Diamondbacks' lead in the National League West had ballooned to 7.5 games. August also saw the return of Stottlemire, who opted not to have surgery on his torn rotator cuff. Instead, an intense rehab program put Stottlemire back on the mound in Pittsburgh on August 20, and he notched the first win after his return 5 days later in Florida.

Matt Williams hammered 35 home runs and drove in 142 to assist in leading the Diamondbacks to the fastest post-season qualification in expansion history.

Nothing changed in September, as Arizona took complete command of the race with a 19-7 finish. Fate played a part in the Diamondbacks' fortunes on September 5, as Arizona defeated Atlanta 7-5, when a 3-run, ninth inning rally was sparked when Stinnett reached first base after striking out on a wild pitch that had appeared to end the game.

Arizona passed the 1962 Los Angeles Angels as baseball's most successful second-year team by posting its 87th win of the season on September 13th over Pittsburgh. A season of remarkable firsts was capped on the night of September 24th, as the Big Unit pitched a complete-game, 11-3 win at San Francisco to give the Diamondbacks the N.L. West crown. Johnson was 3-0 in September, while Andy Benes posted a 4-1 mark. Matt Mantei added 6 more saves, and the Diamondbacks as a team batted .301.

The Diamondbacks' first trip to the post-season was a brief, but dramatic Division Series against the Wild Card New York Mets. After dropping the opener 8-4, Arizona bounced back to even the series behind a gutsy performance from Stottlemire, who limited the Mets to 4 hits over 6.2 innings, while Steve Finley drove in 5 runs in a 7-1 victory. The series then shifted to New York, where the Mets took Game #3, 9-2, then won the series on Todd Pratt's home run to center, just out of the reach of a leaping Finley, to take a 4-3, 10-inning victory.

The first major league free agent acquired by the Diamondbacks, Jay Bell led the club with a career-high 38 homers in 1999 and was voted by the fans to start in the All-Star Game in Boston.

Gonzalez led the National League in hits with 206 while finishing second in the batting race (.336) and second in doubles (45). Bell closed the year second in runs scored (132), while the foursome of Gonzalez, Bell, Finley and Williams all eclipsed the 100-RBI mark, the seventh time a quartet achieved that mark in league history. Johnson's Cy Young campaign included league leading totals in innings (271.2), complete games (12), ERA (2.48) and strikeouts per 9-innings (12.06).

Bell, Williams and Finley each earned National League Player-of-the-Week honors during the season, as did Johnson, who won the award twice. Finley earned his third career Rawlings Gold Glove, the first-ever for the Diamondbacks' franchise. Bell, Williams, Johnson and Gonzalez represented Arizona at the All-Star Game in Boston, with Bell and Williams becoming the first Diamondbacks to be voted into the National League starting lineup.

2000 - Late Tailspin Seals Fate (85-77, Third in N.L. West)

*D'Backs finish 12 games out...
Johnson wins second straight Cy Young Award*

A season of high expectations ended in frustration, as the Diamondbacks suffered through a series of injuries, winding up third in the National League West with an 86-76 record. The day after the regular season ended a change was made as manager Buck Showalter was relieved of his duties on October 2. He was replaced at the end of the month by former big league catcher and Diamondbacks broadcaster Bob Brenly.

The cast that made up the 1999 National West Champions was virtually unchanged as spring training began, but the first sign that things would be different in 2000 occurred during the final game of the exhibition schedule when third baseman Matt Williams fouled a pitch off his right foot, breaking the second metatarsal. He then suffered a right quadriceps strain during a rehab assignment in late May in El Paso, forcing him to go back on the disabled list. All told, Williams, who had been the cornerstone of the Diamondbacks offense during its first 2 seasons, would play in just 96 games, and not truly regain his form offensively until the final month of the season. Closer Matt Mantei also opened the season on the disabled list with tendinitis in his right biceps.

In spite of injuries, the Diamondbacks opened with their strongest start in history, going 16-9 in April to jump to a 1 1/2 game lead in the division. Randy Johnson was 6-0 with a tiny 0.91 ERA in April, earning National League Pitcher-of-the-Month honors, just the third pitcher in history to win 6 games before May 1. The Big Unit wound up winning a second consecutive Cy Young Award from the BBWAA. Todd Stottlemyre, still pitching with a partial tear in his right rotator cuff, went 4-1 during the initial month. Luis Gonzalez led Arizona's power numbers with 8 home runs, while Erubiel Durazo opened the year by batting .333 in 22 games.

The Diamondbacks also made a pair of "discoveries" prior to the 2000 campaign, signing 40-year-old righthanded pitcher Mike Morgan as a non-roster invitee to spring training, and signing infielder Craig Counsell after he had been released in March by Los Angeles. Morgan came on in relief of Stottlemyre on April 5 to pitch 4.0 shutout innings in an 11-3 victory over Philadelphia, to earn his first save in 9 years, and finished the month with 4 saves, 1 more than his previous career total. The club also bolstered its bench in a mid-June trade that brought outfielder Danny Bautista from Florida in exchange for utility man Andy Fox.

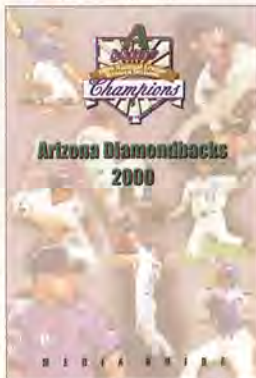

Arizona reeled off a 9-game winning streak in May, as well as an 11-game home winning streak, as they continued to pace the N.L. West. Womack assembled a career-best 24-game hitting streak, leading the club in batting for the month with a .347 mark. Steve Finley clubbed a franchise-record 9 home runs in May, while driving in 31. The Diamondbacks' starting pitching, in particular its top 2 pitchers, continued to dominate, with Johnson going 3-1 and Stottlemyre posting a 4-2 mark. For the first 2 months of the season, Johnson and Stottlemyre had combined to post a 17-3 mark. Meanwhile, Mantei had returned to the 15-day D.L. due to shoulder weakness, opening the door for Byung-Hyun Kim, who had come to the Diamondbacks in 1999 from Korea and assumed the closer's role by posting 5 saves and a 2-1 record.

The final game of May saw the Diamondbacks finish their first-ever triple play, in the fifth inning of a home game against St. Louis, as Steve Finley took a fly ball to center, threw in to catcher Damian Miller to tag Placido Polanco at the plate, with Miller firing to Tony Womack covering third for the tag on Edgar Renteria.

The Diamondbacks' injury problems continued to mount during a 13-14 month of June, including a 3-9 road mark, and a 5-game losing streak during a road trip to Texas and Chicago. Williams, Durazo and Stottlemyre all ended up on the D.L., with Stottlemyre's injury being the most painful. During the first inning of the June 25 game at home against Colorado, Stottlemyre was forced to leave due to an inflamed right elbow. This, after Stottlemyre had been on the D.L. earlier in the month due to tendinitis. Stottlemyre would eventually miss all of July and August, making just 4 starts in September before undergoing season-ending elbow surgery on September 26. Durazo had been bothered throughout the early portion of the season by a right wrist injury that required surgery on May 30. After appearing in 3 games at the end of June, Durazo returned to the D.L., and played in just 5 games in August before undergoing another wrist operation on August 24.

In an effort to bolster the offense, the Diamondbacks brought up infielder Alex Cabrera, who, like Durazo, had been discovered by the club in the Mexican League. Cabrera had been so dominant at both AA El Paso and AAA Tucson that he was named Howe Sportsdata's Minor League Player-of-the-Year, despite appearing in just 74 games. He made his major league appearance one for the record books, as he homered in his first trip to the plate, off of Houston's Yorkis Perez. It marked the 78th time in Major League history a player had hit a home run in his first career at-bat, and just the 13th time it had happened in a pinch-hitting role.

The Diamondbacks continued to struggle in July, winning just one home series during the month. Randy Johnson's 4-2 win at Oakland on July 9 gave Arizona a 52-39 record and 2 1/2-game lead in the division at the All-Star break. Out of the break, Texas and Seattle combined to take 5 out of 6 from the D'Backs at Bank One Ballpark. The lone victory during that stretch came courtesy of righthanded pitcher Geraldo Guzman. In his second major league start, Guzman limited the eventual A.L. West champs to five hits in a 7-0 victory. After sweeping a 2-game set from St. Louis, Arizona dropped 6 of its next 9 games. Still clinging to the division lead, Arizona made a blockbuster trade on July 26, obtaining pitcher Curt Schilling from Philadelphia for infielder Travis Lee and pitchers Omar Daal, Nelson Figueroa and Vicente Padilla. The following night, Arizona enjoyed its most productive offensive night of the season, using 19 hits to defeat the Cardinals in St. Louis, 17-5. On July 28, Schilling made his Arizona debut, limiting the Marlins to six hits in a 4-1 win at Florida.

August provided both a reprieve and the ultimate undoing of the Diamondbacks in 2000. Arizona reeled off a 7-game winning streak in the middle of the month that included series sweeps in Philadelphia and at home against the Cubs. Schilling and Johnson both tossed complete games in the Chicago series, but even with the win ning streak, the Diamondbacks were unable to get back into first, still sitting a half-game out after the Cubs left town. It was the next series, a 3-game home set with Milwaukee, that proved to be the beginning of the end. The Brewers pulled off a stunning sweep, including a defeat of Schilling in the series finale. Greg Colbrunn, playing at first base after Durazo's injury, responded by hitting .425 in August, while Steve Finley hit .330 with 6 home runs. Lefthander Dan Plesac went 3-0 out of the bullpen, with a 1.08 ERA.

A September swoon ended the Diamondbacks hopes of a second consecutive division title. Atlanta's 3-game sweep at Turner Field early in the month pushed the Diamondbacks 8 games behind red-hot San Francisco in the N.L. West. The Big Unit eased some of the pain on September 10, when he notched his 3,000th career strikeout at Florida. However, even a run at the Wild Card faded when the Diamondbacks were swept in a 3-game set in the middle of the month at Los Angeles, as the Dodgers scored only 4 runs in pulling off the sweep. The Diamondbacks scored once in the series opener, then were blanked over the final 19 innings of the series.

As had been the case the year before, the National League

West crown was decided in San Francisco, only this time it was the Giants doing the celebrating in a win over the Diamondbacks. San Francisco's 8-7 victory in the series opener at Pac Bell Park gave the Giants the title, although Arizona ended up winning 3 games in the 5-game set.

A finally healthy Matt Williams turned in his best month of the season in September, batting .315 with 6 home runs and 20 RBI, while Craig Counsell, who had seen his playing time increase due to Tony Womack's knee injury, batted .357. Matt Mantei also rebounded to post saves in 6 of the club's 12 September victories, allowing opponents to bat just .118 over 10.0 innings.

Despite the struggles, the Diamondbacks earned their share of post-season honors. Johnson earned his second consecutive National League Cy Young Award, posting a 19-7 record, with a 2.64 ERA (second in the National League), while striking out a league-leading 347 batters, and tying teammate Schilling for the league lead in complete games with 8. The Big Unit tied Greg Maddux for the N.L. lead in shutouts with 3, and limited opponents to a .224 batting average. Steve Finley overcame late season injuries to earn his second consecutive Rawlings Gold Glove. Johnson and Gonzalez were selected National League Player-of-the-Week during the season, with Gonzalez taking the honors twice. Johnson earned the starting assignment for the National League in the All-Star Game in Atlanta, with Finley also being selected as a reserve. In November, Johnson and Gonzalez were among 28 members of the Major League Baseball All-Star team that made an 8-game tour of Japan, defeating a team of Japanese All-Stars in the series.

Shadow Mountain High School graduate, Curt Schilling, is acquired from the Phillies in a 5-player exchange on July 26.

2001 - World Title Lands in Arizona

(92-70, First in N.L. West - World Series Champs)

Johnson/Schilling co-World Series MVP's

A season that began full of question marks ended with the most emphatic exclamation point imaginable as the Diamondbacks went from potential contender in the spring of 2001 to Champions of the first World Series ever staged in the month of November.

New manager Bob Brenly wanted a more relaxed atmosphere for a clubhouse still comprised of mostly veteran players, and he was aided in that cause by the winter signing of free agent first baseman Mark Grace. The longtime Chicago Cub was brought in to not only solidify the Diamondbacks' infield, but to bring a fresh attitude to a team that had bogged down under the weight of high expectations and mounting injuries the year before.

The Diamondbacks also sought to improve an offense that had struggled throughout 2000. In addition to Grace, who had led the majors in hits during the decade of the 1990's, Arizona signed outfielder Reggie Sanders, who brought with him a booming bat that had been slowed by injuries the season prior while a member of the Atlanta Braves. Arizona would also benefit from a full season's production of 2 of the game's most dominant pitchers, Randy Johnson and Curt Schilling. Still, the experts had the Diamondbacks pegged anywhere from first to third with a lot of concerns about age as the season began.

In the season's first month, Arizona started slowly. After giving their new manager a win in the season opener at Los Angeles and a series win by taking 2 of 3 from the Dodgers, the Diamondbacks returned home, only to be swept in a 3-game set by St. Louis. The night after the Cardinals series, Diamondback fans were treated to a classic pitcher's duel, as Curt Schilling bested Kevin Brown and the Dodgers, 2-0, in a game that took only 1 hour and 55 minutes to complete.

Sanders roared out of the starting gates, batting .344 in April, hitting 8 home runs, including a walk-off shot on April 20 to beat Colorado. The next day, Sanders hit his first career grand slam as part of a 2-homer game in a 10-5 Diamondback win. Sanders' power output paled in comparison to teammate Luis Gonzalez, who tied a major league record by hitting 13 home runs in the month, earning National League Player-of-the-Month honors in the process. The pitching staff was bolstered by Schilling, who went 3-0 in April, and by a surprising face, righthander Robert Ellis. A non-roster invitee in the spring, Ellis stepped into the starting rotation after injuries claimed Bobby Witt and Brian Anderson, and posted a 3-0 record, including a 6.0 inning effort in a 2-1 debut win at St. Louis on April 16.

Injuries, which had derailed Arizona's pennant hopes in 2000, became a factor again as closer Matt Mantei suffered a capsule strain of the right elbow on April 25. The injury eventually required season-ending "Tommy John" surgery.

Randy Johnson added yet another accomplishment to an already long list on the night of May 8, when he struck out 20 Cincinnati Reds at Bank One Ballpark to tie a major league record for 9 innings of work. Johnson, however, was not involved in the decision, though the Diamondbacks pulled out a 4-3 win in 11 innings.

The Diamondbacks hit their stride in May, going 18-10, including a 13-6 mark at home. Arizona moved from third place at the start of the month to first place in the N.L. West by month's end. The key was an 8-2 record against division competition, and the start of a 9-game winning streak that would go into June. Gonzalez continued to sizzle at the plate, batting .339 for the month, with 7 home runs, and Grace drove in 23 runs while hitting .345. In addition to Johnson's record-setting performance, Arizona pitchers had a strong month overall, setting team monthly records for runs allowed (88) and ERA (2.75). Rookie Bret Prinz, called up to replace the injured Mantei, picked up 4 saves while recording a 0.82 ERA. Schilling also continued to dominate, going 5-1 for the month.

Near the end of May, Arizona was locked in the longest game in franchise history, an 18-inning marathon in San Francisco, that was scoreless until Erubiel Durazo's RBI double in the top of the 18th just after 1:00 a.m.

A winning streak against division foes that began in late May carried into June, as Arizona reeled off 9 in a row, all against N.L. West foes. An

All-Star outfielder Luis Gonzalez keeps an eye on one of his club record 57 home runs in 2001.

18-9 record in June pushed Arizona to a 6-game lead in the N.L. West. Gonzalez earned his second National League Player-of-the-Month Award of the still not half over season, batting .417 with 12 home runs and 35 driven in. In the process, Gonzalez set team monthly records in 6 offensive categories. His performance was highlighted by a 3-homer game on June 8 in Kansas City, hitting roundtrippers to each part of the outfield. Rookie infielder Junior Spivey, called up earlier in the month, tied a club record with a 5-hit game at Colorado on June 21.

Johnson and Schilling combined to go 9-1 for the month, while as a team, Arizona hit .300. The D'Backs tied a team record with 12 home wins in June.

As strong as they were in June, the Diamondbacks found an equal amount of trouble in July, going 11-15. The club went into the All-Star Break on a downward slide, losing 5 out of 6, including being swept at home by Oakland, a series in which Arizona managed just 2 runs. It took a Danny Bautista leadoff single in the eighth to break up Mark Mulder's bid for a perfect game in the series opener, while Tim Hudson and Barry Zito continued the dominance in the remaining games. An 11-game road trip out of the break saw the Diamondbacks go 6-5, yet their division lead shrunk to 1 1/2 games, and the lead turned into a deficit after Arizona was swept in a 4-game home set by San Francisco. After beating Montreal on July 31, Arizona stood a half-game out of the lead.

Johnson remained a steady force during the month, and continued to make history. On July 18, Arizona's game at San Diego had to be suspended when a transformer in Qualcomm Stadium exploded. The game was resumed as part of a doubleheader the next day, with Johnson coming on in "relief" of Curt Schilling. Johnson struck out 16 Padres, setting a major league record for most strikeouts in a relief appearance. In addition, the Big Unit limited the Padres to 1 hit over 7.0 innings in a 3-0 Diamondbacks win. For the month, Johnson went 3-0. The closer's role had been given to righthander Byung-Hyun Kim, who picked up 4 saves. It was another strong month at the plate for Gonzalez, who batted .310 with 9 home runs.

In an attempt to bolster a pitching staff hit by injuries, the Diamondbacks acquired righthanded pitcher Albie Lopez from Tampa Bay on July 25.

Johnson, Schilling and Gonzalez were selected to the National League All-Star Game, and Gonzalez was selected to participate in the Home Run Derby the night before the midsummer classic in Seattle. Gonzo, who had been voted by fans to the N.L. starting lineup, knocked off Sammy Sosa in the finals to take home a surprise victory. Schilling had been selected by N.L. Manager Bobby Valentine to start the game, but citing the fact he would be pitching in Anaheim 3 days later, deferred to Johnson, who made his second consecutive start, and the eighth appearance of his career.

With the season hanging in the balance, Arizona righted itself in August, and the night of August 10 can be targeted as the specific date things got put back on track. After dropping 2 out of 3 in Florida, and with a weekend series with the Braves in Atlanta next, Curt Schilling delivered a masterpiece, blanking the Braves on 6 hits over 7.0 innings, with Spivey and Grace both collecting 2 hits in a 7-0 win. Arizona went on to sweep the 3-game set, with Spivey delivering another 5-hit game in the series finale, becoming the 50th rookie all-time to have a pair of 5-hit games in his first season.

Johnson hit the record books again in August, becoming the first pitcher in history to have 4 consecutive 300-plus strikeout seasons by fanning his 300th victim on August 23 in Pittsburgh. Johnson went 5-1 for the month, coupled with Schilling's 4-1 mark. The pitching staff set monthly records in strikeouts (227) and fewest home runs allowed (20). Gonzalez and Sanders each hit 10 homers in the month, with Sanders batting .322. By month's end, the Diamondbacks were back in first place by 4 games.

A pair of heartbreaking 1-run losses in San Diego opened September, but baseball took a back seat on September 11 due to the terrorists attacks. A week-long postponement of games would push the regular season into the first week of October. When play resumed on September 17, the Diamondbacks' game at Colorado was both a game and somber tribute to those who had lost their lives and the public servants who put their lives on the line to help others. On the field, Arizona maintained a steady lead on San Francisco, despite dropping 2 of 3 at Pacific Bell. The lone win was Curt Schilling's 20th of the season, making him the franchise's first 20-game winner. Johnson followed him on September 27, making the duo the first 20-win teammates since 1999.

The Diamondback logo took on a patriotic look behind home plate at Bank One Ballpark following the tragedies of September 11, 2001.

Danny Bautista slides head-first at home plate on Tony Womack's game-ending single that staked the Diamondbacks to a 2-1 victory over the Cardinals, propelling Arizona into the NLCS against Atlanta.

Luis Gonzalez' magic season continued, as he became the 26th player in history to go over 400 total bases in a season on September 29. The night before, Gonzalez' 11th inning walk-off homer gave Arizona a huge 4-3 win over Los Angeles.

The Diamondbacks used the final week of the season, rescheduled due to the terrorist attacks, to clinch their second N.L. West title in 3 years. After a 3-game home sweep of the Rockies, the club traveled to Milwaukee, where Albie Lopez tossed a 3-hit complete-game for a 5-0 victory. Later, much later that night (1:00 a.m. local time), the Giants lost at home, giving the Diamondbacks the title. After an emotional rollercoaster of a season, and the events that shook the nation, Arizona and its fans had been through plenty. The ride, however, was just getting started.

Arizona defeated St. Louis in the Division Series, 3 games to 2, beat Atlanta in the National League Championship Series, 4 games to 1, and became the fastest team to win a World Series, defeating the New York Yankees in a classic confrontation, 4 games to 3. This historic week climaxed on Sunday, November 4, when Luis Gonzalez looped a single over a drawn-in Yankee infield to cap a 2-run ninth inning rally off of Mariano Rivera and to set off the celebration and bring the Valley of the Sun its first major sports championship.

The series was credited with giving the nation a much-needed break from the tragedy, and reaffirmed baseball's place in the fabric of the country. In addition to being able to raise the Commissioner's Trophy, Diamondback pitchers Randy Johnson and Curt Schilling ended a season in which they dominated as few pitching duos ever had, by being named World Series co-Most Valuable Players.

The accolades continued days later, as the club treated 300,000 fans to a parade through Copper Square, leading to a championship celebration in a packed Bank One Ballpark. In mid-November, Johnson received his third consecutive National League Cy Young Award. Luis Gonzalez earned the Louisville Slugger Silver Slugger Award, and as the World Champions, the Diamondbacks capped their phenomenal season with a visit to the White House to meet President George Bush on December 13.

2002 - Third Division Crown in Five Years

(98-64, First in N.L. West)

*Late-season injuries contribute to early first round playoff exit...
Johnson lands fourth straight Cy Young honor*

With hardly a chance to catch its collective breath, the Arizona Diamondbacks entered 2002 as baseball's defending World Champions, intent on making it two titles in as many years. Unfortunately, the injury bug bit hard and the Diamondbacks stayed afloat long enough to clinch a third National League West crown, but found themselves eliminated in three straight games of the Division Series against the St. Louis Cardinals.

Knowing that standing pat would mean falling behind, the Diamondbacks made moves to bolster its pitching depth, signing free agent righthanded starter Rick Helling, and trading for lefthanded relief specialist Mike Myers. Helling, who had been Texas' staff ace the past four seasons, was set to join a starting rotation that already featured that dominant duo of Randy Johnson and Curt Schilling, while Myers would be used to go against left-handed hitters in late-game situations.

However, as had been the case two years before, injuries would dictate the fortunes of the 2002 D'Backs, and, like 2000, it started in the spring.

Third baseman Matt Williams, who had battled various injuries the previous two seasons, but had rebounded to be a productive force in the 2001 World Series, broke his left fibula while taking ground balls on February 25 in Tucson. The injury would keep Williams out of action until July 10. In the meantime, Craig Counsell stepped in and thrived in his new role as everyday third baseman. Counsell hit .292 in the season's first month, while providing stellar defense at the hot corner.

Jay Bell also went down with a right calf injury in the spring, clearing the way for Junior Spivey to become a bonafide star. Spivey, who was expected to open the season at Tucson (AAA), instead became the everyday second baseman. He opened the season by batting .323 in April, while tying for second in the National League in doubles, and placing himself in the top ten in multi-hit games, hits, extra-base hits and hit-by-pitches. Damian Miller also had a strong April with 22 RBI's in the first month. Johnson and Schilling picked up where they left off, with Johnson posting a 6-0 mark, and Schilling going 5-1. Johnson earned the National League Pitcher-of-the-Month award for April, becoming the first pitcher ever to post 6 wins prior to May 1 in 2 different seasons (1999).

Schilling turned in April's pitching highlight, tossing a 1-hitter at Milwaukee on April 7, while striking out 17. Johnson also had a 17-strikeout game on April 21 against Colorado, marking the first time teammates had 17-K games in the same season. While Byung-Hyun Kim notched 5 saves in the closer's role, Myers also picked up a pair of his own. As a team, the Diamondbacks were tied with Los Angeles for the N.L. West lead at month's end, with a 16-10 mark.

Arizona took sole possession of the division lead in May, posting an 18-10 ledger that included a 12-5 record at home, closing out the month by taking 6 of 10 games from their closest pursuers in the N.L. West. Schilling earned National League Pitcher-of-the-Month honors for the third time in the last 4 seasons by posting a 5-0 record with a 2.80 ERA. Spivey continued his torrid hitting, batting .333 for the month with 4 home runs, while moving into a tie for the league lead in triples. Erubiel Durazo, who had missed the first 6 weeks of the season with a broken wrist, made an immediate impact on the club when he returned. In his second game back on May 17, Durazo hit a trio of 2-run homers against the Phils, while setting team records in RBI (9) and total bases (14).

The injury bug bit yet again on May 22, when Danny Bautista suffered a season-ending shoulder injury just months after earning the everyday role thanks to his 2001 post-season work.

June was a month of extremes. At the beginning of the month, the Diamondbacks swept an interleague series at Boston's Fenway Park on a road trip that included a return to Yankee Stadium, where Arizona salvaged the final game of a 3-game set. By the end of the month, the club needed wins in 2 of 3 games at Cleveland to earn a split of a road trip in which they had dropped 2 of 3 in Houston.

Quinton McCracken, signed as a minor league free agent in the spring, saw increased playing time due to the Bautista injury, and responded with a .403 batting average for the month. Matt Mantei returned to active duty after missing over a year due to "Tommy John" surgery, making his first appearance June 28 at Cleveland.

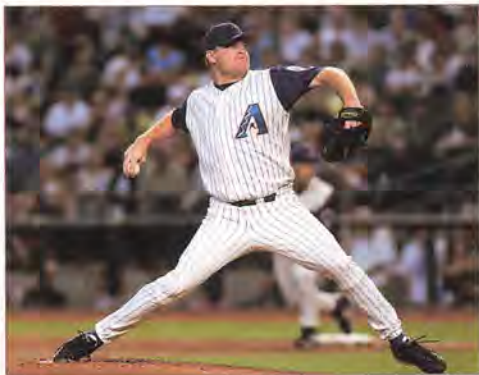

The All-Star break was just what the D'Backs needed. After entering the break 2 1/2 games out of first, Arizona posted a 14-6 mark for the remainder of July, and used the club's first-ever 7-0 homestand to move back into first place by 5 games. The Diamondback pitching staff reeled off a 31-inning scoreless streak during the homestand, while Luis Gonzalez batted .340 for the month.

Arizona took control of the division race in August with a 19-10 mark, including a 10-4 road record, highlighted by a 4-game sweep of the Mets at Shea Stadium. Consecutive sweeps of Florida and Cincinnati led to an 8-game winning streak. Curt Schilling's win over the Cubs on August 16 made him a 20-game winner for the second consecutive year, while Byung-Hyun Kim went 3-0 with 6 saves. However, another player was lost to injury, as infielder Craig Counsell was sidelined on August 9 due to a pinched nerve in his neck. The injury eventually required season-ending surgery.

September was difficult and costly, as the Diamondbacks struggled to clinch their third division title in four years, with yet another injury adding to the difficulty. Luis Gonzalez suffered a separated shoulder while attempting to make a sliding catch of a foul ball of the bat of former high school teammate Tino Martinez on September 23 in St. Louis. Just two days earlier, lefthanded pitcher Brian Anderson was sidelined for the remainder of the campaign with a broken bone in his left foot. The N.L. West title was finally claimed on the next-to-last day of the season with a home win over Colorado, marking the first time the Diamondbacks were able to clinch a division crown in front of the home fans.

The Big Unit stood tall once again, delivering the first "Triple Crown" of his major league career, leading the league in wins, ERA and strikeouts to earn his fourth consecutive Cy Young Award.

Curt Schilling recorded a career-high 23 wins and joined Randy Johnson as the only teammates in history to achieve 300 strikeouts in the same season.

During the month, Steve Finley collected his 2,000th career hit, and Schilling joined Johnson on the 300-strikeout list for the season, marking the first time in baseball history that one team had a pair of 300-strikeout pitchers.

Battered and bruised, the Diamondbacks could not match up against St. Louis in the Division Series and were swept in three straight.

Johnson's career best 24-5 record earned him a fourth consecutive National League Cy Young Award, only the second pitcher in major league history to win 4 in a row, joining Greg Maddux (1992-95). During the season, Johnson moved from ninth to fourth on baseball's all-time strikeout list, and joined Schilling as the first teammates to win at least 23 games. Schilling, Gonzalez, Spivey and Damian Miller joined manager Bob Brenly and his coaching staff on the National League All-Star team in Milwaukee. Johnson was selected, but chose not to attend to rest a sore back and prepare for the second half of the season.

2003 - "Baby Backs" Emerge in Injury-Plagued Year (84-78, Third in N.L. West)

*D'Backs record fifth consecutive winning season...
Johnson & Schilling miss significant time with injuries*

It has been said that a baseball season is a marathon, not a sprint. The greatest evidence of that can be found in the 2003 Arizona Diamondbacks, who rode a roller coaster of emotions, history-making streaks and heart-breaking setbacks. In the process, they gave their fans, and all of baseball, a look at the future, while maintaining a commitment to win in the present.

One of the major themes of the year, as it had been in 2002, was injuries, and it didn't take long for that factor to come to the forefront. On Opening Day, reliever Bret Prinz was lost due to a strained right groin. That day's starting pitcher, Randy Johnson, went on the disabled list April 12 due to an inflamed right knee, an injury that would eventually require surgery.

Fellow starting pitcher Curt Schilling was also bitten hard by the injury bug. Schilling went on the disabled list on April 18 due to an emergency appendectomy, then went back on the shelf at the end of May with broken bone in his pitching hand. The bullpen lost Mike Koplove and Matt Mantei for extended periods, with Koplove missing the final 3 1/2 months of the season.

Among position players, it was even worse. Infielder Craig Counsell required right thumb surgery in May, and would miss two months. No fewer than 4 players, including 3 starters, went down in the month of June alone. In all, 646 games were missed by 16 players, 8 pitchers and 8 position players, at various points during the 2003 season.

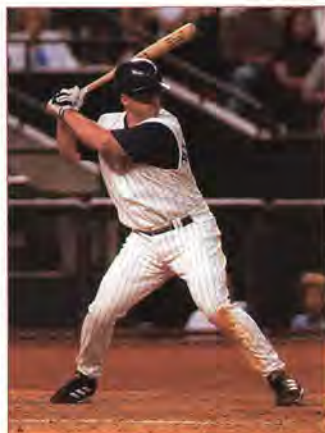

As a result, the Diamondbacks leaned heavily on a farm system that had been cultivated over 7 years by General Manager Joe Garagiola Jr. and his staff. That system produced in a way that no one outside of the Diamondbacks offices ever predicted or gave the organization credit for.

A total of 13 rookies made their debut in Diamondbacks uniforms in 2003, the fifth-highest total of first-year players in the majors, yet many of those players took a team that had struggled through the first two months of the season, and helped lift Arizona into contention for a third consecutive National League West Division title. The most impressive contribution was made by a trio of righthanded pitchers who solidified a staff searching for consistency after two of the top pitchers in the game - Johnson and Schilling - went down.

Brandon Webb made 28 starts after being called up from Tucson, posting a 10-9 record and a dazzling 2.84 ERA. Webb held opposing hitters to a paltry .212 average, third-best in the National League. He opened his career with 13 consecutive "quality" starts, the most to open a Major League career since Montreal's Steve Rogers had 16 in 1973. Jose Valverde literally came to Arizona's rescue after Matt Mantei went down with a shoulder injury, contributing 9 saves in 9 chances in June to earn National League Rolaids Pitcher of the Month honors. Oscar Villarreal, who made the club out of spring training, established a National League record for appearances by a rookie with 86, also setting a club record, while his 10 wins in relief broke Gregg Olson's 1999 team record, and tied Webb for the most wins by a Diamondback rookie.

Around the infield, Matt Kata displayed his versatility, as did youngster Alex Cintron, who just missed qualifying as a rookie by a matter of days. Catcher Robbie Hammock made an impression offensively with a .282 average, and defensively with his ability to not only handle a pitching staff, but also to play at several other positions, including third base and the outfield.

With a revolving door attached to the 25-man roster, the Diamondbacks stumbled out of the gate, dropping 11 of their first 14 games. The club hovered just below the .500 mark for the first two months of the year. At the end of May, Garagiola engineered a trade designed to jump-start a stagnant offense, sending right-handed pitcher Byung-Hyun Kim to Boston for infielder Shea Hillenbrand. An American League All-Star in 2002, the Mesa Community College product's arrival coincided with a surge that would see the Diamondbacks vault back into contention.

Arca product Shea Hillenbrand was acquired from the Red Sox in late-May and provided punch to the lineup.

Arizona posted a 20-6 mark in June, highlighted by a club-record 12-game winning streak that began on June 18 in Houston. By the time it ended on July 1 in Colorado, the Diamondbacks were 9 games above .500, had shaved 5 games off their deficit in the division, and a week later would be in second place.

The club would remain in second place for the next 6 weeks, but would lose ground to the division-leading Giants. Over a stretch of 11 games in mid-July, Arizona dropped 6 of 7 to San Francisco, including a 4-game sweep in Pac Bell Park, effectively ending the Diamondbacks' chances at an N.L. West 3-peat.

The pursuit of the Wild Card remained, and near the trading deadline, the Diamondbacks acquired slugging outfielder Raul Mondesi from the New York Yankees in exchange for pitcher Bret Prinz, outfielder David Dellucci, and minor league catcher Jon-Mark Sprowl. Ironically, the trade occurred as Arizona was being swept in Florida by the eventual World Champion Marlins in a series in which the need for Mondesi was evident, as the Diamondbacks plated only 4 runs in the 3 games.

While Arizona remained a factor in the Wild Card race, they could never sustain enough momentum to overtake the Marlins or Phillies, who traded the coveted post-season spot through the final 2 months of the regular campaign.

A mid-September surge kept the Diamondbacks in the Wild Card race until the final week of the season, and insured the club of its fifth consecutive winning season, one of only three National League clubs that can lay claim to that distinction.

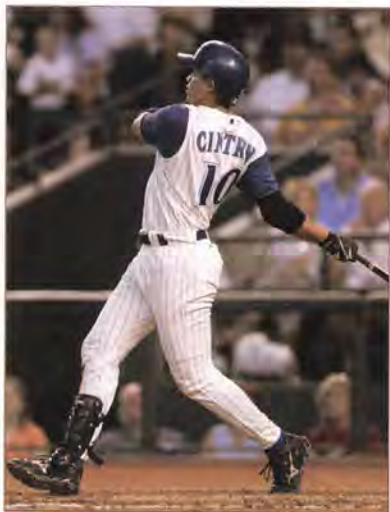

2003 also marked the end of two of baseball's great playing careers. In early June, Matt Williams ended his 17-year career in a Diamondbacks uniform, with his last at bat a pinch RBI single in San Diego to help Arizona beat the Padres on May 31. He was designated for assignment and subsequently released to make room for Hillenbrand. Prior to the final series of the regular season, Mark Grace announced his intention to retire after a 16-year Major League career, going 2-for-3 in his final start on September 27, and appearing as a defensive replacement a day later.

Garagiola wasted little time in revamping the Arizona roster for 2004, with an eye towards adding more power to the offense and giving more opportunities to the young players who had distinguished themselves over the summer. Pitcher Curt Schilling was dealt to Boston on November 28 for pitchers Casey Fossum and Brandon Lyon, then just 3 days later, slugger Richie Sexson and pitcher Shane Nance were acquired from Milwaukee in exchange for 6 players.

Brandon Webb won Baseball America's Rookie-of-the-Year award and finished third in the BBWAA balloting, going 10-9 with the National League's fourth best ERA at 2.84.

Alex Cintron led the "Baby Backs" attack by establishing himself as an everyday player, hitting .317 with 13 home runs in 117 games

2004 - Long Summer Leads to Off-Season Overhaul (51-111, Fifth in N.L. West)

As the saying goes, "change is inevitable," and for the Arizona Diamondbacks, 2004 marked a dramatic series of changes that affected the organization from the front office to the dugout.

The season began with high hopes and expectations, as first baseman Richie Sexson, obtained in a trade with Milwaukee, was expected to add punch to an offense that lacked power the year before. However, injuries nearly wiped out every phase of the Diamondback attack.

After a slow start, the club began to show its potential during a late-April home series against the Chicago Cubs. Arizona won the first two games of the three-game set by a combined score of 19-1. Sexson capped the fireworks in a 9-0 series opening win by clobbering a 503-foot homer off of Bank One Ballpark's Jumbotron. It was the longest home run in B.O.B. history, but as it turned out, it was the last Sexson would hit as a D'Back.

Two nights later, a check swing resulted in Sexson suffering a partial dislocation of his left shoulder. The slugger attempted to come back in late May, but re-aggravated the injury in his second game back at Florida, forcing season-ending surgery.

Sexson wasn't the first Diamondback to head to the disabled list. Second baseman Roberto Alomar fractured his right hand in mid-April in Milwaukee. After Sexson, two vital parts of the bullpen, Oscar Villarreal and Matt Mantei, both had their seasons ended in mid-May. At the end of May, infielder Matt Kata suffered a left shoulder dislocation diving for a ball at Dodger Stadium. More injuries followed, as the Diamondbacks scrambled to keep 25 players in uniform.

With the players Arizona counted on to contribute on the field filling up the disabled list, the young players on the farm waiting for an opportunity got their chance. Third baseman Chad Tracy made his Major League debut in Milwaukee on April 22, going 4-for-8 in an 11-9, 15-inning win. Fellow infielder Scott Hairston spent four days in early May with the big club, then rejoined the D'Backs for the remainder of the season a week later. In June, Hairston played at Baltimore against his brother, Jerry Jr., going 2-for-5 at Oriole Park in Camden Yards on June 8, including a double that his brother had to track down in left field.

Outfielder Luis Terrero went from batting .313 at Tucson to leading the Diamondbacks in stolen bases (10) and bunt hits (6). Alan Zinter, who had logged over 1,500 games in the minor leagues, played in 28 contests for the Diamondbacks, highlighted by a walk-off, two-run homer to give Arizona a 9-8, 11-inning win over Milwaukee on September 28.

Once Sexson went down, Shea Hillenbrand was asked to move from third to first base, and as he learned a new defensive position, his offense remained steady. Hillenbrand led the club with a .310 batting average, while driving in a team-leading 80 runs. Hillenbrand became the focal point of the offense when the club dealt outfielder Steve Finley, along with catcher Brent Mayne, to the Los Angeles Dodgers, for a trio of young players, led by catcher Koyie Hill. Ironically, Hill was lost for the season due to injury when he fractured his right ankle in a collision with Pittsburgh's Ty Wigginton on August 17th.

Once again, the Diamondbacks were forced to look to the farm, and Chris Snyder came up from El Paso (AA) to handle the bulk of the catching duties, while hitting 5 home runs.

On the mound, righthander Greg Aquino took advantage of an opportunity presented when Jose Valverde went on the disabled list in mid-June and emerged as the club's closer with a team-leading 16 saves, best among National League rookies. Aquino was part of a bullpen where change was the only constant. A total of 19 pitchers served in relief roles, led by righthander Mike Koplove's 76 appearances.

The starting rotation also went through change, but not at the top. Randy Johnson added more to an already stellar resume, notching three significant milestones. On May 18, the 40-year-old lefthander tossed the 17th perfect game in Major League history by shutting down the Braves in Atlanta. Six weeks later, Johnson's strikeout of San Diego's Jeff Cirillo in the eighth inning made him just the fourth pitcher in Major League history to strikeout 4,000 batters. On September 15th, Johnson moved into third place on the all-time strikeout list and passed Steve Carlton for most strikeouts by a lefthanded pitcher when he fanned Colorado's Vinny Castilla in the seventh inning.

Through all the struggles his team had on the field, Johnson had a year worthy of Cy Young consideration, posting a 16-14 record. His ERA of 2.60 was second in the National League, and he led the Majors with 290 strikeouts.

The rest of the rotation struggled as the offense was often unable to back up strong efforts. Righthander Brandon Webb's sophomore year was a prime example of the problem. Webb's won-loss record of 7-16 stood in contrast to his 3.59 ERA.

As was the case with position players, the struggles of the starting rotation created opportunities for youngsters who showed promise. In particular, lefthander Michael Gosling, who joined the club in September and went 1-1 with a 4.62 ERA. Gosling's win came in St. Louis on September 19th, a 3-2 victory over the eventual National League champions.

Change wasn't limited to the playing roster. On July 2nd, Bob Brenly was dismissed as manager and replaced by third base coach Al Pedrique. Five weeks later, Jerry Colangelo announced he would be leaving his post as Chief Executive Officer at season's end, to be replaced by Jeff Moorad.

Diamondbacks' management quickly worked to change the team's immediate fortunes, eventually naming Bob Melvin, the club's bench coach during its World Championship season in 2001, as manager. Melvin's coaching staff would include former Diamondback Jay Bell as bench coach.

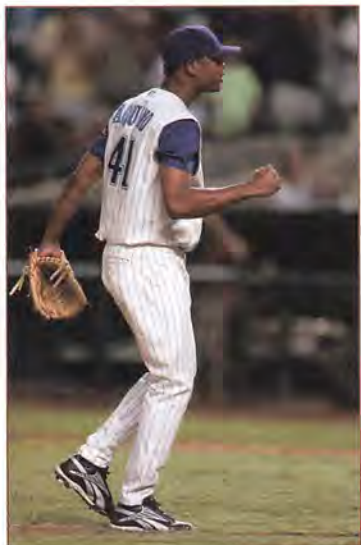

The roster also got an immediate boost from the signings of free agent infielder Troy Glaus, righthanded pitcher Russ Ortiz and infielders Royce Clayton and crowd favorite Craig Counsell, a member of Arizona's back-to-back N.L. West championship clubs in 2001-2002, including MVP honors in the '01 National League Championship Series against Atlanta.

The transformation was not limited to the calendar year of 2004, as this past January the D'Backs added outfielder Shawn Green, obtained in a trade with the Los Angeles Dodgers. The acquisition of Green completed a series of transactions that also landed All-Star pitcher Javier Vazquez and promising lefthander Brad Halsey, while the Randy Johnson era ended in Arizona as he was dealt to the New York Yankees. The Diamondbacks also signed free agent lefthanded pitcher Shawn Estes, first baseman Tony Clark and acquired Jose Cruz, Jr. from Tampa Bay in exchange for Casey Fossum.

Greg Aquino recorded a rookie club record 16 saves in his first-ever big league experience.

Arizona's busy off-season of revamping the roster kicked off with the signing of Troy Glaus, who was introduced at a Bank One Ballpark press conference on December 9.

E.G. (Ken) Kendrick

Managing General Partner

A charter member of the ownership group that brought baseball to the Valley, Ken's involvement in the general partnership took on added significance with the changing of the guard last year as he inherited the responsibility as the Managing General Partner. Kendrick, who oversees the day-to-day management operation, led the charge for ownership in the revamping of a ballclub that was coming off a 111-loss campaign. Over the winter months he and his partners approved the addition of seven players who brought a combined 85 games of post-season experience and nine All-Star appearances with the likes of Tony Clark, Royce Clayton, Craig Counsell, Troy Glaus, Shawn Green, Russ Ortiz and Javier Vazquez.

Prior to becoming the prominent figure in the Diamondbacks management team, Kendrick established himself in the business community as the Founder and Chairman of Datatel, Inc., in Fairfax, Virginia, the nation's leading provider of information management solutions for higher education. He is also the principal shareholder and Director of the Woodforest Financial Group, a bank holding company headquartered in The Woodlands, Texas, and Delta Card Services, a nationwide merchant credit card services provider. Ken is also a director of several other companies including iCrossing, Intellicommunities and Thompson-Center, as well as a partner in the Dodge Theatre.

Consistent with the charitable ways of the Diamondbacks organization, Ken is very active in his charity and philanthropic endeavors, beginning with his role as Chairman of Diamondbacks Charities. He is also President of the Datatel Scholars Foundation and Bumble Bee Ranch Foundations. He also serves as a director for various charities including Childhelp USA, Helping Hands Housing, Challenger Center for Space Science Education, Phoenix Country Day School, TGen Foundation, Cleveland Clinic Foundation and Roaring Fork Conservancy.

A native of Princeton, West Virginia, Ken graduated from West Virginia University in Morgantown, with a B.S. in Business Administration in 1965. He continues a strong allegiance to his alma mater, funding the video coaching facility for the Mountaineer football program. An avid golfer, Kendrick is a member of several clubs including Paradise Valley Country Club, The Roaring Fork Club, The Estancia Club, Whisper Rock Golf Club, Robert Trent Jones Golf Club and the Dallas National Golf Club.

Ken and his wife, Randy, and their two children, Cal and Catie, make their home in Paradise Valley.

Mike Chipman

General Partner

Mike is one of the five general partners who possess the largest financial stake in the franchise, and while he takes a low-profile approach to his role, his business acumen is invaluable when the partners assemble to make executive decisions regarding the shaping of the Diamondbacks. He made a huge impact in the computer software industry as the inventor of TurboTax, the largest selling income tax software in the world. A graduate from the U.S. Air Force Academy with a degree in Computer Science, Chipman spent five years in the basic research arm of the Air Force, attaining the rank of Captain before resigning his commission to pursue a career in civilian life.

He spent the next few years as a research scientist working in the area of computational physics, principally at Science Application International in La Jolla, CA. Mike then founded ChipSoft, Inc. in the early 80's where he produced the popular TurboTax software. ChipSoft grew from literally a spare room operation in the Chipmans' home to a 550-person Public Company by the time Mike retired at age 45.

Since retirement Chipman has invested in various businesses principally through an Investment Angels group. Mike has recently had a hand in the development of the highly successful Bank of Internet USA and has been involved as an investor with other banks in Northern Nevada. He has been an owner of commercial real estate in Arizona for more than a decade during which time he became one of the primary investors in the Diamondbacks.

Mike and his wife, Evy, make their home in Lake Tahoe, NV, where Mike has built a model railroad, complete with nearly 1,700 trees, a project that has kept him busier than he even imagined. The Chipmans spend a lot of "baseball time" locally in Paradise Valley after having wintered at Carefree for 10 years. Mike's son Michael and wife Erin have recently become the proud parents of the first grandchild, Owen.

Dale Jensen

General Partner

Dale is the largest single investor of the Diamondbacks, a position in which he's very familiar since he is also an investor in over 45 other companies. His professional career began at the tender age of 23, serving as the youngest vice president of The National Bank of Commerce. After three years, Jensen co-founded Information Technology, revolutionizing the banking industry with computer software and solutions during the infancy of the computer era, later selling the company for $383 million in 1996. Among his subsequent holdings in technology and entertainment, Dale is among a quartet of principal investors in M101, a new entertainment entity that delivers high definition, highly produced visual content focused on music, as well as delving into film and television production branding.

A Nebraska native, Jensen's holdings also include Superior Shores Lodge in Two Harbors, MN, the Sands Hill Golf Club near Mullen, NE, Alice Cooper's town Restaurant near Bank One Ballpark, Alive Spirits, a company that co-brands celebrities and liquor, the NBA's Phoenix Suns and the Dodge Theatre.

Jensen is also very active in a broad spectrum of philanthropy, not the least of which is donating money and time to find a cure for cystic fibrosis. A die-hard Cornhusker fan, Dale has also endowed numerous teaching chairs at the University of Nebraska, and has funded the acquisition of a new public park and school buildings bearing his name.

Dale and his wife, Vicki, make their home in Paradise Valley. He has a son, Christopher, who has followed him into the field of technology.

Jeffrey Moorad

General Partner

One of the most recognizable names in professional sports, Jeff Moorad brought over 20 years of sports management experience to Arizona on August 6, 2004, when he was named a member of the executive team of the Diamondbacks. The career change was finalized when the Office of the Commissioner formally approved Moorad as a General Partner in the Diamondbacks' ownership group. Armed with a wealth of experience in Major League Baseball on the player side of the table, Moorad plays as active role in the day-to-day operation of the franchise, lending his expertise to Ken Kendrick, who oversees the General Partnership.

Moorad brings a unique perspective and sports business acumen to the Diamondbacks, as they look to return to the early success the franchise enjoyed with three National League Western Division titles over their first five years, including a league championship and World Series crown. Though acting only as an unpaid advisor during the months leading up to his approval by the Commissioner's Office, Jeff was instrumental in advising ownership in the flurry of winter activity that virtually turned over the Diamondback roster of the previous season.

The founder of Moorad Sports Management, he began specializing in athlete representation in 1983, with his main focus on Major League Baseball. Moorad's reputation as a knowledgeable and respected negotiator has earned him a spot on The Sporting News' 100 Most Powerful People in Sports on eight occasions, as he helped revolutionize player representation.

Moorad's client base took off in 1984 when he was retained by Will Clark and four other members of the U.S. Olympic baseball team, each of whom were top ten draft choices. He then joined forces with Leigh Steinberg in 1985 to form one of the most dynamic twosomes in the history of sports representation, covering both Major League Baseball and the National Football League. The successful duo negotiated over $3 billion in athlete contracts throughout their 18 years together, including representing Hall of Famer Steve Young and future Hall of Famer Troy Aikman.

Moorad was the negotiator on a number of landmark contracts for a client base that included Manny Ramirez, Eric Karros, Ivan Rodriguez, Mo Vaughn, and current Diamondbacks, Shawn Green and Luis Gonzalez, just to scratch the surface of All-Star talent he represented. He also represented former D'Backs Matt Williams and Gregg Olson, who joined Will Clark in spring training with the Diamondbacks as on-field advisors. Moorad represented more than 40 first-round selections from baseball's annual First Year Player Draft in his practice, highlighted by breakthrough deals for Pat Burrell (1998) and Darin Erstad (1995), both draft records.

The former President and CEO of Moorad Sports Management, his firm did not stop at athlete representation as Moorad guided it into a variety of sports ventures, publishing projects and charitable community projects. A perfect fit for the community-minded Diamondbacks, Moorad helped his clients understand the responsibility of serving as role models in the community, encouraging them to contribute millions of dollars to community programs, including their own non-profit foundations and alma maters. Leading by example, Moorad endowed a $100,000 scholarship to his alma mater at UCLA.

While sports representation occupied the majority of Moorad's professional time, it also led to work in the entertainment field as he has consulted and appeared in major motion picture projects involving sports. Jeff was the baseball technical consultant for the Universal motion picture "For Love of the Game" and had a cameo appearance in the movie, and then he and former partner Steinberg both appeared in and served as technical consultants to director Cameron Crowe in the 1996 Oscar-winning picture "Jerry Maguire."

A native of Modesto, California, Moorad earned an Associate in Arts degree from Modesto Junior College in 1976, where he served as Student Body President, a degree in Political Science (B.A.) in 1978 from UCLA, then received his law degree from Villanova University School of Law (J.D.) in 1981. Jeff and his wife, Jan, have three sons and now split their time residing both in the Valley of the Sun and Newport Beach, CA.

Jeff Royer

General Partner

Jeff's love for baseball began in his youth as a devoted fan of Warren Spahn, the record-setting lefthanded pitcher of the Milwaukee Braves. In the Wisconsin town where he grew up work schedules were often made around the Braves' game schedule. He learned at a young age that baseball would be his primary sports interest.

His business career began in investment banking. Since the late-1980's Jeff's work has focused on private equity investing. The primary focus of his business interests is telecommunications. His family is an original founding investor in the Arizona Diamondbacks, and Jeff's involvement has grown to become a member of the General Partnership.

Jeff, his wife, and family are all devotees of the game and spend as much time in Phoenix as possible. Currently a resident of Toronto, Quebec, Canada, Jeff and his family had an opportunity to see the Diamondbacks last summer without having to travel, as the 2004 interleague schedule featured Arizona's first-ever stop in SkyDome.

Richard H. Dozer

ARIZONA • DIAMONDBACKS
2005

President

Executives

Named team President on March 9, 1995, the energetic Rich Dozer has kept the family name prominent in Major League baseball circles. Raised in a baseball environment, his father Dick Dozer was a nationally renowned sportswriter, covering both the Chicago Cubs and White Sox for the Chicago Tribune. In taking advantage of every opportunity to spend time with his growing boy, Dick allowed his son to accompany him to spring training, where Rich lived out any young man's dream serving as a bat boy for each team.

The family aspect has not been lost on the younger Dozer, who has instilled that quality in all who have come aboard from other organizations. His unpretentious, open-door style has made the Diamondback front office one of the most comfortable and successful franchises in sports. He is passionate about his work and compassionate to those in the community, as evidenced by the '99 post-season when he invited Dwight Patterson to throw out the first pitch prior to the first-ever Division Series game played in Bank One Ballpark. Patterson, who lured the Chicago Cubs to the Valley over 50 years ago to start what is now the Cactus League, was one of the most popular sports figures in Arizona. Sadly, the ceremonial first pitch was one of Patterson's final great memories, as the Arizona legend passed away only three days later.

Dozer proved to be the ideal candidate for his current role after working for eight seasons with the Phoenix Suns under Jerry Colangelo. He joined the NBA franchise in July 1987 as business manager, and eventually ascended to Vice President and Chief Operating Officer by June of 1989. Responsibilities varied from accounting, finance, ticketing, office administration, insurance, and arena financing and operations. He was also the President of America West Arena and was intimately involved in that facility's development.

Dozer is a former Certified Public Accountant, specializing as an audit manager for clients in sports, hospitality and retail industries.

Though his responsibilities are many during the course of the year, fan comfort and enjoyment at Bank One Ballpark is among his highest priorities. Dozer is the force behind "town hall" type meetings with season ticket holders, giving them a forum to communicate any concerns or ideas they may have to make the experience more enjoyable during a Diamondbacks game. He also makes the call on opening or closing the roof on a daily basis. The daily timing of the roof closure is vital to ensure that enough sunlight reaches the grass to keep it growing, but also that the ballpark stays cool enough to allow the air conditioning to make the inside comfortable by game time. Dozer not only takes the playing conditions into consideration, but the building temperatures at all seating levels to ensure the comfort of the fans.

Dozer's role is not just about the team, but about community as well. He was the Chairman of the 2004 United Way Campaign, after serving as the 2000/2001 and 2001/2002 Chairman - Alexis de Tocqueville Society, Valley of the Sun United Way. Rich and his wife Karie co-chaired the $4 million capital campaign for United Cerebral Palsy of Central, AZ. In 2003, they celebrated the opening of the Laura Dozer Center, built to serve the needs of families whose children suffer from various disabilities.

He also serves on several boards, including Arizona Diamondbacks Charities, Phoenix & Valley of the Sun Convention and Visitors Bureau, and the Goodwill Industries Honor Board. He is a member of the Greater Phoenix Leadership Membership Committee, the Major League Baseball Enterprises Board of Directors, the Greater Phoenix Economic Council and the City of Phoenix Executive Bond Committee. He is a life member of the Phoenix Thunderbirds, an arm of the Phoenix Chamber of Commerce that stages the FBR Open each year, one of the top attended single sporting events in the country, and he's also a member of the Phoenix Civic Plaza - Strategic Planning Task Force. He's also on the board of the YMCA, the Dean's Council of 100 for the Arizona State University College of Business, the Arizona Tourism Alliance and the Phoenix Community Alliance.

He possesses a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration from the University of Arizona, graduating in 1979. Rich has a 13-year old daughter, Danielle, and he and his wife Karie have a six-year old daughter, Laura Grace, and year old son, Jack. They make their home in Phoenix.

Joe Garagiola Jr.

Senior Vice President/ General Manager

The fourth longest tenured General Manager in the majors, Joe Garagiola and the baseball operations department faced a daunting task over the winter, working long hours to prove that the 2004 season was an aberration. Targeting all phases of the game, Garagiola and his staff took advantage of the assets provided by ownership to completely revamp the look of the Diamondbacks in an attempt to return the still-young franchise to the level of prominence it enjoyed so early in its existence.

The extremely busy off-season assured the D'Backs that the club would take the field on Opening Day, 2005, with Luis Gonzalez as the only remaining member of last year's season opening lineup. The dramatic facelift featured the signings of free agent pitchers Russ Ortiz and Shawn Estes, both Valley residents, the addition of Javier Vazquez and prospect Brad Halsey in the highly-publicized Randy Johnson exchange, then the addition of three-quarters of a new infield with the signings of Troy Glaus, Royce Clayton and fan-favorite Craig Counsell. As if those moves didn't signify enough change, the Diamondbacks added Shawn Green to the outfield via a trade with Los Angeles, then inked another Valley resident, Tony Clark, who will help Chad Tracy make the transition across the diamond. Then, just days before spring training, the Diamondbacks added Jose Cruz Jr. to the new-look roster.

Garagiola has also seen a minor league system produce the likes of Brandon Webb, Oscar Villarreal, Jose Valverde, Alex Cintron and Matt Kata, just to name a few, while players like Michael Gossling, Carlos Quentin and Conor Jackson are on the cusp of becoming valuable additions to the Major League club.

Last year's struggles snapped a streak of five consecutive winning seasons for Arizona, a distinction shared in that time frame by only five other clubs in the majors. In that stretch, Garagiola presided over a franchise that won three division titles, a League Championship and a World Series crown.

When the 2001 Fall Classic began, Counsell was the only active Diamondback with a World Series ring, but there was another graduate of the University of Notre Dame who also owned such a ring, and he just happened to be the person who sat in the General Manager's chair at Bank One Ballpark. Joe Garagiola had served 25 years earlier as the general counsel and assistant to the president of the New York Yankees, earning a ring while employed in the Bronx.

Employing the resources provided by ownership, Joe was the foreman of a construction team that assembled the fastest World Series winner in expansion baseball history. He fine-tuned a club that had finished 12 games out of the hunt in 2000 after winning 100 games the year before. Included were the signings of Mark Grace and Reggie Sanders, while the quiet off-season discovery of Miguel Batista turned into one of the top bargains in the game.

Garagiola's effort was congratulated by the highest of powers when President George W. Bush invited the organization to the White House on December 13, 2001. During the course of the visit, the President couldn't resist bringing up a comparison between himself and Joe Jr. stating, "I've always been suspicious of guys who have a famous father," referring in jest to his father the former President and Joe's dad who has made a name for himself both on and off the field. Garagiola apparently made a friend that day, as President Bush extended an impromptu dinner invitation to Joe. Jerry Colangelo, Bob Brenly and Angels' owner Arte Moreno on January 21, 2004, when the President was in the Valley for a speech at Mesa Community College then had dinner with the quartet at a Phoenix-area Mexican restaurant.

The changes leading up to 2001 were far less dramatic than those he engineered in turning this club from a 65-win inaugural season to the 100-win squad for the greatest single-season turnaround in major league history. Featuring players from the expansion draft, trades, free agency and the amateur draft, the Diamondbacks jelled as a team quicker than any previous expansion effort, winning a division title six years sooner than any other first-year franchise. Garagiola's preparatory work for 1999 did not go unnoticed, as he finished third in Executive-of-the-Year balloting.

Following the inaugural campaign of '98, Garagiola immediately went to work to overhaul the roster, signing key free agents that included the likes of Johnson, Finley, Colbrunn, Todd Stottlemyre, Greg Swindell and Armando Reynoso. Garagiola then went to work with other GM's, acquiring key pieces to the puzzle via the trade route. One of the least publicized yet most productive deals came during the Christmas holidays with Detroit, as the Diamondbacks received Luis Gonzalez and cash considerations from the Tigers in exchange for Karim Garcia. Still seeking a leadoff hitter, Garagiola delivered during the second week of spring training, acquiring Tony Womack from Pittsburgh in exchange for a pair of minor leaguers. Womack's 4 1/2-year stint with Arizona was highlighted by a pair of huge hits that led to the 2001 World Series title.

Once the '99 campaign was underway the Diamondbacks hovered near the top in the N.L. West, but it became apparent that more bullpen help was a necessity. Garagiola solidified the pen with the mid-July acquisition of Mantei in a package that sent three players to Florida. The arrival of Mantei helped stake the Arizona bullpen to the second best ERA in the National League.

Garagiola joined the Diamondbacks in March, 1995, when the franchise was awarded to the region, but it was his work on the Arizona Baseball Commission that served as a driving force in procuring major league baseball for the Valley. He served as vice-chairman of the Governor's Cactus League Task Force and was a member of the Mayor's Professional Baseball Committee. From there he branched out to the Maricopa County Sports Authority, serving as chairman. Garagiola was also chairman of the Arizona Baseball Commission, the group best known for completing the task of convincing existing Major League clubs that Phoenix and the region were ready to possess their own club. Garagiola made his move to the Valley in 1982, applying his law practice to the firm of Gallagher and Kennedy. His concentration was on sports law, and he was the chairman of the Phoenix Metropolitan Sports Foundation from 1985-87.

Joe was the 1998 recipient of the prestigious Institute of Human Relations Award from the American Jewish Committee. He was named the 1999 Anti-Defamation League "Leader of Distinction" and the 2003 "Father of the Year" by the Father's Day Council. He is also a life member of the Fiesta Bowl Committee, as well as the Thunderbirds, the group that procures and distributes charitable money through the highly successful FBR Open.

Joe graduated from the University of Notre Dame in South Bend, IN, earning a B.A. cum laude in 1972. He earned his law degree from Georgetown University Law Center (J.D., 1975), and is admitted to practice law in Arizona, California and New York. He and his wife, Noel, have four children, Meredith, Valerie, Natalie and Christopher, and make their home in Scottsdale.

Joe's father, Joe Garagiola Sr., has been a household name in Major League Baseball and the world of entertainment, first as a player, followed by an extensive television career that has included play-by-play, analysis, game shows and talk shows. Joe's dad was not the only talented member of the family as his mother, Audrie, was the organist for the St. Louis Cardinals while Joe Sr. was working in the broadcast booth.

Bob Gebhard

Vice President/Special Assistant to the General Manager

When Sandy Johnson left the organization over the winter to move east, the Diamondbacks targeted a baseball veteran to fill the void and quickly hired Bob Gebhard for the role of Vice President/Assistant General Manager. Gebhard was coming off a five-season stint in a similar position with the St. Louis Cardinals, working closely with Walt Jocketty on the club's day-to-day Major League operations including player evaluations and contract negotiations.

None of those roles were new to Gebhard, who was on the ground floor of the Colorado Rockies' franchise, joining the club in the winter of 1991 and building the entire baseball operations department from scratch. His efforts were rewarded with Colorado's lone playoff appearance only three years into its existence in 1995, winning the National League's first-ever Wild Card spot on the final day of the season. Among his early successes in Colorado included the signing of veteran Andres Galarrraga to a free agent contract the day before the 1992 Expansion Draft, then engineering a trade for slugging outfielder Dante Bichette immediately following the draft, with the twosome eventually comprising half of the famed Blake Street Bombers. Gebhard and his staff were so thoroughly prepared for the Expansion Draft that six members of the 1995 Division Series playoff squad still remained when the Rockies played the Atlanta Braves.

Geb joined the Rockies after a successful stint in Minnesota's front office, joining the Twins as their Director of Major League Personnel in 1987 then assuming the role of Vice President/Player Personnel the following year. His first and last year with Minnesota culminated in a pair of World Series rings, as the Twins knocked off the Cardinals in 1987 and the Braves in 1991.

Gebhard had an 11-year playing career as a pitcher that included big league duty with both the Twins and Montreal Expos. He was a player/coach in the Montreal chain from 1974-75, then was promoted to Minor League Field Director and pitching coach in 1976, a role he held for six seasons. Gebhard was part of Montreal's big league coaching staff in 1982, then served as Director of Minor League Operations through 1986. He then joined the Twins, the organization that selected him in the 15th round of the first June draft in 1965.

A native of Lamberton, MN, Gebhard earned 16 letters in four sports in high school. His athletic career shifted to the University of Iowa, where he co-captained the baseball team and also played basketball.

Gebhard and his wife, Nancy, have three children, daughters Angie and Jenny, and son, Casey. They also have three grandchildren. The Gebhard's still make their home in Littleton, CO.

Bob Miller

Assistant General Manager

After spending three years as Director of Baseball Operations, Bob was named the Diamondbacks' Assistant General Manager in 2003. Now in his 23rd year in baseball and seventh with Arizona, he assists the General Manager in all phases of baseball operations, including arbitration cases, contract negotiations, waiver rules and interpretation, and his newest duties overseeing Minor League player development operations. These recently added responsibilities include the evaluation, acquisition, retention and development of the club's Minor League players and staff.

Before his arrival in the Valley, Bob worked for 16 years in the minors, applying his baseball knowledge in a variety of stops. He was the Executive General Manager of the Amarillo Dillas of the independent Texas-Louisiana League, joining the organization prior to the '98 season, after a year as the Vice President of Baseball Operations in the league's Abilene (TX) office.

Prior to his work in the Texas-Louisiana League, Miller spent 14 seasons with the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, serving in a variety of roles. He began with the National Association in 1983 as the Director of Records and Computer Operations, overseeing the free agent program, reserve lists, qualification register, approval of Rule 4 Draft signings, free agent signings and rules interpretations. In 1994, he was named the Executive Director of Business and Finance, supervising the Minor League commissioner's office baseball operations finances.

A long-time Florida resident, Bob graduated with honors with a B.S. in Finance from the University of South Florida. He and his wife, Chris, make their home in Laveen.

Mike Rizzo

Director of Scouting

Mike is in his sixth full season as the Director of Scouting for the Diamondbacks, a role that has him traveling the globe throughout the year to procure talent that will hopefully find its way to Bank One Ballpark. Responsible for all facets of scouting, including draft strategy and selections in the June First-Year Player Draft, Rizzo operates a department of 46 while also controlling the scouting operations budget. Scouting has no off-season as Mike spends part of his winter in the Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Mexico, Panama, Venezuela and the United States, in addition to attending the Caribbean World Series.

The 2005 season is Mike's 23rd year in pro ball, a career that began with a four-year stint as a minor league player in the California Angels' system. Once his playing career ended, he served as an assistant coach at the University of Illinois while completing his Bachelor of Arts in Communications. The Illinois-native began his professional scouting career with the Chicago White Sox, where he served as Midwest and Southeast territorial scout, during which time he inked future two-time American League MVP Frank Thomas. Rizzo's stint with the White Sox was followed by a six-year stay with the Boston Red Sox, where his responsibilities included area supervisor, international scout and major league advance scout.

He first arrived in the Valley in 1998, serving the Diamondbacks as Central region supervisor prior to his promotion to Director. In his five years overseeing the scouting department, Rizzo has placed an emphasis on drafting players with collegiate baseball experience. Of the first 20 draft picks in each of his first five drafts, Rizzo and his staff have successfully made 91% (91 of 100) part of the organization. Following the 2004 draft, Mike and his staff inked contracts with 26 of the first 30 players selected by the club. Among the players drafted under Mike's regime was pitcher Brandon Webb, who was named Baseball America's 2003 Rookie of the Year.

Mike was raised in Chicago, lettering in baseball, basketball and football at Holy Cross High School. He and his wife, Sheila, have a son, Michael Jr. (2/15/90), and make their home in Scottsdale.

Jim Cassandro

Director of Research, Baseball Operations

A new addition to the family, Jim joined the team in January after serving as a research and statistical consultant part-time in 2004. His role as Director of Research finds him developing statistical and research information in order to assist the Baseball Operations department.

After receiving his Ph.D. from the University of California, Davis in 2001, Cassandro spent several years conducting research and teaching statistics/methodology. His work at U.C. Davis led to the position of Assistant Professor at the International Center for Studies in Creativity in Buffalo and then to the University of Arizona, where he taught until the spring of 2004.

Jim and his wife Holly, have two sons, Zachary and Casey, and make their home in Phoenix.

Roger Riley

Director of Team Travel

Roger is in his eighth season with the Diamondbacks, beginning as the Director of Team Travel in the winter of 1997, then adding the duties of Clubhouse Manager prior to the World Series season of 2001. As if being a member of a World Championship wasn't enough, he capped that year by earning the 2001 Traveling Secretary of the Year award, as voted by his peers in Major League baseball. Aside from his regular duties on the road, he assists baseball operations when the needs arise regarding player transactions and computer work.

Roger doesn't have much of an "off-season" as evidenced by his departure for the MLB clubhouse manager meetings just 72 hours after the Diamondbacks won the World Series title in 2001. He spends the majority of the winter signing hotel and charter aircraft contracts for the upcoming year. As the season commences he arranges for ground transportation in each city and makes sure the hotel is prepared for the team's arrival with room keys in hand, regardless of the hour. Roger is also in charge of dispensing meal money to the traveling party and handles player ticket requests both at home and on the road.

His role with the Diamondbacks also includes work on the schedule, and making sure that game times both at home and on the road are within the guidelines of Major League Baseball. Riley also works on the exhibition schedule with other Cactus League clubs and coordinates the travel plans for all players and staff members as they prepare for the six-week stay in Tucson.

Baseball was far from uncharted territory for Riley, who played college ball at the University of Kansas. It was there he began working as a statistician, and spent 19 years with a variety of network television assignments, including the Bowl Championship Series title game in the Sugar Bowl in 2000. Upon joining the Padres in 1990, Roger was the Assistant Director of Media Relations, then for two seasons worked as both the Director of Media Relations and the Travel Director. He departed from the media chair after the '96 season and combined his travel responsibilities with Baseball Administration, working with the General Manager.

He and his wife, Donna, have three daughters, Taylor, Shannon and Ashley, and make their home in Chandler.

Mike Swanson

Director of Public Relations

Simply known as "Swanee," the 2005 season is Mike's 27th in major league baseball. His arrival in Arizona has been far from uneventful, capped in 2002 by earning the prestigious Robert O. Fishel Award for Public Relations Excellence. The award, named after the long-time baseball executive, goes to the "Active, non-uniformed representative of Major League Baseball whose ethics, character, dedication, service, professionalism and humanitarianism best represents the standards propounded by Robert O. Fishel." The honor came a year after working for his first-ever World Series champion, and two years after serving as the Public Relations liaison for the MLB All-Star squad that played an eight-game series in Japan in November, 2000.

The Diamondbacks are the second straight franchise start-up for Swanson, who had a similar experience with the Colorado Rockies, joining that organization in 1992, a year before they played their first game in the National League. After six years with the Rockies, Swanee joined Arizona immediately following the '97 season. He has also worked in the Public Relations departments for the Kansas City Royals and San Diego Padres.

Though baseball is his passion, Swanson has had the opportunity to be involved in all sports throughout his life. His mother, the late Betty Swanson, worked for both the Kansas City Athletics and Chiefs over a 36-year span, and oftentimes had the younger Swanson tagging along, working in the equipment rooms for both franchises, and traveling with the Chiefs during their glory years of the early 70's.

Around his baseball career, Swanee has also served as a statistician, starting in 1977 with Keith Jackson on college football and evolving into stints with Monday Night Football, and the sharing of booth space with some of the top announcers in sports. He was recruited to join CBS Sports when current Suns' announcer Gary Bender was calling the play-by-play for NCAA Basketball. All totaled his statistical resume featured six Final Fours, six Super Bowls, four NFC Championship Games, five Sugar Bowls and six Cotton Bowls.

Swanson, 50, his wife Renee, six-year old daughter Rachel Elizabeth, and their yellow lab Rocky reside in Chandler.

Diamondbacks Business Vice Presidents

Tom Harris
Senior Vice President of Finance

Tom joined the Diamondbacks as the Vice President of Finance in July of 1995. In charge of the entire operating budget, Harris and his staff work in concert with each department to maintain their individual budgets. He also supervises all general accounting activities, and ensures operations are in accordance with ownership goals and objectives.

Harris came to the Diamondbacks by way of the Phoenix Suns and the America West Arena, where he was the Financial Controller of the Arena for two years. Prior to entering the sports industry, he was employed by Gene A. Schwarzkopf, CPA, Ltd. for three years.

A native of Winslow, an Arizona town that the Eagles made famous in the song "Take it Easy," Tom graduated in accounting from Arizona State University, and earned a Master's in Taxation from ASU in December 1992. He began his professional career in 1985 at Arthur Andersen & Co.

Away from the ballpark, Harris serves on the boards of Arizona Diamondbacks Charities and Esperanza, Inc. He is a member of the Phoenix Thunderbirds, the group that stages the FBR Open each year.

Tom and his wife, Kathleen, have four children, Sean, Sarah, Kelly and Katie, and make their home in Phoenix.

Dianne Aguilar
Senior Vice President of Ticket Operations and Special Services

Dianne has 28 years of ticketing experience, which included an impressive array of sporting events in the Valley before joining the Diamondbacks. She supervised ticketing for Arizona State's 1987 Rose Bowl appearance, the NBA Finals, the opening of America West Arena and the NBA All-Star Game.

Born in Phoenix and a graduate of both Tempe High School and Arizona State University, her ticketing career began in the Athletic Ticket Office of ASU during her days as a student in 1976. While still a student, she was promoted to ticket manager and during her tenure, the Sun Devils played in the '87 Rose Bowl and Sun Devil Stadium was expanded to its current size.

In 1990, Dianne was named ticket manager for the Phoenix Suns and was later named Director of Ticket Operations for the move to America West Arena. One of her monumental tasks was determining seating assignments for season ticket holders from Veterans Memorial Coliseum into the new facility. This was a skill that came in handy during the seat selection process for the opening of Bank One Ballpark.

Dianne's favorite sport, baseball, was the one she had not worked and she jumped at the chance to join the Diamondbacks as V.P. of Ticket Operations and Special Services. Her responsibilities include supervision of all ticketing, the luxury suites at Bank One Ballpark, guest services, working with the ADA (American Disabilities Act) to ensure the stadium is handicap accessible and overseeing the Tours Department.

Mark Fernandez Vice President of Sales and Marketing

Mark was promoted to his current role of Vice President of Sales & Marketing in October of 2004 after spending nearly four years as the team's Vice President of Corporate Sales. His duties now include supervising all of the organization's key business operations, including corporate sales, season and group ticket sales, suite sales, marketing, broadcasting, community affairs, publications, game operations, Hispanic marketing and broadcasting, Tucson operations, and Spring Training operations.

His initial tenure with the organization was a two-year stint as the Director of Operations in Tucson, representing both the Diamondbacks and the Chicago White Sox in the development and construction of Tucson Electric Park while establishing a marketing and community presence in southern Arizona. Upon arriving at Bank One Ballpark, Mark spent two years as the Diamondbacks' Vice President of Community Affairs and Executive Director of Arizona Diamondbacks Charities. Though now involved on the sales and marketing side, he remains a part of the club's community efforts, including membership on the Board of Directors of Diamondbacks Charities.

Returning to sales and marketing as his primary focus was a homecoming for Fernandez, who joined the America West Arena/Phoenix Suns organization in January, 1992, serving as Director of Marketing and Booking for the arena, setting numerous attendance records for national touring events. Mark also supervised guest services and was Director of Game Operations for Phoenix Arena Sports.

As is consistent with the majority of Diamondbacks' personnel, Mark gives back when away from the office, serving on the Board of Directors and Executive Committee of the Valley of the Sun United Way. He and his wife, Trudie, and children, Grace, Jamie and Eden, make their home in Phoenix.

Scott Geyer Vice President of Broadcasting

Scott's endless hours of work began in 1995 as he prepared the organization for its live television productions, as well as provided design insight into the construction of Bank One Ballpark from the media point of view. The Diamondbacks had the right man providing that information, as Geyer is in his 24th year of sports television, serving the club as the Director for each game telecast throughout the year.

Prior to his move to the Diamondbacks, Geyer spent 10 years as Producer/Director of the Phoenix Suns television package, while also managing the production and post-production division of America West Arena since it opened in 1992. His baseball television resume includes directing a major league package for FOX Sports Net and a five-year stint directing AAA baseball in the Valley in the 1980's.

Geyer is a native of the San Francisco Bay Area and graduated from San Diego State University with a degree in broadcast journalism, prior to making the Valley his home in 1980. Scott and his wife Lisa have two sons, Adam (11) and Travis (8).

Rob Kiese Vice President of Sales

Rob was promoted to his current role as Vice President of Sales during the off-season prior to the 2002 campaign. He has been with the Diamondbacks since 1996, joining the organization as a sales manager with the task of turning 42,000 season-ticket deposits into actual season-ticket holders. He was promoted to Director of Sales in 1997 and held that position until his most recent ascension.

A veteran of 19 years of event sales experience, Kiese was no stranger to the Phoenix sports scene prior to joining the Diamondbacks, making the move to the Valley from Houston in 1984 and joining the Phoenix Suns as a sales representative. He was promoted to sales manager in 1985 and stayed with the NBA franchise until joining the then Phoenix Cardinals as Director of Sales in 1989, working there through the 1992 season.

Rob is a 1978 graduate of Bowling Green State University. His first event sales position was with the Alley Theatre in Houston, TX. He and his wife, Bobbi, who is an attorney in the Valley, make their home in central Phoenix. When away from their respective offices, Rob and Bobbi have played softball in the Phoenix Co-ed Rec League for the past 19 years. Kiese is on the Board of Directors for the American Red Cross Grand Canyon Chapter.

Bank One Ballpark and America West Arena Vice Presidents

Alvan Adams Vice President - Facility Management

As Alvan Adams makes his rounds at Bank One Ballpark, America West Arena and the Dodge Theatre area fans recognize the former Phoenix Sun whose number "33" jersey hangs proudly at AWA. The Suns' first round choice in the 1975 draft, Alvan earned league Rookie-of-the-Year honors in 1976 to jumpstart an outstanding NBA career.

Adams retired from the hardwood in 1988 but returned a year later having turned his attention to the development of America West Arena. He took on the same task with the construction of Bank One Ballpark in 1996. He was named to his present role in 1999, overseeing all three sports and entertainment facilities.

Once he completed his NBA career, Alvan returned to the University of Oklahoma, earning a Bachelor's Degree. His civic involvement revolves around his interest in the history and historic preservation of Phoenix in his position on the Board of the Phoenix Museum of History.

Alvan and his wife, Sara, have two children, Justin and Emily, and make their home in Paradise Valley.

Russ Amaral Vice President - Event Services

Beginning his 13th year in the organization, Russ is in his sixth year as Vice President of Event Services for both the America West Arena and Bank One Ballpark. His job scope entails him overseeing guest services, ballpark operations and off-season coordination of Bank One Ballpark special events such as supercross, international soccer, college football, concerts and the like.

He saw a World Series operation first-hand in 2000 when he was invited by Major League Baseball to assist with stadium operations during the "Subway Series" at both Shea and Yankee Stadiums. This proved a valuable experience the following year as the Diamondbacks successfully hosted games 1, 2, 6 and 7 of the 2001 World Series against the New York Yankees and became the "fastest ever" expansion team to win a championship.

Amaral is a graduate of Oregon State University, earning a degree in Business Administration. He and his wife, Beverly, make their home in Phoenix.

George Bevans Vice President - Security and Risk Management

George is responsible for developing and implementing safety and security plans for Bank One Ballpark, America West Arena and the Dodge Theatre. Utilizing over thirty years of experience, Bevans has designed and implemented security and safety plans for such major events as the NBA Finals, NBA All-Star Game, the 2001 World Series and numerous concerts and special events.

George began his career in 1968 as a military police officer and continues to provide his hands-on approach to solving organizational safety and security problems to this day.

Bill Bolt

Vice President - Information Systems

When Bill joined the organization in 1991 as the Suns' Director of Information Systems, the computer count totaled five, but that figure has since grown to nearly 600 while he has been promoted to Vice President. He oversees the computer needs for all entities of Bank One Ballpark, America West Arena and the Dodge Theatre.

Bill's role with the Diamondbacks and Suns is not his first work in professional sports, spending five seasons as the Director of Information Systems for the NFL's Minnesota Vikings. Bolt split his formative years between Detroit, MI, and Cleveland, OH, growing up a fan of both the Tigers and Indians. He then attended the University of Minnesota.

Bill and his wife, Kathie, make their home in north Scottsdale.

Bob Nanberg

Vice President - Merchandising

Bob joined the Team Shop in May, 1998, bringing 32 years of retail experience with Major National Retailers. He was the Principal in a national women's accessory chain from 1986-95.

In addition to the Team Shop, Nanberg is involved with the Salvation Army, Arizona Humane Society and Sunshine Acres Children's Home.

Bob and his wife, Cheryl, have two grown sons, and two dogs.

Tom O'Malley

Vice President and General Counsel

Tom is in his sixth season with the Diamondbacks as the chief legal officer as well as the organization's other entities, the Phoenix Suns, the Phoenix Mercury, Arizona Rattlers, America West Arena and Team Shops.

O'Malley worked for the law firm Fennemore Craig and represented businesses in all facets of commercial law. While with the firm Gallagher and Kennedy he assisted in the drafting of documents for Bank One Ballpark and also worked on cases related to trademark infringement, fraud and breach of contract. O'Malley was a founder of Insight Computers, growing the company from five employees to multi-million dollars in sales in just four years.

O'Malley graduated from the University of Kansas in 1987 before attending University of Arizona Law School. He and his wife, Laura, are the parents of Erin (8) and Tara (7).

Paige Peterson

President and General Manager of Sports and Entertainment Services, LLC

As President and General Manager of Sports and Entertainment Services, LLC (SES), Paige oversees all operations of Bank One Ballpark, America West Arena and the Dodge Theatre. Located in the core of downtown Phoenix, each year these facilities produce over 450 events and entertain 5 million guests. Paige is a board member of the Phoenix Community Alliance and works with the Maricopa County Stadium District in his responsibilities for the Bank One Ballpark.

Paige joined the organization in 1995 and when SES was formed in 1999, he was promoted to his current position. Prior to coming on board, Paige spent four years in public accounting with Arthur Andersen in Phoenix. He graduated from the University of Arizona, where he earned a bachelors degree in accounting and finance.

Paige and his wife, Jody, are the parents of Rex (5) and Kade (4).

THE POWER TO MAKE IT HAPPEN™

Bob Melvin

Manager

Ht: 6-4

Wt: 210

Age: 43 (Turns 44 on October 28)

Born: October 28, 1961 in Palo Alto, CA

Residence: Cave Creek, AZ

Former Position: Catcher

MANAGING/COACHING CAREER—Bob was named manager of the Diamondbacks on November 5, 2004, following a two-year stint as the skipper of the Seattle Mariners...this is a homecoming for the 43-year old Melvin, who is familiar with the third base dugout at Bank One Ballpark after serving as Bob Brenly's bench coach during the 2001-2002 seasons, each year culminating in a Western Division title, including the World Series crown in '01...the 12th manager in Mariner history, Melvin posted a 156-168 record in his two seasons at the helm, highlighted by a 93-69 ledger during his rookie managerial campaign of 2003, shattering the team record for wins by a first-year Mariner manager, eclipsing Lou Piniella's 1993 mark of 82-80...Bob's 93 wins tied for the 15th most by any rookie manager in Major League history...he put his first career win in the books on April 3, 2003, in Oakland, a 7-6 triumph in 11 innings...his first of 7 career ejections (playing/coaching/managing) occurred on July 17, 2003, at Kansas City, when he was automatically tossed following a hit batsman after benches had been warned about pitching inside...similar to the circumstances that hampered the Diamondbacks in 2004, Melvin's Mariners lost an uphill battle with the injury bug last year and finished the campaign with a 63-99 mark...prior to his first stint with Arizona in 2001, he spent a pair of seasons alongside manager Phil Garner, first with Milwaukee in 1999, then in 2000 when Garner was hired in Detroit...Melvin's playing career ended with the 1994 season and after taking a year off he began working as a scout for the Brewers in 1996...he followed as a roving instructor in '97, then as the assistant to general manager Sal Bando for a season before putting the uniform on again as Garner's bench coach...Mel's first managerial experience came in 1999 when he skippered Maryvale in the Arizona Fall League.

ANOTHER RECEIVER TURNED SKIPPER—Bob is one of 11 current managers who have catching on their resume from their playing days...former full-time catchers who now manage in the Majors include Melvin, Bruce Bochy, John Gibbons, Tony Pena, Mike Scioscia, Joe Torre, Eric Wedge and Ned Yost, while Clint Hurdle (22 games) and Ken Macha (4 games) each had minimal receiving experience...though known for his work as a manager and front office executive, Florida's Jack McKeon began his professional playing career as a minor league catcher.

PLAYING CAREER—Bob caught for 10 seasons in the big leagues, making 7 different stops, including 5 clubs in his last 4 years...originally drafted by Baltimore in the third round of the '79 draft, Melvin chose not to sign at the time, then inked his first contract with Detroit after going in the first round of the secondary phase of the 1981 January draft...he spent 4+ seasons in the minors before making his Major League debut on May 25, 1985 in Seattle, going 2-for-4 with a pair of doubles...Bob served as Lance Parrish's back-up for the remainder of '85 then was part of a 6-player swap with San Francisco on October 7, 1985, going to the Giants with Juan Berenguer and a player-to-be-named (Scott Medvin) in exchange for Dave LaPoint, Eric King and Matt Nokes...BoMel spent three years sharing the catching duties with Bob Brenly in San Francisco...Melvin hit his first major league home run on June 18, 1986, off of San Diego's Mark Thurmond...he continued to hit home runs off Padre pitching in 1987, opening the year with a 2-homer game on April 7 against San Diego...of his career-high 11 home runs, 5 were against the Padres...he closed the year with another 2-homer game taking Fernando Valenzuela deep twice on September 22...behind the plate he nabbed 31 of 78 base thieves, a 40% success rate which was second best in the N.L....he went 3-for-3 as the starting catcher in the sixth and final game of the NLCS against St. Louis...he homered off Orel Hershiser on August 14, 1988, in Dodger Stadium, the last home run surrendered by Hershiser as he closed the campaign with 131.2 consecutive homerless innings...Bob joined Baltimore for 3 seasons from 1989-91, then wrapped up his playing career bouncing around, featuring stops with Kansas City (1992) and Boston (1993), before splitting the '94 season with the Yankees and White Sox...he had a string of 78 consecutive games without an error from September 13, 1989-September 22, 1990...Melvin recorded a career-high 5 hits on June 15, 1991, at Toronto.

PERSONAL—Robert Paul (Bob) Melvin...he and his wife, Kelley, have a daughter, Alexi (12/21/88) and make their home in Cave Creek...Bob was a 1979 graduate of Menlo-Atherton High School in Menlo Park, CA, lettering in baseball, basketball and golf...he then attended Cañada College in Redwood City, CA, and the University of California at Berkeley...he was originally drafted by the Baltimore Orioles in the third round of the 1979 June draft, but did not sign, then joined the Tigers as their first choice in the secondary phase of the 1981 January draft...Bob, Kelley and Lexi are all very active with the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation...an avid golfer when time permits, Melvin participated in the Silver Pro-Am portion of the FBR Open in January, teaming with former Masters champion Bernhard Langer.

COACHING CAREER—This is Jay's first venture into the coaching side of Major League baseball...he spent a portion of spring training in 2004 commuting between the Valley and Tucson to assist with the minor league instructional staff.

PLAYING CAREER—Jay had a 17-year big league playing career, highlighted by him crossing home plate on the back end of Luis Gonzalez's game-winning single that ended the 2001 World Series and brought the state of Arizona its first major sports championship...a lifetime .265 hitter over 2,063 career games, Bell began as Minnesota's first round pick (eighth overall) in the 1984 draft...career highlights included: 1986—Jay made a splash in Major League debut on Sept. 29 vs. Minnesota, homering on his first pitch seen in big leagues off of Bert Blyleven, the 11th player ever to homer on first pitch thrown to him, a year after being traded for Blyleven...Jay was also the 55th player to homer in first Major League at bat. 1989—Acquired from Cleveland on March 25 in exchange for infielder Felix Fermin and Jay was the Buc's Opening Day shortstop. 1990—Led majors with a team record 39 sacrifice bunts and led N.L. shortstops in putouts and total chances. 1991—Was the third Pirate shortstop to hit at least 16 home runs in a season, joining Glenn Wright (18 in 1925) and Arky Vaughan (19 in 1935)...led the majors in sacrifice bunts (30) for the second straight year, and was the first player with 15 homers and 30 sac's in the same season since Johnny Logan (Milwaukee Braves, 1956)...hit first career grand slam on Sept. 30 off New York's Doug Simon...led Pirates in LCS with .414 mark vs. Braves, tying the 7-game series record for most singles (9). 1993—Won first Rawlings Gold Glove, snapping Ozzie Smith's 13-year reign, the second Pirate shortstop to win the award (Gene Alley, 1966-67), committing league-low 11 errors...named to his first All-Star team while earning a Silver Slugger and The Sporting News All-Star recognition. 1996—Was Pirates' opening day shortstop for the eighth straight year, the longest streak since Dick Groat started 8 in a row (1955-62)...led Major League shortstops with a .986 fielding pct...was traded to Kansas City with Jeff King on December 13, in exchange for 4 players. 1997—Only year with K.C., he set a club record for shortstops with 21 homers and 92 RBI, earning team Player-of-the-Year honors. 1998—His first of 5 seasons with the D'Backs, he moved from shortstop to second base on Sept. 11 for the final 15 games. 1999—Elected to start in the All-Star Game at Boston...he shattered his previous single-season bests in home runs (38), RBI (112) and runs scored (132)...36 of his 38 home runs came as a second baseman, only the seventh at that position to achieve 30 homers in a season (11th time)...hit a tie-breaking grand slam on July 11 vs. Oakland, winning $1 million for a lucky fan...went 4-for-14 (.286) in the 4-game Division Series with the Mets, including 2 hits and 2 runs in Arizona's lone win, 7-1 in Game #2. 2001—Opened the year as the starting second baseman, but by season's end he was coming off the bench serving mainly as a pinch hitter and spot starter...recorded his 1,900th career hit on June 24 at Colorado, a solo homer off of Denny Neagle...one of the 3 players on Arizona's inaugural Opening Day roster in 1998 that participated in the World Series, Jay will be forever remembered jumping into Matt Williams' arms with the game-winning run that ended the 2001 Fall Classic...he reached base safely on a failed sacrifice bunt attempt, then moved to third base on Tony Womack's game-tying double...after Craig Counsell was hit by a pitch to load the bases, Bell scored the game-winner on Luis Gonzalez's hit...Jay made his first career World Series start the night before in Game #6, going 1-for-5 with 2 runs and an RBI...he opened the post-season going 1-for-4 against the Cardinals in the Division Series with the hit coming in his lone start in Game #2...Bell appeared only once in the NLCS, going 0-for-4 as the second baseman in Game #2. 2003—Jay ended his playing career by spending the campaign with the Mets, but his final big league season witnessed sporadic work with just 25 starting assignments around the infield.

PERSONAL—Jay Stuart Bell...he and wife, Laura, have a daughter, Brianna (8/5/91), and sons, Brantley (11/16/94) and Brock (3/18/98)...a Florida native, Jay graduated from Tate High School in Gonzalez, FL, guiding his senior team to the Quad-A State title, while earning a spot on the Florida State All-Star team...he was named the Dapper Dan Man-of-the-Year in 1993, an award given annually to a Pittsburgh sports figure in recognition of outstanding achievement on a national level...he was also the '93 recipient of the Pittsburgh Points of Light Foundation Award for his community service work...he also works locally with Young Life...since he was not thoroughly involved in baseball during the '04 season, Jay earned his private pilot's license and spent a large portion of the year airborne...following the 2000 season, he had the good fortune of partnering with Tiger Woods in the Pro-Am of the Williams World Challenge at Grayhawk...this past January, Jay participated with Luis Gonzalez in the Celebrity Putting Contest benefiting Special Olympics in conjunction with the FBR Open.

Brett Butler

First Base Coach

Ht: 5-10

Wt: 161

Age: 47 (Turns 48 on June 15)

Born: June 15, 1957 in Los Angeles, CA

Residence: Duluth, GA

Former Position: Outfielder

MANAGERIAL/COACHING CAREER—Similar to Jay Bell, this is Brett's first Major League coaching position after a 17-year big league playing career...officially titled the first base coach, he brings a wealth of knowledge in the area of bunting, baserunning and outfield defense...after retiring as a player following the 1997 season, Butler entered the instructional phase of his career by working as a spring training instructor with the Dodgers in 2002, then spending 2003 as the Mets' roving outfield/baserunning/bunting consultant followed by a managerial assignment with the Gulf Coast Mets last summer...between playing and coaching, Brett traveled the country as a motivational speaker to corporations, ministries and churches, while also coaching part-time at the Greater Atlanta Christian School.

PLAYING CAREER—Brett's career path began in the Atlanta organization in 1979, followed by stops in Cleveland (1984-87), San Francisco (1988-90) and Los Angeles (1991-97), interrupted only by a 90-game stint with the Mets in 1995...he was a lifetime .290 hitter over 2,213 career games totaling 1,359 runs, 2,375 hits, 277 doubles, 131 triples, 54 home runs, 578 RBI and 558 stolen bases...he is one of only 26 players in Major League history to compile at least 500 stolen bases and 2,000 hits for a career...Brett recorded 287 bunt hits during his 17-year big league playing career...he was a member of the 1991 National League All-Star team and appeared in the 1982 NLCS with Atlanta, the 1989 NLCS and World Series with San Francisco and the 1995 Division Series with Los Angeles...career highlights included: 1981—Made his Major League debut with the Braves and collected his first hit on August 20, a double off the Mets' Danny Boitano. 1983—Led the majors with 13 triples and set an Atlanta single-season record with 39 stolen bases. 1984—Traded to Cleveland the previous winter, Butler became the first player in franchise history to steal 50 bases and score 100 runs in a single season. 1986—Led the majors and tied a career best with 14 triples, becoming just the second player in Major League history to lead each league in triples in his career (joining Hall of Famer Sam Crawford). 1987—Despite missing first month with a broken finger, he became the second player in Cleveland history to record 4 straight 30-steal seasons. 1988—His first year with the Giants, Brett led the league with 109 runs scored...collected his 1,000th career hit on July 25 off the Dodgers' Fernando Valenzuela. 1990—Hit .309 while tying Lenny Dykstra for the league lead in hits (192), the first Giant to top the charts in that category since Willie Mays in 1960...twice scored from second base on sacrifice flies...tied a modern N.L. record with 5 walks on April 12 in Atlanta, scoring 4 times...recorded 22 bunt hits. 1991—Brett's first year as a Dodger, he led the N.L. in games (161), runs (112), walks (108), singles (162), on-base pct. for leadoff hitters (.401)...first Dodger to lead the N.L. in runs since Duke Snider (1955) and in walks since Jim Gilliam (1959)...set a league record for games without an error in a season by an outfielder with 161, breaking Curt Flood's mark of 159 set in 1966 with St. Louis...named the Dodgers' Most Valuable Player by the local chapter of the BBWAA. 1992—Had a streak of 207 consecutive errorless games end with a throwing error on April 29 vs. the Phillies...had a career-high and league-leading 24 sacrifice bunts, unseating Jay Bell, who was the two-year league leader in that department...scored his 1,000th career run on June 26 vs. Houston. 1993—Was one of two everyday outfielders to play errorless ball the entire year, joining San Francisco's Darren Lewis...finished with 26 bunt hits, his 10th consecutive season with at least 20 bunt singles...finished with 10 triples, the first Dodger with back-to-back seasons of 10 or more triples since Willie Davis (1970-71). 1994—Stole his 500th career base on August 3 vs. San Diego, becoming the 21st player in history to collect 500 steals with 1,200 runs...recorded 2,000th career hit on May 15 vs. the Padres A.J. Sager, a game-opening bunt single...earned his 1,000th career walk on July 10 off the Mets' Bret Saberhagen...had an errorless streak of 307 straight games halted on June 3 at Atlanta. 1995—Signed as a free agent with the Mets during the winter, he returned to Los Angeles on August 18 in a trade for a pair of minor league outfielders...combined the two stops to hit .300, the fifth time he'd been a .300 hitter in his big league career and sixth consecutive year of .296 or better...was dealt to the Dodgers while Los Angeles was visiting Shea Stadium, thus he switched clubhouses and went 2-for-4 with a double, triple and 2 RBI in a 3-2 L.A. loss...set a Mets club record with three consecutive 4-hit games from July 18-20, going 12-for-15...led the N.L. with 43 infield hits, including 19 bunt singles. 1996—Appeared in a career-low 34 games, but underwent a life-changing experience in May when he was placed on the disabled list for what was thought to be a tonsillectomy, but on May 6, a cancerous plum-size tumor was discovered in his tonsils...the cancer is known as Squamous Cell Carcinoma, and he underwent surgery to remove the tumor and lymph nodes on May 21 at Emory University by Dr. William Grist...began radiation treatments on June 17, lasting 6 weeks (32 treatments)...amazingly, Butler rejoined the team on August 26 in Montreal and was reinstated from the D.L. on September 6...appeared in just 5 games after returning, then suffered a fractured fifth metacarpal in his left hand when hit by a Giovanni Carrara pitch while attempting to bunt on September 10. 1997—Pulled the curtain on his big league career by hitting .283 in 105 games for the Dodgers...recorded his fourth career 5-hit game on May 16 against the Mets at Shea...finished his career with 27 games of 4 or more hits.

PERSONAL—Brett Morgan Butler...he and his wife, Eveline, and children Abbi (8/15/82), Stephanie (2/9/84), Katie (5/20/85) and Blake (10/16/87), make their home in Duluth, GA...Brett lettered in baseball, football, wrestling and cross country for Libertyville (Illinois) High School, graduating in 1975...he had an abbreviated stint at Arizona State University, but made his collegiate name as a two-time All-America at Southeastern Oklahoma State University, graduating in 1979 with a B.S. in Education...Brett's autobiography, "Field of Hope," detailed his years in baseball and his battle with cancer...he was the 1996 winner of the Denver Rotary's Branch Rickey Award for "service above self"...Butler was also the recipient of the Lou Gehrig Award, the Arete Award for Courage, the Dodgers' John Hancock Roberto Clemente Man of the Year award (given to the player that exemplifies on-field excellence and off-field humanitarian qualities) and the Baseball Writers of New York "You Gotta Have Heart" Award.

Mark Davis

Pitching Coach

Ht: 6-4

Wt: 240

Age: 44 (Turns 45 on October 19)

Born: October 19, 1960 in Livermore, CA

Residence: Scottsdale, AZ

Former Position: Pitcher

COACHING CAREER—Mark is in his first full season as the pitching coach, his third year on the big league coaching staff...he opened last year in the pen, then was promoted to pitching coach after the dismissal of Bob Brenly on July 2...Davis has been in the organization as a coach since 1999, working for two years with Tucson in the Arizona Rookie League, followed by stints with Missoula (2001) and El Paso (2002)...he is familiar with the young arms coming up through the system, including the quartet of Brandon Webb, Oscar Villarreal, Michael Gosling and Brian Bruney, all of whom were on the El Paso staff in 2002 when they recorded a team-record 3.75 staff ERA in the offensive minded Texas League...Mark also served as pitching coach for Grand Canyon in the Arizona Fall League in 2001.

PLAYING CAREER—Mark spent 18 seasons in pro ball as a player, including big league stops with Philadelphia, San Francisco, San Diego, Kansas City, Atlanta and Milwaukee...he broke in with the Phillies in 1980 and was part of a couple of blockbuster trades during the course of his career, the first occurring in 1982 when he traveled from Philly to San Francisco as part of a 5-man exchange that included Mike Krukow to the Giants and Joe Morgan and Al Holland to the Phils...the move to the Giants also witnessed a role change for the southpaw, who had served as a starter throughout his career until the 1984 campaign when he began working out of the pen...M.D. was later shipped to San Diego in 1987 in a 7-player swap that included a future National League Cy Young Award (Davis) winner and a Most Valuable Player (Kevin Mitchell)...Mark's career flourished in 2 1/2 seasons with the Padres, becoming a full-time reliever in which he combined the 1988-89 seasons for 72 saves and a pair of All-Star Game assignments...the biggest highlight was the '89 season when Davis recorded a league-leading 44 rescues in 48 opportunities and a 1.85 ERA to win the Cy Young Award, National League Rolands Relief Man-of-the-Year Award and San Diego MVP honors...his 44 saves at the time were the most in the National League since Bruce Sutter rescued 45 for St. Louis in 1984...Mark's terrific season was capped with free agency and Davis signed on with the Kansas City Royals, where he spent 2 1/2 years and was unable to recapture the success he enjoyed with the Padres...he was dealt in 1992 to Atlanta, which was followed by return trips to Philadelphia and San Diego...M.D. had some health issues over the next couple of years, including left shoulder surgery in August, 1996...he successfully returned to the hill in 1997, signing a minor league contract with the Diamondbacks a year before the major league club was slated to debut...he pitched in Arizona's minor league system until August 14, 1997, when he was traded by the Diamondbacks to Milwaukee, where he wound up making 19 relief appearances...included in his final big league action was the 1,000th strike-out of his career when he K'd Boston's Reggie Jefferson on September 12, 1997...he was actually a non-roster invitee to spring training with Arizona's inaugural club in 1998, but did not make the club and retired from the game.

PERSONAL—Mark William Davis...he and his wife, Candy, have two daughters, Taylor (12/7/85) and Madison (2/1/89), and two sons, Logan (8/23/91) and Carlson "C.J." (1/17/95) and make their home in Scottsdale...Mark graduated from Granada High School in Livermore, CA, in 1978...he tossed a no-hitter against rival Livermore, recording 19 strike-outs, in his final high school game...he pitched for a season at Chabot College in Hayward, CA, before signing as the Phils' first pick in the secondary phase of the 1979 January draft...Mark was originally selected in the 21st round of the 1978 draft by the New York Mets but chose not to sign...Davis spends a portion of his January participating in the San Francisco Giants Fantasy Camp in Scottsdale.

Age: 44 (Turns 45 on September 26)

Born: September 26, 1960 in Nahant, MA

Residence: Scottsdale, AZ

Former Position: Catcher

COACHING CAREER—Glenn is in his 23rd year in professional baseball and he's the only member of Arizona's original coaching staff that has been on board since the outset in 1998...he is back in the role that began his stint with the Diamondbacks, returning to the bullpen coach position where he spent his first 5 seasons here...Sherlock replaced Bob Melvin as the bench coach in 2003, when Melvin took the managerial role in Seattle...Glenn started last year as the first base coach, but took over the chores on the third base line after Al Pedrique was named manager...Sherlock came to Arizona as the roving catching instructor in 1996 and worked with the minor league catchers in the system prior to the inaugural big league season...he was also tapped for his knowledge and experience during the start-up phase, when the D'Backs were assembled via the expansion draft...a longtime Yankee, Glenn was catching instructor in the Bronx twice, working in the pen in 1992, then once again in 1994 and '95...all told, he was employed for 10 seasons in the Yankee chain either as a minor league player, coach or manager...originally signed by the Astros as their 21st pick in the '83 June draft, he set a NY-Penn League record during his first year for double plays by a catcher...after 4 seasons, Sherlock signed as a free agent with New York, playing for 3 years in their system...he was part of 4 titles as a player, including his final year in 1989, which was also his first taste of the instructional phase, serving as player/coach for Albany (AA), though appearing in just one game...he managed at Tampa in 1990 then led Ft. Lauderdale in '91 and was named a coach for the Florida State League All-Star Game... Glenn was the catching instructor for the big league club in 1992, then returned to Tampa to manage that club in '93 while also working as an organizational instructor...his 3-year minor league managerial record wrapped up at 121-128 (.486)...he went "down-under" to hone his managerial skills in the winter of 1993, leading the Canberra Bushrangers in the Australian Baseball League.

PERSONAL—Glenn Patrick Sherlock...he and his wife, Lisa, son, Tim (11/30/86), and daughter, Cara (11/4/90), make their home in Scottsdale, AZ...Glenn graduated in 1979 from St. John's Prep in Danvers, MA, earning All-State baseball honors while also playing football...he then earned a B.A. degree in environmental studies at Rollins (FL) College, while playing baseball...Glenn was honored with the Rollins College Hall of Fame Achievement Award and earned Sunshine State All-Star status...he also played ball for 3 summers in the Yarmouth-Dennis Cape Cod League...he operates a catchers camp in the Valley during the off-season.

Spring Training
Clark

Will brings the experience of a 15-year Major League playing career to the Diamondbacks as an advisor to the coaching staff in spring training. A lifetime .303 hitter in nearly 2,000 big league games (1,976), Clark's resume featured stops with San Francisco (1986-93), Texas (1994-98), Baltimore (1999-2000) and St. Louis (2000). The possessor of 440 doubles and 284 home runs, he was still an offensive threat at the time of his retirement following the 2000 season, hitting .345 in 51 post-trade deadline games for the Cardinals, helping the Redbirds runaway with the Central Division crown.

Clark, 41, was a 6-time All-Star and hit over .300 on 10 occasions. Highlights included a league leading 109 RBI and 100 walks with 31 doubles and 29 home runs while appearing in all 162 games for the Giants in 1988. He also won a Rawlings Gold Glove in 1991. He was a 2-time All American at Mississippi State University and was the winner of the Golden Spikes Award as the country's top collegiate player in 1985, hitting .420 with 25 homers and 77 RBI in 65 games.

Gregg
Olson

One of two former D'Backs to assist the staff in spring training, Gregg had an outstanding 14-year Major League career, including a pair of seasons as the first closer in Arizona franchise history. The possessor of 217 career saves, the 30th best total all-time, 44 of those rescues came in a Diamondbacks' uniform in 1998-99. He recorded a career-high 37 saves with Baltimore in 1990, earning a spot on the American League All-Star team.

Gregg established himself as one of baseball's premiere closers with Baltimore, posting 160 saves over a 5-year span from 1989-93. His career also included stops with Atlanta, Cleveland, Kansas City, Detroit, Houston and Minnesota before joining the D'Backs as a free agent prior to the inaugural year of 1998. "Oly" closed out his career with a pair of seasons in a set-up role with the Dodgers.

Matt
Williams

A familiar face returns to a Diamondback uniform with Matt Williams bringing his 17 years of Major League playing experience back to the organization that he helped lead to a World Series crown in 2001. Known for his toughness and Marine-like approach to the game, Matt was an Arizona original after being acquired from Cleveland in a post-Expansion Draft trade. The possessor of 378 career home runs, Williams hit 99 of those roundtrippers as a member of the D'Backs.

Matty broke into the majors in 1987 with San Francisco as a shortstop, then made the full-time move to third base the following season and won 4 Rawlings Gold Gloves at the hot corner. He was traded from the Giants to Cleveland prior to the '97 season, spending one year with the Tribe, then joined the Diamondbacks where he will always be remembered for waiting with open arms when Jay Bell scored the World Championship winning run in 2001.

A 3-time All-Star and 3-time World Series participant, Williams shares or owns a quartet of Fall Classic records. He is the first player to homer for 3 different teams, seventh to homer in both leagues and fourth to do so in 3 decades. Matt also had 2 doubles in the third inning of Game #6, the first player ever to collect 2 doubles in an inning of a World Series.

Paul Lessard
Head Athletic Trainer

The only big league training staff in Diamondback history is back for an eighth season, led by Paul Lessard, who with partner Dave Edwards have excelled at getting players back on the field. The work by the training staff is enhanced by one of the top medical facilities in any professional sports venue, featuring a room dedicated to hydro-therapy and an in-house X-Ray machine with technicians.

Paul's eight years of work with the Diamondbacks is his first Major League action, but not his first baseball experience, breaking in with the Ft. Lauderdale Yankees in 1987. Prior to returning to baseball, Lessard had a 10-year career as a collegiate athletic trainer.

The 42-year old Lessard graduated from Northeastern University with a degree in athletic training. He spent two years as the assistant athletic trainer for the Atlanta Falcons, then went to work in the Yankees' chain before returning to the college ranks. Paul was the senior athletic trainer at Boston University from 1988-94, then served as the head athletic trainer at Holy Cross University from 1994-97.

A native of Stamford, CT, is also a member of the Eastern Athletic Trainers Association and the Athletic Trainers Organization of Massachusetts. Paul has a pair of daughters, Grace and Anne.

Dave Edwards
Assistant Athletic Trainer

Dave is in his eighth season as the assistant athletic trainer with the Major League club, though he's one of the organization originals, working for a pair of minor league seasons. The 39-year old's baseball training career started in the Arizona chain in 1996 for the Rookie League entry, then it was on to High Desert, working for the California League champs in 1997. Edwards' bilingual skills are a terrific asset in the training room, eliminating any potential medical communication difficulties with Spanish speaking players, as well as serving part-time as an interpreter.

A native of Deming, NM, Edwards received a degree in athletic training from New Mexico State University in 1988. During his final days at New Mexico State, Dave began plying his trade in pro baseball with Pocatello and Everett in the Giants' chain from 1987-90. He earned his Master's in athletic training from the University of Nevada in 1991, then returned to the Valley as the head athletic trainer at Grand Canyon University from 1991-96. He was also the assistant trainer for three seasons for the Arizona Rattlers of the Arena Football League.

Dave is single and makes his home in Scottsdale.

Strength and Conditioning Coach

Dave is in his sixth full season with the big league club, joining the championship squad at mid-stream in 1999 and remaining here since. His Diamondback career began as the minor league strength and conditioning coordinator in 1998, designing both winter and in-season programs for all minor league players. Page also trained and supervised the strength coaches for each affiliate, and worked with the Tucson Sidewinders until his move to Phoenix.

His baseball strength coaching career began in the Marlins' chain, administering an in-season program with the Portland Sea Dogs in the Eastern League, also serving as their bullpen coach.

A four-year baseball letterman at the University of Southern Maine in Gorham, Dave received a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1989. He is a certified strength and conditioning specialist with the National Strength and Conditioning Association, and completed a sports medicine internship in 1997. He was elected Secretary of the Professional Baseball Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society.

Dave and his wife Lori have two sons, Jackson (9/25/00), and newborn, Noah, who arrived during the first week of spring training. The family makes their home in the Valley.

Dr. Michael Lee Head Team Physician

Dr. Lee is in his fifth full season as the Head Team Physician after assisting the organization with its orthopedic needs for five years. In his current role, Dr. Lee oversees a support team of orthopedists and primary care physicians to provide whole-spectrum medical care to the entire Diamondbacks organization. Though vital in-season when injuries and orthopedic needs arise, Dr. Lee and his fellow physicians are also busy in the winter months providing follow-up exams with players, as well as giving thorough physical examinations to new acquisitions. He is board certified in orthopedic surgery and is an active member of the Major League Baseball Team Physicians Association.

He had previously taken care of other major league clubs, as well as serving as orthopedic consultant to the Arizona State University sports teams. Dr. Lee grew up in Phoenix, then graduated from the University of California-San Diego and attended the University of Arizona, where he completed Master's coursework in Exercise Physiology, graduating from the College of Medicine with honors in 1988. He completed his orthopedic residency at the University of Kansas, then was awarded a Sports Medicine fellowship with the University of Illinois School of Medicine.

Dr. Lee returned to Phoenix over a decade ago with his wife, Martha, and three children, Conor (23), Allison (21) and Brendan (20).

Dr. Roger McCoy Team Physician

Roger L. McCoy, M.D., has been part of the Diamondbacks' family since the organization's start-up, working with the minor leaguers prior to the opening of the 1998 Major League season. He is a Board Certified Family Physician with special training in sports medicine. After graduating from Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, he received his master's degree in anatomy as well as his medical degree from Wright State University in Dayton, Ohio. While completing his family practice residency in Toledo, he served as a team physician for the University of Toledo and a couple of local high schools for three years.

Dr. McCoy was honored as the Sports Medicine Fellow at Michigan State University where he served as team physician and a faculty member teaching and developing course work at the medical school.

Aside from his responsibilities with the Diamondbacks, he is also team physician for Arizona State University, a published author in sports medicine literature and a member of the American Medical Society for Sports Medicine.

Greg Latta Head Minor League Trainer/Rehabilitation Coordinator

Greg joined the Diamondbacks at the end of the 2000 season as the club's coordinator of rehabilitation and minor league head trainer. Working out of the Tucson complex, the 45-year old Latta supervises the trainers for the Diamondbacks' six farm teams and is available year-round to oversee the rehabilitation of any and all injured players.

After graduating from Western Michigan University in 1982, Greg took his degree in education and went in another direction, being hired by the White Sox and assigned to their AA team in Glens Falls, NY. He moved up to AAA in 1985 and through 1997 made stops in Buffalo, Hawaii, Vancouver and Nashville before making his way to Tucson and settling in as the minor league head trainer and rehab coordinator for the Sox.

Greg and his wife, Sue, and son, Nicholas, make their home in Tucson.

Bob Doty

Visiting Clubhouse/Equipment Manager

Raised in San Diego, Bob made a tough decision but made the move to Arizona in the winter prior to the 1998 season, assuming the same role he held in the Padres' organization for a dozen seasons. Adept in all phases of the equipment operation, Doty is also in charge of ordering and stocking equipment for the major league and minor league clubs. He joined the Diamondbacks after a 20-year stay in his hometown with the Padres.

The role of the visiting clubhouse attendant is an all-encompassing position including unpacking each team when their equipment arrives at Bank One Ballpark, regardless of the time of day, while also cleaning all of the uniforms and making sure the clubhouse is properly catered for the visiting players.

A graduate of University High School in San Diego, Bob and his wife Angie have a pair of daughters, Lauren and Sarah, and make their home in Phoenix.

Video Scouting

Chris Bando

Jim Currgan

Allen Campbell

Chris, Jim and Allen provide the players and coaches with the video material necessary to hone their games or scout upcoming opponents. The trio is responsible for taping every game the Diamondbacks play as well as the games available on satellite of the opposition to help in game preparation.

Bando joined the Diamondbacks over the winter and not only assists the staff by advance scouting via video, he is also an on-field advisor during spring training. The 49-year old former catcher played for 9 seasons in the majors with Cleveland (1981-88), Detroit (1988) and Oakland (1989). He caught 86 games for the Indians in both 1986 and 1987, his busiest two years behind the plate. Chris is the brother of Sal Bando, a third baseman for the Kansas City/Oakland A's and Milwaukee Brewers from 1966-81 and former general manager of the Brewers.

Currgan has been with the D'Backs since their inception, but in 2001 assumed his new role as video coordinator. A member of the organization's in-house television production crew since 1997, Currgan was a 1997 Broadcast Journalism graduate of Arizona State University. He and his wife Mary, and son, Riley James (5/4/01) make their home in Phoenix.

Campbell is in his first year in the Diamondback video room after spending the 2004 season as the hitting coach for Arizona's minor league affiliate in Missoula. This assignment marks a return to the Major League organization, where he served as staff assistant in the Diamondbacks' front office.

Jeff Motuzas

Batting Practice Pitcher/Bullpen Catcher

An original members of the field staff, Jeff has been with the Diamondbacks since their inception in 1998. He throws batting practice every day, then puts the gear on and heads to the bullpen where he warms up pitchers during the contest. He became one of the more publicized BP pitchers in 2001 when he was the pitcher in the All-Star Home Run Derby won by Diamondback Luis Gonzalez. Formerly a catcher in the Yankees' chain, Jeff was a 13th round pick of New York in 1990 after earning All-American status at Nashua (NH) High School.

Jeff and his wife Crystal make their home in Phoenix.

HOW OBTAINED

Selected in the 36th round of the 1997 First Year Player Draft.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Alex's numbers fell off a bit from the previous season, though he still led the '04 club in games (154) and at bats (564), while finishing second in doubles (31) and third in hits (148)...he was the everyday shortstop for the majority of the year until a late-season stretch of starts at second base...he was hitting .286 on April 27, but struggled through a .180 stretch (11-for-61) that ran through mid-May and dropped his average to a season-low .239...Alex rebounded with a season-high 9-game hitting streak from May 28-June 5 in which he batted .333 (12-for-36) bumping his season average back to the .250 mark where he stayed for the better part of 3 months...Cintron opened a visit to Pittsburgh with a pair of hits on August 23 to jumpstart a season-ending stretch in which he hit safely in 26 of 36 games at a .326 clip (43-for-132)...included were 10 games from September 22-October 2, when he hit .415 (17-for-41), highlighted by 7 multi-hit efforts, including 5 in a row to open the stretch...his summer months weren't void of highlights, as Alex became the first player in franchise history to homer from both sides of the plate in the same game...on July 8 he took San Francisco's Dustin Hermanson deep in the fourth inning in SBC Park, then hit a 3-run homer off of southpaw Wayne Franklin in the seventh, accounting for a career-high 4 RBI in Arizona's 8-4 win over the Giants...unfortunately, after hitting 13 home runs during his rookie campaign, Cintron's power numbers witnessed a dramatic dropoff with only 4 in 116 more at bats during the 2004 season...he was much better as a righthanded hitter during the '04 campaign, batting .295 (46-for-156) while compiling a .250 mark (102-for-408) when batting from the left side...he was a .284 hitter (40-for-141) with runners in scoring position.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Alex spent the first month in AAA, but a May 6 injury to Craig Counsell opened the door on the Major League level and he took full advantage by eventually landing the everyday shortstop role...Cintron started 90 games at short, 14 at third base and 5 at second, finishing the year a .317 hitter (142-for-448)...the switch-hitter posted a .365 (50-for-137) mark from the right side, while hitting .296 (92-for-311) lefthanded...Alex excelled in the clutch, batting .311 (33-for-106) with 34 RBI with runners in scoring position, including .452 (19-for-42) with runners on third base and .375 (3-for-8) with the bases loaded...at the time of his May 7 recall, he was leading the PCL with a .393 average (42-for-107) with 21 RBI in 26 games...he clubbed his first big league roundtripper on May 14 in Arizona's final trip to The Vet in Philly, a solo blast in the fifth inning off of Brett Myers...he reached base in all 5 of his plate appearances on May 31 in San Diego with 2 doubles, a triple and 2 walks...Cintron had 3 consecutive 3-hit games on June 14-15 in Minnesota and June 17 at Houston...in the game against the Astros, Alex and Matt Kata teamed up for back-to-back homers in the first inning...Cintron smacked his first career walk-off homer on June 20 off of the Reds' Scott Williamson...he swiped his first big league base on June 28 at Detroit...he had a career-high 11-game hitting streak from July 8-25, batting .364 (16-for-44)...on August 2, he sparked a ninth inning rally with a game-tying solo homer off the Cubs' Joe Borowski at Wrigley Field, a game Arizona won 4-3...Alex established a career-high with 4 hits on September 13, then tied that mark on the final day of the season including 2 doubles...he batted .323 (94-for-291) while reaching base safely via a hit or walk in 62 of his 76 games from July-September...his year began in Tucson with an 11-game hitting streak from April 3-14, batting .457 (21-for-46)...he nabbed the organizational Player of the Month honors for April after hitting .404 (38-for-94) with 19 RBI, a .606 slugging percentage and a .446 on-base percentage. 2002—Alex opened the year with Tucson but received 4 different calls to the majors during the course of the season...he batted .330 (38-for-115) for the Sidewinders, hitting safely in 24 of the first 29 games...he was initially recalled on May 8, but appeared in just 2 games...he was called to the majors again on June 11 and reported to Yankee Stadium where he was not intimidated by his first trip to the Bronx, going 5-for-6 in the final 2 games of the series, featuring a 3-hit effort that included 2 doubles and an RBI in Arizona's first-ever win at Yankee Stadium on June 12...he was optioned back to Tucson after Junior Spivey returned on June 26, but returned 5 days later after an injury to Erubiel Durazo...Cintron appeared just twice before the All-Star break, then Matt Williams was activated after the break once again sending Alex back to Tucson...he was summoned to the Diamondbacks one final time on August 21...while with the Sidewinders, Cintron's .322 average ranked fourth in the farm system...he was named by SportsTicker as one of the top prospects in the PCL. 2002 DIVISION SERIES HIGHLIGHTS—Alex got his first taste of baseball's second season, appearing in the first 2 games of the Division Series vs. St. Louis, but he did not have a plate appearance...he entered Game #1 as a defensive replacement in the ninth inning of Arizona's 12-2 defeat...two days later Alex was inserted as a pinch runner in the seventh inning of Game #2 with the D'Backs trailing 1-0...breaking from second base on Junior Spivey's grounder, Cintron collided with Cardinals' third baseman Scott Rolen and was charged with runner's interference...on the play, Rolen sustained multiple sprains to his left shoulder and missed the remainder of St. Louis' post-season run. 2001—Alex's quick climb through the system witnessed his first taste of both AAA and the majors, spending 6 weeks with Arizona...he opened the year in Tucson, hitting over .300 for the first 2 1/2 months of the season...he was summoned to the D'Backs for the first time on July 23 when Tony Womack went down with a calf strain, but his playing time was limited to 3 at bats over 4 games...Alex recorded his first Major League hit with a single off the Mets' Donne Wall on August 3...he was optioned back to AAA on August 6 and completed the season with Tucson, then returned for the stretch run in September, though playing time was limited...the switch-hitting infielder was amazingly consistent from both sides of the plate with Tucson, hitting .292 (92-for-315) as a lefthanded batter and .291 (32-for-110) from the right side. 2000—His first year at AA, he hit .301 for El Paso...started the season strong, hitting safely in 15 of the first 18 games at a .386 clip...he earned a spot on the Texas League All-Star team, then continued to swing a solid bat in post-season play, hitting .429 (9-for-21) in the 5-game series against Round Rock. 1999—His first full season as a pro, Alex hit .307 in 128 games for High Desert (A), sharing the shortstop spot on the California League post-season All-Star team with Luke Elsinore's Nelson Castro...Cintron hit safely in 18 straight games from August 4-22, batting at a .378 clip...his 17 sacrifice bunts ranked first in the league and fifth overall in the minors. 1998—Spent the entire year at Lethbridge (A) hitting .264 in 67 games...hit .450 during an 11-game hitting streak from July 28-August 9.

PERSONAL

Alexander (Alex) Cintron...he is single and makes his home in Yabucoa, PR...as he has done in previous years, he spent a portion of his "off-season" playing winter ball for Caguas in his native Puerto Rico, hitting .333 (30-for-90) with 6 doubles and 3 homers over 23 games, then participated in the Caribbean World Series for Puerto Rico, hitting .500 (10-for-20)

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a free agent on January 24, 2005.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Tony collected 16 home runs and 49 RBI while batting .221 (56-for-253) in 106 games for the Yankees, including 64 starts at first base...he clubbed a 2-run homer, his first as a Yankee, in a 12-1 win over the Devil Rays on March 31 at the Tokyo Dome...he got the starting nod at first base in 19 consecutive affairs from May 16-June 6, hitting .224 (15-for-67) with 2 homers and 13 RBI...his mammoth 2-run homer on June 29 against Boston was the 23rd blast all-time to land in the "Black" section of remodeled Yankee Stadium, making him the first player to do it as a Yankee and as a visitor (also on June 30, 1999, with Detroit) and the third player to accomplish the feat at least twice (Danny Tartabull and Bernie Williams have each done it 3 times)...on July 3 at Shea Stadium, his 4 hits matched a career high for the seventh time, while his 2 home runs marked the 14th multi-homer affair in his career, first with the Yankees and first since August 3, 2003, with the Mets against St. Louis...he went deep twice again on July 11 against Tampa Bay, the 15th multi-homer effort of his career...he propelled New York to a 6-5 win with a game-winning, RBI double in the tenth inning on July 26 at Toronto...he victimized the Blue Jays again on August 28 with his first career 3-homer game while matching his career-best with 5 RBI...his 16th career multi-homer affair included roundtrippers from both sides of the plate for the eighth time in his career, first as a Yankee...he became the 18th Yankee with 3 roundtrippers in a regular-season game (23 times) and first since Tino Martinez on April 2, 1997, at Seattle. 2004 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Tony appeared in 6 games between the Division Series and ALCS...his only appearance in the Division Series was in the Game 4 win over the Twins, entering as a defensive replacement at first base in the eighth inning and striking out in his lone at-bat in the tenth frame...Clark did not play in the first 2 games of the ALCS but took over defensively at first base in Game 3 and went 0-for-2 with a strikeout...he started the final four games at first base, going 3-for-19 (.158) with 8 strikeouts...in Game 4, he went 2-for-6 with his only RBI...his other hit came in a 1-for-7 effort in Game 5.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Clark proved a steady bench player, clubbing 16 home runs and driving in 43 in 125 games for the Mets, including 2 home runs and 9 RBI as a pinch hitter...he saw action at first base in 80 contests (50 starts)...his season began with St. Lucie (A) in the Florida State League where he went 1-for-4 in his lone outing...New York purchased his contract on April 6, and he made an immediate impact with his first National League home run, a 2-run blast off of Montreal's T.J. Tucker that day...Clark clubbed his first career pinch-hit homer on April 18, a go-ahead, 3-run blast off of Florida's Vladimir Nunez in a 6-3 Mets' win...Tony's other pinch-blast was a 2-run homer off of the Brewers' Mike DeJean in the opener of a June 5 doubleheader...on July 1, Clark ripped a pinch-hit, RBI single with two outs in the ninth inning of a 7-6 triumph over Montreal...he posted his 13th career multi-homer affair and matched his career best with 5 RBI on August 3 against St. Louis, hitting home runs from both sides of the plate for the seventh time in his career...it was the 13th time in Mets' history that a player accomplished the feat and first time since Todd Hundley on June 30, 1997, vs. Cincinnati...Clark got his first career action in the outfield as a defensive replacement in leftfield on August 27 at Atlanta...Tony batted .313 (21-for-67) with 5 homers and 14 RBI over his final 19 starting assignments. 2002—Tony played first base for a little more than half (85) of the Red Sox games, including 70 starts...he made his Red Sox debut as the starting first baseman on Opening Day on April 1 and hit his first career Opening Day clout off of Toronto's Chris Carpenter...Clark batted .320 (8-for-25) with 2 doubles, 1 homer and 3 RBI during a 7-game hit streak from July 12-27. 2001—Clark notched his first career All-Star appearance as he finished the season with a .287 average (123-for-428), 16 home runs and 75 RBI in 126 games...he jump-started his year with a season-opening 8-game hit streak from April 3-12 during which he hit at a .484 clip (15-for-31)...he had a career-high tying 4 hits (sixth time) on April 5 against Minnesota...he hit his second career grand slam on April 6 off of the White Sox Antonio Osuna...Tony homered in four straight games from June 13-16...selected to the American League All-Star squad, he fanned in his lone at-bat...he belted his 150th career homer on July 16 off of Troy Brohawn at Arizona...Clark did not strikeout in 42 straight plate appearances from July 13-27...his season came to an end on September 23 when he was placed on the 15-day disabled list due to inflammation in his right wrist. 2000—Tony battled injuries throughout the season yet collected 13 homers and 37 RBI in 60 games for the Tigers...he went on the shelf on May 13 with a strained left rib cage and made a trio of rehabilitation outings with Toledo (AAA) prior to being activated on June 12...he recorded his 12th career multi-homer game on June 20 at Toronto...he garnered A.L. Player-of-the-Week honors for June 19-25 after batting .346 (9-for-26) with 7 runs scored, 3 doubles, 4 homers and 11 RBI...he was disabled from July 15-September 1 with a lumbar spine strain...the injury forced him back on the shelf on September 19 (retroactive to September 17) and on September 22, he was transferred to the 60-day disabled list. 1999—Clark was one of the top Tigers' offensive threats and became only the fifth player in franchise history to hit 30-plus home runs in three straight campaigns...he led the squad with 150 hits and finished second with 31 homers...he belted his 100th career roundtripper on May 15 off of Cleveland's Jaret Wright...Tony homered from both sides of the plate on July 18 at Cincinnati and July 25 against Boston, the fifth and sixth times he had accomplished the feat...he fashioned a career-best 19-game hitting streak in which he batted .315 (23-for-73) from July 10-August 1. 1998—Tony established a franchise record for switch-hitters with 34 clouts and became the first Tiger since Rudy York in 1938 to amass at least 30 homers and 100 RBI in his first two full big league campaigns...Clark established an American League single-season record with home runs from both sides of the plate in 3 contests (June 17 vs. Minnesota, July 26 at Cleveland and August 1 at Tampa Bay), one game shy of the Major League mark...Clark did not hit his first home run until April 19 against the Yankees, a span of 62 at-bats...he matched his career-best with 4 hits on May 21 at Minnesota and July 25 at Cleveland...he boasted a 48-game errorless streak at first base from June 28-August 21...he fashioned a 13-game hitting streak from July 20-August 1. 1997—Clark exploded in his first full Major League season with a team-high 32 homers and 117 RBI...among American League leaders, he finished tied for sixth in RBI, seventh with 93 walks and tied for tenth with 105 runs scored...he became the 13th switch-hitter in big league history to hit at least 30 home runs in a season...he was the fifth fastest player in Major League history to amass 50 career roundtrippers, collecting it in his 202nd game on June 28 at Boston, trailing only Mark McGwire (151 games), Rudy York (153 games), Chuck Klein (195 games) and Bob Horner (196 games)...Clark was named the A.L. Player-of-the-Week for April 14-20 after batting .458 (11-for-24) with 4 homers and 11 RBI...he collected a career-best 5 RBI on June 21 against the Red Sox...he established a career-high with 4 hits on April 5 at Chicago (AL), May 18 at Kansas City and August 2 vs. Toronto...he laced a pair of doubles in one inning on August 22 at Milwaukee, joining Pop Dillon (April 25, 1901, at Baltimore) as the only players in franchise history to accomplish the feat. 1996—Despite not getting a full season under his belt, Tony finished third in the American League Rookie-of-the-Year voting (behind the Yankees' Derek Jeter and the White Sox' James Baldwin) and garnered TOPPS Rookie All-Star honors after leading all rookies and his team with 27 homers...he opened the season at Toledo (AAA), where he hit .299 (58-for-194) with 14 homers and 36 RBI in 55 games...he was recalled on June 7 and proceeded to bat .250 (94-for-376) with 14 roundtrippers and 63 RBI in 100 games with Detroit...he blasted his first career grand slam on August 1 off of California's Greg Gohr...Tony posted a pair of multi-homer outings on September 15 vs. Baltimore and September 29 vs. Milwaukee...he snagged A.L. Player-of-the-Week honors for September 23-29. 1995—Rewarded with a September call-up, Clark had 3 homers and 11 RBI in 27 games with Detroit and was named the Tigers' best prospect by Baseball America...he batted .242 (98-for-405) with 14 roundtrippers and 63 RBI for Toledo...recalled on September 2, he appeared in his first Major League game the next day and collected a pair of hits off of Cleveland's Jose Mesa...Clark hit safely at a .350 clip (7-for-20) in his first 5 contests...he belted his first Major League homer on September 8 off of Toronto's Jeff Ware at the SkyDome. 1994—Tony amassed an organization high 99 RBI in 152 combined games with Trenton (AA) and Toledo...he was selected to the Eastern League (AA) All-Star squad...he batted .279 (110-for-394) with 21 homers and 86 RBI in 127 games with Trenton...he suited up 25 times for Toledo and hit .261 (24-for-92) with 2 homers and 13 RBI. 1993—Hampered by a partially torn right wrist ligament, Clark appeared in only 36 games for Lakeland (A). 1992—Tony batted .306 (26-for-85) with 5 roundtrippers and 17 RBI for Niagara Falls (A). 1991—Clark was sidelined for the entire season after undergoing surgery to repair a back injury he suffered while playing college basketball. 1990—Tony struggled in his first professional season, batting .164 (12-for-73) in 25 games with Bristol (A).

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a free agent on December 14, 2005.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Royce compiled one of his best overall seasons as the starting shortstop for the Rockies...he had a career-high 160 hits, 95 runs, 48 multi-hit games and 24 sacrifice bunts...his sacrifice bunt total established a Colorado team record and paced the majors with the highest mark since Los Angeles' Jose Offerman posted 25 in 1993...Clayton led National League shortstops with a .986 fielding percentage, committing only 9 errors in 144 games to secure his first career fielding title and the Rockies' single-season record for a shortstop, surpassing Walt Weiss' .983 mark in 1997...Royce trailed only Anaheim's David Eckstein's .988 mark for the highest fielding percentage among big league shortstops...Clayton fashioned a 56-game errorless streak from July 20-September 30, and committed only 2 errors following the All-Star break, joining Omar Vizquel as the lone everyday shortstops to accomplish the feat...Clayton's .279 batting average was his third highest ever behind a .288 average in 1999 and a .282 clip in 1993...his 48 multi-hit affairs were second on the team to Todd Helton (53)...Royce legged out 15 bunt singles, ranking fourth in the majors as one of 8 players with at least 10 bunt hits...he swiped 10 bases in 15 attempts, second on the team behind Aaron Miles (12) and his highest total since stealing 10 bases in 2001 with the White Sox...Royce collected 36 doubles, 3 shy of his career best set in 1997...he flourished prior to the All-Star break, setting career marks with 96 hits, 64 runs scored and 28 doubles while batting .298, his highest average since a .301 clip in 1993...he owned a .300 average in back-to-back months for the first time in his career, batting .313 in April and .307 in May, only the third time he has posted at least two .300 months in a single-season (May, July and September of 1993; July and September of 2001)...his 12-game hitting streak from April 15-May 1 tied a career best set from July 24-August 5, 2000...he matched his career-best and a franchise record with 3 doubles on May 11 against the Pirates...he clubbed his 100th career home run in the opener of a May 13 twinbill against Pittsburgh, becoming the ninth active shortstop to reach the 100 home run plateau...his 100th blast came in his 1,635th career game and 5,752nd career at-bat.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Royce boasts a career .973 fielding percentage and turned 961 double plays in 1,570 career games at shortstop...in 1991, he was named the top prospect in minor league baseball by The Sporting News and Baseball America.

2003—Clayton started 137 games at shortstop for Milwaukee and compiled a .977 fielding percentage, tied for sixth among big league shortstops...his 11 roundtrippers were the second most of his career behind a pair of 14-homer seasons in 1999-2000...he set a career best with 49 walks and 10 intentional free passes...he opened the year hitting .270 in April, then fell dramatically in May, batting just .083 (7-for-84)...Royce rebounded to hit .252 over the final four months of the season.

2002—Royce maintained his hold on the starting shortstop position for the White Sox but was placed on waivers on September 8 for his unconditional release...he appeared in 109 contests for Chicago and amassed a franchise-record .989 fielding percentage, eclipsing the mark he set in 2001...his fielding percentage was third in the majors behind Baltimore's Mike Bordick (.998) and Cleveland's Omar Vizquel (.990)...Clayton's career-best 69-game errorless streak came to a halt on May 17.

2001—In his first season with the White Sox, Royce started 126 games at shortstop and set a franchise record for shortstops with a .988 fielding percentage, .001 points behind Omar Vizquel (.989) for the best mark in the American League...Clayton finished third in the league with an average of 2.96 assists per 9.0 innings...he did not commit an error over his final 30 outings...he paced the team with a .323 batting average following the Midsummer Classic, including a league-leading and career-best .392 mark in September.

2000—Clayton appeared in 148 contests with Texas, including 144 starts at shortstop...his 265 putouts paced American League shortstops while his 692 total chances ranked fifth...his 11 stolen bases led the Rangers while his 148 games and 5 triples were second on the squad...he matched his career-best with 14 roundtrippers...he posted his first career multi-homer affair on April 7 vs. Toronto...he launched his first grand slam on May 12 at Anaheim off of Scott Schoeneweis.

1999—Royce established career bests with a .288 batting average and 14 homers...his batting average was the highest by a Texas shortstop since Scott Fletcher batted .300 in 1986 while his home run total was the most by a Rangers shortstop since Kevin Elster hit 24 clouts in 1996...he was honored with the Texas Rangers Jim Sundberg Community Achievement Award.

1999 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Clayton was hitless in 10 at-bats in the American League Division Series against the New York Yankees.

1998—Royce spent the first 4 months of the season with St. Louis before a 5-player, deadline deal sent him to Texas on July 31...he posted his fifth consecutive season of at least 20 stolen bases, swiping 24 on the year.

1998 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Royce hit .222 over a trio of games against the Yankees in the American League Division Series.

1997—Clayton reached All-Star status for the first time in his career...he established career bests with 39 doubles, 61 RBI and 53 extra-base hits while pacing National League shortstops with 699 total chances...he clubbed a pair of leadoff homers on April 11 against Houston and July 26 vs. Florida...he had a career-high 5 hits on June 3 vs. Colorado...at the Midsummer Classic, he struck out in his lone at-bat and recorded an assist for the National League squad.

1996—Royce joined St. Louis following a 5-year stint with San Francisco...his career-high 33 stolen bases ranked 12th in the National League...he was fourth among N.L. shortstops with a .972 fielding percentage...he hit safely in 25 starts from June 11-July 24.

1996 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Royce hit safely in his 7 playoff games with a combined .346 batting average and .433 on-base percentage...he hit .350 (7-for-20) against Atlanta in the NLCS.

1995—Among National League shortstops, Clayton finished second with 93 double plays and sixth with a .969 fielding percentage...he owned a 30-game errorless streak from August 11-September 14.

1994—Royce owned a .973 fielding percentage and 66 double plays, ranking fourth and fifth, respectively, among National League shortstops...his 6 triples and 23 stolen bases ranked sixth in the N.L....he had only 9 miscues over his final 87 games.

1993—In his first full big league season, Clayton made a career-high 152 starts at shortstop, converting a league-high 103 double plays...his .282 batting average was the best among Major League shortstops.

1992—Royce was only the third rookie in Giants history to start at shortstop on Opening Day...he blasted his first career clout on May 8 off of the Expos' Mark Gardner in Montreal...Clayton was optioned to Phoenix (AAA) on June 20 and was recalled on August 19.

1991—Clayton was chosen as minor league baseball's top prospect by The Sporting News and Baseball America...he was also tabbed as the second-best prospect in the Texas League and a Double-A All-Star by Baseball America...he jumped from Double-A to the majors after being called up on September 20, making his Major League debut that night as the starting shortstop at San Diego, collecting his first hit with a double off of San Diego's Jeremy Hernandez in the seventh inning.

1990—Royce earned California League All-Star honors with San Jose (A).

1989—Royce began the season at Clinton (A) before closing out the year with San Jose (High A).

1988—Clayton made his professional debut for Everest (R) and ranked fourth among Northwest League shortstops with 166 assists.

HOW OBTAINED

Selected in the fourth round of the 2002 First Year Player Draft.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Lance began the season with El Paso (AA) and by June was pitching in the big leagues...his year began where he finished up the 2003 season, appearing 10 times for the Diablos, including 8 starts, going 2-3 with a 2.29 ERA, giving up 2 or fewer earned runs in 8 of those outings...the 2-3 record was more a result of El Paso's inability to score runs as the offense plated 3 or fewer tallies in 7 of his appearances, including his last 5...his best AA outing was on May 6 at Frisco, allowing only 2 hits over 7.0 innings with 10 K's, a no decision that eventually ended up a 3-2 El Paso loss...Cormier was promoted to Tucson (AAA) at the end of May, going 1-1 with a sparkling 1.77 ERA in 3 starts...he was summoned to the majors on June 18 when Jose Valverde was disabled, barely 2 years after Cormier's selection in the fourth round of the 2002 draft...he did not have to wait long before making his big league debut, taking the hill for a start against Tampa Bay on June 19, dropping an 11-4 decision to the Devil Rays, allowing 7 runs on 5 hits over 1.1 innings...he was optioned back to Tucson following that assignment, but did not let the outing bother him as Lance earned the organization's minor league Pitcher-of-the-Month honor for June, going 1-0 with a 0.44 ERA in 3 starts for Tucson (1 run in 20.2 innings) with 18 strikeouts...overall, he went 2-2 with a 3.30 ERA in 5 minor league starts following his return to Tucson, earning him a second opportunity to pitch for the big league club...he recorded his first big league triumph on July 29 in Houston, doing so in front of several family members and friends who made the trek from his home state of Louisiana...a 6-4 winner, Lance went 6.0 innings allowing 8 hits and 3 runs (2 earned) with a walk and 5 K's, while also collecting his first Major League hit, a sixth-inning single off of Tim Lincecum...after dropping his next 2 starts, Cormier was moved to the bullpen, appearing 12 times over the final 6 weeks...his best relief work was over 5 outings from August 29-September 11, yielding a run over 6.0 frames with opponents batting only .136 (3-for-22)...Lance "drove" in his first run with a bases loaded walk vs. Colorado on July 24.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Lance's second season as a pro started in Lancaster (A) and included stops at both the AAA and AA levels as well...while with the Jethawks, he posted a 1.64 ERA in his first 5 starts, allowing only 6 earned runs...he tossed a career-high 8.0 innings on April 26 at Rancho Cucamonga and June 17 at High Desert...he made the jump over AA to Tucson on June 22 and limited opponents to 2 runs or less in 4 of 5 outings...Cormier notched the win in first appearance for the Sidewinders, allowing 2 runs on 5 hits in 7.0 innings of 6-4 decision over Fresno on June 22...he was sent to El Paso on July 18...on the year combining all 3 stops, Lance went 9-9 with a 4.30 ERA in 27 starts...during the off-season he was selected by Baseball America as one of the top 30 prospects in the organization. 2003—Lance made only one appearance with Yakima before taking 3 weeks off for his wedding and honeymoon...married life agreed with the first year pro, who went 3-0 with a 2.93 ERA in 11 appearances (3 starts) for South Bend...he recorded his only professional save on July 21 vs. Michigan...notched his first win with 3.0 shutout innings on July 31 vs. Lansing.

PERSONAL

Lance Robert Cormier...he and his wife, Jamie, make their home in Northport, AL...a native of Lafayette, LA, Lance graduated from Lafayette High School in 1998...he then attended the University of Alabama, leaving the school as one of the top hurlers in Crimson Tide history while also graduating with a degree in finance in 2002...as a 4-year letterman, Cormier was 31-16 with 17 saves and 3.98 ERA...his collegiate career began as a closer, setting an Alabama freshman record with an SEC leading 11 saves...he moved into a starting role as a junior and compiled a 20-8 ledger over his final two seasons...he was also a first team Academic All-American during his senior season.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a free agent on December 15, 2004.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Craig joined Milwaukee as part of an 8-player trade the previous December, and he was the only member of the deal who experienced a homecoming, returning to the city in which he was raised when his father worked in the Brewers' front office...he was the Opening Day starting shortstop for the Brew Crew and appeared in 140 games overall, just one shy of his single-season best set with Arizona in 2001...Counsell established career highs with 473 at bats and 17 stolen bases, while matching a personal best with 5 triples...his .983 fielding percentage ranked fifth among National League shortstops, committing only 9 errors...he established a Milwaukee record by reaching base via catcher's interference 6 times, missing the National League mark of 7 held by Pittsburgh's Dale Berra in 1983 and the Major League record of 8 set by Roberto Kelly with the Yankees in 1992...he recorded his 600th career hit with a single off of John Grabow on July 3 at Pittsburgh...he hit .292 (26-for-89) with 9 runs scored, a home run, 2 RBI and 3 stolen bases in July...he had 2 singles in the third inning on September 6 at Pittsburgh joining Keith Ginter as the only Brewers with 2 hits in an inning in 2004.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Craig had only a month under his belt when a dislocated right thumb sidelined him until early-July after which his offensive numbers suffered...coming off of season-ending neck surgery from the year before, Counsell dislocated his thumb while breaking up a double play on May 6 against the Phil...he underwent surgery on May 8 by Dr. Don Sheridan to repair the ligament damage...the versatile infielder saw action at all 4 infield positions, starting 49 games at third base, 18 at shortstop and 7 at second base and even a couple of defensive entries at first base...he and wife, Michelle, welcomed their first child, son Brady Michael, on May 3, then Craig arrived at the park in time to go 2-for-3 with 2 walks vs. Atlanta...he homered in back-to-back games for the first time in his career on July 8 and 9...hit a game-opening homer off of the Rockies' Denny Neagle on July 8, his first career regular season blast off of a southpaw (he homered off of Cardinal lefty Mike Matthews in Game #3 of the 2001 Division Series on October 12 in St. Louis). 2002—Craig missed the last 7 weeks of the regular season and post-season play due to a herniated disk in his neck that required surgery on September 18 by Dr. Drew Dossett in Dallas, TX, the same surgeon that repaired fellow Notre Dame alum Raghib Ismail of the Dallas Cowboys...though there was no single play that attributed to the injury, Craig began experiencing numbness in his right arm on August 9, the day after making a diving catch on a Henry Blanco line shot in the second inning of a game against the Braves...when healthy he established a career-high for RBI with 51 in 112 games, 11 more than he had with Florida in 1998 and 13 more than he posted in 141 games for Arizona in 2001...he hit .364 with runners in scoring position (40-for-110) which was third best in the N.L. at the time his season ended, highlighted by a .413 mark (26-for-63) with less than 2 out in the inning...he tied a team record with 5 hits against the Dodgers on May 26, the club that released him in the spring of 2000, giving him the opportunity to join the Diamondbacks...he hit a ninth inning game-tying pinch homer off of the Mets' Armando Benitez in the first game of the August 3 doubleheader, a contest the D'Backs wound up winning 8-5 in 10 innings en route to a 4-game sweep...it was Counsell's first pinch hit at bat of the season and his first-ever pinch homer in 73 career at bats, 2001—Craig established career highs in virtually every offensive category including games (141), at bats (458), runs (76) and hits (126)...he hit safely in 25 consecutive starts from August 28-October 4...the stretch began with a career-high 12-game hitting streak which was snapped when he struck out after entering a game on September 17 defensively...back in the starting lineup the next night, he began a 13-game hitting streak...he was in the starting lineup for 124 games, including 56 at short, 46 at second and 22 at third, committing only 8 errors all year...Craig's extensive playing time was directly attributed to his work as a leadoff hitter, batting .300 (71-for-237). 2001 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS—Craig made his second successful career trip to the post-season, playing in 16 of Arizona's 17 games...he closed out the 1997 Fall Classic by scoring the winning run for the Marlins in the 11th inning of Game #7 vs. the Indians, then in his next World Series plate appearance 4 years later, he scored Arizona's first run in its World Series by homering in the first inning of Game #1 off the Yanks' Mike Mussina...it was Counsell's last hit in the Series until the third inning of Game #7, an overall 0-for-19 drought...despite the dry spell against the Yankees, Craig still contributed to the cause by tying a 95-year old World Series record with sacrifice bunts in his first 3 plate appearances in Game #4 at New York, matching Joe Tinker's performance with the Cubs in the 1906 series...Counsell was also in the middle of the title clinching heroics in the ninth inning of Game #7, getting hit by a Mariano Rivera pitch to load the bases just ahead of Luis Gonzalez's series ending hit...Craig was named the MVP of the NLCS vs. the Braves, hitting .381 (8-for-21) with 5 runs, 3 doubles and 4 RBI...he was a modest 2-for-8 in the 2 games played in Phoenix then recorded back-to-back 3-hit efforts in games 3 and 4 at Turner Field, including 2 doubles and 4 RBI in the 11-4 triumph that gave the D'Backs a 3-1 series lead...Counsell hit .188 in the Division Series against the Cardinals, but one of the hits provided the margin of victory for the Diamondbacks in Game #3 at Busch Stadium, a 2-out, 3-run home run off of lefthander Mike Matthews that staked Arizona to a 5-3 lead. 2000—Craig was released by the Dodgers in spring training and signed a minor league contract with Arizona on March 20...he hit .348 with Tucson (AAA) before his contract was purchased on May 31...he hit .333 (40-for-120) when in the starting lineup (33 games)...he was the first Diamondback in franchise history to reach on catchers interference when he made contact with Colorado catcher Ben Petrick to begin the game on September 25 in Coors Field. 1999—Counsell opened the year with Florida, but hit just .152 in 37 games and was traded to the Dodgers on June 15, the 7th member of the '97 World Champion Marlins to become a Dodger (Kevin Brown, Bobby Bonilla, Jim Eisenreich, Gary Sheffield, Devon White and Charles Johnson). 1998—Craig started the year in the majors for the first time in his career, but had his season cut short on August 3 when he was hit by a pitch from Houston's C.J. Nitkowski, causing a compound displaced fracture of his jaw bone...Craig underwent surgery at Holy Cross Hospital in Fort Lauderdale repairing several lacerations while having his jaw bone internally stabilized by Dr. James Driscoli (oral surgeon) and Dr. Roberto Palma (plastic surgeon)...Counsell established himself prior to the injury committing only 5 errors in 539 chances at second base and earning a spot on The Sporting News N.L. East All-Star team...hit his second career grand slam on April 16 in Florida off the Phils' Tyler Green. 1997—Craig opened the year as a minor leaguer in the Colorado organization and ended the campaign by scoring the game-winning run in the bottom of the 11th inning in Game #7 of the World Series for Florida...he was traded to the Marlins for pitcher Mark Hutton on July 27 after beginning the season with Colorado Springs, followed by a one-game stint with the Rockies...Craig batted .299 in 51 games for Florida, followed by a .293 average and .429 OBP in the post-season...Counsell not only scored the deciding run in the '97 Series against Cleveland, but his sacrifice fly in the bottom of the ninth sent the contest into extra innings...he collected his first big league hit off Cincinnati's Mike Morgan in his first big league start on July 29...he later added his first major league home run on August 24 off of then St. Louis hurler Todd Stottlemyre, which was also a grand slam. 1996—Injuries limited him to just 25 games with Colorado Springs, suffering a right shin contusion that led to a stress fracture on April 30...Craig returned to action in mid-July but appeared in just 3 games before fracturing the same shin on July 17 and missing the rest of the season. 1995—Hit .281 as the regular shortstop for PCL Champion Colorado Springs, leading the league in total chances (598) and double plays (86)...earned his first recall to the majors on September 15, appearing in 3 games. 1994—Injuries once again impeded Craig's progress, starting the year with New Haven (AA) on May 3 after suffering a broken right foot due to a spring training foul ball...played until breaking his nose on July 29, tried to make a comeback a week later picking up a hit in his lone at bat, then returned to the disabled list. 1993—Counsell topped all California League shortstops in total chances (621), while leading his Central Valley (A) club in doubles (26) and ranking second on the club with 132 hits. 1992—An 11th round selection in Colorado's first-ever draft class, Counsell opened the year as Bend's second baseman, the first time he'd ever played that position...his year was cut short when he suffered a broken right instep on a foul ball just 18 games into the season.

PERSONAL

Craig John Counsell...he and his wife, Michelle, who have been together since high school, have two sons, Brady (5/3/03) and new arrival, Jack Taylor (2/6/05)...Craig was a 1988 graduate of Whitefish Bay (WI) High School, then graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 1992 with a degree in accounting...he was a 4-year baseball letterman for the Fighting Irish, playing for current Arizona State head baseball coach Pat Murphy...Craig's father, John Counsell, was an outfielder in the Minnesota Twins' organization from 1964-68, then worked in the Milwaukee Brewers' organization as Director of Community Relations in the 1980's...the spikes that Craig wore when he scored the game-winning run in the 1997 World Series are on permanent display at the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY.

HOW OBTAINED

Acquired with cash considerations from the Tampa Bay Devil Rays in exchange for pitcher Casey Fossum, February 6, 2005.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Jose's first and only year with Tampa Bay, he started 148 game for the Rays, all but one of which was in rightfield...he shattered the team record of home runs by a switch-hitter, hitting 21 which were 7 more than Randy Winn's mark in 2002...Cruz had an impressive debut with Tampa Bay, homering in the season opener off the Yankees' Mike Mussina in Tokyo, an 8-3 victory...he was hitting .414 through the first 2 weeks of the season before the roof fell in via a club record 0-for-37 drought that ran from April 17-30...he rebounded to earn American League Player-of-the-Week honors for May 17-23, hitting .438 with 4 doubles, 2 homers and 8 RBI, featuring a club record streak of 5 consecutive extra-base hits from May 21-22...it was the third time he's won the award, first for the Rays since Greg Vaughn in 2001...Jose recorded 4 extra-base hits in the Rays' 5-3 win over Cleveland on May 21, picking up 3 doubles and a home run to tie Randy Winn's club record from June 9, 2002...Cruz also tied club records with 10 total bases (eighth time) and 3 doubles (fifth time)...over a 10 at-bat stretch, he had 4 doubles, 2 home runs, 5 runs scored and 8 RBI...Jose led the A.L. with 20 walks in June while knocking in 21 runs as the Rays went 20-6, their best month ever...he batted .298 with 28 RBI and 27 walks during Tampa Bay's 26-7 run from May 20-June 26...he sent the crowd home happy on his bobblehead day on June 9 delivering a tie-breaking single in the 10th inning on the 11th pitch of an at bat against the Giants' Tyler Walker...he homered in Bank One Ballpark off of Randy Johnson on June 18 as the Rays won a 6-2 decision...Jose was able to get his average up to .264 as late as June 24, thanks to a 3-hit, 3-RBI, 4 runs scored performance that night in a 19-13 win at Toronto...his June 30 roundtripper off the Blue Jays' Roy Halladay was the 166th of his career, one more than his father, Jose Cruz Sr., who hit 165 home runs from 1970-88 with St. Louis, Houston and the Yankees...he went deep on July 9 in New York (off Javier Vazquez), his 12th career roundtripper in Yankee Stadium, tying Carlos Delgado for fifth most among active players...Jose was second in the league in walks on August 19 with 71, one off the league lead, but drew only 7 over the final 40 games...he was coming off a Rawlings' Gold Glove season in 2003 with San Francisco, but committed 10 errors last year when Tampa Bay, second only to Craig Monroe's 11 with Detroit...Jose's 10 errors were the most by an outfielder coming off a Gold Glove season since Andruw Jones committed 10 in 1999...in fact, since the Gold Gloves were first given out in 1957, Cruz was the 13th outfielder to make 10+ errors coming off an award-winning year...the group also includes Roberto Clemente, Carl Yastrzemski, Tommy Agee, Kenny Lofton and Dwight Evans...a natural righthanded hitter, he batted .264 (42-for-159) with 6 home runs from the right side and .233 (90-for-386) with 15 homers from the left.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Jose's 175 career home runs rank eighth among active switch-hitters, 20th all-time...since the year 2000, Cruz's 124 roundtrippers are tied with Carlos Beltran for the fourth among switch-hitters, trailing only Chipper Jones (157), Lance Berkman (152) and Jose Valentin (136)...Cruz is one of 3 switch-hitters in the 30-30 club along with Howard Johnson (1987, 1989, 1991) and Carlos Beltran (2004)...a natural righthanded hitter until his freshman year at Rice University, Jose has batted .274 (275-for-1,003) with 38 home runs and 130 RBI as a righty in the majors, while hitting .241 (681-for-2,823) with 137 homers and 405 RBI from the left side...among active outfielders with at least 750 games played, he ranks 15th with a .987 fielding percentage in 1,049 contests...his 734 games played since 2000 rank fifth among outfielders, while his 51 outfield assists are eighth.

2003—Jose led the National League West Champion Giants in games (158), participating in 149 of the first 150 before the division crown was clinched on September 17...he won his first career Rawlings Gold Glove as voted by league managers and coaches, committing only 2 errors on the year while setting a San Francisco record with 18 outfield assists, second in the majors to Richard Hidalgo...Cruz finished seventh in the N.L. with 102 walks and was one of 7 big leaguers to walk 100 times and fan 100 times (Bobby Abreu, Lance Berkman, Jim Thome, Jason Giambi, Carlos Delgado and Frank Thomas)...Jose's 20 home runs matched Marquis Grissom for second on the club to Barry Bonds...he became just the ninth player, fourth Giant, to reach McCovey Cove on July 8 vs. St. Louis, drilling 3-run first inning splashdown off of Dan Haren...he belted a pair of home runs in the home opener on April 7 vs. the Padres, his 11th multi-homer game...he opened the year hitting safely in 29 of his first 34 games at a .320 clip (40-for-125) while helping the Giants out to a 25-10 record and a 7-game lead in West...he finished the year equally as strong, batting .313 (20-for-64) in the last 19 games...he batted in every spot in the batting order except ninth. 2002—He started 118 games for the Blue Jays, 52 in left field, 46 in right and 20 in center...Jose missed 33 games from August 15-September 14 with a left ankle sprain, sustained when he slid into a wall along the first base line while attempting to make catch in foul territory August 9 vs. Anaheim...he was activated from D.L. on September 15 and hit a pinch homer (second career) in his first at bat off of Tampa Bay's Wilson Alvarez at SkyDome...despite a month on the D.L., he finished tied for eighth in the league with 9 outfield assists...he had his best season from the left side, batting .253 with 15 home runs...he connected for pair of homers on June 3 vs. Tampa Bay at SkyDome (both off Tanyon Sturtze)...Cruz set a career-high with 6 RBI on June 25 at Tampa Bay, going 4-for-5 with 2 doubles and a homer. 2001—His 34-homer, 32-stolen base season was the only 30-30 campaign in the American League and one of three in the majors (Vladimir Guerrero and Bobby Abreu)...it was the second ever by a Blue Jay, joining Shawn Green from 1998 (35 homer and 35 thefts)...Jose earned the Jays' MVP honor as voted by the Toronto chapter of the BBWAA...he finished seventh in A.L. in stolen bases, tied for sixth in extra-base hits (76), tied for tenth in doubles, 10th in home runs off of righthanded pitching (26), fifth in road homers (19) and sixth with an 86.5 pct. (32-for-37) stolen base success rate...he started 141 games, including 132 in centerfield and 9 in right...enjoyed power surge in second half, clubbing 23 of his 34 roundtrippers after the All-Star Break to match the Tribe's Jim Thome for second most in the A.L....Cruz belted 12 homers in August to lead the league and match Toronto's club record for most in a month (Carlos Delgado, August-1999)...his last homer of the month was his first career pinch blast taking Andy Pettitte deep in Yankee Stadium...Jose hit 4 home runs to lead off games, going deep on July 20 at Yankee Stadium (off Brett Jodie), August 19 vs. Texas (off Aaron Myette), August 22 vs. Minnesota (off Rick Reed) and September 3 vs. Yankees (off Andy Pettitte)...Jose enjoyed a career-best 19-game hitting streak from April 4-27, batting .370 (27-for-73) with 6 home runs and 18 RBI...the 19-game streak matched his father's longest career streak...during the streak, he reached base safely in 10 straight plate appearances April 13-17, going 6-for-6 with a homer and 4 walks...Cruz suffered a lower back strain which placed him on shelf from May 6-21, ending stretch as Blue Jays ironman at 196 consecutive games...he swiped a career-high 3 bases on June 3 vs. Boston...he established a Toronto club record by homering in 6 consecutive games September 29-October 5 (Game 1)...he finished the season by capturing A.L. Player-of-the-Week honors for October 1-7 after hitting .423 (11-for-26) with 4 homers and 11 RBI. 2000—Was the seventh Blue Jay in history to play in all 162 games...he hit 26 of his 31 home runs off of righthanded pitching...he was moved to the leadoff spot in the middle of April after a Shannon Stewart injury and connected for his first game-opening home run on April 19 off the Angels' Ken Hill...Cruz followed 3 games later on April 22 with a leadoff shot against the Yankees' David Cone, his first of 2 homers on the day...Jose hit his third leadoff homer the following day (April 23) off New York's Orlando Hernandez, just the second Blue Jay to hit leadoff homers in consecutive games (Damaso Garcia on June 1-2, 1983)...Cruz was the A.L. Player-of-the-Week for May 1-7 after hitting .387 with 9 runs, 3 doubles, 4 homers, 9 RBI and 5 walks...he homered in 3 consecutive games May 5-7 at Cleveland's Jacobs Field...he connected for his 20th home run in the next-to-last game prior to All-Star Break, giving Toronto the first set of 4 teammates in Major League history to each hit 20 homers prior to Midsummer Classic (also Tony Batista, Carlos Delgado and Raul Mondesi)...Jose was one of four Blue Jays to hit 30 home runs overall (Batista, Delgado and Brad Fullmer), just the second team in A.L. history to produce a quartet of 30-homer hitters (Anaheim in 2000)...the Jays were also the second team in league history to boast 7 players with 20 or more home runs. 1999—He had a 7-game stretch from May 8-16, going 8-for-28 with all 8 hits good for extra bases (5 doubles, a triple and 2 homers)...he was disabled from June 24-July 8 after suffering fracture to tip of middle finger on left hand...he had a rehabilitation stint with Syracuse (AAA), then his season numbers slumped upon returning to the majors and he was optioned to Syracuse August 6 in the midst of a 4-for-31 (.129) spell...he returned to appear in 16 games with Blue Jays down stretch, making 11 starts, hitting at a .361 clip (13-for-36) with 3 homers and 10 RBI. 1998—Jose split time between Toronto and Syracuse, starting 96 games for the Jays, 95 in centerfield and one in left...started the season strong going 3-for-3 with a home run and 3 RBI on Opening Day vs. Minnesota...unfortunately he went 96 at bats before his next extra-base hit, a homer on May 20 vs. Tampa Bay's Wilson Alvarez...Jose was optioned to Syracuse on June 13 with a .213 average, then was recalled on July 30 and excelled, hitting .366 in August (37-for-101) with 11 doubles, 5 homers and 28 RBI. 1997—Finished second in the American League Rookie-of-the-Year voting behind unanimous winner Nomar Garciaparra...Jose received second or third place votes on 25 of the 28 ballots...Cruz was named to the TOPPS Major League Rookie All-Star Team...he opened the season with Tacoma (AAA) in the Seattle chain, but was recalled to the majors on May 31, making his big league debut that day vs. Detroit as the starting leftfielder in Lou Piniella's lineup...Jose recorded his first Major League hit on June 2 with a double off of Toronto's Luis Andujar...he hammered his first big league homer the next day on June 3 off the Jays' Woody Williams...Cruz collected his first career multi-HR game on June 6 at Detroit, clubbing a pair of 2-run shots off Omar Oliveras...he had his second 2-homer game on July 1 vs. San Francisco, establishing a then-career high with 5 RBI via a 2-run shot off William Van Landingham and a 3-run blast off Joe Roa...Jose was hitting .268 with 12 homers and 34 RBI when he was dealt to Toronto on July 31 in exchange for Mike Timlin and Paul Spoljaric...he made his Blue Jay debut on August 1 at Tiger Stadium and immediately impressed, belting a 2-run HR off Dan Miceli...he joined Roberto Alomar as just second player in franchise history to homer from both sides of plate, going deep twice August 24 at Kansas City, hitting a solo shot batting lefthanded off Ricky Bones and 2-run blast off Larry Casian...it was also his first career 4-hit game...he finished the season with 4 multi-HR games after twice going deep off Mets' Turk Wendell on September 2 at Shea Stadium...Cruz finished second among A.L. rookies in home runs (26), RBI (68), extra-base hits (46) and outfield assists (4), while ranking third in multi-hit games (28), runs (59) and total bases (197). 1996—Named the Mariners' organizational Player-of-the-Year after combining for 17 doubles, 15 homers and 89 RBI in 122 games while making a tour of Seattle's system...he opened the season with Lancaster (A), singling in the JetHawks home opener, the first game in their new stadium and first minor league game played in Los Angeles county since September 15, 1957...Jose was named to the mid-season Cal League All-Star team...after hitting .325 with 6 homers and 43 RBI in 53 games, he was promoted to Port City (AA), batting .282 with 3 homers and 31 RBI in 47 games, thus earning a late-season promotion to Tacoma, homering 6 times and knocking in 15 in 22 PCL games. 1995—Jose made his professional debut with Everett (A), singling in his first pro at bat...just 3 games into his stay in Everett, he was promoted to Riverside (A), driving in 29 runs and scoring 34 in just 35 games...he then played winter ball for Santurce in Puerto Rico, a club that was managed by his father.

Signed as a free agent on January 12, 2005.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

The first non-roster pitcher to ever start for the Rockies on Opening Day, Shawn led the staff with 15 wins, establishing a club record for a lefthander, while ranking second among National League southpaws, trailing only Randy Johnson (16)...it was the fourth highest win total in Rockies history and tied the second best total in his career, behind only a 19-5 campaign in 1997...he led the team with a career-high 34 starts, tied for fifth in the N.L., the most by a Rockie since Pedro Astacio in 1999...he also led the staff with 202.0 innings, one shy of his career best from '99...overall, Shawn was 15-8 for a .652 winning percentage, 12th highest in the circuit but second among lefthanders behind only Eric Milton (.700, 14-6)...Shawn led the league and set a club record by inducing 33 groundball doubleplays, third best in the majors behind only Mark Mulder (37) and Sidney Ponson (36)...Shawn led the majors in GDP per nine innings at 1.51...he allowed the most runs (133) and earned runs (131) in the NL, third most walks (105), seventh most hits (223) and eighth most home runs (30)...61 of his 133 runs allowed came in the first or second inning (46%), including 33 in the opening frame (25%)...he worked at least 6.0 innings in all 15 of his victories, posting a 2.93 ERA (33 earned runs in 101.1 innings)...Estes was 8-2 with a 6.22 ERA and

I complete game in 15 starts at Coors Field, 7-6 with a 5.53 ERA in 19 road outings...he became only the third pitcher in Colorado history to win at least 7 games both at home and on the road, joining Kevin Ritz in 1996 and Jason Jennings in 2002...he tied for second in the NL with 5 pickoffs, one behind Milwaukee's Chris Capuano...Estes went 8-1 with a 3.73 ERA in 16 starts vs. the NL West (43 earned runs in 103.2 innings)...at the plate, Shawn set a career-high with 17 hits, 3 more than in 2000...the 17 hits tied for third among all pitchers while he led all hurlers with 13 runs scored...after a stellar spring, Estes earned Colorado's Opening Day nod on April 6 at Bank One Ballpark, limiting the D'Backs to just 2 hits and a run over 7.0 innings to lead the Rockies to a 6-2 victory over Randy Johnson...it was Shawn's second career Opening Day start (1998)...he hurled the first-ever rain-shortened complete game victory in team history with a 7-1 win over the Dodgers in 6 innings on April 22, allowing 1 run on 2 hits in 93 pitches when the rains came...Shawn stretched his record to 6-2 with a win at Cincinnati on May 18, matching his best start to a season (also 6-2 in 1997)...Estes won 5 consecutive decisions from July 16-Aug. 12, his longest winning streak since May 8-June 21, 2001 and longest by a Rookie since Jennings won 6 straight in 2002...he posted a 7-1 record in 11 starts from June 18-August 12 and lost just once over a stretch of 15 starts from May 28-August 12...he earned his 10th win on July 21 at Los Angeles, giving him double digits in victories for the first time since 2000...suffered a 3-2 setback to Randy Johnson on September 15 at Bank One, Estes' only loss to a divisional opponent in 2004...he got even a week later, defeating Johnson and the D'Backs, 4-2 on September 22 at Coors, setting a franchise record for wins by a lefthander with 15, breaking Mike Hampton's mark of 14 in 2001...with his record at 15-7, Estes had 2 more starts to tie the overall franchise record of 17 wins but came up short...was in line for the win on September 27 at Los Angeles as he departed with a 7-5 lead after striking out a season-high 9 batters over 7.0 innings, but the Dodgers rallied to win 8-7...lost his final start 9-3 at Houston on October 2, allowing a career-high tying 4 home runs.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Shawn has won 92 games during his big league career, including a 19-win season in 1997 and a pair of 15-win campaigns (2000 & 2004)...in his 251 career starts, he has worked at least 6.0 innings 153 times (or 61%)...has started 25 or more games in each of the last eight years...an All-Star with the Giants in 1997, Estes has allowed only 137 home runs in 1505.0 innings (0.82 per nine innings)...he owns a career groundball/flyball ratio of 1.80...since the start of the 1997 season, no active pitcher has induced more groundball doubleplays per nine innings than Estes (1.24)...Shawn's 201 GDP's overall during that time span trails only Mike Hampton (214)...is a .163 career hitter with 4 home runs.

2003—Estes made 29 appearances (28 starts) for the Chicago Cubs, going 8-11 while fanning 100+ batters and making 25 or more starts for the seventh consecutive year...he induced 27 GDP's, fourth most in the majors and had a 1.80 groundball/flyball ratio (247/137)...he went 4-0 with a 3.06 ERA over a 5-start span May 2-24, becoming the first lefthanded starter to win 4 consecutive decisions for the Cubs since Terry Mulholland won 6 straight from April 28-May 23, 1997... earned career victory No. 75 on June 10 at Baltimore, pitching 7.0-scoreless frames...fanned career batter No. 1,000 on September 4 vs. St. Louis...after 216 career starts, Shawn made his first major league relief appearance on September 19 at Pittsburgh...in his final start of the year, September 24 at Cincinnati, Estes hurled a 4-hit shutout in an 8-0 victory over the Reds, his eighth career shutout...he was not on the Cubs' post-season roster. 2002—Split the year between the Mets and Reds, combining to go 5-12 with a 5.10 ERA in 29 starts...began the year in New York and was traded to Cincinnati as part of a 5-player swap on August 15...while with the Mets on April 26 vs. Milwaukee, Shawn tossed a complete-game, 1-hitter in a 1-0 victory, taking a perfect game into the seventh inning...he tied his career high with 11 strikeouts on June 15 vs. the Yankees...during that contest, he belted his third career homer off Roger Clemens and became only the third Mets pitcher to hit a homer and strikeout at least 10 batters in the same contest. 2001—Shawn won 9 games in his final season with San Francisco...he was 7-2 with a 2.90 ERA during the season's first 3 months, featuring a 5-game win streak from May 8-June 21, posting a 1.56 ERA (9 earned runs in 52.0 innings)...he was disabled twice during the year, May 9-24 with left shoulder tendinitis and Aug. 23-Sept. 7 with a sprained left ankle. 2000—Tied for 10th in the N.L. with 15 wins, going 15-6 in 30 starts for the Giants, marking the second most victories of his career (19 in 1997)...Estes recorded a career-high 4 complete games and induced a major league leading 40 doubleplays...his season didn't begin until April 17 after opening on the shelf with left shoulder tendinitis...once healthy, he tossed 2 shutouts over a 4-start span in May, earning a 6-0 victory over Colorado on May 6 and an 18-0 victory vs. Montreal May 24...in the May 24th affair, he hit a grand slam off the Expos' Mike Johnson. 2000 DIVISION SERIES—Shawn started Game #2 of the against the Mets, but it was cut short after spraining his ankle while running the bases in the third inning...he allowed 2 earned runs in 3.0 innings of work. 1999—Pitched a career-high 203.0 innings in 32 starts...tossed a 3-0 shutout on September 14 vs. Florida. 1998—Estes was limited to 25 starts after missing nearly two months (July 11-Sept. 4) with a left posterior shoulder strain...he was the Giants' Opening Day starter and got a no-decision in a 9-4 win at Houston...had a 9.0-inning no-decision June 15 vs. Colorado in which he fanned 11. 1997—Shawn went 19-5 with a 3.18 ERA during his first full season in the majors...he tied for second in the N.L. in victories, ranked third in average against (.223) and eighth in K's (181)...was selected to his first All-Star Team and allowed 2 runs in an inning to absorb the loss at Cleveland...had a career-best 8-game winning streak from May (3-July 4, posting 2.08 ERA (17 earned runs in 73.2 innings). DIVISION SERIES—Shawn started Game #2 against Florida, a no decision in a 7-6 Marlins victory, allowing 5 earned runs in 3.0 innings. 1996—Began the year at Phoenix (AAA) before being promoted to the Giants on July 10, leading the PCL with 9 wins at the time...he recorded his first Major League victory on July 13 at Dodger Stadium. 1995—Made his big league debut in a September 16th start at Pittsburgh, allowing 5 runs over 5.1 innings in a 10-2 loss...opened the year in Seattle's organization but was traded to the Giants on May 21. 1994—Was limited to just 10 outings after opening the season on the disabled list...had arthroscopic surgery on April 19, performed by Dr. Lewis Yocum, in which bursa tissue was removed from his left shoulder. 1993—Went 9-5 for Appleton (A)...he missed the final 3 weeks of the year after straining his left shoulder. 1991—Began his professional career with Seattle's Single-A affiliate Bellingham...was named the third best prospect in the league by Baseball America.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a non-drafted free agent, November 15, 1999

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

As a 21-year old, Jerry got his first look at both the AAA and Major League levels during the '04 campaign, spending the first 3 1/2 months with Tucson before getting his initiation into the big leagues by spending the final 6 weeks with the Diamondbacks...the strong-armed shortstop had his struggles offensively, finishing with a .174 mark in 29 games (23 starts) for Arizona...recalled on August 22, he made his big league debut that night in a start at home against Cincinnati, going 1-for-3, featuring a single off of Brandon Claussen in his first plate appearance...he was 4-for-13 (.308) in his first 5 games, but tailed off over the remainder of his big league stint, finishing the year just 4 for his last 34 (.118)...Jerry fanned in 33 of his 86 at bats while not receiving a walk...though not afforded a lot of opportunities, Gil was 5-for-14 (.357) with runners in scoring position and 2 out while with the D'Backs...he had a solid offensive campaign with Tucson, hitting .278 (117-for-421) in 114 games for the Sidewinders, including 31 doubles, 8 triples and 11 home runs...at the time of his recall, Gil was in a stretch in which he'd hit safely in 24 of 29 games at a .367 clip (47-for-128), highlighted by a 5-for-5 effort against Las Vegas on August 17, just 5 days before joining the big league club...he opened his first season of AAA ball by hitting just .169 in April, but rebounded to finish the PCL season with a .298 mark over the next 3 1/2 months (106-for-356).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Jerry paced South Bend with 6 triples, finished second on the club in RBI (58) and was tied for second in stolen bases (19)...he was most effective batting in the leadoff spot, hitting at a .311 clip (19-for-61)...Jerry delivered a .303 batting average with men on base compared to a .216 mark with the bases empty, while excelling with the bases loaded, batting .533 (8-for-15) with 19 RBI...Jerry had a pair of 10-game hitting streaks, the first occurring from May 8-17, during which he batted .342 (13-for-38)...the other took place from June 5-19, hitting .333 (12-for-36)...Gil also posted his first multi-homer game, going deep twice in a win over Lansing on July 31...he led South Bend hitters with a .375 mark during their stint in the playoffs...Jerry topped all Midwest League shortstops with 225 putouts. 2002—Jerry had an 11-game hitting streak that took over 2 months to assemble due to injury (April 12-June 22)...he hit safely in the first 5 games of that span for Lancaster (A), then was disabled from April 23-May 28 with a left quadriceps strain...he returned to action when Yakima (A) opened its season on June 17 and hit safely in 6 more games...he was successful on 14 of 15 stolen base attempts (93%), the second-highest rate in the Northwest League...he turned 36 double plays, most by a Northwest League shortstop. 2001—Jerry smacked his first home run as a pro on April 24 at West Michigan...he hit .406 (13-for-32) during an 8-game hit streak from August 12-20. 2000—Gil was ranked by Baseball America as the No. 13 prospect in the Pioneer League...he hit safely in 13 of 14 games from July 30-August 22.

PERSONAL

Jerry Bienvenido Gil...he is single and makes his off-season home in Santo Domingo, DR, where he attended Colegio La Zafra High School...Jerry had a pair of uncles who logged time in the majors...Josias Manzanillo, who had a career from 1991-2003 while pitching for Boston, Milwaukee, the New York Mets and Yankees, Seattle, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati...his other uncle, Ravelo Manzanillo, played briefly for the White Sox in 1998 and for the Pirates in 1994-95.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a free agent on December 9, 2004.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Troy missed more than half of the season due to injury yet returned in September to help the Angels secure the American League Western Division title and advance to the playoffs...he batted .251 (52-for-207) in 58 games for Anaheim, collecting 30 extra-base hits with 11 doubles, a triple and 18 homers...despite all of the missed time, his 18 roundtrippers ranked third on the squad and 8 of those blasts gave the Angels the lead...he averaged one home run every 11.5 at-bats, a pace that projected over the full season would have been an A.L.-leading 50 roundtrippers...Glaus made his sixth consecutive Opening Day start at third base, matching Doug DeCinces' franchise mark (1982-87), and belted a pair of home runs against the Mariners on April 6, becoming the third Angel in history to homer twice on Opening Day...Troy missed 4 games after leaving the April 11 game at Texas with a tight left hamstring...on May 5 against Detroit, he launched his 10th homer in only his 24th game, the fastest player to reach double-digit home runs in Angels' history, eclipsing the 27-game mark previously held by Brian Downing (1987) and Jim Edmonds (1996)...Glaus suffered a right shoulder injury on May 11 at Yankee Stadium and, at the time, was leading the A.L. with 11 home runs and 28 RBI...he had surgery performed on May 21 by Dr. Lewis Yocum to repair fraying of the labrum and rotator cuff in his right shoulder...after a summer of rehab work at the Angels' complex in the Valley, he had a 5-game rehabilitation stint with Rancho Cucamonga (A), recording 2 home runs, 4 RBI and 6 walks from August 24-28...after having missed 97 games, he was reinstated from the 60-day disabled list on August 29...upon his return, he served as the designated hitter for 29 contests, batting .202 (20-for-99) with 3 doubles, 7 clouts and 14 RBI...Troy launched a go-ahead, 2-run homer in the top of the 11th inning to propel Anaheim to an 8-7 triumph at Texas on September 29...the blast was the lone home run allowed by the Rangers' Francisco Cordero all season.

2004 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Troy batted .364 (4-for-11) with 3 runs scored, 2 doubles, 2 homers and 3 RBI in 3 games as Anaheim was swept by the eventual World Series Champion Boston Red Sox.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Glaus' 182 roundtrippers rank fourth on Anaheim's career home run list...the 3-time American League All-Star (2000, 2001 & 2003) was voted as the starting third baseman in 2003, the first Angel to start in the Midsummer Classic since Wally Joyner in 1986...Troy set the A.L. single-season mark for home runs by a third baseman with 46 clouts in 2001 (he hit one home run as a designated hitter), eclipsing the 47-year old record of 43 set by Cleveland's Al Rosen in 1953...Glaus is the lone Angel to club 40 roundtrippers in a season (47 in 2000, 41 in 2001)...he posted back-to-back 40-plus home run seasons in 2000-01, the fifth third baseman in Major League history and second A.L. third sacker to accomplish the feat, joining Eddie Matthews (1953-55), Harmon Killebrew (1969-70), Mike Schmidt (1979-80) and Vinny Castilla (1996-98)...Troy is a 2-time recipient of the Louisville Silver Slugger Award in 2000 & 2001, the first Angel to garner the honors twice...he was the first Angel to score 100 runs, drive in 100 and walk 100 times in consecutive seasons (2000-01)...he joined former A.L. MVP Don Baylor (1978-79) as the only Angels to score 100 runs in consecutive campaigns...he played his 750th career game at third base on July 9, 2003, against Kansas City, breaking the Angels career record previously held by Doug DeCinces (749, 1982-87)...Glaus was the fastest player in Angels history to reach the 100-homer mark, doing so in his 456th game and 1,629th at-bat, surpassing Tim Salmon's mark of 465 games and 1,716 at-bats...in 2001, Troy and teammates Garret Anderson, Mo Vaughn and Tim Salmon became the first quartet in American League history (seventh in the majors) to hit 30 or more home runs in a season.

2003—Troy was limited to 91 games of action due to injury, one of five Angels Opening Day starters to miss at least 20 games due to injury (David Eckstein, Bengie Molina, Brad Fullmer and Darin Erstad)...Glaus got the Opening Day starting nod at third base for the fifth straight season on March 30 against Texas...he hit .289 (50-for-173) with 11 homers and 32 RBI in April and May but his production fell off as he hit at a .199 pace (29-for-146) with 5 clouts and 18 RBI in June and July...he batted .350 (11-for-20) with 4 doubles, 4 home runs and 8 RBI to earn A.L. co-Player-of-the-Week honors for May 19-25 (sharing the honors with the Orioles' Melvin Mora)...it was the first time in team history that an Angels player has garnered the weekly award in consecutive weeks (Scott Spiezio, May 12-18)...Glaus went deep twice on May 20 against Baltimore, his 16th career multi-homer affair and third vs. the Orioles, while surpassing Chili Davis for fourth on the Angels' all-time home run list...Troy appeared at third base for a franchise-record 750th time as an Angel on July 9 vs. Kansas City, eclipsing Doug DeCinces mark of 749 games from 1982-87...Glaus, who went 0-for-3 in the contest, was voted the A.L. starting third baseman at the Midsummer Classic, the first Angel to start since Wally Joyner in 1986...Troy's season unrav-eled following the All-Star Break as he departed the July 21 contest at Tampa Bay in the third inning after attempting to field a bunt...he was placed on the disabled list on July 23 (retroactive to July 22) when an initial MRI diagnosed a contusion of his right shoulder and normal wearing with the joint...on August 12, Angels' Medical Director Dr. Lewis Yocum performed an MRI that confirmed a partial tear of the right rotator cuff and fraying of the labrum...on August 20, Dr. James Andrews (Birmingham, AL) provided a second opinion of the injury and confirmed the diagnosis by Dr. Yocum...Glaus missed the remainder of the season. 2002—Troy put together a solid campaign that was rewarded with his first trip to the post-season, resulting in a World Series Championship and MVP honors for the series...Glaus clubbed his second career grand slam on the final day of the season to reach a pair of milestones, establishing a career high with 111 RBI and reaching the 30-homer plateau for the third straight season, joining Tim Salmon as the lone Angels to accomplish the feat...Troy finished eighth in the A.L. with 111 RBI while his 18 game-winning RBI tied for the most in the A.L. with the Yankees' Jason Giambi...Anaheim posted a 44-19 record when Glaus drove in at least one run...he was named among the American League's top defensive third baseman and top infield arms in Baseball America's 2002 "Best Tools" rankings...Troy went deep twice on April 6 at Texas and September 8 at Baltimore...he had a record-setting day on September 15 vs. Texas with a career-high 3 home runs and a career best-tying 6 RBI...the next day in Oakland, he homered in his first at-bat to become the first Angel to homer in four consecutive at-bats, matching a Major League record...Troy's 3-homer affair was the tenth by an Angel and first since Dave Winfield on April 13, 1991, at Minnesota...following the post-season, Troy had surgery on November 8 to have the Morton's Neuroma nerve removed from between the third and fourth toes of his right foot. 2002 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Troy compiled a stellar post-season that was capped by a World Series Championship and Most Valuable Player honors...he batted .385 (10-for-26) with 7 runs scored, 3 doubles, 3 home runs and 8 RBI in the 7-game Fall Classic triumph over San Francisco...the home jersey that Glaus wore through the World Series was sent to the Hall of Fame in Cooperstown...he set a post-season record with a trio of go-ahead homers in the eighth inning or later (Games 1 & 2 of the Division Series and Game 3 of the ALCS)...he paced the Angels with 15 runs scored and a .770 slugging percentage as 11 of his 21 hits went for extra-bases...he was the sixth third baseman to be chosen the World Series MVP, first since the Yankees' Scott Brosius in 1998...in Game 6 of the World Series, Glaus ripped a go-ahead, 2-run double in the eighth inning vaulting Anaheim to a 6-5 win and forcing a decisive Game 7...his 2-run homer in Game 4 at Pac Bell Park was his seventh playoff blast, briefly matching Barry Bonds for the most ever in a single post-season as Bonds would later add a record eighth clout...Troy clubbed a pair of homers in Game 1 to become the sixth player with 2 clouts in his first World Series outing...in Game 3 of the ALCS against Minnesota, he connected for what proved to be a game-winning solo homer in the eighth inning off of JC Romero in Anaheim's 2-1 win...Glaus hit .313 (5-for-16) with a team-leading 3 homers and 14 total bases in the Division Series against the Yankees...he became the Angels all-time post-season leader with a trio of homers in the first two games of the ALDS...he became the first Angel with a multi-homer game in the post-season and the seventh player in Major League history to do so in his first post-season appearance when he went deep twice in Game 1 off of Roger Clemens in the sixth inning and Ramiro Mendoza in the seventh frame. 2001—Glaus provided stability and power at third base as he made his third straight Opening Day start and amassed a .250 batting average (147-588) with 100 runs scored, 38 doubles, 2 triples, 41 homers, 108 RBI, 107 walks and 10 stolen bases in 161 games...prior to his arrival, Anaheim had six different starters at third base in the previous seven seasons...Troy became the fifth third baseman in big league history and the second in A.L. annals to post consecutive campaigns of at least 40 roundtrippers, joining Eddie Matthews (1953-55), Harmon Killebrew (1969-70), Mike Schmidt (1979-80) and Vinny Castilla (1996-98)...Glaus reached 100 runs scored, 100 RBI and 100 walks for the second consecutive season...he plated 108 runs to become the fourth Angel with back-to-back 100-RBI seasons (102 RBI in 2000)...he posted 30 multi-RBI games and ranked second on the squad with 37 clutch-RBI, including 30 RBI that gave Anaheim a lead...with 107 free passes, he became the first Angel to draw at least 100 walks in a season twice (112 walks in 2000)...he joined Don Baylor (1978-79) as the only Angels with consecutive 100-runs scored seasons...after a 33-error season in 2000, he improved defensively with 19 miscues for a .953 fielding percentage in 159 games (158 starts) at third base...he had four multi-homer affairs on April 5 at Texas, May 9 at Chicago (AL), July 21 at Baltimore and September 29 vs. Texas...Troy and teammate Troy Percival represented Anaheim at the All-Star Game in Seattle...Glaus, in his second Midsummer Classic, replaced Cal Ripken, Jr. at third base in the sixth inning and went 0-for-1...following the season, Troy was selected to The Sporting News post-season All-Star Team...he was bestowed with his second Louisville Slugger Silver Slugger Award, the first Angel to win the honors twice...on March 6, he agreed to terms on a four-year contract through 2004...he launched his first career walk-off homer, a 2-run, ninth-inning blast on June 17 vs. Los Angeles...he collected his 100th career homer in the third inning on July 21 at Baltimore in his 456th game and 1,629th at-bat, the fastest Angel to reach that plateau and eclipsing Tim Salmon's old mark of 465 games and 1,716 at-bats...Glaus hit the first of back-to-back-to-back roundtrippers with Darin Erstad and Garret Anderson on July 26 against the Devil Rays...Troy batted .486 (17-for-35) with 3 homers and 13 RBI during a career-best 10-game hit streak from September 20-30...he collected a career-high 6 RBI on September 29 against Texas...he garnered his second career A.L. HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a non-drafted free agent, April 18, 2000.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Edgar began the season Tucson (AAA) but had a pair of stints on the Diamondbacks' roster, scuffling through an 0-9 year with a 9.32 ERA in 10 starts...according to the Elias Sports Bureau, Gonzalez was the fourth pitcher since 1946 seasons to go winless for an entire season with 9-or-more losses, joining Terry Felton (0-13 for Twins in 1982), Rod Beck (0-9 for Giants in 1996) and Heathcliff Slocumb (0-9 for Red Sox and Mariners in 1997)...he opened the year 1-5 in 7 starts with the Sidewinders, then earned his first of two recalls to the majors by virtue of strong starts on May 24-29 for Tucson, going 1-0 with a 1.80 ERA and holding opposing hitters to a .196 average (11-for-56)...Edgar was recalled on June 5 and made a spot start against Los Angeles, falling 10-3...he was optioned back to the minors the following day, then went 3-0 with a 3.79 ERA over his next 6 AAA outings...included was a 2-hit shutout of Las Vegas on July 4, featuring a season-high 9 K's...he matched that strikeout total in his next outing, his final start of the year for Tucson, recording an 11-3 triumph over Sacramento...Edgar was recalled again on July 22 but lost each of his next 6 starts...despite the run of tough luck, Gonzalez displayed his potential at Cincinnati's Great American Ball Park on August 29...though not scheduled to pitch that afternoon, Stephen Randolph couldn't answer the bell due to a stiff left shoulder, Gonzalez seized the chance to provide his best work of the year when he carried a no-hitter into the seventh inning...although Edgar was unable to snap out of his 7-game slide due to an eventual 6-2 Arizona setback, he faced the minimum through the first 6.0 innings, allowing only a second inning walk that was erased by a double play...he finally allowed a hit in the seventh when, after a leadoff walk, Felipe Lopez hit a ground ball to first and Gonzalez hesitated before covering the bag and the no-hitter was history...after another double play ball, the shutout and potential win disappeared when Adam Dunn smacked a game-tying home run...after surrendering 25 runs in his first 4 starts, spanning just 16.2 innings, Edgar allowed only 10 earned in his next 24.1 frames, for a 3.70 mark from August 7-29...a torn fingernail on the middle finger of his pitching kept Edgar out of action for about two and half weeks.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Only 14 months after making his professional debut on a mound for South Bend (A), the then 20-year old righthander made his big league debut in 2003...born on February 23, 1983, he was the youngest player in the majors when he debuted on June 1, nearly 4 full months younger than Detroit's Jeremy Bonderman (October 28, 1982)...after spending his entire first pro season in Class-A, Edgar needed only 6 starts for El Paso (AA), going 2-2 with a 3.50 ERA, before continuing his fast track with an early May promotion to Tucson (AAA)...he had his contract purchased on June 1 and started that afternoon in San Diego, winning a 10-4 decision over the Padres, allowing 3 earned runs in 5.2 innings...he became the youngest hurler (20 years, 93 days) to win in the majors since Denny Reyes recorded a win for the Dodgers over San Francisco on July 13, 1997, at 20 years, 85 days...Los Angeles hurler Edwin Jackson later slipped past Gonzalez when he defeated the D'Backs on his 20th birthday on September 9...Edgar was the fifth hurler to make his major league debut as a starter for the Diamondbacks, the second to win his debut game, joining Geraldo Guzman (July 6, 2000)...he also quickly joined the club's all-time hit list by collecting a base hit off the Padres' Jake Peavy...Edgar was the first Mexican-born player to make his debut as a starter, win and get a hit, all in the same game since Esteban Loaiza turned the trick for the Pirates on April 19, 1995...Gonzalez was optioned back to Tucson on June 8 and went 4-0 over his next 6 starting assignments...he was selected to participate in the All-Star Futures Game on July 13 in Chicago, working a scoreless frame for the World Team...he returned to the big league club as a September recall, and pitched 7 times in relief, going 1-0 with a 3.68 ERA...he worked a scoreless frame at Pac Bell Park on September 7 and picked up the win. 2002—In his first pro season, Edgar led the farm system with an overall ERA of 2.63, 131 strikeouts and 4 complete games...his 14 victories tied for second among Arizona's minor leaguers...he ranked seventh in the Midwest League with a 2.91 ERA for South Bend (A) and was selected by SportsTicker as one of the top prospects in the league...he was voted the farm system's Pitcher-of-the-Month for August after going a combined 5-0 with a 1.18 ERA in 5 starts for South Bend and Lancaster...he allowed 2 earned runs or less in 19 of his 27 starts on the year...in only his second pro outing, he spun the organization's second 9-inning complete game no-hitter on April 14 vs. West Michigan, a game played in 32-degree weather...he did not issue a walk and struck out 11, including a 2002 minor league-best 8 straight batters from the second through the fourth innings...he needed 108 pitches in his historic gem, facing the minimum 27 batters and picking off the only baserunner of the game who had reached on an error...the no-no started a 5-game win streak in which he yielded only 6 runs with 24 strikeouts over 37.2 innings (1.43 ERA) from April 14-May 6...he had a 7-game winning streak from July 24-August 27, posting a 1.04 ERA over that span...included were a pair of double-digit strikeout games, fanning 10 on August 4 at Kane County, followed later with a season-high 12 on August 21 at High Desert...he gave up 2 runs over 7.0 innings in the first round of the playoffs...following the season Edgar returned to his homeland and played winter ball for the Hermosillo Naranjeros of the Mexican Pacific League...his success from the summer continued as he was named the league's Rookie-of-the-Year after going 8-1 with a league leading 1.89 ERA in 12 starts, while tying for first in wins.

PERSONAL

Edgar Gerardo Gonzalez Elizondo...he is single and makes his home in San Nicolas, MX...Edgar signed with Arizona as a non-drafted free agent on April 18, 2000...when he did not report, he was placed on the suspended list for 2000-2001...Gonzalez is the seventh major leaguer from Monterrey, Nuevo Leon Mexico, joining Villarreal, Felipe Montemayor (1953 Pirates), Bobby Trevino (1968 Angels), Hector Torres (1968 Astros) and Alex Trevino (1978 Mets)...Edgar was the 94th native of Mexico to appear in the majors and the 53rd pitcher from Mexico to work a big league game when he debuted with the D'Backs in 2003.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a non-drafted free agent on October 30, 1998.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Enrique was named the farm system's Pitcher-of-the-Year, spending the entire season with Lancaster (A), going 13-6 with a 3.22 ERA in 42 outings, including 17 starts...his 13 victories tied for the California League lead while his ERA was the second-best...he fanned 110 over 142.1 innings while limiting opponents to a .242 average...Gonzalez opened the year going 3-4 with a 5.45 ERA in 25 relief outings...he was inserted into the starting rotation on June 4 and turned his season around, going 10-2 with a 2.46 ERA, including an impressive stretch to close the season, posting a 9-1 record and 1.80 ERA over his final 13 starts...he picked up the win and recorded a season-high 9 K's at San Jose on June 15...Enrique prevailed in 7 consecutive starts from June 25-August 1, earning honors as the farm system's Pitcher-of-the-Month for July (5-0, 2.45 ERA)...following the regular season, Gonzalez went 1-0 with a 3.55 ERA in 3 games (2 starts) during the Cal League play-offs, helping Lancaster advance to the championship series.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Having started 57 of 70 games entering the season, Enrique took on a new role with South Bend (A) working solely out of the bullpen, registering 55 appearances tying for second most in the Midwest League...he limited righties to a .194 average...he stymied opposing teams over the final 3 months for a 1.66 ERA and .190 batting average in 37 games, giving up 9 runs (8 earned) in 43.1 innings while going 2-1 with 2 saves. 2002—Enrique spent time on the roster for 4 teams...he opened the season with 5 starts for Lancaster, interrupted by a stay on the disabled list from April 24-May 2 with a sprained left ankle...he transferred to Yakima (A) where his 2.45 ERA ranked fifth in the Northwest League...he spent three days on the roster for Tucson (AAA) but did not appear in a game before returning to Yakima on May 31...he tossed 6.0 shutout innings at Tri-City on June 17, with a career-high 10 K's...he was promoted to South Bend on August 13 and closed the year with 4 starts for the Silver Hawks. 2001—He tied for third in the Midwest League with 12 losses...despite dropping his first 6 decisions spanning 8 starts, Gonzalez owned a 4.05 ERA during those outings...he fanned 6 over 7.0 shutout innings of 2-hit ball on May 22 for his first win...he struck out a season-high 9 batters while tossing 6.0 innings in a rain-shortened game on August 18 at Dayton. 2000—He was youngest pitcher (18 years, 27 days) in the Pacific Coast League when he made his lone AAA appearance on September 2, pitching 4.0 scoreless innings vs. Fresno for the victory. 1999—Enrique led his Dominican Summer League team in victories (7), ERA (1.64) and strikeouts (82).

HOW OBTAINED

Acquired with cash considerations from the Detroit Tigers in exchange for outfielder Karim Garcia, December 28, 1998.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Gonzo arrived in spring training well aware of the 50% tear in his right elbow, but was determined to attempt to play through the injury in hopes of helping the Diamondbacks compete in 2004...after a slew of other injuries to his teammates, trade deadline deals and an uncharacteristic losing record, he succumbed to "Tommy John" surgery on August 2 and missed the remainder of the season...a testimony to Gonzalez's toughness came when it was determined during the surgical process by Dr. Michael Lee and Dr. Donald Sheridan, that the All-Star leftfielder had completely torn the ligament in his elbow while playing through the first 4 months of the year...the surgeons repaired the injury and took a ligament graph from his right wrist to strengthen the elbow ligament...while active, Luis capitalized on the pitch offerings as the #3 hitter in front of cleanup hitter Richie Sexson but his power numbers dropped with the injury to Sexson...Gonzalez continued his Opening Day success, providing the D'Backs with all of their scoring via a pair of bookend home runs, going deep in the first and ninth innings...it was his 19th career multi-homer effort, 18th of the 2-homer variety...he is the second Diamondback to go deep twice in a season opener, matching Bernard Gilkey's effort from April 5, 1999, in Dodger Stadium...Luis now has 5 career Opening Day homers, 4 as a D'Back...he scored in 14 of 17 games from April 9-27, crossing the plate 20 times during that span...he collected his 200th career double on April 30 off of Philadelphia's Randy Wolf...Gonzalez reached base safely via a hit or walk in 24 straight games from April 11-May 8...on May 10 against the Mets, Gonzo homered in the first, third and fourth innings, his second career 3-homer game, first since June 8, 2001, at Kansas City, and the sixth 3-homer affair in franchise history...he also drove in a season-high 4 RBI in that contest...he had a 2-homer game on May 19 in Atlanta, including a game-winning, solo blast in the 11th inning of a 6-4 win...he homered 12 times through his first 38 games but clubbed only 5 roundtrippers over his final 67 contests...Gonzo reached a career milestone on May 22 at Florida, collecting his 2,000th career hit with a first-inning single off of Brad Penny...he was ejected from the May 25 contest in San Francisco for excessive arguing...he earned N.L. Player-of-the-Week honors for May 31-June 6 after hitting in 7 straight games at a .577 clip (15-for-26) with a .633 on-base percentage, a league-lead tying 5 doubles and 6 multi-hit affairs...he propelled Arizona to a 6-5 win with a game-winning, RBI single in the ninth inning on June 1 vs. the Giants...on June 12 in Toronto, his 3-run homer in the sixth inning was followed by a Shea Hillenbrand blast, the 46th set of back-to-back clouts in team history...Gonzo picked up his 450th career double on June 27 off of the Tigers' Mike Maroth...he became the first player in franchise history to reach the 1,000 hit mark with a game-tying, RBI double on June 30 vs. San Diego...he halted a 60 at-bat homerless streak with a solo blast on July 3 against the Twins...the next night in Los Angeles, Luis delivered a pinch-hit RBI single in the ninth inning and scored the tying run on Chad Tracy's single, a run that snapped Eric Gagne's streak of 84 consecutive save conversions...Gonzo reached base safely via a hit or walk in 27 consecutive outings from June 11-July 9...he finished the season with 11 intentional walks, tied for eighth in the league, despite missing the last 2 months.

Gonzo Delivers the Dairy Goods

Though a portion of his season was spoiled by injury, Luis Gonzalez was healthy enough on the night of June 3, 2004, to allow his offensive production to assist those in need. In an 11-5 win at home over San Francisco, Gonzo went 3-for-4 a double, triple, 2 runs and 2 RBI. His effort at the plate was worth 36,800 glasses of milk donated by Shamrock Farms to Arizona Food Banks in conjunction with National Hunger Awareness Day in the D'Back leftfielder's name.

The evening began with a base of 3,200 glasses of milk donated, then Shamrock Farms added 1,600 when Gonzalez caught a fly ball, 1,600 for a single, 3,200 for a double, 4,800 for a triple, 8,000 for the 2 runs scored, 6,400 for the 2 RBI. To top it all off, Arizona win over the Giants was worth another 8,000 glasses.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Luis droven in at least 100 runs in each of his first 5 years as a Diamondback...he has homered every 17.96 at bats, hammering 185 roundtrippers in 3,323 AB's with Arizona...prior to the trade from Detroit for Karim Garcia in the winter before the '99 season, Gonzalez had gone deep once every 36.11 at bats, hitting 107 home runs in 3,864 at bats...his route to 1,000 career RBI has been expeditious over his last few seasons, collecting his first 500 in 1,011 games, then his second 500 in just 697 contests...since coming on board, Gonzalez has hit .307 (1,021-for-3,323) with 185 home runs and 622 RBI.

2003—Rebounding from a separated left shoulder that brought his 2002 campaign to an abrupt halt, Luis led the majors with a .354 average against righthanded pitching, while ranking eighth in the National League in doubles (46), fourth in intentional walks (17), seventh in multi-hit games (54), seventh in extra-base hits (76), ninth in total bases (308) and tied for ninth in on-base pct. (.402)...his .342 road average finished second to Atlanta's Gary Sheffield while Gonzo's .338 average with runners in scoring position tied for ninth in the N.L....after proving in exhibition play that he was fully recovered from the injury, Luis signed a 3-year contract extension on March 18...he took southpaw Tom Martin deep on April 7 in L.A. for his first homer of the year, 250th career, a game-tying solo shot in the eighth, that sent the game into overtime with Arizona prevailing in 12 innings...he followed the next day with a game-tying 2-run shot off of Kaz Ishii, then hit a solo blast off of Darren Dreifort on April 9, the first time that Gonzo had homered in 3 straight games since June 16-19, 2001...he set a club record with 36 hits through April 30 and tied the team monthly record with 11 doubles in April...he reached base safely via a hit or walk in 39 of 40 games from April 5-May 19, picking up at least one hit in 31 of those contests...he popped his 150th homer as a D'Back on May 4, a solo shot off the Braves' Greg Maddux...Luis had his 400th career double in the ninth inning on May 13 at Philadelphia...he picked up his 500th and 501st career RBI with a 2-run homer on May 31 in San Diego...on June 18 in Houston, he opened the ninth with a game-tying homer off of Billy Wagner, only the seventh lefthanded hitter to homer off of Wagner...the D'Backs eventually won the contest to jumpstart a team record 12-game winning streak...Luis had his eighth career 5-RBI game on June 30 at Colorado...he was named to his third straight All-Star Game and fourth in 5 years as a D'Back, singling off Oakland's Mark Mulder in his lone at bat in U.S. Cellular Field. 2002—Gonzo's year came to an end on the final week of the season in St. Louis when attempting to make the play on a quickly sinking fly ball down the line by former high school teammate Tino Martinez...Luis collided with Tony Womack and suffered a season ending left shoulder separation that was surgically repaired on September 30 by Dr. Michael Lee...the injury closed out a campaign in which he hit .288 with 28 home runs and 103 RBI...he tied a club record with 4 walks on May 26 vs. the Dodgers...he was all of the offense that Rick Helling and Byung-Hyun Kim needed on May 30 in San Francisco, hitting a solo homer off of Kirk Rueter into McCovey Cove for a 1-0 victory at Pacific Bell Park...it was Gonzo's second career splashdown in the Cove...named to his third career All-Star Game, second in a row. Gonzalez came out of the break hitting .413 (38-for-92) over a 24-game stretch featuring 25 runs, 8 homers and 28 RBI...he raced to his first career inside-the-park home run on July 28, highlighting a 4-for-4 night at the plate with a fifth inning trek around the bases off of San Diego's Brett Tomko...Luis reached 1,000 career RBI with a 2-run homer off of Steve Trachsel in the first game of an August 3 doubleheader in Shea Stadium...he missed 7 games from August 14-21 with a rib cage injury, snapping his streak of 446 consecutive regular season games played, which was the longest active streak at the time in the majors...he had not had a full day off since September 30, 1999, the day after the D'Backs clinched their first division crown. 2001—Though he will be forever remembered for a ball that traveled a little over 100 feet to win the World Series, Gonzo's regular season work was recorded as one of the top power displays in big league history...he homered on the final day of the season to finish with 57, becoming the eighth different player ever to hit at least that many roundtrippers in a season...Luis finished third in the MVP balloting behind Barry Bonds and Sammy Sosa...his 419 total bases finished second in the N.L. and tied Lou Gehrig for the 10th highest total in big league history, while his 100 extra-base hits made him just the 12th player (15th time) to break the century mark in long hits...Luis set a National League record and tied Ken Griffey Jr's major league record with 13 home runs in April...Luis set the N.L. mark and tied the big league record with 2 homers on April 26...he was named the N.L. Player-of-the-Month for April...he homered twice on May 17 in Cincinnati, becoming the fastest ever to 20 home runs, achieving the mark in 40 games, a game quicker than Mickey Mantle in 1956...Luis recorded the 1,500th hit of his career by tripling on May 30 in San Francisco...he was awarded the league Player-of-the-Month award for June, hitting .417 (43-for-103) in 27 games with 26 runs, 7 doubles, 12 homers and 35 RBI, totaling 86 bases for a June slugging pct. of .835...included was the first 3-homer game of his career, going deep to all 3 fields in Kansas City to lead the D'Backs to a win...Gonzo hit another hot streak at mid-month, homering 6 times and driving in 15 in a 7-game stretch to earn co-N.L. Player-of-the-Week honors with Houston's Lance Berkman...included was a 2-homer, 6-RBI affair on June 19 in Los Angeles, then 2 nights later in Colorado he hit a grand slam off of Colorado's Gabe White, Gonzo's first slam since June 20, 1997...he recorded his seventh multi-homer game of the season on July 3 in Houston's Enron Field, taking Scott Elarton deep twice, including his second grand slam of 2001, third of his career...he continued the long ball momentum into the All-Star break, winning the All-Star Home Run Derby at Safeco Field, knocking off Sammy Sosa in the finals...Luis followed by going 1-for-2 in the Midsummer Classic after being voted into the N.L. starting lineup...Gonzalez became only the fifth player in major league history to hit 50 home runs before September 1 when he took Kirk Rueter deep at home on August 29, joining Bonds, Sosa, Mark McGwire and Roger Maris...his 54th home run was his only "walk-off" blast in '01 to stake Arizona to a 4-3 win in 11 innings over the Dodgers on September 28...he played in all 162 games for the second consecutive year...including the post-season, Luis was the first player ever to participate in 179 games in a year...Gonzo's final numbers matched him with Babe Ruth's 1921 campaign as the only players in history to hit at least .320 with 35 doubles, 50 homers, 120 runs, 130 RBI, 100 walks, 100 extra-base hits and 400 total bases in a season...Gonzalez also completed his first career errorless campaign playing in 161 games in left. 2001 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS—Luis entered the bottom of the ninth inning of the seventh game of the World Series hitless in 4 at bats, but by the end of that at bat he would be in the midst of the greatest celebration to ever hit the Valley...with the bases loaded and a drawn-in infield he sent teammates and fans into a frenzy with a bloop single off of Mariano Rivera to drive home Jay Bell with the winning run that staked Arizona to a 3-2 win and its first World Championship...Gonzalez prefaced the Game #7 heroics with 2 hits in the 15-2 runaway in Game #6, including a 2-run double in Arizona's 8-run third inning...he jumped-started the World Series experience with a 2-run homer off of Mike Mussina in Game #1, contributing to a 9-1 win...it was Gonzo's third roundtripper of the post-season and 60th overall on the year...the Fall Classic also featured a sidebar in which Gonzalez and his childhood best friend, Tino Martinez, each played a huge role in their club's success...raised in Tampa, FL, they played on the same Jefferson High School team that went to the state finals in 1985 and worked in the same cigar factory that was run by Martinez's grandfather...Gonzo struggled with an injured right wrist from being hit by pitches and a right hamstring strain during the series...he had a big night in Atlanta in Game #4 of the NLCS when the D'Backs took a 3-1 lead in the series, going 2-for-3 with 2 walks and a hit by pitch, 2 runs and 3 RBI, featuring a ninth inning homer en route to an 11-4 victory...he closed out the Division Series against St. Louis by reaching base safely in 7 of his last 11 plate appearances over the final 3 games, including a homer in Arizona's 5-3 win at Busch Stadium in Game #3. 2000—Luis became the first D'Back in franchise history to appear in and start all 162 games and earned co-Player-of-the-Year honors with Steve Finley as voted by the Arizona chapter of the BBWAA...Gonzo was also named to his second consecutive Good Guy Award...he recorded his 300th career double on June 18 vs. San Diego...he a pair of N.L. Player-of-the-Week honors (June 5-11 and July 24-30)...Gonzo recorded the first cycle in club history on July 5 in Houston, becoming the 10th player in baseball history to both hit for the cycle and author a 30-game hitting streak (1999)...he drove in 8 runs during a split doubleheader in San Francisco on September 23...he was selected to travel to Japan as part of the MLB All-Star tour in November, hitting .300 in 8 games against Japanese League All-Star teams...current teammates Javier Vazquez, Troy Glaus and Shawn Green were also on that squad. 1999—Acquired from Detroit during the winter in exchange for Karim Garcia, Gonzo led the N.L. with 206 hits and recorded 5 different double-digit hitting streaks, (30, 16, 13, 11 and 10)...the 30-game streak from April 11-May 18, was the first of that length in the N.L. since 1989 (Jerome Walton), and the 37th in history of at least 30 games...consistent throughout the streak, he batted .400 (46-for-115) with 25 runs, 11 doubles, a triple, 7 homers, 25 RBI and 80 total bases for a slugging pct. of .696...the most memorable hit during the streak was at home on May 11 against Montreal, snapping a 3-3 tie with his first hit of the night, a game-ending 10th inning homer off of Guillermo Mota...once the streak ended, Luis was hitless for 2 games, then hit safely in 13 in a row, giving him a start to the season that featured hits in 48 of his first 51 games at a .398 clip (80-for-201)...he earned his first trip to the All-Star Game, going 1-for-2 with a double in Fenway Park. 1999 DIVISION SERIES HIGHLIGHTS: Gonzo started all 4 games, going 2-for-10 with a team-high 5 walks. 1998—Luis' only year in the American League was highlighted with the addition of triplets to the Gonzalez family, when Christine delivered the three-some of Megan, Jacob and Alyssa on June 26...he recorded his fourth career 2-homer game, taking Anaheim's Omar Olivares down twice on August 10, with the second blast the 100th of his career...he also picked up the 1,000th career hit with a single off of Olivares...the Tampa native celebrated his return home by belting the first-ever home run at Tropicana Field in the Devil Rays' inaugural game on March 31, a 2-run blast in the fifth inning off of Dan Carlson. 1997—Signed as a free agent with the Astros and tied Art Howe's club record with a 23-game hitting streak, the longest streak in the N.L. in '97...went 9-for-11 in a 3-game visit to Montreal on July 18-20 with 7 RBI...included was his first career grand slam on July 20 off of Omar Daal. 1996—His last year as a Cub, he started twice at first base, his first major league work there since 1990. 1995—Opened the year with Houston then was traded to the Cubs on June 28, with Scott Servais in exchange for Rick Wilkins...hit his first career game-opening home run on September 27 off St. Louis' Allen Watson. 1994—Ranked 10th in the league with 29 doubles during the strike-shortened season...he hit .331 (50-for-151) in the final 41 games leading up to the stoppage of play. 1993—Singled in his final at bat on October 3 to break the .300 mark...had second career 5-RBI game on Sept. 6 vs. New York. 1992—Opened with Houston, but due to .158 average on May 20, was optioned to Tucson (AAA)...returned to the majors on June 3...hit first career pinch-hit home run on June 13, a game-winning, 3-run shot off the Giants' Jeff Brantley in a 4-1 Houston win...was on the D.L. from July 21-August 5 with a partial dislocation of his left shoulder after making a diving catch vs. Pittsburgh on July 20. 1991—His first full year in the majors, he led the Astros with 50 extra-base hits, a club record for rookies, breaking Joe Morgan's team mark of 48 in 1965, earning a spot on the Topps All-Rookie team...Gonzo suffered a partial dislocation of his left shoulder attempting to make a diving catch on August 28 at Philly, disabling him from August 29-Sept. 13...had the first 5-RBI game of his career on July 3 at San Francisco...recorded first career 4-hit game on July 17 at Pittsburgh...hit first 2 major league home runs on May 1 at Wrigley Field off of Greg Maddux, knocking in 4 runs. 1990—Earned a spot on the Southern League All-Star team, while playing for Columbus (AA), tying for the league lead in home runs and sacrifice flies...was promoted to Houston after AA season, making debut on Sept. 4 in L.A. as a pinch hitter...made first start on Sept. 8 in San Francisco, picking up a double off of Steve Bedrosian for first major league hit. 1989—Was limited to 86 games for Osceola (A) due to an injured right shoulder...was on the disabled list from May 26-July 5, but still tied for the team lead in triples. 1988—Signed as Houston's fourth choice in the June draft and split his first pro season between Auburn and Asheville, totaling 70 games.

Michael Gosling

B/T: L/L

Age: 24 (Turns 25 on September 23)

Born: September 23, 1980 in Madison, WI

Residence: Tucson, AZ

M.L. Service: 27 days

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as Arizona's 2nd round selection in the 2001 First Year Player Draft.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Michael got a late start to the season after undergoing arthroscopic surgery the previous September, but wound up earning his first trip to the big leagues...his season did not officially begin until May 4, but he wound up going 9-5 in 24 appearances (21 starts) for Tucson (AAA)...he was summoned to the big leagues on September 7 and made his debut two days later at Dodger Stadium, working 2.0 innings, allowing 3 hits and 2 runs...he was tagged for a 2-run homer by former D'Back Steve Finley in his first big league inning of work, then recorded a 1-2-3 second frame...Michael worked a shutout inning on September 11 against the Giants...he made his first Major League start on September 14 against the Rockies, but was not around for the final outcome, a 4-3 Arizona victory in 13 innings...he went 5.2 innings allowing 2 runs on just 3 hits with 6 strikeouts...he registered his first big league triumph on September 18 in St. Louis, posting a 3-2 victory over the eventual National League champion Redbirds in Busch Stadium...for the second consecutive start he came within an out of an official quality performance, allowing just 7 hits and 2 runs over 5.2 innings, both tallies coming via a third-inning homer by Larry Walker...Gosling left the contest with 2 on and 2 out in the sixth, and the Arizona bullpen finished things off with 3.1 innings of 1-hit scoreless relief...he became the 21st different rookie to win a game in a Diamondback uniform, the 63rd overall hurler...in his brief big league work, he limited lefties to a .194 mark (6-for-31) while righties hit .313 (20-for-64)...Gosling experienced a rollercoaster ride statistically throughout his season with Tucson, but finished up his second straight AAA season strong, winning 5 in a row from August 8-29 before losing his final start on September 3 in Tacoma...during the winning streak, he posted a 3.38 ERA, allowing 12 earned runs in 32.0 innings...Gosling was roughed up in 3 outings during the summer, allowing 7 earned runs twice and 10 earnies on one occasion, totaling 10.2 innings...eliminating those 3 appearances from his season's work, Michael had a 4.51 ERA over his other 21 minor league outings.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Michael's second year as a pro was spent with Tucson...following a tough 1-4 AAA initiation, posting a 9.26 ERA in 7 starts, Gosling rebounded to record back-to-back 6.0 inning starts in which he surrendered only 1 earned run...he also picked up his first career hit in the May 20 contest...he encountered a 3-game dry spell from May 25-June 5 then went 5-0 over his next 6 games from June 10-July 6, giving up 13 runs (11 earned) in 33.2 innings (2.94 ERA)...he was touched for 17 earned runs in his last 17.2 innings (8.66 ERA) to close the year, then underwent arthroscopic left shoulder surgery on September 23, with Dr. Lewis Yocum repairing a small tear in Gosling's labrum and rotator cuff. 2002—Michael made his pro debut with El Paso (AA) and responded by leading the Texas League with 14 victories and finishing third with a 3.13 ERA...he limited opponents to a .238 average, second in the T.L....Michael received accolades as the left-handed pitcher on Topps' Double-A All-Star Team and was tabbed by SportsTicker as one of the top prospects in the Texas League...his ERA ranked second in the farm system, and he tied for second with 14 wins...he allowed 2 earned runs or fewer in each of his first 6 starts, going 4-0 with a 1.89 ERA from April 8-May 4...included in that stretch was his first career complete game, a 3-hitter vs. Arkansas on April 29 in El Paso...he went 8-1 with a 2.29 ERA over 13 starts from May 25-August 2...Michael fanned a season-high 10 in 6.0 innings of a no-decision vs. Midland on July 12...he allowed 2 earned runs or less in 17 of 27 starts on the year...Michael limited the opposition to a .197 (56-for-284) average with runners on base...he teamed with Andrew Good (12-5) and Brandon Webb (10-6) to give the Diablos their first trio of 10-game winners since 1994.

PERSONAL

Michael Frederick Gosling...he and Kimberly Sandler are engaged and planning an All-Star break wedding during the 2005 season...he graduated from East High School in Salt Lake City in 1998, then attended Stanford for 3 years before being drafted by Arizona...he graduated from Stanford with a degree in Human Biology in the winter of 2002...Michael was a member of the 1997 U.S. Junior National Team...he spent the summer of 2000 playing for Team USA, compiling a 1-0 record and a 2.76 ERA in 14 relief appearances, striking out 34 in only 16.1 innings...he was the starting pitcher for Stanford and was charged with the loss in Omaha, NB, in the 2001 College World Series championship game against Miami...he signed with the Diamondbacks on August 1, 2001, and participated in the Arizona Fall League, going 1-1 with a 5.97 ERA in 9 games (3 starts) for the Scottsdale Scorpions...prior to the 2002 season, he was ranked by Baseball America as the second-best prospect within the organization.

HOW OBTAINED

Acquired with cash considerations from the Los Angeles Dodgers in exchange for catcher Dioner Navarro and pitchers William Juarez, Danny Muegge and Beltran Perez, January 11, 2005.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Shawn prospered offensively while adjusting to a defensive position change from right field to first base...his 28 home runs, 86 RBI and 92 runs scored ranked second among players who spent the entire season with Los Angeles while his 71 walks tied for the team lead...he recorded 86 RBI, his fifth consecutive year of at least 85 RBI...Green's .995 fielding percentage was fourth among National League first basemen...the team posted a 68-39 ledger with Green at first base while going 21-25 when he played right field...he was the starting first baseman on Opening Day after four consecutive starts in right field, one shy of the Los Angeles record...he clubbed his first career Opening Day home run off of San Diego's Brian Lawrence on April 5, collecting his 800th career RBI on the blast...Green had a season-high 4 hits on April 14 against the Padres, including a pair of doubles to give him 304 extra-base hits with Los Angeles, surpassing Davey Lopes on the all-time list...Shawn recorded his 5,000th career at-bat on April 27 vs. the Mets, grounding out in the ninth inning...his solo homer in the opening frame on April 30 against Montreal was his 138th clout as a Dodger, eclipsing Mike Marshall for ninth on Los Angeles' all-time home run list...Green clubbed a pair of roundtrippers on May 6 at Florida, his 24th career multi-homer game, first since August 3, 2002...he was penciled in as the second hitter from May 25-27 in Milwaukee, batting second for the first time as a Dodger and the first time since April 11-13, 1999...he hit .500 (14-for-28) during a 7-game hitting streak from June 10-17...his sacrifice fly in the tenth inning on July 5 gave Los Angeles a 6-5 win over Arizona...he clubbed his seventh career grand slam on July 15 off of Arizona's Randy Choate, his 145th roundtripper as a Dodger, moving him past Dusty Baker for eighth on the all-time Los Angeles list...Green collected his 336th extra-base hit for Los Angeles with a triple on July 30 at San Diego, surpassing Baker for eighth place on another all-time Los Angeles Dodger list...Shawn hit safely in 12 of 13 games from July 28-August 11 at a .340 clip (17-for-50)...his 2-homer game on August 19 against Atlanta, his 25th career multi-homer game, gave him 20 home runs in a season for the sixth time in his career...his two blasts teamed with a pair of Adrian Beltre homers to mark the first time that a pair of Dodgers went deep twice in a game since June 30, 1996, when Eric Karros and Raul Mondesi accomplished the feat...Green bounced back two days later with another 2-homer game on August 21 vs. the Braves, his 26th career multi-homer outing...the first blast was his eighth career grand slam, seventh off of a lefthanded pitcher, and his second blast, a solo homer, gave him 5 RBI in the contest, matching the single-game season-high for a Dodger...he batted .321 (9-for-28) during a season-high 8-game hitting streak from August 21-29...he snapped an 0-for-13 slide by hitting safely in 17 of 19 games from September 4-24 at a .329 pace (24-for-73)...he posted his 27th career multi-homer game with a pair of clouts on September 13 against San Diego...Green launched a go-ahead, 2-run homer with two strikes and two outs in the top of the ninth inning on September 19 in Colorado to propel Los Angeles to a 7-6 triumph...in observation of the Jewish holiday of Yom Kippur, he did not participate in the September 25 game in San Francisco...he tied his career high with 4 walks the following day against the Giants.

2004 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Shawn appeared in the post-season for the first time in his career, snapping the longest active drought among Major League position players at 1,514 career regular season games...he set a Dodger Division Series record with 3 solo homers in the series against St. Louis, though L.A. lost 3 games to 1, hitting .250 (4-for-16) in the 4-game set...he was the 17th player to homer 3 times in Division Series history, first since Todd Walker in the '03 set between Boston and Oakland...Green and Milton Bradley went back-to-back in Game #2, the first set of consecutive homers for L.A. in post-season play since October 25, 1981, when Pedro Guerrero and Steve Yeager homered in Game #5 of the World Series...Shawn's 2 homers in Game #3 at Dodger Stadium made him the sixth player to record a multi-homer game in Dodger history, joining Duke Snider (1952 & '55 World Series), Charlie Neal (1959 World Series), Steve Garvey (1974 & '78 NLCS), Davey Lopes (1978 World Series) and Eric Karros (1995 NLDS).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Shawn etched his name in the Los Angeles Dodgers record books over the course of his 5 seasons, ranking tied for second with 6 grand slams, seventh with 162 home runs, eighth with 357 extra-base hits and ninth with 183 doubles...his 6 grand slams are tied for fourth on the all-time Dodgers franchise list...he belted a Dodgers franchise-record 49 home runs in 2001...his 91 homers over 2001 and 2002 are the most in back-to-back seasons in Dodger history, eclipsing Duke Snider's total of 85 he combined for in 1955 and 1956...Green has 27 career multi-homer affairs...he collected 230 RBI in 2001-02, the most in consecutive seasons by a Dodgers since Tommy Davis' 241 RBI in 1962-63...Shawn has 239 homers and 632

RBI over the course of his last 7 seasons, an average of 34 homers and 90 RBI per season...he has hit at least 42 home runs in a season three times and collected 100 or more RBI on four occasions...the 2-time All-Star was named to the American League squad in 1999 and the National League All-Star team in 2002...his 14 home runs in Bank One Ballpark are the most he hit in his career as a visitor in any park in either league he is just the fifth player in Major League history to hit 40 or more homers in a season in both leagues, having hit 42 for Toronto in 1999, then 49 with L.A. in 2001...he has hit 239 roundtrippers since 1998, the 11th highest number among active players.

2003—Shawn experienced a drop in his offensive numbers while playing with an injured right shoulder yet logged 160 games...his team-high 49 doubles, which tied for second in the league, established a Los Angeles single-season record and ranked second on the Dodgers all-time single-season list behind Brooklyn's Johnny Frederick (52 doubles in 1929)...Shawn's 9 outfield assists tied for 10th in the league...Green paced the squad with 49 multi-hit affairs and 21 multi-RBI games...after a slow start, he batted .309 (93-for-301) with 11 homers and 46 RBI over an 80-game span from July 1 through the end of the season...he had 4-hit games on April 2 in Arizona and April 20 against the Giants...he celebrated the first anniversary of his 4-homer game (from 2002) with a 3-for-5, 4 RBI effort on May 23 at Milwaukee, including a go-ahead, 3-run homer in the seventh inning...he departed the August 20 contest against Montreal in the fourth inning with spasms in the left side of his neck, an injury that forced him out of the lineup the next 2 games, his lone missed outings of the year...he eclipsed his previous career high with his 46th double of the season on September 6 at Colorado, also driving in a season-high 5...he hit his sixth career grand slam on September 8 at Arizona off of Stephen Randolph...he clubbed his 250th career homer on September 12 off of San Diego's Kevin Jarvis...Shawn faced his 48th double on September 27 at San Francisco, surpassing Wes Parker for the Los Angeles single-season record. 2002—Green recorded a club leading 42 home runs, 114 RBI, 166 hits, 110 runs and 27 multi-RBI games while ranking second with 42 multi-hit affairs...among National League leaders, he finished fourth in homers, runs and RBI, sixth with 325 total bases and ninth HOW OBTAINED

Signed as Arizona's third round selection in the 2001 First Year Player Draft.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Scott donned a Tucson uniform to begin the season before being promoted to the Major Leagues in early May...hailing from a baseball-rich family, he is the ninth member to play professionally and joined his older brother Jerry Jr., a Baltimore Orioles infielder, in the big leagues...he hit safely in 14-of-20 games in April at a .282 pace (24-for-85), then was called up to the majors on May 2 and made his big league debut 5 nights later, fanning as a pinch-hitter against the Phillies...he was optioned back to Tucson the next day and, upon his return, completed an 8-game hitting streak that ran from May 1-16 during which he batted .400 (12-for-30)...he was recalled by the D'Backs on May 17 and spent the remainder of the season in the majors...Scott broke an 0-for-6 start with his first Major League hit, a solo homer off of the Marlins' Carl Pavano, on May 24 at Florida...the hit triggered a career-high 10-game hitting streak in which he hit .368 (14-for-38), tying Chad Tracy for the third-longest streak by an Arizona rookie...he clubbed a 2-run homer in the ninth inning on May 31 against the Giants and the next night, hitting the first of back-to-back blasts with Steve Finley...the June 8-10 interleague series at Baltimore was a memorable one for the Hairston family as Scott and his older brother Jerry Jr. went head-to-head for the first time in their young Major League careers, playing in front of their parents...Scott reached base safely via a hit or walk in 26 straight games from May 24-June 21, collecting at least 1 hit in 23 of those affairs...he sputtered through a 12-game slump from July 5-22, hitting .105 (4-for-38), which included his first career ejection on July 11 in San Francisco by Mike DiMuro for excessive arguing...Hairston collected a career-high 4 hits on June 26 at Houston and combined with Luis Gonzalez for back-to-back home runs...Scott struggled over his final 27 games, batting .159 (13-for-82) with 2 home runs and 8 RBI...he finished the season with 13 home runs, the second-highest single-season total by an Arizona rookie behind Travis Lee's 22 clouts in 1998...one of the National League's top offensive rookies, he tied for first with 6 triples, tied for sixth with 13 homers, eighth with 34 extra-base hits, and tenth with a .442 slugging percentage and 150 total bases.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Scott's first year at AA was off to a terrific start before being interrupted with a 6-week stint on the disabled list (May 31-July 10) with a low back strain...at the time of the injury, Scott was batting .309 with 15 doubles, 5 home runs and 29 RBI...he was at his hottest just preceding the injury as he hit safely in 20 of 22 contests from April 29-May 29, batting .337 (31-for-92)...upon returning to active duty, he hit only .235 (35-for-149) over his remaining 41 games of the season...he was promoted to Tucson (AAA) on September 1 and had one pinch-hit appearance, knocking home a run with a sacrifice fly...while playing in the Arizona Fall League, Scott proved to be healthy by posting a .360 average, the fifth-best in the league, with 4 home runs and 14 RBI in 22 games for the Scottsdale Scorpions...prior to the season he was ranked by Baseball America as not only the top prospect in the farm system but also as No. 26 on their list of the game's Top 100 Prospects. 2002—Hairston was chosen as the No. 3 prospect in the farm system by Baseball America to open the year...he was selected as the second baseman on USA TODAY Baseball Weekly's Minor League All-Star team after finishing third overall in the minors in batting (.345), first in extra-base hits (73) second in doubles (46) and slugging (.603) and seventh in on-base percentage (.429)...he was voted the organization's Minor League Player-of-the-Year, leading the farm system in batting, runs scored (99), doubles, home runs (22) and total bases (309)...Scott became the first player to be tabbed the organization's Player-of-the-Month three times in a single season, taking honors for May, July and August, a month that featured a minor league leading 39 RBI...he was also selected by SportsTicker as one of the top prospects in the Midwest League where he finished second with a .332 batting average and .563 slugging percentage for South Bend (A)...he also paced the circuit with a .426 on-base percentage and tied for fourth with 55 extra-base hits...he reached base via a hit or walk in 111 of 127 games played, including 31 straight games with an at bat from May 15-June 21, hitting .405 (49-for-121) over that span with 16 walks...Scott was somehow not selected as a Midwest League All-Star despite ranking second in the league in on-base percentage (.409), third in slugging (.517) and fourth in batting (.322) at mid-season...that oversight was corrected later in the year as Hairston was named to the league's Post-Season All-Star team...his season was briefly interrupted as he was disabled from June 25-July 3 with a left wrist contusion...Scott had a season-high 19-game hitting streak from August 4-26, including time with both South Bend and Lancaster (A), during which he batted .430 (37-for-86) with 28 RBI...the streak began with hits in 7 straight games (.452, 14-for-31 with 6 doubles, 11 RBI) to close his time with South Bend and after his August 13 promotion, Scott hit safely in each of his first 12 games (.418, 23-for-55, 7 doubles, 4 HR, 17 RBI) with Lancaster...after the season, he played for the Scottsdale Scorpions in the Arizona Fall League, batting .255 with 3 home runs...he was named to the Arizona Fall League All-Prospect Team, as decided by the league's managers and coaches. 2001—Hairston was rated by Baseball America as the No. 7 prospect in the Pioneer League...he was selected as second baseman on the Topps Short-A/Rookie League All-Star team...he secured honors as the organization's Player-of-the-Month for July and August...he finished in the Pioneer League's Top 5 in several offensive categories, pacing the circuit in runs (81) and total bases (171) while ranking second in hits (101) and RBI (65), third in slugging (.588) and extra-base hits (36), and tied for third with 6 triples and 14 home runs...he finished fifth in the league in batting (.347) and on-base averages (.432) and homered once every 20.79 at bats, the fifth-best rate in the league...he hit .427 (35-for-82) during his franchise-record 19-game hitting streak to close the season, with 23 runs and 23 RBI...he batted .308 in the playoffs.

HOW OBTAINED

Acquired from the Los Angeles Dodgers with lefthanded pitcher Bill Murphy and outfielder Reggie Abercrombie in exchange for outfielder Steve Finley and catcher Brent Mayne on July 31, 2004.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Koyie entered the year on the cusp of a big league career with the Los Angeles Dodgers, but just minutes before the trade deadline passed he was dealt with pitcher Bill Murphy and outfielder Reggie Abercrombie to Arizona in exchange for Steve Finley and Brent Mayne....unfortunately, Hill's 13th game with the Diamondbacks proved to be unlucky, as he sustained a right ankle fracture when he was on the receiving end of a home plate collision with Pittsburgh's Ty Wigginton on August 17....Hill's ankle was surgically repaired 10 days later by team orthopedist Dr. Pete Mitchell...the injury occurred just a night after he enjoyed a 3-for-5 contest against the Bucs, highlighted by Hill's first Major League home run, a 3-run blast off of Jose Mesa....Koyie was in the lineup for the D'Backs in Colorado less than 24 hours after being acquired, going 0-for-4...his 0'er lasted for 12 at bats before breaking into the hit column on August 6 against Atlanta...just 2 days later on August 8, Hill enjoyed his first career multi-hit contest, going 4-for-4 with a double, also vs. the Braves....Koyie opened the season with Las Vegas (AAA) and struggled out of the gate with a .213 average (17-for-80) through 20 games in April...he quickly found his groove in May, hitting safely in 23 of 27 games at a .374 pace (40-for-107)...included was a season-best 13-game hitting streak from May 3-17 during which he hit .393 (22-for-56) with 17 RBI....Koyie batted .500 (21-for-42) with 14 RBI during a 10-game hitting streak from May 26-June 4, concluding the skein with 7 straight multi-hit affairs...he notched a season-best 5 RBI with a 3-for-4 effort on May 29 against Tacoma...he was solid when playing in Las Vegas, hitting .356 (69-for-194) in 48 games at Cashman Field, while managing just a .199 mark (31-for-156) on the road...he was the starting catcher for the United States squad at the 2004 Futures Game in Houston on July 11.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Koyie began the year at Jacksonville (AA) and finished with a September call-up, appearing in 3 games for the Dodgers...he hit .228 in 101 at bats for Jacksonville before being promoted to Las Vegas (AAA) on May 5...he batted .314 for the 51s, earning the September 2 promotion to the big leagues...Hill collected at least one hit in 14 of his first 15 games at AAA, including a 4-for-4 performance at Tucson on May 19...he played in Triple-A All-Star Game at midseason... a switch-hitter, Koyie batted .303 off lefthanders and .318 off righthanders with Las Vegas...he combined stops with Jacksonville and Las Vegas to draw only 21 walks, one year after finishing fourth in the Southern League and leading all Dodger minor leaguers in that category...he made his first career appearance at first base for the 51s on August 24 vs. Fresno...at the conclusion of the season, he was named to the PCL's All-Star team...he appeared in 3 games for the Dodgers, going 1-for-3, with the hit coming in first big league at-bat, a double off of Steve Reed on September 5 at Coors Field...following the season, he played for Team USA during both the Arizona Fall League (.238 in 10 games) and the Americas Olympic Qualifier in Panama (.217 with 3 RBI in 12 games)...he then played for the Estrellas in the Dominican Winter League. 2002—Koyie batted .271 for Jacksonville (AA), drawing 76 walks to lead all Dodger minor leaguers, while leading his club in hits (127), home runs (11) and games played (130)...he caught a league-high 117 games...he was selected to play in midseason Southern League All-Star Game, contributing a home run...he had a 16-game hitting streak from April 17-May 4, during which he batted .368 (25-for-68)...he was tabbed the Southern League's Hitter-of-the-Week for July 26-August 1, after hitting .611 (11-for-18)...he played both halves of a July 29 doubleheader vs. Mobile, going 6-for-7 with a homer, 3 doubles and 4 runs...he participated in the Arizona Fall League during the "off-season", playing 20 games for league champion Peoria, batting .307 (23-for-75). 2001—Hill led all Dodger minor leaguers with 150 hits for Wilmington (A)...he also topped his club with a .301 batting average and 79 RBI...he was selected to both the mid-season and post-season South Atlantic League All-Star teams...additionally, Koyie was named as a SportsTicker South Atlantic League "Star of Stars"...he had a strong start to the season, batting .340 (32-for-94) during April and following that up with a .360 average (36-for-100) in May...he batted .346 (37-for-107) with 18 RBI in August and compiled 41 multi-hit games on the year. 2000—Koyie played in 64 games for Rookie-level Northwest League champion Yakima...he began the process of converting from third base to catcher...in addition to 11 games behind the plate, he also saw action at designated hitter (39 games), third base (15) and second base (1).

PERSONAL

Koyie (pronounced "Koy") Dolan Hill...he and his wife, Meghan, had their first child, daughter Phoenix Rose, last September 27, and make their home in Wichita, KS...Koyie graduated from Eisenhower High School in Lawton, OK, then was a three-year letterman at Wichita State University, compiling a .355 average with 186 RBI as a starting third baseman, while the Shockers won the Missouri Valley Conference title in each of those three seasons...as a junior in 2000, he led the MVC with 102 hits and tied teammate Blake Blasi for the batting title at .391...Hill also collected 22 doubles, 62 RBI and scored 63 runs...he was named to the All-Conference team during his sophomore campaign, batting .347 with 10 homers, 21 doubles and 81 RBI...he hit .323 with 17 doubles and 43 RBI as a freshman...in 1999, Koyie played for Team USA, batting .284 with 3 homers and 21 RBI as the team's primary second baseman...Koyie made a pair of trips in January as part of the Diamondbacks wintertime Hometown Tour through Arizona.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as Arizona's ninth round selection in the 1999 First Year Player Draft.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

A .450 (27-for-60) exhibition season gave Matt a solid grasp on the utility job for Opening Day, which developed into a starting role when Roberto Alomar went down with a hand fracture just 13 games into the season...unfortunately, Kata's year was derailed a little over a month later on May 29, when he took an awkward spill diving for a ground ball in Dodger Stadium, suffering a dislocated left shoulder...he was placed on the disabled list the following day and underwent season-ending surgery to repair a torn labrum on July 2 by Dr. Lewis Yocum...in healthier times, Matty had a career-best 8-game hitting streak from April 18-26 during which he batted .455 (15-for-33)...he collected a career-high tying 4 RBI on April 25 against the Padres...he opened the May 21 contest at Florida with a home run off of southpaw Darren Oliver, Kata's first career leadoff home run, the ninth in team history and first since Craig Counsell off Colorado's Denny Neagle on July 8, 2003.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Matt's rise through the system continued with his first taste of AAA action and culminated with a 3 1/2-month stay with the big league club...he opened the season on the Tucson disabled list with an intercostal muscle strain, then finally took the field on April 19 and hit safely in 13 of his first 15 games with the Sidewinders at a .379 clip (25-for-66)...he snapped out of an 8-for-50 drought by going 8-for-15 in what turned out to be his final 3 games at the AAA level...Matt was recalled on June 15 when Junior Spivey was placed on the disabled list and reached base via a hit or walk in his first 16 contests, 15 of which were starts...he was 2-for-4 in his first start on June 17 in Houston, collecting his first Major League hit with a single off of Jeriome Robertson, then later adding his first big league home run, also off Robertson, which was immediately followed by an Alex Cintron blast...Matt was 3-for-4 with a 3-run homer and a career-high 4 RBI on June 24 against the Astros...he matched a franchise record and established a career-high with 5 hits on June 30 in Colorado...he hit .372 (16-for-43) with 19 RBI with runners in scoring position and posted a .538 average (7-for-13) with 11 RBI with runners on third base...among National League rookies, Matt finished tied for third in triples (5), ranked seventh in multi-hit games (23), slugging pct. (.420) and extra-base hits (28), finished ninth in runs (42) and total bases (121), tied for ninth in walks (25) and ranked tenth in doubles (16) and RBI (29). 2002—Matt erupted onto the AA scene with a big season for El Paso, leading the Texas League in at bats (578), total bases (256) and runs (95), ranked second in hits (172), tied for third in triples (9), fourth in extra-base hits (53) and ninth in hitting (.298)...among all AA hitters, he ranked second in runs and hits and finished third in total bases...he earned Texas League co-Player-of-the-Week honors with teammate Chad Tracy for April 22-28 after hitting .407 (11-for-27)...on June 1 vs. Tulsa, Matt was 5-for-6 with 4 doubles, tying for the most among minor leaguers, and 4 RBI in El Paso's 18-17 victory...he played for the Western Division team in the Texas League All-Star Game on June 17, going 3-for-5 with a double and an RBI from the leadoff spot to earn the game's Most Valuable Player honors...he concluded his season with a 15-game hitting streak, which began on August 17, batting .385 (25-for-65)...on the season, he hit safely in 102 contests with 51 multi-hit outings...Matt appeared in 32 games for Scottsdale of the Arizona Fall League. 2001—He was named to Baseball America's High Class-A All-Star team...he went 2-for-3 in the California League/Carolina League All-Star Game at Lancaster...he was selected as Batter-of-the-Week for April 23-29, including a grand slam and 6 RBI on April 24 at Lake Elsinore...he reached base safely by hit or walk in 25 consecutive games from May 6-June 2...he swiped 4 bases as the JetHawks tied a minor league season-high with 10 steals at Lake Elsinore on August 16. 2000—He was second among Arizona minor leaguers with 38 steals...the fifth-toughest batter to strikeout in the Midwest League, Kata fanned once every 10.12 plate appearances...he tied a league season-high with 4 stolen bases vs. Dayton on August 5...he made 1 pitching appearance and took the loss, allowing a walk and a run in 0.1 inning on June 9 at Michigan.

PERSONAL

Matthew John (Matt) Kata...he and his new bride, Jillian, wed last November 20 and make their home in Round Rock, TX...Matt graduated in 1996 from St. Ignatius High School in Cleveland, OH, then attended Vanderbilt University in Nashville, TN...Kata was part of Arizona's Hometown Tour that traveled through the state in January to connect with fans.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as Arizona's 29th round selection in the 1998 First Year Player Draft.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Mike appeared in a career-best 76 games, the third-highest total in franchise history behind Oscar Villarreal (86 in 2003) and Byung-Hyun Kim (78 in 2001)...showing no ill effects of the arthroscopic right shoulder surgery the previous September, he worked a career-high 86.2 innings of relief, the sixth-best total in the National League...early in the season Koplove displayed the ability to work out of jams, stranding 18 of 20 inherited baserunners from April 6-May 5...on each occasion that a runner scored, Mike had no margin for error, taking over a bases-loaded situation...his first victory of the year was on April 15 in Colorado, entering the contest with the bases full and none out...a double play limited the damage and Arizona went on to secure the 11-10 triumph...Mike went 1-0 with a 0.66 ERA over a 12-outing stretch from April 23-May 14 with opponents batting only .174 (8-for-46)...he was thrust into the closer's role after Matt Mantei and Jose Valverde succumbed to right shoulder injuries...Koplove picked up his first career save on June 30 vs. San Diego and followed it up with another rescue the next night against Minnesota...his best work of the year was in August, posting a 0.52 ERA in 13 appearances, with the opposition hitting only .158 against him during the month...Mike was especially effective from August 14-31, with opponents batting only .083 (3-for-36)...he had a brief 5-outing hiccup from September 4-14, going 0-2 with a 10.50 ERA...he surrendered a solo homer to San Francisco's Barry Bonds on September 12, the 699th career blast by the Giants' slugger...Koplove then finished strong, giving up only 1 run over his final 9.1 innings, spanning 6 outings...righthanded batters hit at just a .233 clip (41-for-176), while lefties batted .313 (45-for-144)...he stranded 32 of 47 inherited baserunners on the year...he converted 2 of 8 save opportunities...he was bestowed with the 2004 Good Guy Award as announced by the Arizona Chapter of the BBWAA.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Mike's year was twice interrupted by stints on the disabled list, with the second stint pulling the curtain on his campaign due to arthroscopic surgery on his ailing right shoulder...he was initially sidelined from June 1-13, then made 4 appearances before going back on the shelf on June 23...despite his efforts to return via a throwing program in July and a rehab assignment with Tucson (AAA), Koplove was unable to throw pain-free and elected to end his season with arthroscopic surgery performed on the shoulder by Dr. Craig Morgan on September 15...the procedure included a repair of fraying in Koplove's labrum as well as some slight fraying in his rotator cuff...Mike began the season in the set-up role, posting a 1.00 ERA during April, allowing 2 earned runs in 18.0 innings...he was equally effective against both lefties (.224, 13-for-58) and righties (.225, 18-for-80)...a native of Philadelphia, he picked up his first win of the season on May 13 in his first-ever appearance at The Vet, recording a pair of eighth inning outs then watching his teammates plate 5 runs in the top of the ninth...while possessing a respectable 3.79 ERA over his 15 home appearances, his road work was more impressive, owning a microscopic 0.48 ERA in 16 outings away from home, allowing 1 earned run in 18.2 innings...he limited the opposition to a 3-for-30 (.100) performance when batting with runners in scoring position, ranking fourth among N.L. relievers at the time of his surgery. 2002—Mike opened the season in the bullpen for Tucson (AAA), but wound up one of the top righthanded set-up men in the National League while earning team Rookie-of-the-Year honors from the Arizona chapter of the BBWAA...he opened the year with 23 appearances in AAA, recording 3 saves with a 1.17 ERA, holding PCL hitters to a collective .196 average (21-for-107) with 31 K's and 4 walks in 30.2 innings...he was recalled on June 5 and pitched against Houston that night, retiring all 3 batters he faced in the 12th inning...Kop allowed only 1 run over his first 12 big league games, totaling 11.0 innings for a 0.82 ERA, as opponents managed a .154 average against him...he picked up his first big league victory on July 11 as Arizona opened the post-All-Star portion with a 4-3 win at Los Angeles...Mike worked both ends of a double-dip at Shea Stadium on August 3, tossing a scoreless frame while allowing a hit and walk in the opener, then recording a 1-2-3 ninth to close out the nightcap...he was the fourth pitcher in club history to work both halves of a twinbill joining Willie Banks and Alan Embree (August 20, 1998 at Philadelphia) and Bret Prinz (August 31, 2001 at San Diego)...Mike threw 8.2 hitless innings from August 22-30, as opponents went 0-for-24 with 3 walks...he limited the opposition to a .150 average (19-for-127) in his first 33 outings after the All-Star Break...Mike allowed only 2 runs over 20.1 innings for a 0.89 ERA in 13 outings from August 22-September 19...on the year, Koplove limited lefties to a .174 average (12-for-69), while righthanders hit .230 (35-for-152) with 2 walks and 28 strikeouts. 2002 DIVISION SERIES HIGHLIGHTS—Mike's lone post-season action resulted in a loss in the second game of the series against the Cardinals...he worked a 1-2-3 eighth inning with Arizona trailing by a 1-0 count, but after the D'Backs tied the contest in the bottom of the frame, Kop was touched for a run on 2 hits in the ninth to absorb a tough 2-1 loss. 2001—Mike joined the Diamondbacks after an outstanding finish to his minor league season and was used in a variety of key situations during the pennant race due to the late-season injury to Bret Prinz...he made his major league debut in San Francisco on September 6 allowing hits to the first 2 men he faced but they would be the only hits he surrendered over his first 5 big league outings...his second appearance was a 3.1 inning stint against San Diego on September 8, blanking the Friars while the D'Backs rebounded for an 8-6 win in 10 innings...he had a streak of 28 consecutive batters faced without allowing a hit from the last out of his big league debut until surrendering a home run to Milwaukee's Luis Lopez on September 26...Koplove's year began in El Paso (AA), posting a 3-2 record with 4 saves and a 2.66 ERA in 34 games, then was promoted to Tucson (AAA) where he pitched in 17 games and recorded either a win or a save in 13 of his outings, going 4-1 with 9 rescues and a sparkling 2.82 ERA. 2001 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS—Mike was on the active roster for the Division Series and NLCS, but did not pitch...he was inactive for the World Series. 2000—Mike opened the year at High Desert (A) and allowed 3 earned runs in 0.1 of an inning in his season debut...he then surrendered only 1 earned run over his next 19 outings (none in his last 16 games) before a promotion to El Paso (AA) on June 3...was 1-0 with 2 saves and a 0.73 ERA in first 9 games with El Paso...he held opponents to a .225 batting average, third-best average among Texas League relievers...during the playoffs, Mike was 1-0 with a save and a 1.69 ERA in 4 appearances against Round Rock...was 1-1 with a 2.86 ERA for the Scottsdale Scorpions of the Arizona Fall League. 1999—Led South Bend (A) in appearances...fell 9.0 innings short of qualifying for the organizational lead in ERA. 1998—Paced all Pioneer League (A) relievers with a 0.75 walks per 9-inning ratio.

PERSONAL

Michael Paul (Mike) Koplove...he is single and spends the winter in his native Philadelphia, PA, where he graduated from Chestnut Hill Academy in 1995...Mike first attended Northwestern University but transferred to the University of Delaware for the 1998 college season, helping lead the Blue Hens to the 1998 America East Championship and the NCAA Atlantic II Regional...he played shortstop for the Delaware Valley Gulls of the Atlantic Collegiate League in 1996...Mike spends his off-season as a fan of both the Philadelphia 76ers and Eagles...he has a two-year old Weimaraner named Roosevelt.

Josh hit his way through the top tiers of the farm system en route to a September call-up to the big league squad...starting the season at El Paso (AA), he jumpstarted his season with 3 triples and 2 RBI in his first game of the year...from April 21-May 17 he hit safely in 20 of 24 contests at a .375 clip (33-for-88) with 24 runs, 5 home runs, 19 RBI and 12 multi-hit affairs...he had a season-high 4 RBI on May 30 against Round Rock...that contest gave life to a season-best 11-game hitting streak through June 11 during which he batted .523 (23-for-44) with 15 RBI and 8 multi-hit outings...he went 4-for-4 with a season-high tying 3 doubles on June 1 against Round Rock...Josh was recognized as the Texas League Player-of-the-Week for May 31-June 6...all told, he hit safely in 28 of 35 games at El Paso's Cohen Stadium at a .385 clip (52-for-135) with 21 doubles, 3 triples, 5 homers and 31 RBI...he clubbed a 2-run homer as a starting outfielder for the West Division at the Texas League All-Star Game on June 21 and the next day was promoted to Tucson (AAA)...he hit safely in 7 of his first 9 games at a .323 clip (10-for-31) for the Sidewinders...Josh matched his season-high with 4 hits on August 6 against Nashville, then again on August 22 vs. Edmonton, which also included his lone 2-homer game of the year...he posted a .390 average (39-for-100) in 28 games in August leading up to his first trip to the Major Leagues...recalled on September 2, just 2 days after his 22nd birthday, he made his debut that night as the starting leftfielder against the Dodgers, going 1-for-4 as his first big league hit was a ninth-inning single off of Scott Stewart...Josh scuffled through a 1-for-20 stretch over his next 7 games...he picked up his first Major League RBI on a groundout in the fourth inning on September 25 at San Diego.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Josh opened the season with Lancaster (A) but an outstanding offensive effort led to a mid-year promotion to El Paso (AA)...his 39 doubles were tops among all Arizona farmhands and tied for 11th among all minor leaguers...he batted .390 (55-for-141) in 36 home games and .299 (49-for-164) in 42 road contests with the JetHawks...he hit .385 (35-for-91) with runners in scoring position...Kroeger sizzled from the outset batting .390 (34-for-92) in 24 games in April...he had his second career 2-homer game and established a career-best with 5 RBI on April 29 vs. High Desert...after batting .291 (32-for-110) in May, he compiled a .369 average (38-for-103) in June...named to the California-Carolina League All-Star Game. Josh was 1-for-4 with a double as the starting rightfielder...he was promoted to El Paso on July 1 and hit .326 (15-for-46) in his first 11 games...he hit safely in 18 of 22 games from July 21-August 17 at a .330 clip (29-for-88)...following the season he played for the Scottsdale Scorpions of the Arizona Fall League, hitting .253 with 11 RBI in 22 games. 2002—Josh appeared in 133 games to tie for fourth in the California League...after a season-opening 0-for-5, he hit safely in 17 of his next 19 games, including an 11-game hit streak from April 14-25 during which he hit .319 (15-for-47)...he collected 3 hits, including 2 home runs, at Lake Elsinore on April 28...the second homer was at the back end of back-to-back-to-back long-balls in the fifth inning. 2001—Josh was rated by Baseball America as the No. 12 prospect in the Arizona farm system...he hit .395 over a 12-game span from May 28-June 10...he batted .391 (18-for-46) as he closed the season with a 12-game hitting streak from August 22-September 3...he hit .444 with a home run in the Midwest League playoffs. 2000—Josh led his Arizona Rookie League team in hits, runs, total bases, home runs and RBI.

PERSONAL

Joshua J. (Josh) Kroeger...he is single and makes his home in San Diego, CA, where he graduated in 2000 from Scripps Ranch High School...Josh was named to the 2000 ABCA/Rawling's High School All-America third team.

Righthanded Pitcher

Ht: 6-1

Wt: 190

B/T: R/R

Age: 25 (Turns 26 on August 10)

Born: August 10, 1979 in Salt Lake City, UT

Residence: St. George, UT

M.L. Service: 2 years, 142 days

HOW OBTAINED

Acquired from the Boston Red Sox with pitchers Casey Fossum and Jorge de la Rosa, and a player-to-be-named (outfielder Michael Goss) in exchange for pitcher Curt Schilling, November 28, 2003.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Brandon had a tough first year on the health front as a member of the Diamondbacks...he underwent an MRI and an electromyogram in spring training, then a further examination by Dr. Lewis Yocum led to the decision to have ulnar nerve transposition surgery on March 24...two weeks later the cast came off, but Lyon did not return to the mound until July 14 when he tossed about 25 pitches...he began a rehab assignment with Tucson (AAA) on July 26 and was touched for 5 runs on 6 hits in an inning of work against Fresno...overall he pitched 6 times for Tucson, going 2-3 with a 15.12 ERA...during his August 11 rehab outing, Brandon felt a "twinge" and reported tightness in the elbow...an MRI revealed no structural damage, but the setback once again slowed his return...another attempt to activate him before year's end was aborted during the season's final week.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Brandon pitched exclusively out of the pen for the first time in his big league career...he served as one of Boston's top closer options prior to the late-May arrival of Byung-Hyun Kim, with Lyon recording 6 saves through the end of May (spanning 22 appearances), and 9 saves overall...he did not pitch in the majors from July 21-September 2 due to right elbow soreness, then returned to go 0-1 with a 5.68 ERA in 7 September outings...Brandon experienced a strange final week of July, going to the Pirates in a 4-player swap on July 22 that sent Scott Sauerbeck to the BoSox...upon his arrival in Pittsburgh, the Pirates claimed an MRI showed fraying tendons in Lyon's pitching elbow and placed him on the 15-day disabled list on July 25...Red Sox doctors, reading the same MRI, disagreed with the diagnosis, then he was re-acquired by the Red Sox with Jeff Suppan in a deal just prior to the July 31 non-waiver trading deadline...Lyon made 5 rehab outings with Pawtucket (AAA), then returned to Boston's active roster on September 2...Brandon made a memorable Red Sox debut at Tampa Bay on April 2, pitching 3.0 innings of scoreless, extra-inning relief to earn a 9-8 win in 16 innings, Boston's first victory of the season...he earned his first Major League save on April 16 vs. the Devil Rays...Lyon struck out Robin Ventura, Alfonso Soriano and Derek Jeter in the ninth inning to preserve a 10-7 win on May 20 vs. New York...he did not incur a blown save until June 28 vs. Florida. 2002—Lyon began the year with Toronto, the first time he broke camp on a Major League roster...he dropped his first 2 decisions before holding the Rangers to a run on 4 hits in 6.1 innings on April 23 in Arlington to post a win...he made his first career relief appearance on May 28 at Boston...he was optioned to Syracuse (AAA) after a June 11 interleague loss to the Giants, remaining in the minors for the rest of the year. 2001—In only his second professional season, Brandon reached the majors, going 5-4 with a 4.29 ERA in 11 starts for the Blue Jays after combining to go 10-3 with a 3.76 in 20 AA and AAA starts...he opened the season 5-0 with a 3.68 ERA in 9 starts for Tennessee (AA)...he was named Southern League Pitcher-of-the-Week for April 13-19, winning 2 starts and posting a 0.57 ERA...he jumped to Syracuse (AAA) on June 1, going 5-3 with a 3.69 ERA in 11 starts...included were a pair of 7-inning complete games...he was named International League Pitcher-of-the-Week twice (June 11-17 and July 9-15)...he had his contract purchased by Toronto on August 3 and won his Major League debut the next day at SkyDome, allowing one earned run on 4 hits in 7.1 innings in a 2-1 victory over the Orioles...Brandon was the seventh youngest pitcher to start a game for the Blue Jays and the second youngest to win (Phil Huffman, who was 20 in 1979)...Lyon won 4 consecutive starts from August 21-September 7, posting a 2.73 ERA...overall, held opponents to just one earned run in 5 of his 11 big league starts. 2000—Spent his first pro season appearing in 15 games (13 starts) for Queens (A)...finished the season with 10.0 consecutive scoreless innings and did not walk a batter in his final 28.0 innings.

PERSONAL

Brandon James Lyon...he and his wife, Sara, have a son, Isaac (1/26/04) and reside in St. George, UT...Brandon graduated from Taylorsville (UT) High School, where he was named the Utah Player-of-the-Year...he then attended Dixie Junior College in Utah, where he was a Junior College All-American, an All-Region selection in 1999 and 2000 and an All-Region MVP...he was also the JUCO Player-of-the-Year in 2000, posting a 17-0 record and 0.52 ERA.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a free agent, December 10, 2004.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Russ had another solid season and was a key component to Atlanta's 13th consecutive division title...he equalled a career high in games started (34), surpassed the 200-inning mark for the fifth time in his career and his 15 victories tied with Jaret Wright for tops on the pitching staff...Ortiz proved to be a stopper for Atlanta, posting a 7-1 mark in games following a Braves loss...overall, Atlanta went 22-12 in his starts...he put up better numbers on the road (8-3, 3.61 ERA) than at Turner Field (7-6, 4.57 ERA)...he made the first Opening Day start of his big league career, losing a decision to the Mets, kicking off a 2-3 month of April...he rebounded to go 4-1 with a 2.41 ERA in 6 starts in May...he fanned a season-high 9 men in Houston on May 9, but dropped a 2-1 decision...Russ tossed his first of 2 complete games of the year on May 25 at Montreal, retiring the last 17 Expos he faced and 22 of the final 23 en route to a 6-1 victory...Ortiz then had a sub-.500 month of June (1-2) before a spectacular July in which he was 5-0 with a 1.67 ERA and landed the National League Pitcher-of-the-Month award...he went 7-0 with a 1.87 ERA over the span of nine starting assignments from June 26-August 8, yielding 13 runs in 62.2 frames of mound action...he tossed 7.0 shutout innings in an interleague matchup at Baltimore on June 26 to kick off that stretch...Russ then opened July with a 9-1 triumph over the Marlins, taking a shutout into the eighth inning...he followed with 7.0 shutout innings on July 6 in hitter-friendly Hiram Bithorn Stadium in Puerto Rico, knocking off the Expos, 1-0...he earned his 100th career victory (in his 200th start) with 7.0 shutout innings at Pittsburgh on July 28, another 1-0 triumph...he matched up in a pitchers' duel with Cy Young Award winner Roger Clemens on August 3, but did not figure in the Braves' 3-2 loss at Minute Maid Park despite yielding only 2 runs in 7.0 innings of work...his final victory over the 5-week stretch came over his new teammates, knocking off the Diamondbacks 11-4 on August 8...following a trio of no-decisions, his 7-game winning streak was halted with a 9-5 loss to San Francisco on August 29, allowing 7 runs and 9 hits in 5.0+ innings...Russ returned to form in his next mound visit, tossing his second career 3-hitter and his third career shutout with a 9-0 blanking at Montreal on September 4, carrying a perfect game into the sixth inning and throwing just 108 pitches while permitting only two runners to reach second base...he wound up posting a 5-0 record and 1.13 ERA against Montreal (now Washington)...Russ recorded his 1,000th career strikeout in his September 24 outing against Florida, fanning Luis Castillo in the first inning.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Ortiz owns a lifetime 103-60 record with a 4.00 ERA in 222 games (212 starts), fanning 1,004 in 1,341.2 career innings...in 6 full seasons in the majors dating back to 1999, Ortiz has posted a 3.93 ERA while averaging more than 16 victories and 150 strikeouts in nearly 209 innings per year...in addition to topping 200 frames 5 times over that span, Russ joins Bartolo Colon and Greg Maddux as the only big league pitchers to accumulate at least 14 wins in each of the past 6 seasons...in fact, Ortiz is the only big league hurler with at least 14 wins, 195.0 IP and 140 K's in each of those 6 seasons...he has not missed a start in his big league career...since the 2000 All-Star Break, he is 77-39 with a 3.65 ERA (386 ER in 950.2 IP)...his 77 wins over that span are the most in the National League...he has pitched at least 6.0 innings in 157 of his 212 (.741) career starts...he has connected for 6 career home runs, tied with Kerry Wood and Darren Dreifort for second among all active pitchers, trailing only Mike Hampton (14) of the Atlanta Braves.

2003—Russ paced the National League with a career-high 21 wins, 3 more than any other NL hurler...his .750 winning percentage was tied for second in the senior circuit, while opponents hit just .223, tied for fourth lowest in the league...he was selected to his first All-Star Game, pitching a scoreless inning with a walk and 2 K's at Chicago's U.S. Cellular Field...Ortiz allowed 3 or fewer earned runs in 24 of his 34 starts...he had a career-best 8-game winning streak, posting a 3.20 ERA from June 18-July 29...he finished the year on a tear, going 14-3 with a 3.84 ERA in his last 19 starts...Russ found pitching in Atlanta's Turner Field to his liking, going 14-3 with a 3.53 ERA and a .202 opponents average in 19 home starts...he blanked the Marlins and drove in the game's lone run in a 1-0 win on September 19...it was the only complete game shutout for Atlanta in 2003 and marked the first time an Atlanta pitcher had hurled a 1-0 route-going effort and supplied the game's only RBI since Phil Niekro stopped the Astros on September 20, 1974, at Houston. 2003 POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Russ went 1-1 with a 5.06 ERA in two Division Series starts vs. the Cubs...in Game #1, he absorbed the loss in a 4-2 Cubs' win, yielding 4 runs on 8 hits in 5.2 innings...he came back on 3 days rest to earn the 6-4 win in Game #4, holding Chicago to 2 runs over 5.0 innings. 2002—His last year with San Francisco, he shared the staff lead in wins (14) and starts (33), while ranking 2nd in innings (214.1) and strikeouts (137)...he established a career-high for innings pitched...he became the Giants' top pitcher during the stretch drive, completing the year with 6-start winning streak, during which he logged a 2.34 ERA (11 ER in 42.1 IP) and .232 average...beginning on August 1, he fashioned a 2.62 ERA (23 ER in 79.0 IP) over his last 11 starts, going 7-3 in those outings...Ortiz allowed 3 earned runs or fewer in 25 of his 33 efforts (75.8%) and limited opponents to 2 runs or less in 18 outings...at the plate, he established a career-best with 17 hits, including home runs on April 3 and September 18 at Los Angeles. 2002 POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Russ continued his late regular season run with a strong postseason, going 2-0 with a 5.76 ERA in 5 playoff starts, both victories coming in Atlanta during the Division Series...he allowed 2 runs on 5 hits over 7.0 innings in an 8-5 victory over Tom Glavine in Game #1...Ortiz produced arguably his biggest start of the postseason in the decisive Game #5, limiting the Braves to 1 run in 5.1 frames in a 3-1 Giants' win...he pitched once during the NLCS vs. St. Louis, starting Game #3 and getting a no decision after allowing 4 earned runs in 4.2 innings of a 5-4 Cardinals' win...Ortiz took the hill twice in the World Series against the Angels...he was roughed up in Game #2 in Anaheim going only 1.2 innings giving up 9 hits and 7 earned runs, but got a no decision in the 11-10 Angels' win...he took the ball in Game #6 of Fall Classic and worked 6.1 stellar innings at Anaheim, leaving the game with 2 men on and 5-0 San Francisco lead, only to watch from the dugout as the Halos rallied for a 6-5 victory. 2001—Russ was 17-9 with 3.29 ERA, pacing the San Francisco staff in wins and strikeouts (169), while ranking second in innings (218.2) and third in starts (33)...his 17 victories tied for fifth in the N.L., while he ranking sixth in opponents' batting average (.232), seventh in ERA and tenth in winning pct. (.654)...he went 10-5 with a 2.88 ERA (45 ER, 140.2 IP) in his final 21 starts, including 3-0 with 1.65 ERA (5 ER, 27.1 IP) in his last 4 assignments...he posted his first career shutout on July 23 vs. Colorado at Pac Bell Park, limiting the Rockies to 5 hits in 10-0 triumph...Russ picked up his 50th career win August 21 at Montreal, when he took no-hitter through 6.2 innings before Mark Smith's single, eventually winning a 10-2 decision. 2000—Recovered from a rough first half of the campaign in which he was removed from the rotation at the outset of the second half, to have a terrific finish to the year...he was 3-8 with a 7.55 ERA in his last 16 starts before the All-Star Break, then posted a 10-4 mark with a 3.22 ERA (36 ER, 100.2 IP) in 16 outings (15 starts) during the season's second half...he snapped a personal 3-game losing skid and the club's 8-gamer on May 21 at Milwaukee, when he allowed 10 runs in a 16-10 victory, becoming the first winning pitcher to surrender 10 runs since Pittsburgh's Bob Friend May 2, 1954 (18-10 win over Cubs)...Russ struck out career-high 12 batters against the Astros on June 25...he had a 7-game winning streak from August 3-September 4, during which he posted 0.96 ERA (5 ER, 46.2 IP)...Russ was named NL Pitcher-of-the-Month for August after winning all 6 of his starts and posting a 1.12 ERA (5 ER, 40.1 IP) during the month. 2000 POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS: He started Game #3 of the Division Series, allowing a run in 5.1 innings at Shea Stadium, a contest the Mets won, 3-2, in 13 innings. 1999—Became the Giants' top winner in his first full season in the big leagues, going 18-9 with a 3.81 ERA...he ranked among N.L. leaders in wins (T-4th), complete games (3, T-9th), batting average against (.244, 7th) and slugging pct. allowed (.388, 8th)...however, he led the circuit in walks (125) and finished tied for third with 13 wild pitches...Russ tossed his first career complete game on April 23 vs. Colorado, yielding 6 hits and fanning 8 in 7-2 victory...threw his second complete game July 5 at San Diego, a 6-hitter in a 4-1 victory, striking out 10 batters for second consecutive game...he ended the season with complete game, 7-hit victory on October 1 at Colorado, a 9-4 triumph. 1998—Spent the majority of the first half of the season shuttling between San Francisco and Fresno (AAA), then stayed with the big league club for most of the second half...he made his first Opening Day roster, getting recalled from Fresno prior to the March 31 lid-lifter at Houston, taking the roster spot of disabled Osvaldo Fernandez...Russ made his big league debut on April 2 at Houston, closing out San Francisco's 9-2 win with a pair of scoreless innings...Ortiz was 4-4 with 5 no decisions and a 5.71 ERA (48 ER, 75.2 IP) as a starter while owning a 0.75 ERA (1 ER, 12.0 IP) in 8 relief outings...he had a no decision in his first big league start on July 20 vs. Arizona, an eventual 5-3 Giants' victory...he picked up his first big league win on August 5 at New York, working 8.0+ innings...he clubbed his first Major League home run on September 24 vs. Pittsburgh in the second inning off of Elmer Dessens...he was given the "Harry S. Jordan Award," an annual honor accorded to the best first-time player in Giants' Major League spring training camp in a vote by his teammates. 1997—He made the transition from reliever to starter and split the season between Shreveport (AA) and Phoenix (AAA)...prior to the regular season, Russ started for the Giants in a March 31 exhibition vs. Cleveland at Candlestick Park...he opened the campaign at Shreveport, posting a 2-3 ledger with a 4.13 ERA in 12 starts...that effort earned him a promotion to Phoenix and he made his first start for the Firebirds on June 21, suffering a loss at Edmonton...he was named the Pacific Coast League's Pitcher-of-the-Week for August 10-16...he won both of his post-season starts for Phoenix, yielding 4 runs (3 earned) over 12.1 innings (2.19 ERA). 1996—He split the season between San Jose (A) and Shreveport, combining for a 1-2 record with 36 saves and a 1.85 ERA in 60 appearances...his save total was 2 shy of the top mark in the minors on the year (El Paso's Sean Maloney recorded 38)...Ortiz dominated California League hitters, yielding just 1 earned run on 16 hits and striking out 63 in 36.2 innings (0.25 ERA)...he logged 23 saves in just 34 games for San Jose, finishing second in the California League in rescues...he was named to the circuit's All-Star squad and garnered honorable mention on the postseason All-Star team...he was promoted to Shreveport on June 25, finishing the campaign in the Texas League...he added 13 saves with the Captains, posting a 1-2 mark with a 4.05 ERA in 26 outings...following the season, he participated in the Hawaiian Winter League, working strictly as a starter and posting a 2-6 tally with a 3.50 ERA in 9 outings at West Oahu. 1995—He opened his pro career at rookie-level Bellingham, helping the club capture the North Division championship while posting 2-0 mark with a league-high 12 saves and a stingy 0.25 ERA (2 ER, 34.1 IP)...he was tabbed by opposing managers as the ninth-best prospect in the Northwest League...Russ earned a promotion to San Jose just prior to the California League Playoffs...he worked in 5 regular season games for the junior Giants (0-1, 1.50 ERA) and 5 postseason contests for the eventual league runners-up (0-1, 3.38 ERA, 2 saves).

PERSONAL

Russell (Russ) Reid Ortiz...he and his wife, Stacy, reside in Mesa, AZ, with their two daughters, Grace (7/30/01) and Lilian (2/8/04)...he graduated from Montclair Prep High School in Van Nuys, CA, where he was a teammate of Brad Fullmer...Ortiz attended the University of Oklahoma and helped the Sooners capture the 1994 College World Series Championship, registering 3 saves, a 3.50 ERA and 30 strikeouts in 38.0 innings...he was the recipient of the Giants' 2001 John Hancock Roberto Clemente Award for excellence in community service...in 2002, he served as spokesperson for the YMCA's "Building Futures" program, providing game tickets and hosting a monthly event for at-risk youth and their mentors...he supported the San Francisco Food Bank by taping a radio PSA for the organization...while with San Francisco, he participated in the Giants Wives' postgame auction and clinic to raise money for Junior Giants and Comfort for Kids, which provides medical care to children facing a life-threatening illness...Russ acted as spokesman of the 1999 RSVP (Resolve To Stop The Violence) Day and participated in the Giants' offseason Care-A-Van, visiting youth groups, schools and hospitals throughout Northern and Central California.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a non-drafted free agent, June 13, 2002.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Tony got his first taste of AA action, beginning the year as a member of the El Paso Diablos rotation...after dropping his first 2 starts, he picked up his first victory of the season on April 20 at Round Rock, holding the Express to 2 runs on 5 hits with a walk and 8 K's over 7.1 frames...he turned in his best performance of the year on April 25 at San Antonio, notching 12 strikeouts and no walks over 7.0 shutout innings of 2-hit ball, yet he did not factor in the decision...he owned an impressive 36-to-5 strikeout-to-walk ratio, which included issuing only 2 bases on balls over his final 6 starts totaling 37.2 frames...he equaled a season-high by pitching 8.0 frames in a 15-2 triumph at Arkansas on May 12...it would prove to be his final start of the year as an investigation of birth records revealed that Peña was playing under the identity of his nephew, Adriano Rosario...according to the documents, Peña was more than 3 years older than previously assumed...during the investigation, Peña returned to his homeland where he worked out at the organization's facility in Boca Chica and appeared in 3 games, going 1-0 with a 0.64 ERA with 17 strikeouts and no walks in 14.0 frames.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Tony enjoyed a solid season in South Bend (A), limiting opposing hitters to a .247 average (149-for-604) with 119 strikeouts and only 30 walks...his 2.86 ERA ranked 14th in the Midwest League...he was 2-0 with a 2.20 ERA (8 earned runs in 32.2 innings) during a 5-game unbeaten streak from April 18-May 12...Peña was selected but did not pitch in the Midwest League All-Star Game on June 17...he went 4-0 with a 1.58 ERA over his final 8 games, allowing 11 runs (8 earned) over 45.2 innings and limiting opposing batters to a .211 average (35-for-166)...he pitched at least 6.0 innings in all but one of those starts, working a scoreless inning against Kane County on August 12 before an hour-long rain delay ended his outing. 2002—Peña held opposing hitters to an overall .229 batting average (67-for-293), fanned 71 while walking only 10 batters and did not allow a homer in 14 starts with Boca Chica (DSL) and Missoula (R)...with Boca Chica, he ranked second in starts (10), innings pitched (57.0), strikeouts (57), and complete games (1) while posting a 2.05 ERA, good for third among pitchers with at least 10 appearances...he finished fifth on the team with a .193 opponents average (41-for-212) and fanned 57 batters while walking only 7...Peña was transferred to Missoula on August 15, going 1-2 in 4 starts.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a non-drafted free agent on October 15, 1997.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Luis started with Tucson (AAA) for a second consecutive season, but following Arizona's trade deadline activity that sent Steve Finley to Los Angeles, Terrero was summoned to the big league club for the final two months of the year...his season started with a bang, going 5-for-6 with 4 runs, a double, a homer, an RBI and 2 stolen bases on April 8 vs. Tacoma, as he batted .591 (13-for-22) during a 6-game hitting streak to start the season...following a 2-game drought, he fashioned a season-best 10-game streak in which he batted .417 (15-for-36) from April 16-26...overall, he hit at a .438 clip (28-for-64) with 9 multi-hit affairs in his first 18 tilts...his season saw a major interruption when Luis was suspended for 29 games (May 31-June 30) by the PCL due to an unfortunate incident in Albuquerque...he was recalled to the Diamondbacks on July 9, appearing in 6 games and going 7-for-15 (.467) before being optioned back to the Sidewinders on July 19...he was recalled to stay on July 31 when Finley was dealt to the Dodgers, and Terrero wound up in the starting lineup for 54 of the final 57 games...he batted .524 (11-for-21) during a 6-game hitting streak from July 11-August 3, featuring five 2-hit games...he hit safely in a career-best 7 games from August 5-12, batting .310 (9-for-29)...Luis clobbered his first Major League home run on August 17, a fifth inning solo blast off of the Pirates' Ryan Vogelsong...he opened the September 4 contest in San Francisco with his first career leadoff homer, taking Noah Lowry deep...he later hit a leadoff homer on September 15 vs. the Rockies, splashing down in the Bank One Ballpark pool...it was the 13th leadoff blast in team history, fifth of the season, and the 31st all-time "pool shot," 13th by a Diamondback...a fleet-footed baserunner, he collected a team-high 6 bunt hits and paced the squad with 10 stolen bases, fourth among all big league rookies.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—His first year at AAA also featured an abbreviated mid-season stop in the majors...he had a season-high 12-game hitting streak from April 29-May 16...Luis hit safely in 22 of 26 games before his recall on July 10...he made his big league debut that afternoon, entering the contest against the Padres defensively and striking out in his first at-bat...he came off the bench and picked up his first big league hit on July 19 in San Diego, a single off Adam Eaton...Terrero returned to Tucson two days later after appearing in five games...he spent the majority of the year batting leadoff for the Sidewinders, hitting .284 out of the top spot...his best month was July when he hit .363 in the 20 games around his brief stint in the majors...he was consistent at the plate, batting .286 against lefthanded pitchers and .287 vs. righties...he tied for the minor league lead in triples with 15. 2002—Luis received his first spring training invitation and remained on the radar screen at El Paso (AA) as one of the Texas League's top prospects according to SportsTicker...he landed on the disabled list from May 9-21 with a right rib cage strain...upon his return, he batted .400 (16-for-40) in 10 contests in May...he hit in 16 of 20 games at a .347 clip (26-for-75) from May 21-June 10...Luis picked up his first-career cycle on May 26 vs. Round Rock, going 5-for-5 with a career-high 6 RBI...he recorded another cycle on August 24 at Shreveport, going 4-for-5 and matching his career-high 6 RBI, making him only the second minor leaguer (Hank Blalock, Tulsa, June 26 & 28, 2001) in modern history to hit for the cycle twice in a season...he batted .303 with runners on base...Luis played in 37 games for Azucareros in the Dominican Winter League. 2001—Things started slowly for Luis in A-ball but he wound up with his first taste of AA action and emerged as one of Arizona's top farmhands, as evidenced by his selection by Baseball America as the D'Backs top prospect entering 2002...he began the year with South Bend (A) and struggled through the first month before doctors detected a left ankle fracture...after a month on the D.L., he returned to action with Yakima, then after 11 games was sent to Lancaster (A) on June 30...he hit safely in 12 of 13 games from July 2-23, interrupted only by an unsuccessful pinch-hit appearance on July 13, batting .233 (23-for-50) (.460)...Luis earned a promotion to El Paso (AA) on July 28, kicking off his stay with a 17-game stretch in which he batted .362 (25-for-69)...he then played for Azucareros in the Dominican Winter League. 2000—He spent the majority of the year with Missoula, but began on the disabled list with a broken hamate bone in his left wrist...he was activated May 21, then transferred to Missoula for the start of its season...he tasted the big league life playing for the Diamondbacks in the Hall of Fame Game on July 24 in Cooperstown, NY, earning MVP honors after going 2-for-4 with a double and 2 runs vs. Cleveland...he was named Pioneer League Player-of-the-Week for July 10-16 after batting .500 with 12 runs scored, 5 homers and 14 RBI...he hit .353 (30-for-85) with 5 doubles, 6 home runs, 21 RBI in 19 games from July 10-August 1...he was selected to the Pioneer League post-season All-Star team. 1999—He led the league in runs (74) and ranked fourth in steals (27)...he touched Helena for grand slams twice in 6 days, June 22 and June 27, earning league Player-of-the-Week honors for June 21-27...he was rated by Baseball America as the No. 8 prospect in the Pioneer League.

PERSONAL

Luis Enrique Terrero Gomez...a 1998 graduate of Barney Morgan High School in Barahona, DR...he and the organization experienced a scare during his winter ball season of 2003 while playing for the Azucareros in his native Dominican Republic...Terrero appeared in only 9 games before experiencing a blood clot in his left arm that necessitated a surgical procedure to rectify the problem...the surgery was performed by Dr. Robert Thompson in St. Louis, MO.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a seventh round selection in the 2001 First Year Player Draft.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Chad made the most of his rookie season after being pressed into starting duty, earning the Diamondbacks Rookie-of-the-Year award as voted by the local chapter of the BBWAA...he opened eyes by batting .306 in a team-leading 28 exhibition games, then opened his second straight season at Tucson, batting at a .520 clip through the first 6 games, highlighted by a pair of walk-off homers...he ended the season opener with a 12th inning shot against Tacoma, then wrapped up an April 13 contest against Portland with a game-ending grand slam...Chad received his first call to the majors on April 21, replacing a disabled Roberto Alomar, making his big league debut that night in Milwaukee, fanning as a pinch hitter...he started at third base the following day and went 4-for-8 with a double, an RBI and a stolen base in an 11-9 Arizona win in 15 innings, with his first Major League hit a second inning single off the Brewers' Wes Obermueller...Tracy batted .474 (9-for-19) during a 5-game hitting streak from April 25-30, which included his first home run, a 2-run blast off of the Cubs' Sergio Mitre in the fourth inning on April 27...he reached base safely via a hit or walk in 21 of his first 24 games, compiling a .348 average (32-for-92) with 9 multi-hit games...his average tailed off to a season-low .257 by mid-June, but he revived his year by hitting at a .400 clip from June 18-July 5 (18-for-45)...on July 5 in Los Angeles, his game-tying RBI single in the ninth inning halted Dodger reliever Eric Gagne's Major League record streak of 84 consecutive saves...Chad composed a .417 average (15-for-36) during a career-best 10-game hitting streak from July 27-August 7, matching fellow rookie Scott Hairston for the third-longest streak by a D'Backs rookie all-time and the second longest streak by a National League rookie for the season...the big league season wore on him down the stretch as he batted just .217 in the final 21 games...Chad halted a 54-game homerless streak on September 11 with a pinch-hit blast off of San Francisco southpaw Noah Lowry...he launched a leadoff homer in a 3-1 win over Milwaukee on September 27, the first leadoff home run of his career and 14th in franchise history, sixth in '04...among all Major League rookies, he ranked second with 137 hits, third with 45 walks, fourth with 196 total bases, tied for fourth with 34 multi-hit games, fifth with 29 doubles, sixth with 53 RBI, tied for seventh with 3 triples, eighth with a .343 on-base percentage and 40 extra-base hits, ninth with a .285 batting average and tied for ninth with 45 runs...defensively, he was charged with 26 errors as the everyday third baseman.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003— Chad continued his rapid climb through the farm system, enjoying an All-Star season in his first taste of AAA action...he entered the year ranked by Baseball America as the No. 8 prospect in the organization and did not disappoint, hitting over .320 for a third straight season while securing honors as the Diamondbacks' Minor League Player-of-the-Year...his .324 batting average was second in the chain and fourth in the Pacific Coast League, while leading all minor league third basemen...he paced the PCL in hits (169) and ranked second in runs scored (91)...his hit total was seventh among all minor leaguers...he collected a league-best 40 hits in April, hitting .367 for the month...Tracy became the first minor leaguer since July 2000 to score 6 runs in a game when Tucson triumphed over Edmonton, 25-11, on April 5...he went 4-for-5 at the plate as the Sidewinders scored the most runs in a PCL game in nearly 9 years...for the second straight season, Chad was selected to participate in the Futures Game during the All-Star break, going 0-for-2 as the starting third baseman on the U.S. squad in the contest played at Chicago's U.S. Cellular Field...he then participated in the AAA All-Star game and went 0-for-2 at Memphis...he had a trio of double-digit hitting streaks, including a season-best 13-game streak from June 9-21 during which he batted .449 (22-for-49)...he batted .365 with runners on base including a 5-for-8 performance (.625, 10 RBI) with the bases loaded...his best overall month was August when he hit .368 with 20 RBI...at the end of the year Tracy was selected by league managers and media as the third baseman on the All-PCL Team...following the season Chad played winter ball for Azucareros in the Dominican Winter League, batting .258 in 26 games with 14 RBI and a team-leading 5 home runs. 2002— Tracy received numerous accolades as he led the Texas League in batting (.344), hits (177) and doubles (39) while playing for El Paso (AA)...he was chosen by Baseball America as the best batting prospect in the T.L., and was selected league's Player-of-the-Year by Topps and the managers and media...he was named the third baseman on Topps' Class AA All-Star team and was selected by SportsTicker as one of the top prospects in the Texas League...he finished second in the farm system in batting and ranked sixth in RBI (74)...Chad played in the 2002 Futures Game in Milwaukee on July 7...he was chosen as both a mid-season and post-season All-Star, going 0-for-2 in the Texas League All-Star Game and 1-for-4 in the AA All-Star Game in Norwich, CT...he was voted as the organization's minor league Player-of-the-Month for April and shared honors for May by posting near identical numbers, hitting .406 (41-for-101)...he twice received Texas League Player-of-the-Week honors (April 4-14 and April 22-28)...Tracy recorded the first multi-homer game of his career as he went deep twice as part of a 4-for-5, 4-RBI outing at Midland on May 24...he led all minor leaguers in batting (.365) as late as August 1...he was the league's toughest batter to strikeout, fanning once every 11.06 plate appearances...among league leaders he also ranked second in total bases (250) and fifth in slugging (.486), while tying for fifth in extra-base hits (52)...in his first full season, Chad was successful vs. both lefthanders (.341, 31-for-91) and righties (.345, 146-for-423)...following the season, Tracy was chosen to play for the Scottsdale Scorpions of the Arizona Fall League...he appeared in only 5 games before tendinitis in his right shoulder brought his year to an end. 2001—He missed the season's first 3 games with a broken nose due to a bad hop grounder...he hit safely in a season-high 13 straight games (.446, 25-for-56) with 5 doubles and 13 RBI from August 7-22.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a non-drafted free agent, February 6, 1997.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

For the second straight season, Jose stepped into the closer's role when Matt Mantei was sidelined by injury...this time, however, Jose was also bitten by the injury bug that plagued the ball club throughout the season...prior to succumbing to a shoulder injury, he was 1-2 with 8 saves in 10 opportunities...after 29 appearances, Valverde was placed on the disabled list retroactive to June 14 with right shoulder tendinitis...it was later determined that he had a small tear in the labrum in his right shoulder, which was repaired arthroscopically by Dr. Michael Lee on September 9...Jose had a tough '04 debut yielding 4 hits and 3 runs to the Rockies on April 6, but over his next 9 outings, he limited the opposition to a .100 average (3-for-30) allowing 2 earned runs over 9.0 innings...he recorded 31 strikeouts over 18.2 frames, spanning 17 appearances from April 27-June 10...he scuffled through an 8-game stretch from May 10-29, going 0-2 with a save, 2 blown saves and 8.59 ERA...Jose broke out of that slump with a 6-5 victory over the Giants on June 1, then converted saves in 5 straight outings from June 2-13 before landing on the disabled list...for the season, he averaged 11.53 strikeouts per 9-innings, ninth among hurlers with as many innings...he limited lefthanded batters to a .152 average (7-for-46) and allowed 1 home run, while righties batted .258 (16-for-62) with 6 roundtrippers.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003— Jose spent the season's first 2 months with Tucson (AAA) before making his major league debut and becoming one of the most dominant relievers of '03...he led N.L. rookies with 10 saves, recording 71 strikeouts in 50.1 frames for a 12.70 K's per 9-innings ratio, second only to Cy Young Award winner Eric Gagne (14.98) among pitchers with over 50.0 innings pitched...opponents hit .137 (24-for-175) against Jose, also second to Gagne (.133) among all pitchers...Valverde held righties to a .112 mark (11-for-98 with 49 K's) while lefties hit .169 (13-for-77, 22 K's)...first batters were just 5-for-44 (.114), second among all relievers...he was proficient at escaping trouble as opponents hit only .077 (1-for-13) against him with the bases loaded and he stranded 22 of 27 inherited runners...the 23-year old pitched in 22 minor league games during April and May, going 1-1 with 5 saves, a 3.10 ERA, a .236 opponents average and 26 strikeouts in 29.0 innings...he was recalled on June 1 when Mike Koplove went on the disabled list and debuted that day at San Diego, striking out the side in the ninth while allowing 2 walks and 2 hits, including a solo home run by Mark Loretta...Jose took over duties as closer while Matt Mantei was sidelined and converted all 9 save chances he had during June, finishing the month 1-0 with a 1.29 ERA with 18 strikeouts in 14.0 innings while holding opponents to a .163 average (8-for-49)...his work earned him the National League Rolands Pitcher-of-the-Month award for June, beating Eric Gagne in a tie-breaker...Valverde was the focal point during the team record 12-game winning streak from June 18-30, appearing 9 times, recording 6 saves and his first major league win while allowing only 4 hits in 9.0 inning...the victory took place on June 20 against Cincinnati as Arizona rallied for 2 runs in the bottom of the ninth...he went 1-0 with 4 saves in 5 appearances from June 16-22 to share the N.L. Player-of-the-Week honors with Florida's Dontrelle Willis, becoming the first rookie in Diamondback history to win the award...he established club records for the month of June with 14 games finished and 9 saves...he did not allow an earned run over 18 appearances, spanning 16.0 frames, from June 15-July 23...he struck out the side in the eighth inning at Florida on July 29, beginning a stretch in which 42 of the last 84 outs he recorded came via strikeouts...Jose dominated the opposition in August, limiting opponents to a .100 average (5-for-50) with 19 strikeouts...he allowed only 1 run over 14.1 innings of work for a 0.63 ERA in 14 games from August 16-September 11...Jose delivered a double on September 20 in Milwaukee for his first career hit in his first-ever plate appearance...opponents hit .099 (9-for-91) against Jose over the season's final two months. 2002—Following a season cut short by an elbow injury, Jose got his first taste of AAA action, but struggled at the outset, going 0-2 with no saves and a 16.20 ERA (18 earned runs in 10.0 IP) in an 11-game stretch from April 6-May 29...he was also impacted by a back strain that landed him on the disabled list for 3 weeks of that span (May 4-24)...once healthy his numbers improved dramatically, going 1-0 with 5 saves in 17 games from June 1-July 11, limiting opponents to a .143 average (9-for-63) and fanning 30 batters in 18.2 frames...included were 15 scoreless appearances while holding opposing batters hitless in 12 of those affairs...Jose fanned at least 1 batter in 38 of his 49 appearances, including a string of 22 consecutive games with a strikeout from April 27-July 11...he then appeared in 13 games for the Azucareros of the Dominican League. 2001—Jose had a promising campaign cut short due to a season-ending elbow injury...he had shuffled between rookie and A-ball for 4 seasons before being thrust into the closer role at El Paso (AA), where he posted a 15.68 strikeouts per 9-inning ratio...he went 1-0 with 5 saves while posting a 0.54 ERA (1 ER in 16.2 IP) with 29 K's in his first 15 games at the AA level...he held opponents scoreless in 11 consecutive contests (13.0 IP) from April 16-May 12, striking out 22...he did not lose a game until June 5, a span of 24 outings and 24.0 innings...a member of the World All-Stars team at the Futures Game in Seattle during the All-Star break, he also nailed down AA All-Star honors...he made only one more appearance following the Futures Game, tossing 1.0 shutout inning on July 20, before he was shelved for the remainder of the season...he was ranked as the tenth best Texas League prospect by Baseball America while named sixth best in the Arizona organization. 2000—He led South Bend (A) with 14 saves and ranked third among Midwest League relievers with 11.09 strikeouts per 9-inning ratio...he did not allow a run over 11 appearances and converted 9-of-9 save opportunities from May 7-June 5...he was disabled from July 10-29 with right shoulder strain...he transferred to Missoula (R) after activation from the disabled list...he dominated the Pioneer League by striking out 24 in 11.2 innings, holding the opposition to a .075 average and not allowing a run. 1999—A reliever for Tucson (Rookie), he ranked second in the league in saves (8), games finished (17) and Rolands relief points (22)...he led relief pitchers with 14.76 strikeouts per 9-inning...he was rated by Baseball America as the No. 4 prospect in the Arizona League.

PERSONAL

Jose Rafael Valverde...he and his wife, Luisa, reside in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic...Jose graduated from Escuela San Lorenzo in El Seibo, DR, in 1997...he has a pair of uncles who have professional playing experience...Jose Mercedes pitched for Milwaukee (1994-98), Baltimore (2000-2001) and Montreal (2003), while Carlos Mercedes played in the minors.

HOW OBTAINED

Acquired with catcher Dioner Navarro, pitcher Brad Halsey and cash considerations in exchange for pitcher Randy Johnson, January 11, 2005.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Javier elevated himself to All-Star status with a stellar first half...he finished the campaign with a 14-10 record and 4.91 ERA in his 32 starts, his fifth straight campaign with at least 32 starts, with the Yanks going 19-13...Vazquez posted his first American League victory on April 8, a 3-1 triumph over the White Sox in the Yankees' home opener, allowing a run on 2 hits over 8.0 frames...he pitched on 3 days rest for only the second time in his career on April 25 against Boston and incurred a 2-0 setback...he was an 11-3 winner over the Red Sox on June 29 to even his career mark at 73-73 despite allowing a career-high tying 3 homers (ninth time)...he pushed his all-time ledger to 74-73 with a 5-4 win over Tampa Bay on July 9, the first time he has ever owned a career winning record...in that contest, he fanned a season-high 9...Javier was roughed up on July 16 at Detroit, matching his career high with 8 runs allowed in 4.1 frames...he was scratched from his August 11 start at Texas due to conjunctivitis...tough to run on, Vazquez allowed his first stolen base in over a year when Torii Hunter swiped second in the fifth inning on August 17 at the Metrodome, the first theft vs. Javy since since July 28, 2003, spanning 36 starts and 235.2 innings...Vazquez matched his shortest career outing with 1.1 innings pitched in an eventual 22-0 loss to Cleveland on September 1, allowing 6 runs on 5 hits and 2 walks with a strikeout...he also worked 1.1 frames with the Expos on April 14, 1998, in a 7-4 defeat against Milwaukee, giving up 7 runs (6 earned)...he suffered his third consecutive loss in a 14-8 setback on September 10 at Baltimore, yielding a career-high tying 8 runs for the sixth time in his career, second of the year...he halted a personal 3-game losing streak on September 15 in a 3-0 win at Kansas City tossing 7.0 shutout frames with 3 hits and 7 strikeouts before relievers Tom Gordon and Mariano Rivera closed out the triumph...his 33 home runs allowed were the third-highest single-season total by a Yankee hurler in franchise history behind Ralph Terry (1962 - 40 home runs) and Orlando Hernandez (2000 - 34 home runs). 2004 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Javier made a start against the Twins in the Division Series and had a pair of relief outings vs. the Red Sox in the ALCS...he got the starting nod in Game #4 in Minnesota and worked 5.0 innings allowing 5 runs on 7 hits, a no decision in which the Yankees rallied for a 6-5 triumph to advance to the ALCS...Vazquez came on in relief in Game #3 in Boston and notched the 19-8 win despite allowing 4 runs on 7 hits in 4.1 innings...in Game 7, he worked 2.0 frames, yielding 3 runs on 2 hits and 5 walks with 2 strikeouts in a 10-3 loss to the Red Sox.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Vazquez placed himself among the league's best pitchers with a 13-12 record and 3.24 ERA in 34 starts for Montreal...he established a career best with 241 strikeouts, eclipsing the 200-K mark for the second time (208 in 2001)...it was the third best in Expos' history behind Pedro Martinez (305 in 1997) and Bill Stoneman (251 in 1971)...his strikeout total ranked third in the majors behind the Chicago Cubs' Kerry Wood (266) and Mark Prior (245)...Vazquez had 9 games with 10 or more strikeouts, tying him with Arizona's Curt Schilling for second in the majors behind Wood (11)...among National League leaders, Javier ranked second in innings (230.2), third in strikeouts, tied for third in starts, fourth with 9.4 strikeouts per 9.0 innings, tied for fifth with 4 complete games, seventh with a .229 opponents batting average and tenth with a 3.24 ERA...his league-high 3,741 pitches trailed only Oakland's Barry Zito's 3,747 pitches...Vazquez yielded 28 home runs, 15 of which were solo shots...he made 4 "home" starts in his native Puerto Rico, posting a 1-1 ledger with a 4.15 ERA and 26 strikeouts in 26.0 innings...he suffered a strained right calf that prevented him from making his third consecutive Opening Day start and instead capped a 3-game sweep at Atlanta with 5.2 scoreless innings pitched in a 4-0 win on April 3...he fanned a career-high 14 batters on April 9 at Wrigley Field...he collected his 1,000th career strikeout on August 2 at Montreal, fanning Milwaukee's Eric Young in the third inning...Javier's 29.0 consecutive scoreless innings pitched streak from August 18-September 2 was the longest in baseball for the year...he went 4-1 with a 1.15 ERA and 45 strikeouts over 6 starts, including 4 outings in which he did not yield a run, in August to capture the Expos' Player-of-the-Month honors as awarded by the Montreal Chapter of the BBWAA...he pitched at least 7.0 innings in 7 of his final 8 starts, allowing only 2 roundtrippers in 61.2 innings pitched. 2002—He set a then-career best with 230.1 innings pitched in 34 starts despite posting a 10-13 record, his first losing season since his rookie campaign in 1998...he finished fourth in the N.L. in innings pitched and tied for fifth in starts...for the third consecutive season he reached both the 30-start plateau (fourth time in his career) and 200-inning mark...he averaged 1.9 walks per 9.0 innings, third in the majors behind Schilling and Los Angeles' Odalis Perez...Javier ranked ninth in the league with 179 strikeouts...he made his second consecutive Opening Day start on April 2 vs. Florida but did not figure in the 7-6 win...on April 24, he tossed 9.0 innings but did not get the decision in Montreal's 5-4 triumph in 15 innings over Milwaukee...he notched his first of 2 complete games on the year with a 5-1 win at Houston on April 30, his second consecutive start of 9.0 innings pitched, allowing a run on 5 hits with 9 strikeouts...he lost 7 straight starts from August 4-September 5, snapping the career-high losing streak on September 10 with a 6-2 triumph at Wrigley Field, fanning 10 for the second time on the year...after an 0-6 August, he rebounded to post a 2-1 ledger with a 2.92 ERA in his final 5 appearances in September, allowing 12 earned runs over 37.0 innings...he tossed at least 7.0 frames in each of those 5 stints, including a pair of 8.0-inning outings. 2001—Javier ranked tied for first in the N.L. with 3 shutouts (with Atlanta's Greg Maddux), second in complete games (5), fourth in road ERA (2.86), fifth in K's (208), tied for seventh in wins (16), eighth in innings (223.2) and ninth with a .235 opponents batting avg...Montreal was 19-13 in his 32 starts...Vazquez blanked the Dodgers 2-0 on 2 hits on May 15, his first shutout since notching a complete game, 4-0 win at Atlanta on September 10, 2000...he boasted a 0.94 ERA while securing wins in 6 consecutive starts from August 12-September 7, allowing 5 runs in 48.0 innings pitched...he matched a career high with 11 strikeouts (for the third time) on August 12 against the Brewers...he was named the National League's Pitcher-of-the-Month for August after leading the majors with a 0.55 ERA and 49.0 innings pitched while posting a 5-1 record, featuring 23.0 straight shutout frames from August 7-22...Javier's season came to an abrupt end on September 17 when he suffered a fractured right eye socket after being hit by a pitch from Florida's Ryan Dempster...Vazquez was taken to St. Mary's Hospital where x-rays were negative but a CT scan revealed the fractures in and around the bones that form the right eye socket...he had worked at least 8.0 innings in seven of eight outings leading up to the injury...in his last 16 starts of the season, he boasted an 11-2 record with a 2.14 ERA. 2000—Javy anchored the staff with a team-high 217.2 innings pitched, 196 strikeouts, a 4.05 ERA and 33 starts and the second-highest win total at 11 victories...his strikeout total finished sixth in the N.L...he fanned 153 batters over his final 150 innings pitched spanning 23 starts, including a pair of 11-strikeout affairs on September 10 at Atlanta and September 20 at Florida...he pitched 200.0 innings for the first time in his career, tossing at least 8.0 innings 4 times, including a complete game on September 10 at Atlanta...at the plate, he led the pitching staff with 15 hits and finished seventh in the league with 13 sacrifice bunts...on May 16, he tossed 8.0 shutout frames with 7 strikeouts and 5 hits allowed in a 2-0 win over Randy Johnson and the Diamondbacks...Vazquez posted a pair of season-highs with 8.2 innings pitched and 9 strikeouts on July 29 against the Reds but failed to secure the win as the bullpen surrendered a game-tying, two-out homer to the Reds' Eddie Taubensee in an eventual 4-3 loss in 11 innings...Javier recorded his second career shutout and struck out a career-high 11 batters in a 4-0 triumph on September 10 at Atlanta, his first win since July 23, a span of 9 outings. 1999—Vazquez led the Expos with 9 wins and ranked second with 154.2 innings pitched and a .255 opponents batting average...he permitted only 20 roundtrippers after allowing 31 home runs the previous season...his 3 complete games tied for ninth in the N.L...he batted .286 (12-for-42) with 2 doubles and 5 RBI...he went 2-4 with a 6.63 ERA in 11 starts for Montreal prior to being optioned to Ottawa (AAA) on June 6...he started 7 games for the Lynx, going 4-2 with a 4.85 ERA before being recalled on July 18, the day that David Cone tossed a perfect game in Yankee Stadium...Javy was much better after returning to the majors, posting a 7-4 record and a 4.05 ERA in his final 15 starts...he won 4 straight starts from July 23-August 13...he recorded his first career complete game on July 23, a 5-1 win over the Pirates, retiring the first 14 batters he faced before an infield single halted the streak...he twirled his second straight complete game in an 8-2 win on July 28 over the Cubs, becoming the first Montreal hurler to go the distance in consecutive games since Pedro Martinez posted 3 straight from July 28-August 9, 1997...in what amounted to a paperwork move, Vazquez was optioned to Vermont (A) on August 30 to make room on the roster for Scott Strickland but was recalled on September 1 when rosters expanded...Javier tossed a complete game, 1-hitter on September 14 at Los Angeles, fanning 10 in the 3-0 win...the lone hit was a Mark Grudzielanek single to leadoff the fourth inning and Vazquez retired the last 17 batters he faced in order...it was the 22nd 1-hitter in franchise history, the first since Pedro Martinez on July 13, 1997, at Cincinnati. 1998—The youngest of the Expos' starting pitchers, he delivered a team-high 32 starts...among National League rookies, he had the most starts, ranked second with 139 K's, third with 172.1 innings and fifth with a .292 opponents batting average...he was named the Rookie-of-the-Camp by the local chapter of the BBWAA after posting a 1-2 record with a 4.70 ERA in 7 appearances (5 starts), during spring training in the Grapefruit League...he made his Major League debut on April 3 at Wrigley Field with his parents in attendance from Puerto Rico, dropping a 6-2 decision, allowing 3 runs on 6 hits over 5.0 innings...he posted his first big league triumph in his sixth start on May 1, a 7-4 decision over Arizona, working 6.2 frames with 3 earned runs allowed on 5 hits...he was mired in a month-long, 6-game losing streak from July 12-August 12, with the offense providing only 16 runs of support (2.3 runs/game) during those 7 outings...he was handed a 5-1 loss on July 17 vs. Pittsburgh and was ejected in the sixth inning after plunking Aramis Ramirez, an incident that resulted in 5-game suspensions for both players...he served his suspension from July 23-26...he halted a 7-game winless stretch (0-6) with his first career road victory on August 18 in a 7-1 win at Arizona, permitting a run on 3 hits over 7.0 innings...following the season, he played for Ponce in the Puerto Rican Winter League. 1997—Vazquez put his talents on display as an Expos farmhand and was selected the Montreal Player Development Player-of-the-Year...his efforts garnered Florida State League All-Star honors and were recognized by Baseball America, which ranked him as the third-best prospect in the Montreal system...he went a combined 10-3 with a 1.86 ERA in 25 starts for West Palm Beach (A) and Harrisburg (AA)...his 1.86 ERA paced all minor league hurlers while his .200 opponents batting average was fifth...after going 6-3 with a 2.16 ERA in 19 starts for West Palm Beach, he excelled with Harrisburg, posting a 4-0 record with a 1.07 ERA and permitting only 15 hits in 42.0 innings...an important part of the Senators' Eastern League championship run, Vazquez was 2-0 with a 1.72 ERA in 5 starts. 1996—Javier earned the Expos' Player Development Pitcher-of-the-Year honors after posting a 14-2 ledger with a 2.68 ERA in 27 starts for Delmarva (A)...his .824 winning percentage was tops on the circuit while his ERA was ninth in the South Atlantic League. 1995—Vazquez was 6-6 with a 5.08 ERA in 21 starts for Albany (A) and eclipsed the 100.0-inning plateau for the first time in his career...he fanned 87 batters in 10.2 innings pitched. 1994—In his professional debut with the Gulf Coast League Expos, Javier posted a 5-2 record with a 2.53 ERA in 15 games (11 starts)...he was 3-1 with a 1.09 ERA over his final 33.0 innings pitched, allowing 11 hits with 31 strikeouts.

PERSONAL

Javier Carlos Vazquez...he and his wife, Kamille, and children, Kamila (8/19/03) and Javier Josue (11/16/04), reside in his hometown of Ponce, Puerto Rico...Javier attended Colegio Ponceño where he played baseball and basketball...he was a member of the 2000 MLB All-Star tour of Japan with current Diamondback teammates Luis Gonzalez, Troy Glaus and Shawn Green, while Randy Johnson, who was dealt for Vazquez, was also on the journey.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a non-drafted free agent, November 6, 1998.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

One year after setting the National League rookie record for appearances, Oscar was limited to only 17 outings due to recurring elbow pain that eventually required surgery...soreness surfaced during spring training, when a tender right elbow limited him to only 3.0 innings of work, all coming during the final week of the exhibition slate...he was ready for Opening Day, tossing a scoreless frame against the Rockies, his first of a dozen outings in April, notching 15 strikeouts while issuing only 1 walk over 12.1 innings...he matched his career high with 4 strikeouts during 2.0 perfect frames of relief on April 22 at Milwaukee...he landed on the disabled list on May 10 with a right flexor strain...after resting the elbow, he began a throwing program and went on a rehabilitation assignment with Tucson (AAA) in mid-July...he made 6 appearances for the Sidewinders, going 0-2 with a 14.34 ERA, allowing 20 hits and 17 runs in 10.2 frames...with a noticeable drop in velocity during his rehab work, a magnetic resonance imaging exam was performed on August 6 and he wound up undergoing season-ending nerve transposition surgery...the procedure was performed in Phoenix by Diamondback team physicians Dr. Michael Lee and Dr. Don Sheridan...additionally, Villarreal had bone chips removed from the elbow.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—After earning a spot on the big league roster out of spring training, Oscar rewrote the record book by appearing in 86 games, establishing the National League rookie mark, shattering the previous record of 78 originally set by Montreal's Tim Lincecum in 1985 and matched by Houston's Ricky Stone in 2002...Villarreal finished second in the majors in appearances, 3 behind the Dodgers' Paul Quantrill...the 21-year old's 86 outings were the most ever by a pitcher from Mexico, surpassing Pittsburgh's Enrique Romo, who pitched in 84 games in 1979...Villarreal ranked third among all hurlers with 95.0 innings of relief and, including his lone start, finished with 98.0 innings pitched...he also led rookies with a 2.57 ERA, which was sixth among all hurlers with as many innings pitched...he not only set a club record for appearances, but also recorded 10 wins, breaking Gregg Olson's team mark for a reliever (in 1999) and matching Brandon Webb for the franchise record in victories by a rookie...among N.L. rookies, Villarreal was third in opponents' average (.222), tied for fourth in wins, ninth in strikeouts (80), and tenth in innings...he made his big league debut on March 31 vs. the Dodgers and recorded a strikeout on only one pitch, inheriting a two-strike count on Hideo Nomo after an injury to Bret Prinz and threw one strike to retire Nomo...Villarreal made his only big league start on April 8 in Dodger Stadium, hurling 3.0 innings, allowing 2 runs on 4 hits in a no decision, an eventual 5-3 Arizona loss...he recorded his first win on April 20 in St. Louis with 2.2 shutout innings of a 1-0 win after starter Miguel Batista was ejected following a brawl...he was struck on the left shin by a Frank Thomas line drive on June 5, then retired Magglio Ordonez and Brian Daubach before needing assistance to get into the clubhouse...Oscar continued as a "ball magnet" on June 23 when he was struck in the chest by a Craig Biggio line drive on June 23...he did not allow an earned run in July, totaling 15.1 innings...over a longer stretch, he allowed only 1 earned run in 26.0 innings for a 0.35 ERA spanning 26 games from June 30-August 15...he limited opponents to a .130 average (7-for-54) during July...he matched Mike Myers' club record for games pitched in a month with 18 in August...his September 8 appearance was his 78th of the year, tying Byung-Hyun Kim's franchise mark set in 2001, also matching the N.L. rookie record...Oscar broke both records when he picked up the win on September 10 vs. Los Angeles...he worked at least 2.0 innings in 19 outings...he stranded 31 of 45 (69%) inherited runners on the season...when facing the first batter in a relief outing, he recorded 22 strikeouts while holding opponents to a .228 average (18-for-79). 2002—Oscar opened the season with El Paso (AA) and finished the year by making 10 starts for Tucson (AAA)...he was chosen as the farm system's Pitcher-of-the-Month for April after going 4-0 with a 1.26 ERA over 6 starts...he was struck on the thumb of his pitching hand during his April 25 start vs. Shreveport but still tossed 7.0 scoreless frames of 3-hit ball...he tossed his first career complete game in his next start on April 30 vs. Arkansas, surrendering a run on 6 hits with 6 K's...back-to-back rough outings on May 6 & 11 totaled 13 runs in 10.2 innings and signaled something was wrong...Oscar was diagnosed with a fractured bone in his right thumb and was disabled from May 14-June 7...he made 6 more appearances (5 starts) for the Diablos before he was promoted to Tucson on July 11...Oscar pitched winter ball for Mexicali, going 7-2 with a save, 4.36 ERA and 56 K's in 14 games (11 starts)...his win total was tops on his club and tied for third in the league. 2001—Oscar spent the entire season at AA, finishing second on the staff with 27 starts, 140.2 innings and 108 strikeouts...he went 4-1 in his 6 starts during May with a 3.82 ERA...he fanned a season-high 10 batters at Wichita on June 27...he missed his final start of the season due to bone chips in his right elbow...after the season he returned to Mexico and played winterball for Mexicali, going 6-2 with a

Villarreal (Continued)

2.55 ERA in 14 starts. 2000—Oscar played at 4 levels, opening the year with a win in relief for Tucson (AAA) on May 6, tossing 2.2 scoreless innings with 4 K's...was 1-0, 1.66 ERA as a starter for South Bend (A) and 0-3, 9.82 in relief...he made one appearance for Tucson (R) and finished the season at High Desert (A), going 0-1 with a 4.76 ERA in 5 relief appearances before closing the year with 4 starts, going 0-1 with a 2.70 ERA. 1999—He made his pro debut on June 24 with Tucson in the rookie level Arizona League...he was second on the staff with 11 starts, 64.1 innings pitched and 51 K's.

PERSONAL

Oscar Eduardo Villarreal Montoya...he and his wife, Claudia, make their home in Nuevo Leon, MX, where he was a '98 graduate from Prepa High School No. 16...Oscar has spent a portion of each of the last two off-seasons working out at Bank One Ballpark.

Righthanded Pitcher

Ht: 6-2

Wt: 228

B/T: R/R

Age: 25 (Turns 26 on May 9)

Born: May 9, 1979 in Ashland, KY

Residence: Ashland, KY

M.L. Service: 1 year, 158 days

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as Arizona's eighth round selection in the 2000 First Year Player Draft.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Brandon's sophomore Major League season wasn't anywhere near as dismal as his final 7-16 ledger might indicate, as the sinkerballing righthander worked from the second slot in the starting rotation...20 of his career-high 35 starts were "quality" in nature, allowing 3 earned runs or less over 6.0 innings...on 5 occasions he left a contest with the lead, only to watch the opposition rebound later in the game...Brandon's 35 starts tied 5 others for the Major League lead, while his 16 setbacks were the most in the National League and tied with Seattle's Ryan Franklin for second in the majors behind the Royals' Darrell May (19)...Webb's loss total also established a club record, surpassing Willie Blair's 15 defeats during the franchise's inaugural season...control was an issue throughout the season, as he surrendered a team record 119 walks, topping the majors, while also leading the N.L. with a franchise-high 17 wild pitches, tied with Jose Contreras of the White Sox for the big league high...Brandon was 2-1 with a 2.10 ERA in April, but he struggled to an 0-4 mark and 6.55 ERA in his 6 starts during May...he had a shot at a win in May on the 19th, the day after Randy Johnson's perfect game, tossing 7.0 shutout innings and departing with a 4-0 lead, but the Braves sent the game to extra innings with Arizona eventually prevailing, 6-4 in 11...he followed that performance by giving up 7 runs in consecutive road starts at Florida on May 24 and at Los Angeles on May 29...Webb went 1-10 with a 4.47 ERA over 15 starts from May 8-July 21, despite permitting 3 earned runs or less in 10 of those outings...Brandon allowed 2 earned runs or less in 6 straight starting assignments from June 3-30, but was only 1-3 for his efforts while holding the opposition homerless over 37.0 innings...he went the distance on June 25 in Detroit, but dropped a decision...it was his second career complete game with both occurring in the Motor City, the other nearly a year earlier on June 28, 2003...he snapped a career-worst 6-game losing streak with a 4-1 victory in Houston on July 26, pitching at least 7.0 frames for the third straight start and holding the Astros to a run on 6 hits with 5 K's and 4 walks...Brandon enjoyed a 4-start stretch from August 16-September 1 in which he was 2-0 with a 1.07 ERA, allowing 3 earned runs in 25.1 innings while holding opponents to a .206 average (20-for-97)...from June 3-September 1, Webb made 18 starts and compiled a solid 3.02 ERA, but went just 4-9...he closed the year by giving up 3 earned runs or less in each of his final 5 starts...he had his shortest Major League starting assignment on September 17 in St. Louis, when plate umpire Jerry Layne made the judgment that Webb threw at opposing hurler Woody Williams and ejected him with none out in the third inning...Brandon had just surrendered a home run to Mike Matheny, then hit his counterpart with the next pitch...it was the first ejection of Webb's big league career...despite the 7-16 record, Brandon's 3.59 ERA was 20th among the 86 big league hurlers who had enough innings to qualify for league recognition...he ranked 15th among the National League's 45 qualifiers...Brandon's sinker proved effective as he led all starters with a 3.55 groundball-to-flyball ratio, easily outdistancing Boston's Derek Lowe (2.87), the only starting pitcher Webb trailed in that category during 2003.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Brandon's year began in Tucson but wound up with him being named by Baseball America as the Major League Rookie of the Year, going 10-9 with a 2.84 ERA...his ERA was fourth best in the National League and sixth in the majors, while his 172 strikeouts easily led all rookies and placed him tenth in the N.L. as he finished seventh in the big leagues with 8.6 K's per 9-innings...he limited opponents to a .212 average (140-for-659), good for third in the N.L....he made 28 starts and led all rookies with 21 "quality starts", including 16 in which he worked 6.0 innings and allowed 2 or fewer earned runs...Brandon proved he could pitch well in hostile environments as evidenced by a 2.27 road ERA, fourth in the majors and third in the N.L....he set team rookie marks in K's, starts (28) and innings pitched (180.2), and his 10 victories tied Oscar Villarreal for a franchise rookie mark...his first big league recall came on April 22 and he debuted that night with a scoreless frame of relief in Montreal...he made his first Major League start 5 days later with a 6-1 win in the first game of an April 27 doubleheader at Shea Stadium, tossing 7.0 shutout innings, allowing only 3 hits and a walk while recording 10 K's...his 10-K performance started an afternoon that saw the Diamondbacks set a Major League record for most K's in a doubleheader, as 27 Mets fanned during the day...within minutes of securing the win, Brandon was optioned back to AAA to make room on the roster for Randy Johnson who was coming off the disabled list to start the nightcap of the twinbill...in a strange twist of fate, following Johnson's 12-strikeout performance that resulted in a 7-3 win, he once again experienced swelling in his right knee and required arthroscopic surgery which necessitated Webb's second recall...Brandon's Big Apple outing started a streak of 13 consecutive quality starts to begin his career, the longest streak in the majors since Montreal's

Steve Rogers had 16 in a row in 1973...Webb became the first D'Back rookie to toss a complete game shutout when he blanked Detroit, 7-0, at Comerica Park on June 28, allowing 7 hits...he recorded his first post-break victory on August 19 at home over Cincy, snapping a 6-start drought as he allowed just a run and 4 hits in 7.0 innings with a career-high 11 strikeouts in a 6-1 win...a lack of run support hindered Brandon as he won only once in a 9-start stretch from July 19-August 31, going 1-4 with a solid 2.85 ERA, allowing 17 earned runs in 53.2 innings while recording 71 K's in that span, an 11.9 strikeout per 9-inning ratio...he limited the opposition to 3 runs or less in all 9 of those assignments, unfortunately the offense came up with just 17 runs...Webb equaled his career high with 11 K's against the Giants in a 3-1 loss on August 31...on the year, he recorded 542 major league outs, only 55 of which were caught by an outfielder (10%). 2002—Brandon got off to a fast start at El Paso (AA) and solidified his role in the starting rotation, even earning a chance to make his AAA debut with Tucson...he ranked fourth in the Texas League in ERA (3.14) and strikeouts (122), fifth in strikeouts per 9.0-innings pitched for starters (7.50) and tied for fifth with 152.0 innings pitched...he was one of 8 Diablos named to the Texas League All-Star Game on June 17, pitching 2.0 shutout innings, allowing 2 hits and recording 2 K's...Brandon made his AAA debut on July 4 at New Orleans as the replacement starter for Erik Sabel, who was summoned to the big league club...arriving an hour and a half before game time because of travel delays, he absorbed the loss after working 7.0 innings, allowing 3 runs on 5 hits...he returned to El Paso and closed out his season...he was 2-0 with a 0.55 ERA (1 ER in 16.1 IP) and 17 strikeouts, in 8 games (1 start) for Scottsdale of the Arizona Fall League. 2001—He owned the California League's 10th best ERA (3.99) and finished fourth in innings (162.1) and strikeouts (158)...he plunked a league-high 27 batters...Brandon owned a 5.88 ERA through May, but posted a 3.10 ERA (38 earned runs in 110.1 innings) over his final 18 starts from June 2-September 2...he recorded the first double-digit strikeout total of his career as he struck out a career-high 14 batters and combined on a 2-hit shutout at Modesto on August 2. 2000—He held Midwest League opponents to a .172 batting average...he was disabled the final month of the season with right arm soreness.

PERSONAL

Brandon Tyler Webb...Brandon and his wife, Alicia, make their home in Ashland, Kentucky...he was a 1997 graduate of Ashland High School, then played his collegiate baseball in Lexington at the University of Kentucky, where he teamed with infielder Andy Green, who was the all-time hits leader at UK and spent a portion of the '04 season with the Diamondbacks.

HOW OBTAINED

Selected in the fourth round of the 2001 First-Year Player Draft.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

In his first full season as a reliever, Justin was an all-star closer for the Lancaster JetHawks (A)...despite not moving into the ninth-inning role full-time until June, his 18 rescues ranked fifth in the league and were tied for second in the entire organization...he was dominant in road games, picking up 14 of his 18 saves away from home while owning a 1.41 ERA and limiting opponents to a .152 batting average...on the year, the opposition batted only .207 against him...Justin went 2-0 with a 0.87 ERA during May, including a 5-strikeout performance on May 13...he closed the month by recording his first professional rescue with a 1-2-3 ninth inning at Lake Elsinore on May 31...he equaled his season-high with 5 K's at Bakersfield on June 18...when teammates Jason Bulger and Clint Goocher were promoted to El Paso three days later, Wechsler inherited the closer's duties and was tabbed as a replacement on the California League All-Star team...Justin closed out victories in his first 3 tries as the go-to guy...he owned a career-best 4-decision win streak from May 8-July 9...his best stretch covered 10 appearances from July 16-August 5, picking up 7 saves over 12.1 scoreless innings...opponents batted only .119 (5-for-42) against him in those outings...he earned the league's Rolaids Relief Award for August after notching 9 saves in 16 trips to the mound...he thrived on the pressure of post-season play, going 1-0 with 3 saves and a 1.13 ERA in 5 playoff appearances...he was selected to participate in the Arizona Fall League, going 1-0 for Scottsdale with a 1.23 ERA in 6 trips to the hill as a member of the team's taxi squad.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Justin finished second on Lancaster's staff in wins (9), starts (21) and strikeouts (88) but struggled with his control, issuing a league-high 64 walks...he worked 6 times out of the pen before moving into the starting rotation at the end of April...he fanned a career-high 8 batters on May 30, capping a 3-game win streak...he landed on the disabled list from July 19-August 2 with a right shoulder strain. 2002—He was superb during a 4-start stretch from May 27-June 12, going 2-0 with a 0.68 ERA...Justin visited the disabled list from July 9-16 due to a blister on the index finger of his pitching hand. 2001—He posted a 2-2 mark and a 1.86 ERA (6 earned runs in 29.0 innings) over his 8 starts from July 7-Aug. 28...he took the loss in his only playoff start, allowing 3 runs in 4.0 innings at Billings on Sept. 4.

PERSONAL

Justin M. Wechsler...he resides in Pendleton, IN, where he graduated from Pendleton Heights High School in 1998...he then attended Ball State where he was the Freshman of the Year in the Mid-American Conference, going 10-3 with a 3.39 ERA...he was also named to the 1999 Louisville Slugger Freshmen All-American team, joining fellow Diamondback Lance Cormier, from the University of Alabama, and the Texas Rangers' Mark Teixeira, who was a freshman at Georgia Tech.

HOW OBTAINED

Selected in the 36th round of the 2001 First-Year Player Draft...signed on May 10, 2002.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Marland made the jump to AA and continued his streak of ranking at the top of the organizational chart in steals, this time recording 49 base thefts for the El Paso Diablos...after tying for the top spot in 2002, he paced the organization in both 2003 and 2004...he led the Texas League with 10 triples while finishing second in steals and tied for eighth in runs scored...with 21 doubles, 10 triples and 8 home runs, he surpassed his figures in each category from his first two pro seasons...Marland put together a 13-game hit streak from April 23-May 7, batting .407 (22-for-54) over that span...he then picked up at least one hit in 13 consecutive starts from May 28-June 11...the only blemish over that span was a 0-for-1 line as a pinch hitter on June 2 vs. Round Rock...he was named to the Texas League All-Star Game and was selected as The Sports Network Star-of-the-Game with a 2-for-3 performance including a home run and a stolen base in the June 20 contest played in Midland...he equaled his career-best with a 4-hit performance versus Round Rock on July 13...Marland homered in back-to-back games on August 2 vs. San Antonio and August 5 at Midland...he recorded a total of 8 multi-theft games on the year, raising his career total to 33...he matched his career high with a 4-steal performance on September 2 vs. Midland.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Marland led the organization, ranked second in the California League and tied for 11th among all minor leaguers with 57 steals for Lancaster (A)...he posted a career-best 20-game hit streak from July 23-August 14, batting .352 (32-for-91) over that span...he had 12 multi-theft games on the season and was successful on 25 of 26 attempts from May 11-July 31...a sprained left wrist landed him on the D.L. from June 21-July 3...during the off-season he was selected by Baseball America as one of the top 30 prospects in the organization. 2002—Williams paced the Northwest League and tied for the organizational lead with 51 stolen bases for Yakima (A)...he also tied for the league lead with 8 triples while tying for third with 46 runs scored...he had 13 multi-theft games and was successful on 28 of 29 steal attempts from July 11-August 24...he put together a 13-game hitting streak (.350, 21-for-60) from June 22-July 5...swiped 4 bases on July 22 vs. Vancouver.

PERSONAL

Marland Charmale Williams...he is single and resides in Williston, FL, where he graduated from Williston High School in 2000...he finished third at the 2000 Florida High School Activities Association's weightlifting finals (169 lb. weight class)...he was drafted by Kansas City in the 37th round of the 2000 First Year draft, but chose not to sign...he then attended North Florida Community College in Madison, FL, for two years.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Craig had a roller coaster first season at Tucson (AAA) that included a stellar 3-month stretch from May-July and earned him mid-season Triple-A All-Star honors...he paced the Sidewinders with 19 home runs while ranking second with 58 RBI...from May-July, he batted .307 (62-for-202) with 17 doubles, 11 homers and 40 RBI in 62 games...he reached base safely via a hit or walk in 14 straight contests from May 2-26, batting .354 (17-for-48) with 12 runs scored, 3 doubles, 5 homers and 16 RBI...he batted .381 (8-for-21) with 2 doubles, 2 roundtrippers and 12 RBI during a 6-game hit streak from May 7-17...he posted his first multi-homer affair on May 4 at Las Vegas...he collected 9 RBI over a 2-game stretch with 4 RBI on May 14 against Oklahoma and a season-high 5 RBI on May 15 vs. New Orleans...he was named the Pacific Coast League Player-of-the-Week for May 10-16 after hitting .455 (5-for-11) with a double, 2 homers and 10 RBI in 3 games...he started another on-base streak on May 30, reaching base safely via a hit or walk over 18 games through June 23 while compiling a .393 batting average (22-for-56) with 15 runs, 6 doubles, a triple, 4 home runs and 15 RBI...he concluded that stretch with a season-best 7-game hitting streak from June 16-23 during which he batted .423 (11-for-26)...he scored at least 1 run in 9 consecutive contests (10 runs) from June 13-23...he had a season-high 4 hits on July 2 at Sacramento...named the starting backstop for the PCL squad at the Triple-A All-Star Game, he went 1-for-2 in the contest on July 14 at McCoy Stadium in Pawtucket, RI...he struggled in his final 40 affairs following the Triple-A All-Star break, hitting only .201 (29-for-144) with 20 runs scored, 3 doubles, 10 home runs and 23 RBI...he had his second multi-homer game and drove in 4 RBI on September 1 at Salt Lake.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Craig was having a solid season for El Paso (AA) when a lower back strain ended his season in late-June...at the time of the injury, he was leading the Texas League in both slugging (.624) and on-base (.421) percentages, while ranking third in both home runs (15) and average (.324)...despite missing half of the season, Ansman finished the year leading the Diablos in home runs...his top performance was on April 26 at Arkansas when he reached base in all 6 plate appearances including 2 doubles, a home run and career-high 5 RBI...Craig posted a .376 batting average with 7 home runs and 24 RBI on his way to earning the organization's Player-of-the-Month honors for May...he matched his career-high with 4 hits on May 17 at San Antonio, including a pair of home runs for his second career multi-homer contest...he was the only Diablo position player selected to participate in the Texas League All-Star Game, going 1-for-3 as the starting catcher for the West All-Stars and delivered the game's only home run...he landed on the disabled list on June 25 with a low back strain and missed the remainder of the season...he wrapped up the year with a .362 average against lefthanded pitchers and a .310 mark vs. righties. 2002—Craig continued to make a name for himself around baseball circles with the selection by SportsTicker as one of the top prospects in the California League (A) and tabbed by Baseball America as the league's best defensive catcher...he was the starting catcher on the Cal League All-Star team and had one of his club's 2 hits in the mid-summer contest against the Carolina League...he finished third in the league in slugging pct. (.543) and seventh in hitting (.305)...in addition to swinging a hot bat, Craig also had a solid season in the field as he finished in a virtual tie for the top fielding percentage by a Cal League catcher (.991), finishing less than .0001 behind the leader...he matched his career best with 21 home runs between Lancaster and El Paso...he was named the Cal League's Player-of-the-Week for April 22-28 and again from July 15-21...he went 4-for-6 vs. San Bernardino with 2 doubles, a triple, 3 RBI and 5 runs scored to ignite a 13-game hitting streak...he was promoted to El Paso on July 30. 2001—Craig paced the Midwest League (A) in slugging (.623) and finished fifth in batting (.330) and on-base percentage (.402)...he led his team in doubles (30) and home runs (21)...he missed the season's first week with a strained right hamstring...he collected 4 doubles vs. Fort Wayne on April 23...he batted .500 (31-for-62) with 12 doubles during a 17-game hitting streak from August 3-22...during the middle of the streak, Ansman homered in 4 consecutive games from August 11-14...he threw out 41.6% (37-of-89) would-be basestealers, second in the league...he hit .353 with 2 home runs during the Texas League playoffs. 2000—Signed as a non-drafted free agent following the draft, Ansman threw out a Pioneer League-best 42.1% (8-of-19) of would-be base stealers.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a minor league free agent, October 19, 2004..

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Signed as an insurance policy in the winter, Juan saw significant big league playing time over the last 4 months of the season due to the plethora of injuries that hit Arizona's receiving corps...he had just 9 big league games on his resume prior to last year (2002 with Kansas City), but wound up in 54 games for the Diamondbacks...he was summoned from Tucson (AAA) on June 9 when Brent Mayne went down with back spasms...Juan was immediately thrust into the starting lineup, appearing in 6 of Arizona's 8 games after his arrival...he recorded his first career 3-hit game on June 17, highlighted by his first big league home run, a seventh inning shot off of the Yankees' Jon Lieber to stake Arizona to a 2-1 lead en route to a 6-1 triumph...Brito scuffled through an extended stretch in which he batted just .145 (17-for-117) while his playing time diminished...he finished the campaign considerably better at the plate, batting .343 (12-for-35) over his final 11 games, finishing with a career-best 6-game hitting streak in which he hit .400 (8-for-20)...he helped stake Arizona to a season-ending 4-1 win at home over the Padres with a fourth inning solo homer off of David Wells...Juan started his time as a D'Back by nabbing 8 of the first 14 would-be base thieves (57%), but a 3-for-32 drought saw his final numbers finish at 11-for-46 (24%).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Juan's year began with a 6-week stint on the disabled list due to a fractured hamate bone in his left hand, finally getting his year going with Omaha (AAA) on May 15...his best offensive output came in June, as he hit .281 with both of his home runs...Brito played errorless ball in his 36 games behind the plate and threw out 31% of would-be basestealers (10-of-32)...he excelled against lefthanded pitchers hitting .393 (11-for-28)...the injury bug bit again in the second half of the season as he was sidelined from July 21-August 16 with a left hamstring strain. 2002—Juan began the season with Wichita (AA) and was promoted to Omaha on April 28...he played in only 3 games before his contract was purchased by Kansas City on May 1...he made his Major League debut two days later at Baltimore and went 1-for-3, recording his first big league hit off Scott Erickson in the fifth inning...overall, Brito batted .304 in 9 games for the Royals, going 7-for-23 with 2 doubles and an RBI...he was optioned back to Wichita on May 28 and immediately assembled a 10-game hitting streak from July 16-25 in which he hit .441 (15-for-34). 2001—Juan had a season-best 4 RBI with a grand slam on July 8...his next home run came on August 4 at Tulsa and was one of 8 roundtrippers hit by the Wranglers in the 18-3 rout...he made his only career appearance in the outfield in the season finale on September 2 vs. Tulsa. 2000—He began the year with Wichita and was transferred to Wilmington (A) in mid-June...he jumped to AAA in July and smacked his lone home run of the season on July 27 with Omaha...it was his first home run since the 1997 campaign, his first season as a pro. 1999—Juan played for 4 different clubs at 3 different levels during the season...he opened the season with Wilmington, batting .283 in 14 games...transferred to Charleston (WV) of the South Atlantic League where he played the majority of the remainder of the year, with the exception of brief stints with Wichita (AA) and Omaha (AAA)...he made his only career appearance at first base on September 2 for Wilmington.

PERSONAL

Juan Ramon Brito...he was a 1996 graduate of Liceo Juan Pablo Duarte High School in the Dominican Republic...Juan spent the winter playing for the Cibao Gigantes in the Dominican Winter League...his brother, Jorge, was a catcher in the Colorado Rockies' organization in 1995-96.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a sandwich selection between the first and second rounds of the 1999 First Year Player Draft.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Casey had a solid exhibition season and earned a spot on the Opening Day roster, bypassing any AAA experience at the time...his first big league start came against the Cardinals on April 9, less than a week after his 23rd birthday...it was a rough initiation into the majors, lasting only 2.2 innings allowing 10 hits and 8 runs in a 13-6 setback, with a club record 5 home runs...he was only the sixth hurler to make his Major League debut as an Arizona starter, the first since Edgar Gonzalez came up on very short notice last June 1 to start and win in San Diego, a 10-4 decision...after a trio of no decisions, Casey evened his record with his first Major League win, allowing 4 hits over 5.1 scoreless innings of a 2-0 victory over the Cubs in Wrigley Field...he recorded his second big league triumph 5 days later in Shea Stadium, defeating the Mets 10-8, surrendering a season-high 12 hits leading to 7 runs (6 earned) over 5.0 innings...he was 0-2 with a 6.75 ERA over his next 4 starts and was optioned to Tucson (AAA) on June 1...his struggles continued upon returning to the minors...in his first exposure to AAA, Casey was 4-9 with a 6.88 ERA in 18 outings (15 starts)...he was only 1-9 over his first 14 showings for Tucson, then went 3-0 over his last 4 starts, posting a 5.47 ERA in those efforts.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003— Casey recorded a league-high 176.1 innings in his first full season with El Paso (AA), working 6.0 or more innings in 20 of his 27 starts...he posted a 5.50 ERA (53 earned runs in 86.2 innings) in his first 14 games but rebounded with a 3.71 ERA (37 earned runs in 89.2 innings) over his final 15 outings...hitless in 9 career plate appearances, he took the offensive on April 9 at Round Rock, going 2-for-2 with his first career home run...he went the distance in an 11-1 victory over Round Rock on June 19 and contributed a pair of hits at the plate en route to earning the league's Pitcher-of-the-Week honors for June 16-22...Casey was brilliant over a 6-game stretch from July 10-August 6, going 2-0 with a 1.24 ERA, allowing 6 earned runs in 43.2 frames...he was once again named the circuit's Pitcher-of-the-Week for July 14-20, allowing 2 runs in 8.0 innings on July 15 against Tulsa followed by 8.0 shutout innings vs. Wichita on July 20. 2002— Casey made 28 starts, tied for most in the farm system...he struck out a career-best 10 batters in a loss at Lake Elsinore on May 28...he was 2-2 with a 1.69 ERA in 4 July starts, earning a promotion to El Paso...Daigle did not allow more than 2 runs in any of his first 4 starts following his promotion...he finished the season with a 4-hit complete game victory at Arkansas. 2001— Daigle led the Midwest League (A) in innings pitched (164.0) and tied for fourth in starts (27)...he went 3-0 with a 0.95 ERA over a 3-start stretch from April 18-May 3...in the final game of the streak, he retired the final 12 batters of a 3-hit complete game on April 28 vs. Lansing...he fell into a 1-5 slide with a 6.83 ERA in 10 starts from June 12-July 31 but righted himself by finishing the season 3-1 with a 3.71 ERA in his last 6 starts...he allowed 1 earned run or less in 4 of those final 6 starts. 2000— Casey led the Pioneer League (R) in walks allowed (54) and tied for second with 15 starts...he recorded his first professional victory on July 3 at Medicine Hat.

PERSONAL

Sean Casey (Casey) Daigle...he and his wife, the former Jennie Finch, were married on January 15...she was an All-American softball pitcher from the University of Arizona and was a member of last summer's Olympic Gold Medal winning team in Athens...Jennie also covers Major League Baseball for This Week in Baseball, and will pitch this summer for the Chicago entry of the new professional softball league...Casey and Jennie make their home in Tucson...he was a 1999 graduate of Sulphur (LA) High School, the same high school of Atlanta pitcher John Thomson...Casey was Arizona's sandwich pick between the first and second rounds of the 1999 First Year Player Draft.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a 12th round selection in the 1999 First Year Player Draft.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Doug spent spring training on the minor league side of the street, but the litany of injuries that hit the D'Backs in '04 gave him several opportunities to gain valuable major league experience...his first of 4 trips to the majors was on April 29, taking Richie Sexson's spot on the roster after the first baseman suffered his initial shoulder injury...DeVore went 2-for-14 in limited action, featuring his first big league hit, a pinch single on May 9 off the Phillies' Brett Myers...Doug returned to the minors on May 21 when Sexson was activated from the D.L., but was summoned back to the big league club less than 24 hours later after Sexson reinjured his shoulder...Doug caught a cross-country flight to Colorado Springs, where Tucson was playing, then immediately returned to Florida to rejoin the big league club...DeVore saw a little more playing time during this month-long stint with the D'Backs, going 6-for-33 over 16 games which included 6 starts...in that stretch, he hit the first home run of his Major League career, a solo shot off of San Francisco southpaw Wayne Franklin on June 3 in Bank One Ballpark...Doug was designated for assignment on June 21 and eventually returned to Tucson, staying there until August 5, when his contract was purchased after Roberto Alomar was traded...DeVore appeared in 6 games during this stretch, then was optioned back to Tucson on August 22 in make room for infielder Jerry Gil...Doug's fourth trip to the majors began on September 4 after the AAA season was complete and he enjoyed his best offensive success during the final month...he staked the Diamondbacks and Randy Johnson to a 2-1 win over the Giants on September 10, hitting a 2-run homer in the seventh inning off of Jim Brower...Doug closed the year hitting safely in his last 7 starts at a .370 clip (10-for-27).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Doug's season got off to a slow start, batting .205 in April, then proceeded to hit a combined .313 (117-for-374) over the remainder of the season...he hit .309 against righthanded pitchers and .226 against southpaws...he hit .537 (22-for-41) while hitting safely in 12 of 13 contests from May 1-17...he fashioned a 10-game hit streak from June 20-July 1, batting .400 (14-for-35) during the stretch...Doug posted consecutive 4-RBI games on July 3 vs. Sacramento and July 4 at Fresno...Doug was selected as the PCL's Batter-of-the-Week for August 18-24 after batting .480 (12-for-25) with 3 home runs and 7 RBI...he drove home a season-best 5 RBI on August 31 vs. Fresno. 2002—Doug first year of AAA action, he ranked second on the Sidewinders in games (125), at-bats (436) and triples (6), third in hits (114), doubles (20) and RBI (59), tied for third in homers (14) and fourth with 58 runs...after the season, Doug stroked 5 home runs and drove in 13 runs over 32 contests for Cibao in the Dominican Winter League. 2001—He had his first taste of AA action with El Paso, hitting .294 with a league-leading 11 triples while recording 32 doubles and 74 RBI...Doug hit safely in 13 straight games from July 14-26, batting .386 (22-for-57)...he batted .237 (9-for-38) with a double, 4 RBI in 13 games for the Scottsdale Scorpions of the Arizona Fall League. 2000—He had 14 outfield assists, tied for fifth in the league...he led the team in doubles and was second in hits, home runs and RBI...he hit .388 (26-for-67) over 20 games from April 19-May 14...he hit safely in 17 straight from July 15-31, batting .380 (27-for-71) with 6 doubles, 5 home runs and 18 RBI...he belted 2 homers (3-for-5, 4 RBI) vs. Dayton on August 8. 1999—He homered in his pro debut at Great Falls on June 16.

PERSONAL

Douglas Rinehart (Doug) DeVore...1996 graduate of Coffman High School in Dublin, OH...he then attended the University of Indiana, graduating as a Hoosier in May, 2000...he has spent the last couple of off-seasons working out with several teammates in Bank One Ballpark.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a free agent, January 19, 2005.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Signing as a free agent with the Indians prior to spring training, Jose made only 4 appearances in April before landing on the D.L. due to a thoracic muscle strain...he made 2 rehab outings with Buffalo (AAA), working 3.0 shutout frames with 3 strikeouts, then returned to action on May 7 with 2.0 scoreless innings at Baltimore...after posting an 8.20 ERA through the end of May, Jimenez notched 6 saves in 9 outings from June 1-20, including rescues in 4 consecutive outings from June 12-20...over that span he allowed 5 runs over 10.0 innings for a 4.50 ERA...he matched a pair of career-bests on July 5 against Texas, working 4.0 relief innings for the fourth time in his career and fanning 4 for the second time...Jose was designated for assignment the following day, and after clearing waivers, was assigned to Buffalo, but he did not make another appearance on the season...after the passing of his grandmother, Jose left the club to attend the funeral in the Dominican Republic...upon returning to the U.S., he experienced some shoulder tightness and was shut down.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Jose spent his fourth and final season in Colorado where he left as the franchise's all-time saves leader with 102, 42 more than Bruce Ruffin's previous team mark...once again, Jimenez led the club in saves but by working as a starter for the first time in almost 4 years...he converted 20 of 23 (87%) save opportunities, becoming the first Rockie to record 20 or more saves in 3 different seasons...Jose was 1-6 with a 5.81 ERA in relief, while going 1-4 with a 4.31 mark as a starter (19 earned runs in 39.2 innings)...he saved all 3 games in a series vs. the Mets from May 13-15, the third time in his career that Jimenez saved 3 straight games...those rescues wrapped up a streak of 12 consecutive save conversions from April 26-May 15...he was 16-of-17 in save opps through June 15...he picked up the victory on August 8 vs. Pittsburgh, his first win since June 22, 2002, snapping a club-record 12-game losing streak...Jimenez started on August 21 vs. Florida for his first start in nearly 4 years dating back to September 29, 1999 vs. San Diego, appearing in 258 straight games out of the pen, posting 102 saves between starts...he posted an 8-2 victory at Arizona on September 12, his first win as a starter since tossing a 2-hit shutout against Arizona on July 5, 1999, snapping an 0-7 drought (16 starts)...Jimenez and the Rockies were shutout 6-0 by the Astros on September 18 at Coors, the first time in 361 games and 1,535 days (July 4, 1999) that the Rox had been blanked at home, the longest home scoring streak in Major League history. 2002—Jose set a Rockies' club record with 41 saves in 47 opportunities, shattering the previous mark of 31 set by Dave Veres in 1999...the 41 saves doubled Jimenez' career total entering the season, making him the franchise's all-time leader with 82...he appeared in a career-high 74 games, posting a staff-best 3.56 ERA...his 10 losses established a club record for a reliever and were the most by any big league reliever in 2002...Jose led N.L. relievers with 69 games finished while ranking sixth in saves and seventh in save percentage (.872)...he did not find pitching at Coors Field a daunting task, posting a team-leading 2.90 ERA (13 earned runs in 40.1 innings) in home games with 23 saves...he began the season by converting his first 15 save opportunities from April 3-June 1...dating back to 2001, Jose converted 17 straight save chances, breaking the franchise record of 16 held by Darren Holmes (1993)...Jose saved all 3 wins in the Phillies series April 26-28...he notched his 50th career rescue on May 12 at Shea Stadium...he did not walk a batter in 22 appearances from May 7-June 23...on June 24 at Dodger Stadium, Jose became the Rockies all-time franchise leader in career saves with 61, passing Bruce Ruffin...Jose broke the single-season franchise record with his 32nd save on August 13 at Florida. 2001—Jimenez pitched in 56 games, recording 17 saves despite a pair of stints on the D.L. for inflammation in his right shoulder...he also converted 17 of 22 save opportunities and finished 49 games, tenth-best in the N.L.... he was placed on the 15-day D.L. on July 8 with right shoulder inflammation...he was reinstated on July 23 but landed on the shelf again a month later. 2000—In his first full season in the big leagues, he recorded the first 24 saves of his Major League career, tying for 10th in the N.L....Jose earned his first big league save on April 4 at Atlanta...he had a career-long 5-game winning streak from April 8-August 5...his first loss didn't come until August 7 vs. Pittsburgh, in his 46th outing. 1999—He put his name into the record books on June 25 at Arizona when he became only the 23rd rookie to toss a no-hitter...he faced one batter over the minimum and fanned 8 in a 1-0 shutout over Randy Johnson (who allowed only 5 hits and fanned 14 in a complete game loss)...Jose followed by turning in another outstanding effort against the D'Backs, this time on July 5 at Busch Stadium, a 2-hit shutout, fanning a career-best 9 and again defeating Johnson, 1-0...on August 17, the Cardinals optioned him to Memphis (AAA) for a 3-week stay...on November 16, Jose was dealt by St. Louis with Brent Butler, Manny Aybar and Rick Croushore to the Rockies in exchange for Darryl Kile, Dave Veres and Luther Hackman. 1998—Jose was the Texas League Pitcher-of-the-Year, going 15-6 with a 3.11 ERA for Arkansas, winning the league's ERA title and pacing the circuit in both wins and innings pitched (179.2)...he was also tabbed a Texas League All-Star and a Baseball America AA All-Star...he tossed a no-hitter at Shreveport on August 27, with 4 walks and 7 K's in the 6-0 triumph...Jose got his first taste of the big leagues following a September 8 recall...the rightlander won all 3 of his starts and pitched once in relief for the Cardinals...he made his big-league debut on September 9 at Cincinnati and tossed 3.0 scoreless frames of relief...he made his first Major League start 5 days later against Pittsburgh, giving up a run and 4 hits in 7.0 innings to earn his first big-league victory. 1997—He made 24 starts for Prince William (A), going 9-7 with a 3.09 ERA, which ranked fourth in the Carolina League. 1996—He spent the entire year at Peoria (A), and posted a 12-9 record with an accompanying 2.92 ERA, which was the fourth-best in the Midwest League. 1995—In his first season of ball in the U.S., he led the Appalachian League in innings (90.1) for Johnson City (A)...he fanned 16 batters in an 8-1 win over Huntington on August 11. 1994—He pitched for the Cardinals' entry in the Dominican Summer League posting a 2.77 ERA.

Signed as a minor league free agent, December 7, 2004.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Quinton came full circle back to Arizona via stints with the Seattle Mariners and the Tucson Sidewinders (AAA)...traded to the Mariners on December 15, 2003, McCracken split duties in Seattle as an outfielder and pinch runner...he was hitting .150 (3-for-20) through 20 games when the Mariners released him on June 7...he inked a minor league deal with the Sidewinders on June 11...he had a 12-game hitting streak in June, batting .365 (19-for-52), featuring back-to-back 3 hit efforts on June 23-24 against Edmonton...he was purchased from Tucson on June 30, replacing Greg Colbrunn, for whom he was traded during the off-season, and that night celebrated his return to the Valley with an eighth inning pinch-hit 2-run homer to aid an 8-5 win over the Padres...it was Q's first career pinch-hit homer, coming in his 149th career pinch-at-bat...he began starting in late-July and hit .315 (35-for-111) while hitting safely in 22 of 29 games (July 29-August 31)...McCracken had a leadoff homer on August 7 vs. Atlanta...he collected his 600th career hit with an RBI single on August 18 against the Pirates...he had a season-high 7-game hitting streak from August 23-31, batting .323 (10-for-31)...he hit leadoff in 27 games from July 29-September 1...Quinton fanned in his lone at-bat on September 1 against the Dodgers and departed the game after the first inning with a small meniscus tear in his right knee...following 15 days of rest, he was deemed available for pinch-hitting duties and went 1-for-5 with 2 walks...all told, he batted .313 (5-for-16) with a home run and 3 RBI as a pinch hitter...McCracken excelled in the clutch with 5 of his 13 RBI coming in the seventh inning or later, while in his career as a Diamondback, 37 of 71 RBI have come in the seventh inning or beyond.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Similar to his success in 2002, most of his RBI came in key situations, knocking in 13 from the seventh inning on...overall, he was 12-for-54 (.222) with 3 RBI as a pinch hitter, while batting .226 (31-for-137) with 13 RBI as a starter...he picked up his 200th career RBI on May 3 against Atlanta, plating the go-ahead run on a single in a 7-6 win...he picked up his 100th career double on June 11 in Kansas City...he plated the go-ahead run with a single off of the Astros' Billy Wagner in the ninth inning of a 2-1 win on June 18 at Houston, kicking off a club record 12-game winning streak...his best stretch was from July 3-23, when he hit safely in 13 of 17 games at a .362 clip (17-for-47), including 11 starts...he had a game-winning 2-run single in the 10th inning on July 4 in Los Angeles...he batted .421 (8-for-19) in the last homestand before the All-Star break, including a 5-game hitting streak (.500, 7-for-14) from July 7-11. 2002—Quinton had a team leading and career-high 8 triples while finishing with a .309 average, the first .300+ season of his big league career...his first work as a starter was during a mid-April visit to Colorado vs. the organization that originally drafted him in 1992 and "Q" was huge in Arizona's first of a pair of 4-game sweeps over the Rockies...he doubled and tripled in the April 13 win, then tacked on 3 hits and scored 3 times the following afternoon, featuring a game-tying homer in the fifth inning...he haunted his old club all season, batting .444 (20-for-45) in 13 games against the Rockies with 13 runs and 32 total bases for a .711 slugging pct...he hit in 16 of the 18 games he played during June, batting .403 (29-for-72)...included was an 11-game hitting streak from June 15-29, batting .447 (21-for-47)...within the hitting streak was an 8-game stretch in which he had 18 hits in 34 at bats (.529)...he had a 2-run triple off of L.A. closer Eric Gagne in the eighth inning on July 3, capping a 3-run rally as Arizona won a 5-3 decision...just 8 days later he provided the margin of victory over L.A. again, delivering a 2-out, run scoring double in the eighth inning to snap a 3-3 tie and give the D'Backs the first of 3 straight wins in Dodger Stadium...Q's late-inning heroics continued later in July, drilling a 2-run double in the eighth against Colorado on July 23, bringing the D'Backs from a 1-run deficit to a 6-5 win...the following night he knocked in 7 RBI in a win over the Rockies, then had a 3-run double in the seventh inning on July 25 against San Diego, giving him 7 RBI in a 3-game stretch...while Tony Womack was the main leadoff hitter during the year, McCracken was employed in the role on 20 occasions hitting .386 (32-for-83) and .447 on-base pct. 2002 DIVISION SERIES HIGHLIGHTS—Consistent with his regular season work, Quinton posted solid numbers in his first-ever post-season action, hitting .364 (4-for-11) in the 3 games against the Cards. 2001—Quinton opened the year in spring training with St. Louis, but was released on March 28 and signed with the Twins' organization...signing with Edmonton on April 14, he batted .382 (50-for-131) in his first 29 contests...he joined Minnesota on June 5 and made 14 starts, 8 as the D.H. and 6 in the outfield...he was optioned back to Edmonton on July 20, then designated for assignment on July 28 and outrighted to Edmonton on August 2...he hit safely in 23 of his last 25 games from August 9 until the end of the season, featuring a 19-game hitting streak from August 9-28, batting .347 (34-for-98)...he finished the season tied for second in the PCL in batting average...he elected free agency on October 8. 2000—Quinton began the season on the big league roster, one of four stints with the Devil Rays...he started his first game of the season against Oakland on May 25, a year and a day after tearing the ACL in his right knee. 1999—He was sidelined in spring training through March 25 with a sprained right knee...his season came to an abrupt end in the sixth inning on May 24 when he collided with the left-centerfield wall at Tropicana Field and suffered a torn ACL (anterior cruciate ligament) in his right knee...Dr. James Andrews in Birmingham, AL, performed successful reconstructive surgery on June 3...prior to the injury he started 36 of his 40 appearances and hit from every spot in the lineup except for cleanup and ninth...went 3-for-5 with a triple, a 3-run homer off of Doug Linton, and a career-high tying 4 RBI on April 21 vs. Baltimore. 1998—Quinton was voted by the Tampa Bay chapter of the BBWAA as the Devil Ray's first-ever Most Valuable Player...he scored the first run in franchise history on Opening Day (March 31) against Detroit, coming around on Wade Boggs' home run...batted .483 (14-for-29) with 6 multi-hit games in the first week of the season, earning A.L. Co-Player-of-the-Week honors...his 179 hits were the most ever by a player on a first-year expansion team, topping Charlie Hayes' 175 for the '93 Rockies, with the record breaker coming off of Boston's Tom Gordon on September 13... Quinton trailed only fellow A.L. switch hitters Jose Offerman (191) and Ray Durham (181) in hits...started 148 contests (101 in centerfield, 47 in leftfield) and paced his teammates in hits, games, at-bats, runs, total bases (252), doubles, and sacrifice flies...trailed Cleveland's Kenny Lofton with 18 outfield assists, setting an expansion record...he posted a team-best 18-game hitting streak from August 18-September 9 and tied Tommy Davis' 1969 record streak with the expansion Seattle Pilots...led the team with 52 multi-hit contests, which included 13 3-hit efforts and a 4-hit game on September 8. 1997—Entered as the fourth outfielder with the Rockies, finishing with 71 starts in center...had 13 successful stolen bases to open the season, tying a Colorado record, before Florida's Charles Johnson threw him out on June 1. 1996—Quinton made 58 starts in center and a pair in right as a rookie...trailed Edgar Renteria (.309), Jason Kendall (.300) and Todd Hollandsworth (.291) for the highest average among N.L. rookies (min. 300 plate appearances)...stroked a pinch-hit double off of Trevor Hoffman on April 16 for his first Major League hit...hit his first career home run off the Cubs' Amaury Telemaco on July 27 at Coors Field. 1995—He began the year at New Haven (AA) before a June 25 promotion to Colorado Springs (AAA)...“Q” collected 44 hits in 111 at-bats (.396) in August before hitting safely in 9 postseason contests and helping the Sky Sox capture the PCL crown...he led all minor leaguers and switch-hitting professionals with a combined .359 average at New Haven and Colorado Springs...promoted to the big league club on September 16. 1994—Was a non-roster invitee to spring training, but spent the entire season in New Haven (AA), leading the team in runs, hits, doubles and steals while reeling off a 21-game hitting streak in June. 1993—He made the transition from second base to centerfield and captured Colorado's Minor League Player-of-the-Year award. 1992—A draftee out of Duke University, he got an opportunity to play at second base for Bend (Northwest Rookie League) when starter Craig Counsell was injured...he was batting .212 late in the season when he revisited the idea of becoming a switch-hitter and added the left side to his repertoire...a double in his first at-bat set off a 2-week tear in which he batted .531 and captured consecutive Player-of-the-Week honors.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as Arizona's eighth round selection in the 2001 First Year Player Draft.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Brandon was a month into his first season of AAA ball with Tucson when a right shoulder injury brought his season to an end...he held opposing teams scoreless in 6 of his 11 outings...he posted a 2.16 ERA in 6 home games, allowing 3 runs (2 earned) in 8.1 frames, limiting opponents to a .250 batting average (9-for-36) with 3 walks and 11 strikeouts...he struggled in his 5 road outings with an 8.31 ERA, giving up 4 runs in 4.1 innings, and a .316 opponents batting average (6-for-19) with a walk and 6 strikeouts...he opened his season with a trio of 2.0-inning stints, yielding 2 runs (1 earned) over 6.0 frames for a 1.50 ERA...he fanned a season-high 5 batters on April 13 against Portland...he did not issue a walk over 6.1 innings from April 13-24...in what would be his last appearance of the season, he was touched for 3 runs on 2 hits and a walk with 2 strikeouts in 1.0 inning of work on May 7 at Fresno...he was placed on the disabled list on May 8 due to an injury to his throwing shoulder and missed the remainder of the year...he had surgery to repair the torn labrum in his right shoulder performed by Dr. James Andrews on June 3.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Employed exclusively as a reliever, Brandon recorded a career-high 5 wins, equaling the total from his first two pro seasons...he ranked fifth in the Texas League (AA) with 37 games finished and was second on the pitching staff with 56 appearances and 7 saves...his best stretch was over 11 games from May 30-June 29, going 3-0 with 3 saves while tossing 15.2 scoreless innings and limiting opponents to an .041 average (2-for-49) with 17 strikeouts...after the regular season wrapped up, Brandon pitched in 11 games for the Scottsdale Scorpions of the Arizona Fall League, going 0-1 with 2 saves and a 1.46 ERA, the third-best in the circuit, while totaling 19 K's in 12.1 innings. 2002—Brandon tied for second in the farm system with 15 saves, while ranking fourth among California League (A) relievers by limiting opponents to a .186 average...he also finished second in baserunners per 9-innings (8.28) and fifth with 12.2 K's per 9-innings...Brandon was named the farm system's Pitcher-of-the-Month for July and won the league's Rolands Relief Man Award for the month as he went 1-0 with 8 saves...he did not allow a run in 15.2 innings of work during July and limited the opposition to an .043 average (2-for-47) over his 12 appearances...he opened the year in the rotation, making 12 starts and going 2-7 with a 7.85 ERA and .339 batting average allowed...his ERA was the highest in the league at the time he moved to the bullpen on June 10...he found success working out of the pen, going 2-1 with a 1.96 ERA as a reliever which helped him to receive honorable mention for the Cal League post-season All-Star team. 2001—Medders held opponents to a .182 average, third-best among California League relievers...he yielded only a .137 average at hitter-friendly Lancaster Municipal Stadium...he notched his first win as a pro and picked up 2 of his 3 saves on the year during a 13.1-inning scoreless streak, spanning 11 games from July 7-31...over that span he allowed only 9 hits and a walk while recording 20 strikeouts.

PERSONAL

Brandon Edward Medders...he and his wife, Meredith, make their home in Tuscaloosa, AL...Brandon was a 1998 graduate of Hillcrest (AL) High School...he remained in his home state to attend Shelton State Junior College for a year before transferring across state lines to play at Mississippi State in Starkville, MS...away from the ballpark, Brandon is a musician.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed by the Arizona Diamondbacks as their first round (fourth overall) selection in the 1999 First-Year Player Draft.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Corey got his first extended look from behind the plate by catching 33 games...he opened the year on the disabled list, missing over 5 weeks due to a strained right quadriceps...he returned to action and hit safely in all 10 games with Lancaster (A), including a 2-homer contest vs. Visalia on May 16...he was promoted to Tucson on May 26, for his first taste of AAA...after a slow start that saw him hit .207 (12-for-58) during his first 19 games with the Sidewinders, Myers recovered by batting .356 over a 31-game span from July 3-August 31...his best performances over that stretch came from August 17-21, when he was 9-for-16 (.563) with 3 doubles and 4 home runs over 5 games...that included home runs in 3 consecutive games from August 19-21...Corey showcased his talents in the Arizona Fall League, playing for the Scottsdale Scorpions...he finished second in the AFL with a .400 batting average while his 11 doubles tied for second and his .632 slugging percentage ranked fourth.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Myers got his first look at AA-pitching and tied for 14th in the Texas League batting race (.290)...he led the El Paso club with 60 RBI, ranked second on the team with 27 doubles and finished third in both average and home runs (9)...he played 112 games at first base and 3 games at third, while hitting .323 at home and .252 on the road...he smacked a grand slam on August 1 at Midland. 2002—Corey got off to a quick start for Lancaster with a 13-game hitting streak from April 5-18 during which he batted .420 (21-for-50), including 7 doubles, 2 home runs and 13 RBI...he got much more notice for his other double-digit streak, hitting safely in 33 straight games from July 22-August 30, the longest in the minors on the year...he was only the 10th minor leaguer since 1990 to hit safely in 30 straight games...he batted .377 (52-for-138) during the streak which shattered the JetHawks' previous franchise record of 18 games set in 1997...pursuit of the league record 35-game hit streak was hampered when Myers missed 4 mid-streak games with flu-like symptoms...for his efforts, Myers was selected as the California League Player-of-the-Week for August 5-11...he finished second on the team with 144 hits and 84 RBI, tied for second with 33 doubles, third with 14 home runs...his 84 RBI ranked fourth in the farm system...he regularly delivered in the clutch, batting .360 with runners in scoring position...he played 67 games at first base, 58 at third base and even filled in as catcher for the final 2 innings on July 14 at San Bernardino. 2001—Myers hit over .270 in each month during the season, including a .360 average during June...his .327 average for South Bend was the seventh-highest mark in the Midwest League when he was promoted to Lancaster on June 29...he hit safely in 14 straight games (.367, 18-for-49) from August 4-20. 2000—Corey underwent his first position change when he was converted to third base after being drafted as a shortstop...he led the Pioneer League (R) in games (75). 1999—He started his pro career off in style, homering in his first professional game on June 16 at Great Falls.

PERSONAL

Corey Cameron Myers...he and his wife, Caitlin, make their home in Chandler, AZ...he was a 1999 graduate of Desert Vista High School in Phoenix, AZ...he was selected as the state of Arizona high school player-of-the-year in 1999, then was Arizona's first pick in the First-Year Player Draft...older brother Casey is a catcher-first baseman in the Oakland A's organization after being a standout at Arizona State University.

Carlos Quentin

Outfielder

Ht: 6-1 Wt: 225 B/T: R/R

Age: 22 (Turns 23 on August 28)

Born: August 28, 1982 in Bellflower, CA

Residence: Reno, NV

M.L. Service: None

HOW OBTAINED

Signed by the Arizona Diamondbacks as their first round (29th overall) selection in 2003 First-Year Player Draft.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Carlos proved he was completely recovered from "Tommy John" surgery in 2003, earning the organization's minor league Player-of-the-Year honors after turning in dominant performances for Lancaster (A) and El Paso (AA)...he led all D'Back farmhands in batting (.332), runs (103), hits (157), RBI (91) and walks (69) while tying with Kyle Nichols for the top spot with 21 home runs...additionally, Carlos was hit by 43 pitches, establishing a minor league single-season record, snapping the mark of Rancho Cucamonga's Mark Campo set in 2000...Quentin opened his pro career by getting tagged 27 times in 65 games for Lancaster, then he was drilled 16 times in 60 games with El Paso...on the year, he reached base safely via a hit or a walk in 115 of his 125 games played...his year actually started slowly, opening 3-for-28 (.107) over his first 7 games...he quickly recovered by putting together a 10-game hitting streak from April 16-26, during which he batted .378 (14-for-37)...the first hit of that streak was his first professional home run at Rancho Cucamonga...at the time of his June 21 promotion to El Paso, he was third in the California League with 15 home runs...he also ranked in the circuit's top 10 in runs (tied for second, 64); on-base percentage (fourth, .428); RBI (eighth, 51) and slugging (tied for eighth, .562)...he recorded a season-best 4 RBI vs. Wichita on July 5 and was a perfect 5-for-5 with 4 runs scored vs. Midland on July 17...Carlos put together a season-high 14-game hit streak from August 14-30, batting .432 (19-for-44) over that span...he found success at El Paso's Cohen Stadium, hitting safely in 20 straight home contests (.447, 34-for-76) from June 30-August 21...following the regular season, he participated in the Arizona Fall League but played in only 4 games before sustaining a low back strain, which led to the organization resting him for the remainder of the schedule.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

PERSONAL

Carlos J. Quentin...he is single and resides in Reno, NV...he was a 2000 graduate of University High School in San Diego before attending Stanford...he was one of five finalists for the 2003 Golden Spikes Award...he helped Stanford advance to the College World Series finals in 2003 where they lost to Rice, 2 games to 1...as a freshman, he earned All-America honors from Baseball America, Collegiate Baseball and USA Today/Baseball Weekly, and was the Freshman-of-the-Year in the Pac 10...Carlos participated on the USA Junior National Team that won the 1999 World Championship in Taiwan...he played for Team USA during the summer in both 2001 and 2002...he also hit .313 with 3 homers, 20 RBI and 3 stolen bases for the 2002 FISU World Championship runners-up...in 2001, he batted .267 with 5 doubles, a homer, 9 RBI and a stolen base for Team USA...in high school, he set school records in home runs and RBI, was the league Defensive Player-of-the-Year in football and a member of the state champion basketball squad.

Age: 21 (Turns 22 on July 4)

Born: July 4, 1983 in Bellflower, CA

Residence: Hacienda Heights, CA

M.L. Service: None

HOW OBTAINED

Signed a first round selection (27th overall) in the 2002 First-Year Player Draft.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Sergio was having a promising season for El Paso (AA) only to have it end about 7 weeks early following a shoulder injury...he got off to a quick start, hitting safely in 11 of his first 13 games of the year at a .352 clip (19-for-54)...Santos had his first career 4-hit game on May 4 vs. Arkansas, jumpstarting a career-high tying 10-game hitting streak in which he batted .444 (20-for-45) through May 15...he picked up a hit in 11 of 12 contests from May 29-June 10, hitting .413 (19-for-46) over that span...included in that stretch was his second career multi-homer game, which came on June 9 vs. Wichita, when he connected for a 2-run blast and a grand slam, totaling 7 RBI, establishing a new career single-game best...his playing time came to a halt when he landed on the shelf on July 22...he was disabled for the remainder of the season due to a left shoulder subluxation...at the time of the injury Sergio was pacing the club in RBI and was second with 11 home runs...he was also tied for eighth in the Texas League with 98 hits.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Rated by Baseball America as the No. 7 prospect in the organization, Santos continued his climb through the system with stops at two levels...he tied a California League record with 3 home runs for Lancaster (A) in a win at High Desert May 23, finishing the contest 3-for-4 with 6 RBI...he also became the first player in franchise history to homer 3 times in a single game...on the year, Sergio hit better vs. righties, batting .300 (99-for-330) with 8 home runs, while hitting .230 (34-for-148) with 2 homers against southpaws...he had a season-high 10-game hitting streak from June 7-15, during which he batted .378 (14-for-37)...he was promoted to El Paso (AA) on July 21 and hit .255 in 37 games...following the regular season, Santos participated in the Arizona Fall League, batting .250 over 26 games for Scottsdale with 3 home runs, 10 RBI and 9 extra-base hits which ranked third on the club...he was also rated by Baseball America as having the third-best Infield Arm in the Fall League. 2002—In his first year of pro ball, Santos ranked third among league leaders with a .569 slugging percentage, tied for third with 30 extra-base hits, ranked fourth with 19 doubles and tied for fifth with 9 home runs...his best month was August when he hit .302 (32-for-106) with 26 runs, 12 doubles, 6 homers and 22 RBI while hitting safely in 21 of 27 games...he hit his first pro home run on July 24 at Provo...later in the season, he went deep in three straight games from August 23-26.

PERSONAL

Sergio Jose Santos...he is engaged to Kristin Jones, and has a son, Kalani (11/15/04), and they reside in Hacienda Heights, CA...a 2002 graduate of Mater Dei High School in Santa Ana, he was Arizona's first pick in the '02 First Year Player Draft, the 27th overall selection...Sergio was a member of 2001 the Junior National Pan Am Silver Medalist Team that played in Camaguey, Cuba.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a minor league free agent, December 15, 2004.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Kelly made his 10th Opening Day roster, but unfortunately his year with Kansas City was cut short due to a season-ending elbow injury in June...he began the year by hitting safely in 9 straight games at a .357 clip (10-for-28) from April 10-May 16...he had a season high 3 hits at Detroit on June 2...Stinnett was placed on the 15-day D.L. on June 22 with nerve irritation in his right elbow...he was transferred to the 60-Day D.L. on June 24 following "Tommy John" ligament replacement surgery and missed the remainder of the season.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003—Stinnett opened the season with Cincinnati where he played 60 games before a late-August deal sent him to the Phillies...he homered in his season debut against Philadelphia on April 11...he smacked his second career grand slam on June 11 in Tampa Bay, taking Dewon Brazelton deep...he delivered a walk-off RBI single to lead Cincinnati past Philly on July 28...barely over a month later he was traded to the Phillies on August 31...following the deal, Stinnett went 3-for-5 in 6 pinch-hitting appearances and entered in another game defensively. 2002—Kelly missed about half of the season while recovering from arthroscopic surgery on his right elbow, performed the previous September...he appeared just once, April 5 vs. Montreal, before landing on the D.L....he didn't appear in another game for the Reds until July 19, going on the shelf from April 11 to July 14 with tendinitis in the elbow...he was sent to Louisville (AAA) on May 24 for a rehabilitation assignment...during that rehab assignment, he suffered a strained right groin on June 10...Kelly returned to Louisville for another rehab assignment on June 26...he was reinstated from the disabled list on July 15, but didn't play until July 19 vs. Mets, when he recorded his first 2 hits of the season...he smacked his first career grand slam on September 19, taking the Pirates' Mike Williams deep with two out in the ninth, erasing a 3-1 deficit and leading the Reds to a 5-4 victory...Stinnett had a career-best 5 RBI in that games. 2001—He was bothered most of the year by a sore right elbow, an injury that eventually required surgery...statistically, his best month was June when he batted .333 in 14 games...he capped the month with his best game of the season, going 3-for-5 with a double, 2 home runs and 3 RBI vs. the Cubs on June 30, his fourth career 2-homer game...he missed 10 games with inflammation in his right elbow, taking him out of action from July 22-August 2...Kelly made his last start on September 2, when he left the game vs. Houston with a strained right elbow...he went on the 60-day D.L. two days later and had season-ending surgeries on his right elbow and right knee on September 7...both procedures were performed by Dr. Timothy Kremchek. 2000—Kelly's final year during his first stint with the Diamondbacks, splitting the catching chores once again with Damian Miller...he had a pair of 2-homer games, going deep twice on April 15 in a 7-4 win over the Giants at SBC Park, then hammering a pair 10 days later on the 25th at The Vet in a 10-2 win over the Phillies. 1999—An early-season injury stymied Kelly's offensive production at the outset, thus spent the majority of the year playing catch-up with his average...on April 9 in Atlanta, the Braves' Ryan Klesko collided with Stinnett on a play at the plate, inflicting a severely bruised quadriceps that kept him out of the lineup for 10 games...despite the injury, Stinnett was called upon for one of the defining moments for the D'Backs during their division winning season...limping to the plate on April 13 vs. the Dodgers, he delivered his first career pinch-hit homer, driving a Dave Mlicki pitch out to left in the 16th inning, a 2-run shot that tied the game and set the stage for a 7-6 Arizona victory...Stinnett owns the first 2-homer game in Safeco Field history in Seattle on July 19, the first of his career...behind the plate, he nabbed 26% of the potential base thieves during the year (21-for-80). 1999 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Due to an injury to Damian Miller, Kelly caught every inning of post-season play for the Diamondbacks, going 2-for-14 (.143) with a double and run scored...he singled in Arizona's game #2 victory over the Mets, then doubled and scored in game #3 at Shea. 1998—Kelly's year began as the #2 catcher, getting most of his early work vs. lefthanded starters, but an injury to Jorge Fabregas signaled more playing time...his extra duty resulted in an inaugural year club record 13-game hitting streak (April 28-May 21), in which he batted .413 (19-for-46) with 3 homers and 7 RBI...he took over for Fabregas, who sprained an ankle on May 11, and in his first at bat went deep off of eventual N.L. Rookie-of-the-Year Kerry Wood...Kelly followed the next night with a 3-run shot off of Terry Adams...he tossed out 30% of the potential base thieves (19-for-63). 1997—Kelly opened the year in AAA, spending 2 1/2 months with Tucson, hitting .321...he had a pair of stints with the Brewers, totaling 30 games...was placed on 15-day disabled list on July 26 with an intercostal strain in his left side, keeping him out of action until Sept. 2. 1996—Acquired by the Brewers from the Mets on January 17 in exchange for Cory Lidle...opened the year on the big league roster, but lasted less than a week, and was optioned on April 5...recalled by Milwaukee on June 20, but was up only 4 days without appearing in a game...recalled again on August 11 and stuck with the Brewers for the remainder of the season...started American League career 0-for-16 before getting first hit on August 30 off of the Twins' Rich Robertson...hit .287 with 27 home runs for New Orleans, earning spot in AAA All-Star Game. 1995—Started 59 games behind the plate for the Mets, hitting .219...homered in successive starts on May 17 at Houston and May 21 at Philly. 1994—Spent the entire season with the Mets after being selected from Cleveland in the Rule 5 draft the previous December...made 41 starts for

New York, with his big league debut coming on April 5 at Chicago, collecting initial major league hit, a 2-run double off of Shawn Boskie in the third inning...hit first big league homer on May 5 in Busch Stadium off of the Cards' Allen Watson...had a memorable series vs. the Rockies in Mile High Stadium on July 6-7, going 4-for-5 with 3 runs scored the first night, then was 3-for-4 with 3 more tallies and 3 RBI the next game. 1993—First year of AAA, hit .274 in 98 games with Charlotte. 1992—Earned Eastern League Player-of-the-Week honors on April 19-25, spending the entire season with Canton-Akron (AA). 1991—Led Columbus (A) in home runs with 14. 1990—First year as a pro, hit .240 in 60 games for Watertown (A), after signing as Cleveland's 11th choice in the June draft of '89.

PERSONAL

Kelly Lee Stinnett...he and his wife Gina, and sons, Austin (3/20/95), Alex (11/11/98) and Aaron (3/22/00), make their home in Mesa...Kelly graduated from Lawton, OK, High School in 1988, where he was All-State in baseball and football...he quarterbacked his senior squad to the Class 5A state championship...he then attended Seminole, OK, Junior College, where as a freshman he was All-Conference and All-Region after leading all junior college players with 30 home runs and 124 RBI...as a sophomore he was tabbed the National Junior College Player-of-the-Year and a 1st-team All-American...he hit .399 that season with 22 HRs and 97 RBI and led his club to a 3rd-place finish in the Junior College World Series.

Single Game
Home Runs	— 1, three times (last: vs. Mil., 9/28/04)
Runs Batted In	— 2, twice (last: vs. Mil., 9/28/04)

A Perfect Night in Atlanta

Adept at setting records throughout his Major League career, Randy Johnson added something new to his impressive resume when he retired all 27 Atlanta Braves he faced on May 18 in Turner Field. At 40 years, 251 days, he became the oldest pitcher in history to record a perfect game, bettering Cy Young, who was 37 years, 37 days on May 5, 1904. Johnson's gem was the 15th in modern day regular season history, the 16th including Don Larsen's perfect effort for the Yankees in the 1956 World Series.

Johnson fanned 13 in the 117-pitch performance which concluded with a 98-mph pitch to Eddie Perez to end the game. It was the first no-no in franchise history and first perfect game in the majors since David Cone on July 18, 1999, in Yankee Stadium against Montreal. It was also the first perfecto in the National League since Montreal's Dennis Martinez retired all 27 Dodgers he faced on July 28, 1991, in Chavez Ravine. The box score:

HALL OF FAME ROAD TRIP

Baseball As America, the Hall of Fame and Museum's first-ever national exhibit tour examining the relationship between baseball and American culture, continues with its fourth year in 2005. The exhibit opened in New York City in 2002 and will visit 10 world-class museums across the country through 2006.

In 2005, the tour will visit the Missouri Historical Society in St. Louis, MO, the Museum of Fine Arts in Houston, TX, and the Oakland Museum of California in Oakland, CA. The final tour stop will be at the Henry Ford Museum in Detroit, MI, in 2006. For complete details, please visit the tour Web site at, www.baseballasamerica.org. The national tour is sponsored by Ernst & Young.

A LOOK AHEAD TO 2006

Ballots for the 2006 Hall of Fame/BBWAA election will be distributed in early December with results from the voting scheduled to be announced in early January 2006. A partial list of first-year candidates for election include: Will Clark, Alex Fernandez, Gary Gaetti, Dwight Gooden, Ozzie Guillen, Juan Guzman, Orel Hershiser, Jaime Navarro and Lance Johnson.

Randy Johnson (aka - The Big Unit) joined the Arizona Diamondbacks just months after the club went through its inaugural season growing pains, initially inking a four-year contract. He wound up pitching for six seasons just a few miles from his home in Paradise Valley before being dealt this past winter to the New York Yankees in a trade that brought Javier Vazquez and Brad Halsey to the pitching staff, and eventually Shawn Green to the Arizona outfield.

During his stint with the Diamondbacks, Johnson accomplished many of the milestones that will eventually adorn his plaque upon his certain first ballot entry into Major League Baseball's Hall of Fame, just five years after he walks away from the game. For openers, the Big Unit won the National League Cy Young Award in each of his first four seasons as a D'Back (1999-2002), joining Greg Maddux as the only two hurlers in the history of the game to win four in a row, while RJ's five career Cy Young Awards place him second only to Roger Clemens (7) in baseball annals. Johnson's fourth and final Cy Young honor as a D'Back took place in 2002 when he became the first National Leaguer since Dwight Gooden with the Mets in 1985 to post a pitching "Triple Crown," leading the league in wins (24), ERA (2.32) and strikeouts (334).

Strikeouts have also been synonymous with Johnson, who became the all-time greatest lefthander in career K's while wearing an Arizona uniform. With 4,161 career strikeouts, the Big Unit slipped past Steve Carlton (4,136). Johnson eclipsed Carlton's total with a strikeout of Colorado's Vinny Castilla on September 15, 2004, during what seemed like a season full of milestones. He also achieved the 4,000 plateau on June 29, striking out fellow USC alum, Jeff Cirillo on his final pitch of the night in a tough 3-2 loss to San Diego. RJ reached the 4,000 mark in career K's faster than any of the three pitchers who had already hit the mark in Major League history. It took Johnson 607.1 fewer innings than Nolan Ryan, 913.2 innings quicker than Clemens and amazingly, 1,754 frames faster than Carlton.

In six seasons in D'Back pinstripes, Johnson fanned 1,832 hitters, an average of 305.3 per season, spanning 1,389.2 innings, a strikeout to nine-inning ratio of 11.9. He eclipsed the 2,500, 3,000, 3,500 and 4,000 career marks while pitching with Arizona.

Randy also made history during the 2004 season in something other than strikeouts, becoming the oldest pitcher in history to record a perfect game, retiring all 27 Atlanta Braves he faced on May 18 in Turner Field. At 40 years, 251 days, the Big Unit was perfect for the first time in his career 3 years and 214 days older than the previous high held by Cy Young himself (37 years, 37 days on May 5, 1904). Johnson's gem was the 15th in modern day regular season history, the 16th including Don Larsen's perfect effort for the Yankees in the 1956 World Series. Johnson fanned 13 in the 117-pitch performance which concluded with a 98-mph pitch to Eddie Perez to end the game. It was the first no-no in franchise history and first perfect game in the majors since David Cone on July 18, 1999, in Yankee Stadium against Montreal. It was also the first perfecto in the National League since Montreal's Dennis Martinez retired all 27 Dodgers he faced on July 28, 1991, in Chavez Ravine.

Randy joined mound-mate Curt Schilling to help bring the state of Arizona its first-ever major sports title, when the duo pitched the Diamondbacks to a World Series crown in 2001. Johnson, who won three games in the Fall Classic against the Yankees, shared the MVP honors with Schilling. The Big Unit won Game #2 in Bank One Ballpark, tossing a complete game three-hitter with 11 K's for a 4-0 triumph, then sent the series to a deciding seventh game when he cruised to a 15-2 victory in Game #6. Less than 24 hours later and with the Diamondbacks trailing 2-1 in the eighth inning of the finale, Johnson came out of the bullpen to record four outs, then watched while his teammates rallied for two runs in the bottom of the ninth, capped by Luis Gonzalez's single over a drawn-in infield to touch off the celebration. Johnson wound up going 5-1 with a 1.52 ERA in the 2001 post-season, closing his work with five consecutive wins.

The Arizona Diamondbacks dedicate these two pages of the 2005 Media Guide to Randy Johnson, in appreciation to his effort in putting Major League Baseball on the map in the Valley of the Sun.

Randy Johnson strikes out Jeff Cirillo on June 29 to become just the fourth pitcher in history to reach 4,000 K's.

Randy Johnson and Curt Schilling share the World Series Most Valuable Player award by going a combined 4-0 with a 1.40 ERA during the Fall Classic. They were also named Co-Sportsmen of the Year by Sports Illustrated.

The Original 35

The Diamondbacks and Tampa Bay Devil Rays were named the 29th and 30th teams in Major League Baseball history during the baseball owners meetings on March 9, 1995. Both clubs began play in 1998, but before a pitch could be thrown each team was given the opportunity to draft 35 players from the existing 28 clubs.

The 1997 MLB Expansion Draft took place across at the Phoenix Civic Plaza, across the street from the nearly constructed Bank One Ballpark. The Diamondbacks selected lefthanded pitcher Brian Anderson from the Cleveland Indians with their first choice.

1999 Division Series vs. New York Mets

New York Mets (3) vs. Arizona Diamondbacks (1) October 5-9, 1999

The Diamondbacks not only had their first taste of post-season play in 1999, they also had the fastest taste in major league expansion history, winning the Western Division by 14 games to qualify for the second season in their second season, a year faster than the previous best. Colorado held the previous quickest qualification at three years, though they did so in 1995 as a Wild Card entry and in a 144-game season. Arizona's division title came six years faster than any other expansion club, beating the New York Mets and Kansas City Royals who each won a title in their eighth campaign.

By virtue of their division title, the Diamondbacks had a home-field advantage, taking on the New York Mets, who qualified as the Wild Card club with a one-game playoff victory in Cincinnati the day before. The Mets seemed to still be riding the momentum from their visit to Cincinnati, immediately taking the home-field edge away from Arizona with an 8-4 win in the series opener. The D'Backs rallied to even the series at a game apiece behind the arm of Todd Stottlemire and bat of Steve Finley, cruising to a 7-1 win in game #2. Stottlemire, continuing his amazing return from a tear in his right labrum, worked 6.2 innings of 4-hit ball, allowing just a run, while Finley went 2-for-3 with a double and 5 RBI. Matt Williams also chipped in with 3 hits and 3 runs scored.

The Diamondbacks weren't as fortunate upon arriving in New York, losing both games before getting a shot at returning to Bank One Ballpark for a possible fifth game. The Mets dominated game #3, posting a 9-2 win in their return to Shea, scoring 3 times off of starter Omar Daal in a 4-inning stint, then putting the game away with a 6-run sixth inning.

Arizona's season came to an abrupt and heartbreaking end in a Saturday matinee at Shea, as Todd Pratt ended the affair and the Diamondbacks season with a 10th inning homer. The Diamondbacks had taken a 3-2 lead in the eighth, when Jay Bell doubled home a pair of runs, missing a 3-run homer by a matter of inches. Pratt, subbing for the injured Mike Piazza, had been hitless in 7 at bats in the series prior to sending the Mets to the next level with his shot just out of Finley's reach in centerfield.

2001 Division Series vs. St. Louis Cardinals

Arizona Diamondbacks (3) vs. St. Louis Cardinals (2)

October 9-13, 2001

Pitching and clutch hitting were the themes in the 5-game Division Series against St. Louis, ultimately won by Arizona when Tony Womack singled in the tie-breaking run in the bottom of the ninth inning of Game #5 to sent the Diamondbacks into their first League Championship Series. Curt Schilling and Matt Morris set the tone for the tightly-contested series in the opening game at Bank One Ballpark, with Schilling prevailing by a 1-0 count, tossing a 3-hit complete game. The Redbirds rebounded to even the series at a game apiece with a 4-1 win over Randy Johnson, the last loss experienced by the Big Unit in the 2001 post-season.

With the series squared at 1-1, the scene shifted to Busch Stadium, where Craig Counsell struck a huge blow in Game #3 with a seventh inning, 3-run homer off of southpaw Mike Matthews to stake Arizona to a 5-3 victory and 2-1 lead in the series. The Cards sent the set back to Phoenix for a deciding game when they recorded a 4-1 win in St. Louis after a 3-hour, 36-minute rain delay prior to Game #4.

Pitching was once again the focal point in the series finale, as Schilling and Morris continued their stingy ways, each surrendering solo homers to account for all of the scoring entering the ninth inning. The Diamondbacks prevailed in the bottom of the ninth, but not before some tense moments. With the potential winning run at third base and one-out in the inning, Womack was unable to make contact on a suicide squeeze attempt, leaving Midre Cummings as a sitting-duck between third and home. On the play, pinch runner Danny Bautista moved up to second base, then scored the series-winning run when Womack poked a Steve Kline pitch to left-center to set off the first of three post-season celebrations for the Diamondbacks.

2001 League Championship Series vs. Atlanta Braves

Arizona Diamondbacks (4) vs. Atlanta Braves (1) October 16-21, 2001

Coming off the nerve-racking series against St. Louis, Arizona made relatively quick work of the ??-time division champion Braves, taking 4 of the 5 games in the N.L.C.S. to advance to its first-ever World Series appearance. Randy Johnson, who had dominated the regular season throughout his career, was in the crosshairs of critics for incurring a post-season losing streak that had been extended to 7 games with a Division Series setback to St. Louis. The Big Unit quickly silenced the critics with his performance in the League Championship Series and his eventual World Series work, finishing the 2001 post-season with 5 consecutive wins.

The winning streak began in Game #1 against the Braves, as Johnson outdueled Greg Maddux by tossing a complete game 3-hitter for a 2-0 win in Bank One Ballpark, fanning 11 in the process. Atlanta rebounded the following day for an 8-1 win to send the series to Turner Field tied at a game apiece. The Diamondbacks, who swept a 3-game visit to Atlanta during the regular season, continued their mastery in the south by taking all 3 games of the N.L.C.S. in Atlanta to earn a trip to the Fall Classic and eventual meeting with the vaunted New York Yankees.

Curt Schilling made his only start in the N.L.C.S. in Game #3, going the distance on a 4-hitter with 12 strikeouts while posting a 5-1 victory. Steve Finley contributed 2 hits including a double and 3 RBI, and eventual Series MVP Craig Counsell added 3 hits and scored a run. The D'Backs took a commanding 3-1 lead in the series with an 11-4 triumph in Game #4, taking advantage of 4 Atlanta errors to score 6 unearned runs. Counsell was again the focal point for the offense, collecting 3 hits with 2 doubles and 4 RBI, while Luis Gonzalez hit a 3-run homer to ice the affair in the ninth. Arizona's ticket to the World Series was punched the following night when Johnson returned to the hill and recorded a 3-2 victory over Tom Glavine. The crushing blow was a pinch-hit 2-run homer by Erubiel Durazo off of Glavine in the fifth inning to stake the Diamondbacks to a lead. Johnson and reliever Byung-Hyun Kim combined to finish off the Braves, with Kim coaxing a series ending fly ball to center by Julio Franco.

2001 World Series vs. New York Yankees

Arizona Diamondbacks (4) vs. New York Yankees (3) October 27-November 4, 2001

The Diamondbacks and Yankees provided a still-healing country with one of the most exciting World Series on record, with Arizona prevailing with a furious ninth inning rally in Game #7 to capture the title in just its fourth year, the fastest ever by an expansion team.

The home team won all 7 games with the D'Backs making their first-ever trip to Yankee Stadium in possession of a 2-0 series lead. The Fall Classic began with Curt Schilling and Randy Johnson teaming up for back-to-back dominating performances, as Schilling gave up just 3 hits and a run over 7.0 innings for a 9-1 win, followed the next night with a complete game 3-hitter by the Big Unit as he fanned 11 in a 4-0 triumph over the 3-time defending world champs. As was the case in the NLCS against Atlanta, the Diamondbacks took advantage of the opponents miscues to score 5 unearned runs in the opener. World Series first-timers Luis Gonzalez and Mark Grace displayed their veteran status with Gonzalez hammering a 2-run homer to chase starter Mike Mussina, while Grace, the long-time Cub, delivered a key 2-run double. Johnson made a pair of clutch hits stand up in Game #2, with Danny Bautista establishing himself with a run scoring double off of Andy Pettitte in the second inning, then Matt Williams providing the crushing blow with a seventh inning 3-run homer off the Yankee southpaw.

The scene then shifted to New York, where emotions still ran high after the tragic events of September 11. Prior to working out for the first time in Yankee Stadium, the Diamondbacks paid homage to those who perished in the attack and met with hundreds of the rescue workers and police and fire officials when the team buses traveled to Ground Zero. The focus returned to the field the following night when the latest date for a World Series game on record, October 30, began with President George W. Bush throwing out the ceremonial first pitch. It was the first time a President participated in a World Series pre-game since Dwight Eisenhower made the ceremonial toss prior to Game #1 of the 1956 series in Ebbets Field.

The Diamondbacks entered Yankee Stadium only 2 wins shy of capturing the crown, but due to the strangest of circumstances, they would return to Phoenix later in the week still seeking 2 wins. The Yankees won a trio of 1-run decisions, posting a 2-1 victory in Game #3, then recording a pair of heart-wrenching decisions the following 2 nights.

Schilling, who had downplayed the "mystique" and "aura" of Yankee Stadium, gave up just a run on 3 hits in 7.0 innings while working on 3 days rest for the first time in his career. What happened after his departure in Game #4 and the following night in Game #5 actually lent credence to the hallowed ground in the Bronx. Leading 3-1 with 2 outs and a man aboard in the bottom of the ninth inning in Game #4, Byung-Hyun Kim was tagged for a game-tying home run by Tino Martinez to send the Halloween night crowd into a frenzy at Yankee Stadium. Derek Jeter then ended the contest in the 10th inning with an opposite field fly ball into the short porch in right field off of Kim, just minutes after the clock struck midnight to end the first-ever November World Series game.

With the series tied a 2-2, the historic home of the Yankees added to its "mystique" as the New Yorkers rallied from yet another 2-run deficit with 2 outs in the bottom of the ninth inning to complete a 3-game sweep in the Bronx. Trailing by a 2-0 count entering the bottom of the ninth inning, Scott Brosius hit a game-tying home run off of Kim to send the affair to extra innings. New York then survived a bases loaded situation in the 11th before Alfonso Soriano plated the tie breaking run in the bottom of the 12th to stake the Yanks to a 3-2 lead as the series returned to the Valley. It marked the first time in World Series history that a team won 2 games in the same Series when trailing by at least 2 runs entering the ninth inning. Lost in all of the excitement was a terrific pitching performance by Miguel Batista, who fired 7.2 shutout innings and left with a 2-0 lead over Yankee ace Mike Mussina.

The Diamondbacks proved worthy to the task ahead, and took away any doubt about their resiliency with a 15-2 thumping of the Yankees in Bank One Ballpark to send the series to a deciding seventh game. Danny Bautista had 3 hits and knocked in 5 runs to lead Arizona's 22-hit attack. The D'Backs jumped all over New York for a 15-0 lead after just 4 innings, highlighted by an 8-run outburst in the third. Randy Johnson tossed 7.0 strong innings to earn the win, yet still managed to keep something in the tank for a possible Game #7 appearance.

The latest World Series ever played culminated with one of the more thrilling final games in history, as Curt Schilling and Roger Clemens duelled, the first meeting of 20-game winners in a Game #7 since John Tudor and Bret Saberhagen squared off in 1985, when the Royals defeated the Cardinals. The D'Backs took a 1-0 lead on a Bautista double in the sixth, but the Yankees answered in the seventh on a Tino Martinez RBI single. New York's Alfonso Soriano broke the tie by hitting an ankle-high pitch from Schilling into the left field seats to open the eighth inning. Schilling was removed in favor of Miguel Batista, who recorded the second out of the inning, then the Big Unit was summoned from the bullpen, less than 24 hours after his 7-inning performance in Game #6. Johnson retired all 4 men he faced in 1.1 innings which set the stage for Arizona's bottom of the ninth rally.

With Mariano Rivera on the hill and the possessor of 23 consecutive post-season saves, Mark Grace opened the bottom of the ninth with a single to center. The inning unraveled in Arizona's favor when Rivera threw wildly into centerfield on a potential force out at second base. Following a fielder's choice on a failed sacrifice attempt, Tony Womack doubled down the line in right to tie the game and leave runners at second and third with 1 out. Craig Counsell was hit by a pitch to load the bases, then Luis Gonzalez capped the remarkable rally with a bloop single over the drawn-in infield to send Bank One Ballpark and the state of Arizona into a frenzy. Johnson was credited with the win, giving him a 3-0 mark in the series, as he and Schilling was named the World Series Co-MVP's. The duo combined to go 4-0 in 6 appearances, allowing only 6 earned runs in 38.2 innings.

2001 World Series Notebook

- The Diamondbacks entered the World Series with Craig Counsell as the only active player in possession of a World Championship ring while the Yankees were 3-time defending champs.
- Randy Johnson and Curt Schilling were the second co-MVP's in World Series history joining the Los Angeles Dodger trio of Ron Cey, Pedro Guerrero and Steve Yeager...it marked the 20th and 21st time a starting pitcher won the award, first since Florida's Livan Hernandez in 1997.
- It was the third time in World Series history that the home team won every game, joining the Twins against St. Louis in 1987, and Twins against Atlanta in 1991.
- The Diamondbacks outscored New York 31-5 in the 4 wins, and were outscored 9-6 in the trio of 1-run losses in Bronx.
- The Diamondbacks were the fastest expansion team to get to the Fall Classic a year quicker than Florida in '97...other expansion clubs to make the World Series and the year they qualified - Mets (eighth year), Royals (12th year), Seattle Pilots/Milwaukee Brewers (14th year), San Diego (16th year), Toronto (16th year)...remaining expansion clubs that have not appeared in the Series include the Angels, Senators/Rangers, Colt 45's/Astros, Expos, Mariners, Rockies and Devil Rays.
- Arizona pitching held the Yankees to .183 team average (42-for-229), the lowest average ever in a 7 or 8 game World Series...previous low was .185 by St. Louis vs. Kansas City in 1985.
- Arizona's overall staff ERA of 1.94 was lowest in World Series play since Cincinnati's 1.70 mark in a 4-game sweep of Oakland in 1990 and lowest in a 7-game set since Kansas City had a 1.89 mark in '85 vs. the Cardinals.
- The Diamondbacks were the first team in 80 years to win the first 2 games they ever played in the World Series, the fourth team overall joining the 1914 Boston Braves, 1919 Cincinnati Reds and 1921 New York Yankees.
- The walk-off finish to game #7 was the 11th overall "sudden death" ending to a World Series, the third in a row that involved a 7-game series...the last was the '97 finish when Craig Counsell scored the tie-breaking run in the 10th inning as Florida defeated Cleveland...the other was Minnesota's 10th inning win over the Braves in the Metrodome in 1991.
- The Diamondbacks are the 19th team to win the series after trailing 3 games to 2...it was also the 11th time a team won games 6 & 7 at home.
- It was the first time the Yankees were involved in a game #7 of any post-season series since the 1964 World Series went to the limit against St. Louis.
- The Diamondbacks snapped New York's post-season series streak at 11, handing the Bronx Bombers their first series loss since the 5-game Division Series with Cleveland in 1997.
- When Curt Schilling and Roger Clemens hooked up in the final game, it marked the sixth time 20-game winners squared off in the seventh game, first since John Tudor (St. Louis) and Bret Saberhagen (Kansas City) in 1985.
- The 15-2 win in game #6 alone was worth the following tidbits:
 - ...The Diamondbacks recorded a World Series record 22 hits.
 - ...The 15 runs tied with Toronto for third highest in a World Series game.
 - ...The 13-run margin of victory tied for second best ever matching the Yankees' 16-3 win over Pittsburgh in game #2 of '60 World Series, and was the second highest ever, just behind an 18-4 Yankee win in game #2 of the 1936 win over the Giants.
 - ...The 15-0 lead after 5 innings tied the biggest lead by any team at any time in World Series game...the Yankees had a 16-1 lead in game #2 of the '60 series against Pittsburgh.
 - ...Arizona's 8-run third inning marked the best inning since game #6 of 1968 series when Detroit scored 10 times in third inning of 13-1 win over St. Louis.

2002 Division Series vs. St. Louis Cardinals

St. Louis Cardinals (3) vs. Arizona Diamondbacks (0)

October 1-5, 2002

Destiny - a word heard often during the Diamondbacks run to the 2001 World Series Championship, was also a theme during the 2002 National League Division Series, a rematch with the St. Louis Cardinals. Only this time, destiny set up shop in the opposing dugout.

The Diamondbacks, sweeping a season-ending four game series against Colorado, clinched the NL West title, and homefield advantage against the Central Champion Cardinals, who had gone through an emotionally difficult season, losing broadcaster Jack Buck and pitcher Darryl Kile during the summer. The Cardinals also had momentum, having swept Arizona in a three-game set in St. Louis the week prior to the Division Series matchup.

In that same series in St. Louis, the Diamondbacks lost outfielder Luis Gonzalez to a separated left shoulder, adding to a list of Diamondbacks injuries that included fellow outfielder Danny Bautista, infielder Craig Counsell and pitcher Brian Anderson.

The Cardinals made an early and loud statement in Game #1 at Bank One Ballpark, posting a 12-2 win. St. Louis broke a 2-2 tie in the fourth by scoring 3 times, then later tied a Division Series record with 6 runs in the seventh.

Game #2 saw a return to form for Diamondbacks pitching, with Curt Schilling locked in a duel with the Cardinals' Chuck Finley. Arizona tied the game at 1-1 in the eighth inning on Quinton McCracken's RBI double, only to have the Cardinals score the game-winning run in the ninth for a 2-1 triumph, and a 2-0 series lead.

The series shifted to St. Louis for Game Three, but a change in venue did not bring a change in Arizona's fortunes. St. Louis completed the series sweep at Busch Stadium with a 6-3 victory. The Cardinals broke a 2-2 tie in the fourth by scoring twice.

Arizona Diamondbacks Chronology

June 28: A bill submitted by Rep. Chris Herstam, R-Phoenix, allowing Maricopa County to assess a quarter-cent sales tax for a baseball-only stadium, passes the Arizona Legislature. The tax can be levied only after a franchise is granted.

1993

July 25: Major League Baseball talks of adding new teams. Phoenix Suns owner Jerry Colangelo gets assurance from owners that Phoenix and Tampa are the top prospects. He begins a drive for investors and a stadium.

November 10: At a jam-packed news conference at America West Arena, Colangelo announces he will put together an ownership group that will apply for a Major League Baseball expansion franchise.

February 17: Maricopa County Supervisors vote 3-1 for the stadium tax, with one abstention. Baseball owners have until April 1, 1995, to award Phoenix a new franchise, or the stadium financing deal is off.

June 17: Ellerbe Becket beats out two other finalists working on the design of the new downtown stadium. A site just south of Jefferson Street and west of Seventh Street is selected for the retractable-roof, natural-grass showplace.

November 2: At a meeting in Chicago, the expansion committee hears presentations from Colangelo and other would-be ownership groups from Orlando and Tampa-St. Petersburg and two from northern Virginia.

March 9: At a meeting in Palm Beach, Fla., baseball's owners name the Arizona Diamondbacks and the Tampa Bay Devil Rays the 13th and 14th expansion teams in Major League Baseball history. The franchises are priced at a record $130 million apiece. Richard H. Dozer is named president and Joe Garagiola Jr. becomes vice president and general manager.

March 11: Season ticket deposits are first taken at a celebration party on the plaza in front of America West Arena. Despite a soaking rain, more than 2,000 people show up to take part in the team's first official fan celebration.

April 5: The Diamondbacks finalize a deal with Bank One that will result in the new downtown stadium carrying the name of Bank One Ballpark.

August 17: The Diamondbacks unveil their first farm team, the Lethbridge Mounties, soon to be renamed the Black Diamonds, of Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada in the Pioneer League.

November 15: Still two seasons away from Opening Day, the Diamondbacks have a manager. Buck Showalter, who was the American League's Manager of the Year in 1994 with the New York Yankees, leading them to a wild-card playoff spot in 1995, signs a 7-year contract that will put him in the dugout when the expansion team takes the field in 1998.

November 16: Ceremonies, including a game between two Little League teams, celebrate the groundbreaking for the Bank One Ballpark.

May 17: America West Airlines rolls out a Boeing 757 painted in a Diamondbacks' theme, with a huge baseball logo on the tail. Immediately, fans, staff, sponsors and investors climb on board and head to Denver, where they see the Colorado Rockies defeat the St. Louis Cardinals, 12-11.

May 31: The Diamondbacks and Chicago White Sox jointly announce that they will share a new spring-training facility in Tucson, beginning in 1998.

June 4: Lefthanded pitcher Nick Bierbrodt of Long Beach, Calif., becomes the team's first-ever choice in the amateur draft.

June 24: More than 6,000 fans turn out at Scottsdale Stadium to see the Diamondbacks' Arizona League team make its debut. Outfielder Juan Garcia homers to lead off the first inning and then adds another, but Oakland's rookie-league team wins, 15-7.

October 11: The Diamondbacks announce the signing of Olympic first baseman Travis Lee, the second overall choice in the June draft. He and three other players had been declared free agents by Major League Baseball. Three weeks later, another of the four, righthanded pitcher John Patterson, signs with Arizona.

January 16: Meeting in Scottsdale, baseball's owners vote to place Arizona in the National League's West Division.

March 3: Pitchers and catchers report to Yuma, Ariz., for the Diamondbacks' first minor league spring training camp. Players will be assigned to High Desert in the California League or South Bend in the Midwest League.

September 12: Affirming that they are a statewide team, the Diamondbacks sign a player-development contract that makes Tucson the franchise's Class AAA affiliate in the Pacific Coast League.

November 17: Jay Bell becomes the Diamondbacks' first major leaguer when he leaves the Kansas City Royals to sign a five-year contract with Arizona.

November 18: Arizona and the Tampa Bay Devil Rays each select 35 players in the MLB Expansion Draft held at Phoenix Civic Plaza. The Diamondbacks' first choice is lefthanded pitcher Brian Anderson of the Cleveland Indians.

December 1: Third baseman Matt Williams comes to the Diamondbacks from Cleveland in a headline-making trade that sends third baseman Travis Fryman and lefthanded pitcher Tom Martin to the Indians. Williams signs a five-year contract extension which commits him to Arizona through 2003.

January 10: Single game tickets go on sale for Opening Day on March 31 against the Colorado Rockies. All tickets are gone before lunch.

February 13: Pitchers and catchers take the field at Kino Veterans Memorial Sportspark in Tucson to inaugurate the Diamondbacks' first major-league spring training.

February 27: In the Diamondbacks' first Cactus League exhibition game, Edwin Diaz hits a ninth inning sacrifice fly that scores Kelly Stinnett with the winning run in a 6-5 victory over the Chicago White Sox at Tucson Electric Park.

March 20: Jerry Colangelo and county officials break bottles of sparkling water over the rotunda railings to highlight the official dedication ceremony at Bank One Ballpark.

March 29: The final exhibition game of the season serves as a trial run for Bank One Ballpark as 49,198 fans see the White Sox defeat Arizona, 3-0.

March 31: With 50,179 fans overflowing Bank One Ballpark, the Diamondbacks celebrate the first regular season game in franchise history. Colorado wins, 9-2. Travis Lee collects Arizona's first hit (a first inning single), first homer, first run and first RBI.

April 5: Arizona celebrates its first victory, a 3-2 win over San Francisco that evens Andy Benes' record at 1-1.

July 30: Omar Daal pitches the franchise's first complete game shutout, scattering four hits in a 4-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs at Bank One Ballpark.

September 4: A 3-1 win over Houston gives the Diamondbacks their seventh consecutive victory, equalling the longest winning streak by any expansion team in history.

September 13: Andy Benes comes within two outs of pitching a no-hitter in a 5-0 win at Cincinnati, highlighting a September in which he was 3-0 with an 0.47 ERA. Benes ends the season with a string of 27,1 scoreless innings.

December 1: Lefthanded pitcher Randy Johnson decides to pitch in his hometown and agrees to a 4-year contract.

February 25: President Clinton visits the Diamondbacks at their spring training facilities in Tucson, visiting with players and staff members before accepting a team uniform jersey with his name and the numeral 1 on the back.

April 11: Luis Gonzalez cracks a seventh-inning homer off Atlanta's Greg Maddux, beginning a hitting streak that will last through May 18. Gonzalez is the 37th player in major-league history to reach the 30-game plateau.

April 19: Jay Bell is named National League Player-of-the-Week, becoming the first Diamondback ever to win the award. Before the season ends, he will be joined by Matt Williams (twice), Randy Johnson (twice) and Steve Finley. Williams was also NL Player-of-the-Month for April and Johnson was Pitcher-of-the-Month for July.

May 12: Matt Williams 2-run, game-winning homer caps a 5-run ninth as Arizona comes from behind for an 8-6 win over Montreal. It is the third straight night that the Diamondbacks beat the Expos with a homer in their final at bat. Jay Bell was the hero on May 10, with Luis Gonzalez doing the honors on May 11.

June 25: Bank One Ballpark plays host to its first no-hitter as then-St. Louis hurler Jose Jimenez outduels the Diamondbacks' Randy Johnson, 1-0. The game's only run scores on Thomas Howard's single in the top of the ninth inning.

July 9: Arizona's bullpen is solidified with the addition of closer Matt Mantei, acquired from Florida for pitcher Vladimir Núñez, pitcher Brad Penny and a player to be named later.

July 11: Jay Bell's sixth inning grand slam wins $1 million for fan Gylene Hoyle of Chandler, who predicted the player and the inning before the game as part of Shamrock Farms Grand Slam Sundae. As an afterthought, the Diamondbacks beat Oakland, 7-4.

July 13: Third baseman Matt Williams and second baseman Jay Bell become the first Diamondbacks to start an All-Star Game. Pitcher Randy Johnson and left fielder Luis Gonzalez also make appearances. No team had more representatives.

July 21: Tony Womack legs out a ninth-inning, inside-the-park grand slam off relief ace Billy Wagner to give the Diamondbacks a 7-4 victory in Houston. It is the first inside-the-park homer in franchise history.

September 24: Matt Williams scoops up Doug Mirabeli's ground ball for the final out of an 11-3 victory in San Francisco that clinches the National League West championship for the Diamondbacks. Arizona becomes the first expansion team to reach the playoffs or win a division title in its second year of competition.

September 26: An estimated 8,000 fans jam the Bank One Ballpark Plaza to greet the Diamondbacks on their return home from their sweep of the Giants.

October 3: The Diamondbacks notch win No. 100 of the year in the season finale. Bernard Gilkey and Rod Barajas hit back-to-back home runs in a 10-3 win over San Diego at Bank One Ballpark.

October 5: In the team's first post-season appearance, Arizona drops an 8-4 decision to the New York Mets. Edgardo Alfonzo's ninth-inning grand slam, his second homer of the night, makes the difference.

October 6: Todd Stottlemyre scatters 4 hits over 6.2 innings to help the Diamondbacks notch their first post-season win, 7-1, Steve Finley's two-run single in the third puts Arizona ahead to stay.

October 9: Arizona's season ends when Todd Pratt homers in the bottom of the 10th inning to give New York a 4-3 victory in Game Four of the NL Division Series.

November 11: The Diamondbacks earn their first Gold Glove Award when Steve Finley is honored as one of the National League's top fielding outfielders.

November 16: After leading the major leagues in strikeouts, innings pitched and complete games, Randy Johnson gives the Arizona franchise its first major individual trophy by winning his second Cy Young Award.

April 11: Randy Johnson is selected co-National League Player-of-the-Week, sharing the honors with Montreal's Vladimir Guerrero. Johnson was also selected N.L. Pitcher-of-the-Month for April.

May 31: Arizona turns its first-ever triple play, in the fifth inning of a home game with St. Louis. With the bases loaded and nobody out, the Cardinals' Mark McGwire hit a fly ball to center, which was caught by Steve Finley, who then fired to home plate, where catcher Damian Miller tagged Placido Polanco, then threw to third base, where shortstop Tony Womack tagged out Edgar Renteria.

July 5: Luis Gonzalez becomes the first Diamondback to hit for the cycle, accomplishing the feat in Houston with a ninth-inning home run in a 12-9 Diamondbacks win.

July 11: Pitcher Randy Johnson and outfielder Steve Finley represent the Diamondbacks at the All-Star Game in Atlanta. Johnson is the starting pitcher for the National League, while Finley enters the game as a defensive replacement as singles home a run in his only at-bat.

July 20: The first-ever weekday matinee at Bank One Ballpark ends in dramatic fashion, as Tony Womack's two-run homer in the ninth gives Arizona a 3-2 win over St. Louis, in front of 40,937 fans.

July 24: The Diamondbacks defeat the Cleveland Indians, 12-7, in the Hall of Fame Game at Doubleday Field in Cooperstown. Minor league outfielder Luis Terrero was named the game MVP collecting 2 hits with a double and 2 runs.

July 26: Curt Schilling is acquired from Philadelphia for Omar Daal, Nelson Figueroa and Vicente Padilla, and Travis Lee. Two nights later, Schilling scatters 6 hits over 8.0 innings, leading the Diamondbacks to a 4-1 win at Florida.

September 10: Randy Johnson becomes the 12th pitcher in major league history to record 3,000 career strikeouts with a fourth inning strikeout of Florida's Mike Lowell at Pro Player Stadium. Earlier in the game, Johnson records his 300th strikeout of the season, joining Nolan Ryan as the only pitchers to collect 300 strikeouts in three consecutive seasons.

October 2: Buck Showalter is dismissed as manager of the Diamondbacks.

October 30: Former major league catcher and broadcaster Bob Brenly is named Diamondbacks manager.

November 7: Outfielder Steve Finley wins his second consecutive Gold Glove award, his fourth award overall.

November 14: Randy Johnson wins his second consecutive National League Cy Young Award, becoming the eighth pitcher in history to win the award three times.

December 8: Free agent first baseman Mark Grace signs a two-year contract with the Diamondbacks. Grace comes to Arizona after 13 seasons with the Chicago Cubs.

April 3: The Bob Brenly managerial era opens with the Diamondbacks defeating Los Angeles, 3-2.

April 26: Luis Gonzalez sets a National League record and ties Ken Griffey Jr.'s Major League record for home runs in the month of April by hitting his 12th and 13th round-trippers in a 13-6 victory over Atlanta...Gonzalez also earns National League Player of the Month honors.

May 8: Randy Johnson ties a Major League record with 20 strikeouts over 9.0 innings. Johnson did not get the decision, as the Diamondbacks scored 3 runs in the bottom of the 11th for a 4-3 win over Cincinnati. The performance later earns him co-National League Player-of-the-Week honors for the week of May 7-13.

May 29: Erubiel Durazo's game-winning RBI double in the top of the 18th gives Arizona a 1-0 win at San Francisco in the longest game, by innings, in franchise history. The marathon comes one day after the two teams played a 12-inning contest, with the Diamondbacks also coming out victorious.

June 4: Curt Schilling is named National League Pitcher-of-the-Month for May, after going 5-1, with a 2.35 ERA.

June 8: Luis Gonzalez ties a club record with 3 home runs in a game, one to each field, as the Diamondbacks defeat the Royals in Kansas City, 11-4.

June 17: Tony Womack's grand slam in the fourth inning sparked an 8-3 Father's Day home win over Detroit. It was an emotional moment for Womack, as his father had passed away two months earlier.

July 2: Luis Gonzalez earns his second National League Player-of-the-Month award of the season, after hitting .417 in June, with 12 home runs and 35 runs batted in.

July 19: Randy Johnson sets a major league record for strikeouts by a relief pitcher, fanning 16 San Diego Padres in a 3-0 Diamondbacks win. The relief appearance was necessitated when a transformer blew at San Diego's Qualcomm Stadium the night before, suspending play in the bottom of the second inning. Johnson had been scheduled to pitch the next day, and took over for starter Curt Schilling when the game resumed.

August 12: Junior Spivey becomes the fifth rookie in the last 50 years to record a pair of 5-hit games, as Arizona completes a sweep of the Braves in Atlanta, winning 9-1. Spivey's first 5-hit game came June 21 in Colorado.

August 19: Arizona completes a sweep of the Chicago Cubs to extend its winning streak to a club record-tying 9 games.

August 23: Randy Johnson becomes the first pitcher in major league history to record four consecutive 300-plus strikeout seasons, recording his 300th strikeout of the 2001 season in Pittsburgh.

August 30: Steve Finley becomes the first position player to pitch in a Diamondback game, tossing a scoreless ninth inning against San Francisco.

September 5: Curt Schilling becomes the first 20-game winner in club history, defeating the Giants, 7-2, in San Francisco. Schilling is also the season's first 20-game winner.

September 8: Matt Williams' walk-off 2-run homer in the tenth gives Arizona an 8-6 win over San Diego. Steve Finley ties the game in the ninth with his second home run of the game, ending reliever Trevor Hoffman's streak of 27 consecutive save conversions.

September 11: Tragedy strikes America, as terrorist attacks in New York, Washington D.C. and Pennsylvania lead to a postponement of baseball for one week. The games are rescheduled for the week following the original end of the regular season, which pushes the World Series into November for the first time.

September 27: Randy Johnson becomes a 20-game winner for the second time in his career, as he defeats Milwaukee at Bank One Ballpark. During the same game, Johnson ties a major league record by recording his 23rd double-digit strikeout game of the season, the third consecutive season he has recorded 23 double-digit strikeout games. Johnson also joins Schilling as the first 20-game winning teammates since 1999.

- September 28: Luis Gonzalez' 54th home run of the season comes in the bottom of the 11th inning, giving Arizona a crucial 4-3 win over the Los Angeles Dodgers.
- October 5: Behind the complete-game, 3-hitter by Albie Lopez, the Diamondbacks clinch a tie for their second National League West Division crown in 3 years, blanking the Brewers in Milwaukee, 5-0. Later that night, San Francisco loses at home to the Dodgers, giving the Diamondbacks the title outright.
- October 9: The Diamondbacks open the National League Division Series with a 1-0 victory over St. Louis, behind the complete-game, 3-hitter by Curt Schilling.
- October 12: Craig Counsell's 3-run homer in the seventh gives the Diamondbacks a dramatic 5-3 victory over the Cardinals in St. Louis, and a 2-1 lead in the best-of-five Division Series. St. Louis attempts to rally in the ninth, but falls short as pinch-hitter Mark McGwire grounds into a game-ending double play.
- October 14: Tony Womack's ninth-inning single scores Danny Bautista with the game-winner as the Diamondbacks post their first-ever playoff series win, defeating the Cardinals 2-1 in Game #5 of the Division Series. Curt Schilling tosses his second complete game of the series, limiting the Cardinals to six hits, while striking out nine.
- October 16: The Diamondbacks are victorious in their first-ever National League Championship Series game, defeating Atlanta in Phoenix, 2-0. Randy Johnson ends a personal 7-game post-season losing streak with a complete-game 3-hitter.
- October 19: Arizona takes a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven series with a 5-1 win in Atlanta. Curt Schilling throws a complete-game 4-hitter, and singled and scored as part of a 3-run fifth inning.
- October 20: Arizona explodes for 12 hits en route to an 11-4 victory over the Braves, to take a 3-1 series lead. The Diamondbacks capitalize on 4 Atlanta errors.
- October 21: The Diamondbacks become the fastest team to reach the World Series, winning the National League pennant in their fourth year of existence by defeating the Braves 3-2 in Turner Field, winning the NLCS. Craig Counsell is named series Most Valuable Player, after hitting .381 in the series. Randy Johnson wins his second game of the series, with Byung-Hyun Kim recording his second save with 2.0 scoreless innings of relief. Erubiel Durazo's 2-run, pinch-hit homer in the fifth inning is the game-winner.
- October 27: The World Series comes to Arizona, as the Diamondbacks open the Fall Classic with a 9-1 victory over the American League Champion New York Yankees. Curt Schilling limits New York to 3 hits over 7.0 innings, while Craig Counsell and Luis Gonzalez each homered.
- October 28: Randy Johnson tosses a 3-hit shutout and strikes out 11 in his first World Series appearance, as the Diamondbacks defeat the Yankees 4-0 to take a 2-0 series lead. Matt Williams' 3-run homer in the seventh inning breaks open a pitcher's duel between Johnson and Andy Pettitte.
- November 3: After dropping 3 heartbreaking games in New York, the Diamondbacks respond with a 15-2 blowout of the Yankees, sending the World Series to a decisive seventh game. Arizona scored early and often, including a Fall Classic record 8 runs in the third. Randy Johnson goes 7.0 innings to pick up his second victory of the series, while Danny Bautista goes 3-for-4 with 5 RBI.
- November 4: The Diamondbacks complete one of the most dramatic World Series in history, and become the fastest team to win a World Championship, by defeating the Yankees 3-2 in the seventh and deciding game. Luis Gonzalez' looping single just beyond shortstop Derek Jeter's grasp scores Jay Bell with the series-winning run. Randy Johnson comes on in relief to pick up his record-tying third Series victory. Johnson and fellow pitcher Curt Schilling are named World Series co-Most Valuable Players.
- November 7: Over 400,000 people line the streets of Downtown Phoenix for a parade honoring the World Champion Diamondbacks. Following the parade, over 50,000 people pack Bank One Ballpark for a celebration rally.
- November 13: Randy Johnson wins his third consecutive National League Cy Young Award, and the fourth of his career. Johnson collects 30 of the 32 first-place votes, with the other 2 going to teammate Curt Schilling, who finished second.
- December 13: The Diamondbacks are the guests of President George W. Bush at the White House. Earlier in the day, the team is treated to a tour of the United States Capitol by Arizona Senator John McCain. President Bush congratulates the Diamondbacks and thanks them for giving the country something to take its mind off the tragedy of the September 11th terrorist attacks.

- February 5: The Diamondbacks sign 18-year old Tetsuya Yamaguchi to a minor league contract, the first Japanese amateur player signed by Arizona.
- April 26: Randy Johnson wins his 6th straight start to open the year, eventually winning Pitcher-of-the-Month honors for April.
- May 17: Erubiel Durazo, in only his second game back from a spring training wrist injury, breaks the club RBI record and ties the home run mark...he hits three 2-run home runs and adds a 3-run double in the eighth inning.

May 29: Curt Schilling improves to 10-1 on the year with the 7-3 win at San Francisco...he adds to the offense, going 2-for-4 with a run scored...his performance on the mound secures Pitcher-of-the-Month honors, going 5-0 with a 2.80 ERA during the month of May.

June 8: Curt Schilling pushes his club-record winning streak to 9 victories as he out-pitches Pedro Martinez at Fenway Park, 3-2.

July 9: Bob Brenly guides the National League squad at the All-Star Game in Milwaukee, WI...joining him at Miller Park are his entire coaching staff, with Robin Yount serving as the A.L.'s honorary captain...Curt Schilling got the starting nod and pitched 2.0 shutout innings...Damian Miller tied an All-Star Game record with 2 doubles...Junior Spivey, Luis Gonzalez and Byung-Hyun Kim also played, while Randy Johnson was selected by bypassed the game.

July 13: Byung-Hyun Kim ties the club record with his third save in as many days...he also notches his first Player-of-the-Week honors for July 11-14.

July 27: Curt Schilling limits the Padres to a lone run over 8.0 innings to complete his perfect month 5-0 in as many starts...he wins the Pitcher-of-the-Month award, posting a 1.64 ERA during July.

August 10: Randy Johnson gets the victory and, in the process, strikes out 14 to move past Tom Seaver and into fifth place on the all-time strikeout list...this performance helps Johnson win Player-of-the-Week honors for August 5-11.

August 16: Curt Schilling picks up his 20th win as he strikes out 12 Chicago Cubs at Wrigley Field.

September 2: Arizona suffers its worst defeat ever, falling 19-1 at the hands of the Los Angeles Dodgers...some of the dark cloud over the contest is lifted as Mark Grace becomes the second position player in team history to take the mound...he surrenders David Ross' first career home run in the ninth.

September 4: Randy Johnson tosses a 3-hitter as Arizona wins 7-1 over Los Angeles...Johnson moves past Bert Blyleven and into fourth place on the all-time strikeout list...it was also Johnson's 20th win, making he and Curt Schilling only the sixth pair of teammates since 1950 to each win 20 games in back-to-back seasons.

September 9: Randy Johnson sets an MLB record with his fifth straight 300+ strikeout season...he also tied Nolan Ryan for most 300+ strikeout seasons in a career (6) and picked up his 21st win, tying his career high.

September 15: Curt Schilling does not get the victory in Arizona's 6-5 win in 13 innings, but he strikes out 8 Milwaukee Brewers to join Randy Johnson as the only teammates in MLB history to each record 300+ strikeouts in the same year.

September 18: Greg Colbrunn becomes the second player in team history to hit for the cycle as he turns the trick in Arizona's 10-3 win at San Diego's Qualcomm Stadium...he goes 5-for-6 and becomes the first player since George Brett (16 innings) on May 18, 1979, to hit 2 home runs and complete a cycle in the same game.

September 26: Randy Johnson establishes a personal best and a club record as he picks up his 24th victory, tops in the majors...he finishes the year 24-5 and captured his first career "Triple Crown" of pitching with a 2.32 ERA and 334 strikeouts...he is only the second National League pitcher since 1973 to lead in all 3 categories, joining the New York Mets' Doc Gooden in 1985...additionally Johnson also earns Pitcher-of-the-Month honors for September (5-0, 0.66 ERA).

November 5: Randy Johnson is a unanimous selection for his fourth consecutive Cy Young Award...he is only the second hurler ever to win 4 in a row matching Greg Maddux (1992-95)...it was Johnson's fifth career Cy Young Award, leaving him only one shy of Roger Clemens' record.

March 31: The Diamondbacks drop their season-opener to the Dodgers, 8-0. In what would be a recurring theme in 2003, Arizona loses relief pitcher Bret Prinz to a strained right groin, forcing him to the 15-day disabled list.

April 13: Robby Hammock goes 3-for-4 with a 3-run homer in his first Major League start, as the Diamondbacks beat Milwaukee at BOB, 9-3.

April 17: Carlos Baerga clubs two home runs, including a grand slam, collecting 7 RBI in an 11-2 home win over Colorado.

April 27: Pitcher Brandon Webb goes 7.0 scoreless innings in his first career Major League start, allowing 3 hits and striking out 10 in a 6-1 win over the Mets in New York in the opening game of a doubleheader. In the nightcap, Randy Johnson strikes out 12. The 27 combined strikeouts by Diamondback pitchers establishes a Major League record for a twin bill.

May 1: Randy Johnson goes on the Disabled List due to an inflamed right knee. The injury would require surgery two weeks later, forcing him out of action for 12 weeks.

May 5: The 12th and final grand slam of Matt Williams' career backs the complete-game pitching of Miguel Batista in a 10-1 home win over Philadelphia.

Chronology (Continued)

May 14: Curt Schilling makes his final appearance in Philadelphia's Veterans Stadium and tosses his second consecutive complete-game shutout, a 2-0 blanking of the Phillies, in which he strikes out 14.

May 29: Arizona acquires infielder Shea Hillenbrand from Boston in exchange for Byung-Hyun Kim.

May 30: Curt Schilling suffers a fracture in his pitching hand when struck by a live drive off the bat of San Diego's Sean Burroughs. Schilling would miss six weeks as a result.

May 31: Matt Williams drives in a run with an eighth inning pinch-hit single in the final appearance of his Major League career. Williams would be designated for assignment the next day, and would officially announce his retirement 8 days later.

June 1: Righthanded pitcher Edgar Gonzalez makes his Major League debut, earning the win in a 10-4 triumph in San Diego.

June 18: A club-record 12-game winning streak begins in Houston, as Luis Gonzalez' homer off of Astros closer Billy Wagner ties the game in the ninth, followed by Quinton McCracken's 2-out RBI single in a 2-1 victory.

June 28: The winning streak reaches 10 games, as Brandon Webb tosses his first Major League complete-game shutout, allowing 7 hits with a walk and 2 strikeouts in a 7-0 win at Detroit.

June 30: The 12th consecutive win occurs in Colorado, as Arizona scored 4 runs in the top of the 12th, and survives a Chris Stynes 3-run homer in the bottom half of the inning for an 8-7 win.

July 7: Shea Hillenbrand becomes the sixth player in Major League history to homer in three consecutive innings, and sets a club record with 15 total bases as Arizona defeats Colorado 14-6.

July 29: The Diamondbacks acquire outfielder Raul Mondesi from the New York Yankees in exchange for outfielder David Dellucci, pitcher Bret Prinz and minor league catcher Jon-Mark Sprowl.

August 9: Steve Finley's walk-off home run to lead off the ninth inning gives Arizona a 2-1 win over the New York Mets. It's also Bob Brenly's 251st win as Diamondbacks Manager, making him the franchise leader in managerial victories.

August 25: Raul Mondesi ties the club record by reaching base for the ninth consecutive plate appearance, earning a first-inning walk in an 11-8 win over San Diego.

August 30: Randy Johnson notches his 1,500th strikeout as a D'Back by fanning San Francisco's Jerome Williams in third inning.

September 10: Oscar Villarreal establishes a franchise record for games pitched in a season, making his 79th appearance of the year in a 5-4 win over Los Angeles. Villarreal picks up the victory as Arizona scores all five of its runs in the eighth inning.

September 14: Randy Johnson tosses his fourth career 1-hitter, his first as a Diamondback, in a 5-0 win over Colorado. The lone hit is a one-out single from Rene Reyes in the fifth inning.

September 19: Randy Johnson clubs his first career Major League home run, a third inning solo shot off of Doug Davis, as the Diamondbacks beat the Brewers in Milwaukee, 3-2.

September 23: Arizona is officially eliminated from the Wild Card race, dropping a 20-9 decision at Colorado.

September 26: First baseman Mark Grace announces his intention to retire at the end of the season, prior to the opening game of the season's final series.

September 27: Grace makes his final Major League start, going 2-3, including his 511th career double, moving him into 35th on the all-time list.

September 28: Grace makes his final game appearance as a late-inning defensive replacement at first base. In the same contest, Carlos Baerga breaks David Dellucci's club record by collecting his 19th pinch hit of the season.

October 17: The Diamondbacks make changes in their coaching staff, adding Al Pedrique as Third Base Coach and Rick Schu as Hitting Coach. Robin Yount and Glenn Sherlock switch responsibilities, with Yount becoming Bench Coach and Sherlock taking over as First Base Coach.

November 28: Arizona trades Curt Schilling to Boston in exchange for Casey Fossum, Brandon Lyon, minor league pitcher Jorge De la Rosa and a player to be named.

December 1: Arizona acquires first baseman Richie Sexson, Shane Nance and a player-to-be-named (Noochie Varner) from Milwaukee in exchange for infielders Craig Counell, Junior Spivey and Lyle Overbay, John Patterson, Chris Capuano and Jorge De la Rosa.

December 24: Sandy Johnson is promoted to Vice President/Senior Assistant General Manager, and Bob Miller is promoted to Assistant General Manager.

January 6: The Diamondbacks sign 12-time All-Star infielder Roberto Alomar to a one-year contract.

April 20: Second baseman Roberto Alomar is hit by a pitch during Arizona's 4-2 loss in Milwaukee. Alomar suffers a fractured right hand, forcing him out of action for 56 games.

April 22: Infielder Chad Tracy makes his first big league start, going 4-for-8, as Arizona outlasts Milwaukee, 11-9, in 15 innings.

April 26: Richie Sexson hits his ninth home run in the season's first month, coming in the 6th inning of a 9-0 home win over the Chicago Cubs. The blast hits the Jumbotron, requiring repairs to the screen.

April 27: One night after his mammoth blast, Sexson's season comes to a halt as he suffers a subluxation in the left shoulder. The injury occurred as he checked his swing in the 9th inning of a 10-1 win over the Cubs.

May 5: Rookie righthander Casey Daigle gets his first Major League win by teaming with four relievers to blank the Cubs at Wrigley Field, 2-0.

May 9: Reliever Matt Mantei's season ends as he is placed on the disabled list due to right shoulder tendonitis.

May 18: Randy Johnson adds another chapter to his historic career, becoming the 16th pitcher in Major League to toss a perfect game, with a 2-0 blanking of the Braves in Atlanta. Johnson threw 115 pitches, the last a 98 mile-per-hour fastball to strike out Eddie Perez. The perfect game is the first no-hitter in Diamondbacks history, and the first perfect game in the majors since David Cone on July 18, 1999, in Yankee Stadium vs. Montreal.

May 21: Richie Sexson returns to the active roster, and goes 1-for-5 in a 6-5, 10-inning loss at Florida.

May 22: One day after returning to active duty, Richie Sexson aggravates the left shoulder injury that originally put him on the disabled list. The injury would require season-ending surgery.

June 17: Behind the pitching of knuckleballer Steve Sparks, the Diamondbacks salvage the final game of a three-game home series with the New York Yankees, 6-1. Sparks limits the Yankees to 3 hits over 7.0 innings, with Elmer Dessens earning his second save. All three games of the series are sellouts, the first home series sellout since August 23-25, 2002, versus the Chicago Cubs.

June 29: Randy Johnson becomes just the fourth pitcher in baseball history to reach the 4,000 strikeout plateau, with his strikeout of San Diego's Jeff Cirillo in the 8th inning. The Padres hand the Diamondbacks their 11th consecutive loss, 3-2.

July 2: Bob Brenly is replaced as Manager by third base coach Al Pedrique. The move is one of several changes on the coaching staff. Glenn Sherlock moves from first base to third base coaching duties, with Tommy Jones moving from Director of Player Development to first base coach. Mark Davis moves from bullpen coach to pitching coach, replacing Chuck Kniffin. Lorenzo Bundy is elevated from Class AAA Tucson hitting coach to Diamondbacks bench coach, replacing Robin Yount, who resigned. Minor League pitching coordinator Dennis Lewallyn becomes bullpen coach.

July 4: Al Pedrique's first win as a Major League manager comes courtesy of Randy Johnson, who pitches the Diamondbacks to a 6-2 home win over Minnesota. Johnson tosses a complete game for his 10th win of the year.

July 26: Brandon Webb puts an end to a franchise-record 14-game losing streak, tossing 7.1 innings in a 4-1 win at Houston. The game also marks the first Major League save for rookie Greg Aquino.

July 31: Arizona deals outfielder Steve Finley and catcher Brent Mayne to the Los Angeles Dodgers at the trade deadline, receiving catcher Koyie Hill, outfielder Reggie Abercrombie and pitcher Bill Murphy in return.

August 6: Diamondbacks CEO Jerry Colangelo announces he will leave his post at the end of the season, to be replaced by Jeff Moorad.

August 25: Back-to-back 7th inning home runs by Jack Wilson and Jason Bay give the Pirates a 2-1 win over Randy Johnson in Pittsburgh. The game is played in 1 hour, 47 minutes, breaking the record for the shortest 9-inning game in franchise history by 7 minutes.

September 10: Randy Johnson earns his 100th win as a Diamondback on his 41st birthday. Doug DeVore hits a 2-run homer in the seventh off of southpaw Wayne Franklin to help Johnson beat San Francisco, 2-1.

September 15: Randy Johnson becomes baseball's strikeout leader among lefthanded pitchers with a 7th inning punchout of Colorado's Vinny Castilla. The strikeout moves Johnson into third place on the all-time list, past Steve Carlton. The Diamondbacks defeat the Rockies at Bank One Ballpark, 3-2.

October 2: Randy Johnson's final appearance as a Diamondback comes in a 7-6 win over San Diego at Bank One Ballpark. Johnson allows 1 earned run over 8.0 innings, strikes out 8, and hits a 2-run double as part of a 5-run fourth inning. The win puts Johnson's 2004 record at 16-14.

November 5: The Diamondbacks hire Bob Melvin as Manager, after rescinding the contract offer made to Wally Backman. Melvin served as Diamondbacks' Bench Coach during for two seasons, including the club's World Championship season of 2001. Melvin names former Diamondback infielder Jay Bell to his staff as Bench Coach.

December 9: Free-agent infielder Troy Glaus signs with the Diamondbacks.

December 10: The Diamondbacks sign free-agent righthanded pitcher Russ Ortiz, a 15-game winner in 2004 with the Atlanta Braves.

December 14: Free-agent infielder Royce Clayton signs with Arizona.

December 15: Infielder Craig Counsell, one of the key members of Arizona's 2001 World Championship team, returns to Arizona, signed as a free agent.

January 11: The Diamondbacks complete two major trades, sending lefthanded pitcher Randy Johnson to the New York Yankees in exchange for lefthanded pitcher Brad Halsey and catcher Dioner Navarro. Arizona then sends Navarro and minor league pitchers Danny Muegge, Beltran Perez and William Juarez to the Los Angeles Dodgers for outfielder Shawn Green. In a corresponding move, Green is signed to a three-year contract.

January 12: Infielder Shea Hillenbrand is traded to Toronto for righthanded pitcher Adam Peterson. Diamondbacks also sign free agent pitcher, and Paradise Valley resident, Shawn Estes to a one-year contract.

February 6: The Diamondbacks acquire Jose Cruz, Jr. from the Tampa Bay Devil Rays in exchange for pitcher Casey Fossum and cash considerations.

Scouting and Player Development

Kendall Carter

National Supervisor

Kendall Carter is in his ninth season as the Diamondbacks' National Supervisor. He initially joined Arizona in 1996 as the club's Western Region National Supervisor. He previously worked for the Seattle Mariners from 1991-1995 as the West Area Scout.

Kendall signed with the Texas Rangers as their 14th round selection of the 1984 June draft. He spent two seasons pitching for Texas' Class A affiliates in the Midwest and Florida State Leagues.

An Arizona native, Carter capped his high school career at Scottsdale Coronado High School with Class AAA Player-of-the-Year honors in 1980. Kendall then attended Arizona State University where he compiled a 47-9 ledger 1981-84. He holds the school record with 102 career appearances while tying the school mark with 47 career wins and the single-season record with 19 wins in 1981. Kendall set an NCAA freshman record for victories as he went 19-1 in 1981 while leading the Sun Devils to the National Championship and notching first team All-America honors.

Following his playing days, Carter returned to Arizona State from 1986-90. Serving primarily as the recruiting coordinator, he was also an assistant coach for the Sun Devils, who appeared in the College World Series in 1997-98. In the fall of 2001, Carter was inducted into the ASU Athletic Hall of Fame. He was also inducted into the City of Scottsdale Sports Hall of Fame in February of 2002.

Ed Durkin

Eastern Supervisor

Ed Durkin enters his sixth season as the Eastern Regional Supervisor, his ninth overall season with Arizona. He held the title of Professional Scouting Coordinator from September of 1996-1998, a role that had him heavily involved in the 1997 Major League Expansion Draft for the Diamondbacks.

Durkin has amassed 19 years of scouting experience. He started as a part-time scout in 1986 with Milwaukee before serving as a full-time scout from 1988-92 and a National Crosschecker (Eastern) from 1993-96. He makes his home in Palm Harbor, Florida.

Steve McAllister

Central Supervisor

Steve McAllister assumes the role of Central Supervisor for the first time as he enters his fourth season with the D'Backs. He spent the previous three years as a full-time scout in the Midwest region.

McAllister has been in professional baseball as a player and scout for the past 24 years. In 1981, he was drafted out of Bradley University as the Houston Astros' fifth-round selection. He played six seasons in the minor leagues before starting his scouting career. He has scouted the Midwest for the Milwaukee Brewers, California Angels and the Boston Red Sox.

Steve is an inductee in both the Chillocothe (IL) High School Athletic Hall of Fame and the Bradley University Athletic Hall of Fame.

Kris Kline

Western Supervisor

Kris Kline enters his second season as Arizona's Western Supervisor after spending his first four seasons as Central Supervisor. Prior to joining the Diamondbacks, he was a scout for 10 years in the Anaheim Angels organization where he also played four seasons in their minor league system.

Kline was a high school teammate of Diamondbacks' National Supervisor Kendall Carter and was on the Scottsdale Coronado High School Class AAA State Championship Team in 1979. Kris played collegiately at Grand Canyon College and helped lead the Antelopes to the 1982 NAIA National Championship.

International Scouting

Since signing the organization's first two prospects, both of whom were from the Dominican Republic, in 1995, the Diamondbacks have placed great emphasis on scouting talent from around the globe. Arizona has scouted and signed players from Australia, Canada, Columbia, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Korea, Mexico, Netherlands Antilles, Nicaragua, Panama and Venezuela. In addition to inking players from the United States and Puerto Rico, the Diamondbacks have also signed players who previously played in Japan and Taiwan.

Junior Noboa was promoted to Director of Latin America Operations on October 31, 2003, after serving as the Latin American Coordinator. He also works as the Director of the Diamondbacks' baseball academy in the Dominican Republic. He was the organization's first international hire in August, 1995 and a month later signed the organization's first two players. In 1997, he was the first recipient of the Roland Hemond Award, bestowed upon a member of the baseball department who best exemplifies the "Diamondback" approach to their work. In 1999, Noboa signed Geraldo Guzman, a carpenter who had not played professionally since 1992 but went on to pitch in 17 games for the Diamondbacks from 2000-01.

Jim Marshall continues to serve as Director of Pacific Rim Operations, a role he has filled since coming on-board in 1996. His main duty is to maintain relations with baseball organizations in Australia, Japan, Korea and Taiwan. He also works as a major league and advance scout for the Diamondbacks.

Marshall played in the Major Leagues from 1958-62, logging time with the Baltimore Orioles, Chicago Cubs, San Francisco Giants, the original 1962 New York Mets and the Pittsburgh Pirates. He managed the Chicago Cubs from 1974-76 and the Oakland Athletics in 1979.

His first visit to Japan was in 1960 as part of a goodwill tour with the Giants. Three years later, he signed with the Chunichi Dragons of the Japanese Central League and hit .268 with 78 home runs and 252 RBI over 3 campaigns.

2004 First-Year Player Draft

The Diamondbacks selected Florida State University junior shortstop Stephen Drew with the 15th overall pick in the first round. Arizona continued to focus its draft selections on college-level players and for the fourth time in the last five drafts chose a college player with their first pick. The Diamondbacks stayed in the college ranks for their first 19 picks and chose 31 players overall from 4-year colleges as well as another 10 from junior and community colleges. Arizona tabbed 8 high school prospects. The D'Backs inked 25 of their first 28 selections and 31 of 50 players overall.

Jack Howell

Minor League Field Coordinator

Jack makes the move from organizational Hitting Coordinator last year to overall Minor League Field Coordinator.

Managing Career: Jack led Missoula to a 35-41 ledger in his first season at the helm in 2002.

Coaching Career: As the hitting coach at Tucson in 2003, Howell's pupils excelled with a league-high .279 average.

Playing Career: Howell played 11 seasons in the majors, hitting 108 homers and driving in 337 runs in 941 games with California/Anaheim, San Diego and Houston...he hit 100 home runs during a 4-year stint in Japan from 1992-95, including a league-leading 38 roundtrippers in 1992 for the Yakult Swallows...he competed collegiately at the University of Arizona in 1983 after a pair of campaigns at Pima Community College in Tucson...he played at Palo Verde High School in Tucson.

Dennis Lewallyn

Pitching Coordinator

An organizational original, Dennis is in his tenth season in the organization and returns to the role he occupied from 2002 through July 2004, when he was elevated to Bullpen Coach for the Major League club. As pitching coordinator, Dennis will oversee minor league pitching coaches and serve as a roving instructor during the minor league season.

Coaching Career: Dennis began his Diamondback coaching career as pitching coach for Lethbridge (Rookie-Advanced) in 1996...he then worked with South Bend (A) in 1997 and moved on to High Desert (A) in 1998 before spending three seasons in El Paso (AA) from 1999-2001...prior to joining the Diamondbacks, Dennis spent 13 years as a pitching instructor for the Los Angeles Dodgers' organization.

Playing Career: Dennis pitched professionally for 11 seasons...he made his big league debut in 1975 with the Dodgers and went on to play 8 seasons in the majors, including stints with Texas in 1980 and Cleveland in 1981...he went 15-2 with 24 saves for Albuquerque in 1980 en route to the Pacific Coast League's Pitcher-of-the-Year honors...he was selected to the 1980 and '81 Class AAA All-Star squads.

David Nillson

Catching Coordinator

David makes his debut in the organization instructing the farm system's backstops.

Coaching Career: In his first career coaching stint, David served as an instructor for the Olympic squad in his native Australia during the 2000 Summer Games in Sydney.

Playing Career: Nillson spent 15 seasons as a player, including eight campaigns in the Major Leagues and one season in Japan...he spent his entire big league career with the Milwaukee Brewers, posting a .284 batting average with 105 home runs and 470 RBI in 839 games...he enjoyed a career year statistically in 1996, batting .331 with 17 roundtrippers and 84 RBI over 123 contests while leading the American League with a .359 clip against righthanded pitchers and ranking sixth in overall batting average...he earned his lone All-Star berth in 1999 with the National League team...following a 3-year hiatus, he returned to baseball for his final season in 2004 with Atlanta's Triple-A affiliate in Richmond.

Rich Schu Hitting Coordinator

Rick enters his eighth season with the organization and resumes his role overseeing hitting instruction for Arizona's farm system, a position he held in 2003.

Coaching Career: Rick began his coaching career in 1998 with South Bend (A) before coaching for High Desert/Lancaster in the California League from 1999-2001...he jumped to Tucson (AAA) for the 2002 season...he assumed the Hitting Coordinator position in 2003 and under his tutelage, Arizona's full-season clubs combined for a .276 batting average, the highest mark among all minor league organizations...he was the Arizona Diamondbacks hitting coach for the 2004 season, his first in the majors.

Playing Career: Rick was a third baseman during his 16-year professional career, the majority of which came in the Philadelphia chain and included big league stops with Baltimore, Detroit, California and a brief one-game stint with Montreal...Rick amassed a .246 batting average with 41 homers and 137 RBI in 580 career big league games...his breakout season with Portland (AAA) in 1984 included a .301 batting average and a spot on the Pacific Coast League All-Star team, propelling him into the majors...he logged a pair of seasons with the Nippon Ham Fighters in Japan from 1993-94 before returning to the states for his final two years.

Lee Tinsley Outfield Coordinator

Lee Tinsley is in his third season of directing the organization's minor league outfielders.

Coaching Career: Tinsley has three years of coaching experience, making his coaching debut in 2001 as hitting coach at El Paso (AA)...he moved to the Anaheim organization in 2002 where he served as hitting coach for Rancho Cucamonga (A)...Lee returned to the Diamondbacks' organization in 2003 in his current capacity.

Playing Career: Lee played professionally for 14 seasons, including time in the majors with Seattle, Boston and Philadelphia...a career .241 hitter, he collected 13 homers and 79 RBI in 361 big league games...he also played at the minor league level in the Oakland, Cleveland, Montreal, Anaheim and Cincinnati farm systems...he last suited up as a player in 2000 with the Valley Vipers of the independent Western League.

Mike Bahn Minor League Strength & Conditioning Coordinator

Mike is in his fourth season with the Diamondbacks' organization, his first as the Minor League Strength and Conditioning Coordinator.

He is responsible for designing and implementing a year-round strength and conditioning program for the Diamondbacks' minor league players. Following the June draft, he will work with short-season players in Yakima and Missoula.

He served as the strength and conditioning coach for Yakima in 2002, Missoula in 2003 and the Tucson Sidewinders last season. During the last four off-seasons, Mike has served as an adjunct professor at the University of Puget Sound, teaching biomechanics.

He completed his undergrad work at the University of Puget Sound then did his graduate coursework at Western Washington, both times earning a degree in exercise science. Prior to pursuing his master's, he was the Director of Exercise Programs at a physical therapy clinic in Puyallup, WA.

Mike resides in Tacoma, WA, and is engaged to Laura Tietjen.

Yakima Bears - A (Short Season)

Jay Gainer Manager

Ht: 6-0

Born: October 8, 1966 in Panama City, FL

Wt: 180

Residence: Ellsburg, VA

Managing Career: This is Jay's first stint as a manager after two seasons as a coach with Yakima.

Coaching Career: Jay was the hitting coach for the Bears the last two seasons, with some of his prized pupils making huge strides within the organization...among his first-year players in '03 was Northwest League MVP Conor Jackson and Jamie D'Antona, who tied for the league lead with 15 homers.

Playing Career: Gainer put in 12 years of service in pro ball...he played in 23 games for the Colorado Rockies in their inaugural season in 1993...he is one of 19 players to hit a home run on the first pitch in his first Major League at bat, taking the Reds' Tim Lincecum over the fence in rightfield at Riverfront Stadium on May 14, 1993...Jay played in Mexico from 1998-2001.

Erik Sabel Pitching Coach

Born: October 14, 1974 in Lafayette, IN

Ht: 6-3

Wt: 190

Residence: Indianapolis, IN

Coaching Career: Erik returns to the Diamondbacks' organization as a coach after spending the majority of his playing career in the Arizona system...he becomes the third former Diamondbacks to serve as a coach in the organization, with Ed Vosberg and Jay Bell being the others.

Playing Career: Erik was a 42nd round selection in the Diamondbacks' first-ever June draft (1996), and played professionally for eight seasons...he started at short-season Lethbridge, and also made stops at High Desert, Tulsa, El Paso and Tucson before reaching the Major Leagues with the Diamondbacks in 2001...Erik pitched in 42 games for the World Champion Diamondbacks that season, posting a 3-2 record with a 4.38 ERA...he split time in 2002 between the Diamondbacks and Detroit Tigers' organizations, then returned to Tucson for the 2003 campaign...in 254 games in the Minor Leagues, Erik posted a 38-40 record with an ERA of 4.76, along with 16 saves.

Luis De Los Santos Hitting Coach

Born: December 29, 1966, in New York City, NY

Wt: 190

Residence: New York, NY

Coaching Career: After serving the past two years as Manager of the Diamondbacks' Dominican Summer Academy team, Luis returns to the U.S. as hitting coach for the Bears.

Playing Career: Luis played in 55 Major League games, compiling a .209 career average...he made his ML debut with Kansas City in 1988, appeared again with the Royals in 1989, and made his final big league stop with Detroit in 1991...Luis also played in the minor leagues with the Royals, Tigers, Marlins and Orioles organizations, and played two seasons in Mexico.

WHERE ARIZONA FANS COME FIRST

Covering the Diamondbacks

Media favorite, Luis Gonzalez, talks with reporters during a winter session in Bank One Ballpark.

Thom Brennaman Television Play-by-Play

One of the most versatile announcers in the industry, Thom Brennaman is in his eighth season in Arizona, handling the play-by-play duties on the Diamondbacks Television Network and Fox Sports Net, while making periodic appearances in the play-by-play chair on KTAR Radio.

In addition to his work with the Diamondbacks, Brennaman continues his role with FOX Network's Major League Baseball telecasts, featuring his regular Saturday afternoon assignments. He has also been in the network booth for Division Series and League Championship Series action in October.

Brennaman joined the Diamondbacks two years before they took the field, coming to Arizona after six years with the Chicago Cubs, working on both WGN Television and Radio. Prior to that, Thom spent two seasons working alongside his father, Hall of Fame broadcaster Marty Brennaman, with the Cincinnati Reds. In addition to calling Reds games on television with Hall of Fame catcher Johnny Bench, Thom spent time as a weekend sports anchor for WLWT-TV, and as morning drive sports anchor on WLW Radio.

When Randy Johnson tossed his perfect game last May, Thom joined Marty as the only father/son duo to each call a perfect game, with Marty describing Tom Browning's with the Reds in 1988.

A graduate of Ohio University, Thom spent three winters as the voice of Fox Sports Net's Sunday Night Atlantic Coast Conference College Basketball package. This past New Year's Day, he called his sixth consecutive Cotton Bowl for the FOX Network. He previously handled University of Cincinnati basketball telecasts and NFL Football for FOX, and served as play-by-play announcer for the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament on CBS Radio.

Thom and his wife Polly are the proud parents of daughter Ella Mae (1), and are expecting their second child during the spring of '05. The Brennammans reside in Scottsdale with their three dogs, Bear, Wiley and Bora. In what spare time he has, Thom serves on the board of the Arizona Humane Society, and he and Polly are also actively involved with Sunshine Acres, a Christian Children's Home.

Greg Schulte

Radio and Television Play-by-Play

Valley sportscasting veteran Greg Schulte is in his eighth year as a play-by-play announcer for the Diamondbacks. Greg will be heard again on the Diamondbacks Radio Network, and will move to the television network when Thom Brennaman is away on his FOX Network assignments on weekends.

Greg's voice will forever be linked with one of baseball's greatest moments, as he delivered the call of Luis Gonzalez' ninth-inning single to win the 7th game of the 2001 World Series.

A part of the Phoenix radio scene since 1979, Greg joined the Diamondbacks after spending 14 years at the Diamondbacks flagship radio station, KTAR. Over that time, Schulte was involved with nearly every major sports entity in the market. He served for 15 seasons with the Phoenix Suns, working with Al McCoy first as producer, and, for the last two seasons, as color commentator. He also served as analyst for Arizona State University football and basketball, and shared play-by-play duties for ASU Baseball. In addition, Greg spent three years as pre and post-game host for the NFL Cardinals broadcasts after they arrived from St. Louis.

Greg is also active in the community, working extensively with the Leukemia-Lymphoma Society.

Prior to his arrival in Arizona, Schulte was sports director at WQUA in Moline, IL, and also handled play-by-play duties for University of Iowa basketball. Greg and his wife Nancy have two children, Scott, born in 1980, and Stephanie, born in 1983, and reside in Glendale.

Mark Grace Television Analyst

After a distinguished 16-year Major League playing career, Mark Grace made the transition to the broadcast booth last year as the Diamondbacks' television analyst, working alongside Thom Brennaman on the Diamondbacks Television Network and Fox Sports Arizona. The Diamondbacks also put Grace to work in spring training in 2005 as a coaching advisor on Bob Melvin's staff.

Grace announced his retirement during the final weekend of the 2003 regular season, ending his career with 2,445 hits, a .303 average, 511 doubles, 173 home runs and 1,146 RBI in 2,245 Major League games. He was a four-time winner of the Rawlings Gold Glove Award, anchoring first base for both the Diamondbacks and Chicago Cubs. He led the majors during the decade of the 90's with 1,754 hits and 364 doubles, while his 1,238 singles ranked second only to future Hall of Famer Tony Gwynn.

Grace joined the Diamondbacks in 2001, after 13 seasons with the Cubs, and was an integral part of the Diamondbacks' World Championship that year. He will be forever remembered for the single off of the Yankees' Mariano Rivera to open the bottom of the ninth inning in Game #7 of the World Series. Mark's hit ignited a 2-run rally that lifted Arizona from a 2-1 deficit to a 3-2 win and the state's first-ever major sport championship. Grace also had the thrill of homering in Yankee Stadium, hitting an upper deck shot in Game #4 of the Fall Classic. He prefaced his lone career World Series appearance by going 6-for-16 in the 2001 National League Championship Series against Atlanta.

Grace's move to the broadcast booth is not new territory for the former first sacker, as he served as an analyst for ESPN Radio during the 1999 and 2000 Division Series. Mark, his wife Tanya, and sons, Jackson (4) and Preston (1), and reside in Paradise Valley.

Grace bids farewell to the fans at Bank One Ballpark after leaving his 2,245th and final Major League game. He announced his retirement as an active player on the final weekend of the 2003 season.

Ken Phelps Radio Analyst

Ken Phelps returns for his second year as an analyst on the Diamondbacks Radio Network. A familiar name to Phoenix-area baseball fans, Phelps quickly became a fan favorite last season with his insights and easy-going on-air style.

A former Arizona State University standout, Ken played in 761 Major League games over 11 seasons, seeing duty with Kansas City, Montreal, Seattle, New York Yankees, Oakland and Cleveland. Phelps, a lefthanded-hitting first baseman, clubbed 123 big league home runs, with his best season coming in 1987 when he hit 27 roundtrippers for the Mariners. While with the A's, Phelps was a member of Oakland's 1989 World Championship squad in the famous Fall Classic against the Giants that was interrupted by the bay area earthquake.

Phelps earned All-America status at Mesa Community College in 1974, then moved to ASU, where he played for two seasons under legendary coach Jim Brock. Phelps was a two-time All-Western Athletic Conference performer as well as a member of the All-College World Series team during his Sun Devil career (1975-76). He later returned to Tempe as an assistant coach under Brock in 1990. He has also served as a coach in the Milwaukee Brewers organization.

Phelps and his wife, Debra, have two sons, Nathan (19) and MacKinley (12). They reside in Paradise Valley.

Joe Garagiola Television Analyst

Any baseball team would love to have a Hall of Famer available to pinch-hit, and the Diamondbacks have got just that, as Joe Garagiola, a member of the broadcasters' wing of the Baseball Hall of Fame, returns for his eighth season as an analyst. Garagiola will work selected games throughout the 2005 season.

Garagiola has combined insight and humor over five decades of baseball broadcasting, including nearly 25 years on the Saturday Game of the Week telecasts on NBC. In addition, Garagiola spent 11 years as a co-host on NBC's Today Show, as well serving as host of a number of popular game shows.

Garagiola's broadcasting career began shortly after his playing career ended. Joe broke into the major leagues in 1946 as a catcher with the St. Louis Cardinals, and contributed four hits in Game Four of the 1946 World Series, won by the Cardinals in six games. Joe also played with the Chicago Cubs, New York Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates. Upon retirement in 1954, Garagiola was offered a position on the Cardinals' broadcast team, working with fellow Hall of Famers Harry Caray and Jack Buck. Garagiola would eventually move to the television booth with the New York Yankees, working with the initial co-winner of the Ford C. Frick award, Red Barber. At NBC, Garagiola shared the booth with two more Cooperstown enshrinees, Curt Gowdy and Vin Scully.

A Valley resident, Garagiola has been extremely active in the community and was honored as the 1998 recipient of the Children's MVP Award presented by the Jim Eisenreich Foundation. The award goes to a former player who has made significant contributions to children's causes. He works tirelessly for B.A.T., the Baseball Assistance Team, and is very visible at major league spring training camps, educating players on the evils of spit tobacco.

Garagiola was honored in November of 2001 the Arizona Chamber of Commerce for his work in the community, which includes his efforts on behalf of the St. Peter's Indian Mission in the Gila River Indian Community. Nicknamed "Awesome Fox" by the staff of St. Peter's, the baseball field at St. Peter's School is named "Awesome Fox Field" in his honor.

Jeff Munn Radio Play-by-Play

Jeff Munn, the Arizona Diamondbacks' Public Address Announcer since the club's inception, is in his fifth season as the club's radio play-by-play announcer during weekends when Thom Brennaman is away on assignment for FOX, and Greg Schulte is handling television play-by-play duties.

Munn will continue to serve as the Public Address Announcer when he is not behind the radio microphone.

This past winter, Munn served as play-by-play radio voice for Arizona State University's Women's Basketball, and served in a fill-in capacity on ASU Men's Basketball and Baseball radio broadcasts.

Munn attended Arizona State University, majoring in history. He resides in Tempe with his wife of 13 years, Laurie, and their two children, Patrick (9) and Hayley (6).

TELEVISION COVERAGE EXPANDED

The Diamondbacks' Television Network will expand its coverage in 2005, by adding a 30-minute pre-game show before 40 of its 75 scheduled telecasts on 3TV in Phoenix.

"Diamondbacks On Deck, presented by Coulter Cadillac" will be hosted by Thom Brennaman, and will air live from the game site. The show will include late-breaking news, lineups and features on Diamondbacks players, coaches and officials. When Brennaman is away on assignment, Greg Schulte will serve as host.

In addition, the popular weekly magazine show "D-Backs, Playin' Hardball" will once again air on Sundays following Diamondbacks game broadcasts on 3TV. Jon Magnuson, a member of the Diamondbacks' broadcast department since the team's inception, takes over as host. Television analyst Mark Grace will add regular feature reports.

A talented production team that includes Jerry Romo, Rob Weinheimer and Erin Bryant backs Magnuson. Romo joins the staff full time this season as lead producer of "Diamondbacks on Deck." Weinheimer will serve as a feature producer for all Diamondbacks productions while continuing his responsibilities with the in-ballpark Jumbotron show for Diamondbacks home games. Bryant has served as the Diamondbacks videographer since the inaugural 1998 season. The group's work has been recognized by their peers, as "D-Backs, Playin' Hardball" has been nominated each of the past five years for a Rocky Mountain Regional Emmy Award, winning the award in 2000.

Once again this season, the Diamondbacks will offer broadcasts of all 162 regular season games in Spanish. The Diamondbacks' Spanish Radio Network will again be anchored by KSUN - Radio Fiesta (1400 AM). Spanish radio broadcasts will also be fed on SAP during all Diamondbacks telecasts on KTVK (NewsChannel 3) and FSN Arizona.

Miguel Quintana Spanish Radio Play-by-Play

Miguel Quintana, who began his broadcast career in Phoenix 21 years ago, is in his eighth season as the Diamondbacks' Spanish play-by-play voice.

Miguel began his career as a 15-year-old sportswriter for El Sol in Agua Prieta, Sonora. In 1981, he joined KIFN Radio (now KVVU) in Phoenix as a sports commentator, and later moved to KTVW (Channel 33), eventually becoming sports director. Quintana also worked in Los Angeles for KVEA-TV, before returning to the Valley in 1995 to serve as play-by-play voice for the Arizona Sandsharks indoor soccer team.

Miguel has been a baseball commentator for the Mexican Pacific League and has done play-by-play for the Arizona Rattlers. He has three daughters, Lisette (21), Jasmine (16) and Jennifer (11).

Oscar Soria

Spanish Radio and Television Play-by-Play

At the tender edge of 34, Oscar Soria is one of the most respected baseball commentators in the Hispanic community. Oscar is in his sixth full season on Diamondbacks Spanish broadcasts.

Soria is a veteran of 15 seasons as a broadcaster with the Hermosillo Naranjeros in winter baseball and also covers the Diamondbacks for El Imparcial, writing a daily column. When in Hermosillo, he's the host a television show on baseball, a show that was started by Oscar in 1993. Oscar was among the nominees of announcers for the Mexican Pacific League "All Century Team", finishing second in the general balloting and voted as the best TV announcer.

Oscar has also covered basketball, boxing, soccer, tennis and football for Telemex in Sonora, he was the announcer for Telemex in the 2004 division and championship series.

The native of Tijuana, Mexico graduated from Universidad del Noroeste with a degree in accounting. Oscar and his wife, Benny, have a daughter, Paula (4), and make their home in Hermosillo.

Richard Saenz Director of Hispanic Marketing/Spanish Radio Analyst

The man overseeing the Diamondbacks' marketing efforts in the Hispanic community puts on the headsets again this season, as Richard Saenz is in his fifth season as an analyst.

Saenz has been with the Diamondbacks' organization since 1996. Prior to that, he spent 18 years with the Arizona Electric Power Cooperative in his native Benson, eventually becoming the company's Director of Business Development. Saenz also served for years as Mayor of Benson from 1989 through 1993.

Saenz played baseball for two years at Cochise College in Douglas, then continued his education at Eastern Oregon State University in LaGrand, Ore. Richard, his wife Sheri and their son R.J. (2), reside in Phoenix. Richard also has a daughter, Alisha, and two granddaughters, three-year-old Jayden, and Kendall Grace (9/12/04).

Mark Reda
Broadcast Producer

Leo Gilmartin
Radio Producer/Engineer

Mark Reda

The only game producer the Diamondbacks have known, Mark is in his eighth season at the helm of all games aired on Fox Sports Net Arizona as well as over-the-air local 3TV. During the last four seasons, his productions have won five Emmy Awards in the Rocky Mountain Southwest region.

Reda has spent more than 20 years in sports television. A graduate of UCLA, he has worked on local baseball broadcasts for the Dodgers, Rockies, Angels and Athletics, as well as national television broadcasts for the FOX network, CBS, ABC and ESPN.

Mark and his wife, Sheri, live in Mesa with their son, Anthony (13), and daughter, Brianna (10).

Leo Gilmartin

An Arizona native, Leo Gilmartin joined the Diamondbacks in September of 1996 as manager of broadcast services, then for the last four seasons has been a full-time member of the travel party as the producer/engineer for all radio broadcasts on KTAR (620 AM). His day-to-day management tasks include overseeing the team's radio and television networks, which include stations in California, New Mexico, Nevada, Texas and Arizona, of course.

Gilmartin graduated from Arizona State University with a degree in broadcast journalism and added his current radio production duties beginning with the 2001 season. His father, Joe, has been a long-time journalist in the Valley and currently writes for Diamondbacks Magazine.

Leo and his wife, Gail, have two daughters, Sara (3/1/99) and Hannah (12/30/02), and make their home in Chandler.

Remembering Our Friends

John Michaelson Radio Booth

The KTAR Radio booth in Bank One Ballpark was named after John Michaelson prior to the 2001 season, honoring the veteran producer/engineer who passed away in the winter of 2000. A veteran behind the scenes in radio broadcasting for years, including three seasons on Diamondback broadcasts, John was a tireless worker and friend to all who came in contact with him.

Steve Pascente Memorial Press Lounge

Steve Pascente was one of the most dedicated at his craft and died while on location covering football in Washington D.C. His wife, Julie, has kept his memory alive with the Steve Pascente Charitable Foundation, which supports a variety of foundations including Widowed With Children, The Steve Pascente Memorial Scholarships at Arizona State University and The Andre House. When the Diamondbacks opened the 1998 season against the Colorado Rockies, Nick Pascente, the son of Steve and Julie, served as honorary batboy.

Dick Dozer Memorial Press Box

Dick Dozer spent the majority of his life covering Major League Baseball for the Chicago Tribune, but he was hardly a stranger to the Valley. After leaving the beat of the big leagues, he arrived in Phoenix and wrote for the Gazette, while also contributing his time in organizing the annual "Dream Game," an oldtimers contest that benefitted the Phoenix Memorial Hospital Foundation, and working with the Mesa Ho-Ho-Kams. Dozer was BBWAA Chapter President in 1976. He passed away in 1994, yet his memory lives on daily in the Diamondbacks' front office, as his son, Rich, serves as team President.

Media Coverage Policies

Director - Public Relations — Mike Swanson

Assistants to the Director — David Pape and Casey Wilcox

Media Coordinator - Public Relations — Susan Webner

Staff Assistant — Jeff Munn

It is once again a privilege for our staff to be of assistance as you cover the Arizona Diamondbacks. Bank One Ballpark already ranks as one of the premier sports facilities in the world, and our department will do its best to take care of any reasonable requests. Following are the Public Relations policies for the 2005 season. If you have any questions, do not hesitate to ask any member of our staff and we will make every effort to fulfill your needs.

WORKING PRESS CREDENTIALS: Pursuant to Major League Baseball policy, all season credentials issued by the Diamondbacks will include a laminated picture identification. Due to security issues, no member of the media will be allowed access to Bank One Ballpark without showing a photo ID. Daily passes will be issued to media members who do not qualify for season credentials. Media who qualify for daily credentials include: freelance writers on a specific assignment for a publication, representatives of weekly and monthly publications working on special coverage, and additional radio and television representatives when the need arises for extra pre-game personnel (i.e. live shots, etc.). Requests for daily credentials must come directly from the affiliation editor, producer, or director, on company letterhead at least 48 hours in advance of the game being requested. Requests may be made via FAX only if the requesting affiliation is currently on file with the P.R. office.

PHOTO CREDENTIALS: Daily photo passes will be issued to photographers on assignment for legitimate news gathering organizations, and representatives of companies licensed by Major League Baseball. Requests for photographer credentials must follow the procedure detailed above. The Arizona Diamondbacks will not issue credentials to freelance photographers. Please remember that priority in all photo areas will be granted to news organizations on nightly deadlines. Field photo space at Bank One Ballpark is at a premium and priority for space will be given to daily publications and wire services. There is also a small space designated for in-game photography in the front row of the press box. All photographs taken are to be used for news-gathering purposes or officially licensed products only. Any other use of photographs taken will be considered a violation of existing trademark and copyright restrictions.

AUTOGRAPH POLICY: Credentialed members of the media are prohibited from requesting autographs or equipment on the playing field, in the dugout or in the clubhouse. Any violation of these guidelines will result in immediate revocation of the credential and bar future use.

CLUBHOUSE ACCESS: All credentials will list specific locations in Bank One Ballpark where access is permitted. Members of the media must have a specific reason for clubhouse access to gain admittance. The clubhouse is the dressing and preparation area for the players for that day's game and is not a place for the media to congregate. The clubhouse will close 50 minutes prior to the first pitch, and there may be times where the clubhouse will close earlier for team meetings. Generally, no more than a 10-minute "cooling off" period is applied after games. Post-game access to the visiting clubhouse will be determined by the individual club's policies.

FIELD ACCESS: All members of the media with field access provided on their credential will be allowed to conduct interviews during specified times prior to the start of the game. The field must be cleared 50 minutes prior to the beginning of the game, and at no time is the media permitted in fair territory, or outside the first and third base bags. These precautions are for the safety of all involved while batting practice is in progress.

LIVE TRANSMISSIONS: Non-rightsholders are permitted to transmit live reports from Bank One Ballpark prior to and after every game. All television live shots must be done in designated areas outside the clubhouse due to space limitations, or on the warning track area outside either dugout. Live television reports by non-rightsholders are prohibited while the rightsholder is on the air or the game is in progress. Radio stations and assigned correspondents for out of town reports are allowed to give inning or half inning score updates. At no time can they file reports once play is under way. Any violation of these policies will result in immediate revocation of credentials.

CELLULAR PHONES: The use of cellular phones is prohibited on the field or in either clubhouse. The only time a radio correspondent can use a cellular phone for an interview would be in either dugout after receiving advance permission from the player or staff member. Any other telephone interviews must be arranged through the Diamondbacks' Public Relations Department.

ROVING CAMERAS: Television stations are prohibited from using a camera light in the seating area of the ballpark. Should a light come on, the game could be stopped by the umpiring crew and any stoppage in play due to a camera light will result in revocation of the credential. Separate credentials will be available for "roving" the stands prior to games. For the comfort of our fans, interviews are to be conducted on the concourse, not in the stands while the game is in progress.

WORKING PRESS BOX: The press box at Bank One Ballpark is located directly behind home plate. The writers' wing is on the first base side, while the broadcast booths are behind the plate and towards the third base side. The front row of the Working Press Box is for members of the BBWAA. All electronic media seats are in the second and third rows. Game notes and statistics will be available for pick-up at least two hours before game time in the area immediately behind the working press box. The Diamondbacks also offer additional working space, with television monitors, in the area behind the press box. A fax machine and copier are available in the press box should the need arise. The press box is an active working area and cheering and loud conversation will not be permitted. At no time will guests be permitted in the press box. The Arizona Diamondbacks prohibit any person under the age of 18 from entering the press box level on game days.

PRESS DINING: The press dining room is located behind the press box. As is consistent with all National League clubs, pre-game meals for the media will be available for a nominal charge ($8.00), and will be served 2 hours prior to game time and up through the end of the first inning. Media members must be properly credentialed for admittance to the dining room.

PHONES FOR MEDIA: The Arizona Diamondbacks are fortunate to have an ample supply of Charge Call phones in the press box. If for some reason media members feel there are not enough lines available, they should investigate installing their own line for use during the season. To have a phone extension installed for the season, or for a single visit to Bank One Ballpark, please contact Vicki Berryman at (602) 462-6099.

Officially, the home of the Arizona Diamondbacks is, like many in Major League Baseball, a "baseball-only" facility.

In the case of Bank One Ballpark, however, the term is very misleading. While designed to serve as a state-of-the-art home for Major League Baseball, there is much more that goes on inside the B.O.B. than just baseball. In seven years of operation, sports such as college football and basketball, soccer and motocross, and a variety of concerts and trade shows have taken place on the field that served as site of the dramatic 7th game of the 2001 World Series.

Owned by Maricopa County, the Ballpark (seating capacity 49,033) joins its next-door neighbor, America West Arena, in making Downtown Phoenix the sports hub of the Valley of the Sun. Located just one block east of the Arena, the Ballpark is bounded by Jefferson Street on the north, Fourth Street on the west and Seventh Street on the east, and is within easy driving distance of two major freeways (Interstate 10 to the north, Interstate 17 to the south).

Bank One Ballpark also holds the distinction of being the second-highest facility in the major leagues, sitting 1,100 feet above sea level. It trails only Denver's Coors Field in terms of elevation.

THE STRUCTURE

Ground was broken on Bank One Ballpark on November 16, 1995, with the construction project taking 28 months at a cost of $354 million.

Bank One Ballpark was designed by Ellerbe Becket, with architect Bill Johnson as the design principal. John Wasson was the project manager for the Diamondbacks, with Huber Hunt & Nichols serving as the managing contractor.

The Ballpark incorporates the traditional look of red brick and green structural steel in a setting that blends into its surroundings. Many of the building's design details are borrowed from the historic warehouse district that surrounds it. One former warehouse, the Arizona Citrus Growers' Packing House, is actually preserved and incorporated into the south façade of the building. Appropriately, that former food warehouse is used as a commissary for the Ballpark's concession stands.

THE ROOF

Game in and game out, fans attending Diamondbacks games are always anxious to see the retractable roof in action before or after the game.

The roof comprises nine million pounds of structural steel, operating on the same tried-and-true technology found in drawbridges and overhead traveling cranes. A pair of 200-horsepower motors open or close the roof in slightly more than four minutes, utilizing more than four miles of cable strung through a pulley system. Each half of the roof consists of three moveable trusses, which telescope over a fixed-end truss. The east and west sides of the roof can operate either in unison or independently. Either side of the roof can be opened to any position in order to maximize sunlight on the turf and minimize sunlight on the interior steel and concrete.

The roof opens and closes to its own music, composed specifically to time out exactly to the four and a-half minutes needed to open or close the roof.

In 2004, the Diamondbacks played 43 games with the roof closed, one fewer than the previous season, while 38 were played with the roof open. The highest temperature for a game played with the roof open last season was 82 degrees (May 10, a night game versus the New York Mets).

ROOF OPEN - ROOF CLOSED?

It's a major discussion point among fans on a daily basis - to open or not to open the Ballpark roof.

The decision is made on a game-to-game basis, and it depends on the outside conditions. In the early portion of the season, conditions are generally more favorable to opening the roof, not just because the air temperature is lower, but also because the air is drier, meaning the temperature drops rapidly after sunset.

Into the summer months, the famed Arizona monsoon adds higher humidity to the triple-digit temperatures, making it necessary to keep the roof closed. Even with that, there have been days where daytime cloud cover has kept the temperatures down, allowing for the roof to be opened that night.

The final consideration is the most basic - fan comfort. Day games are often played with the roof closed not because of the air temperature, but because of the sun. Bank One Ballpark is one of the few baseball venues whose field sits directly north-south. The intense sunlight makes conditions in the upper level uncomfortable even on days when the temperature is in the 80's. The decision whether to open or close the roof is ultimately based on what is best for all fans in attendance.

A hotline is available for fans to call in and get that day's "roof forecast". The number is 602-379-ROOF (7663).

THE FIELD

The playing field at Bank One Ballpark consists of Bull's Eye Bermuda, which has proven to be the best suitable grass for a facility with a retractable roof. A sign of that suitability is the fact that last season, 4,000 square feet of turf was replaced.

Even though more than half of the Diamondbacks' games are played with the roof closed, the turf receives sunlight at every opportunity. On game days, the roof remains open into the afternoon to allow maximum exposure. When areas of the field receive little natural sunlight, large incandescent growth lights provide a substitute.

A visible feature of the field takes fans back in time almost 100 years. There is a dirt path between the pitcher's mound and home plate, reminiscent of the paths seen in very early pictures of the game.

The path is actually symbolic of the Bank One Ballpark experience - The best of baseball history and tradition displayed in a setting that features all the modern conveniences.

KEEPING COOL

Midway through the 2001 season, the Ballpark became the beneficiary of the new Northwinds cooling system designed for highly populated facilities in Downtown Phoenix. The Northwinds system site is located directly south of the Ballpark.

The unique aspect of the system is that, while conventional cooling systems use cold water, the Northwinds system uses ice, which is produced on site during the overnight hours. The system starts with a base of three million pounds of ice. On a typical summer day, with no Diamondbacks game schedule approximately one million pounds will have to be reproduced. On a scheduled game day, the figure jumps to two million.

With the new system, the time needed to cool the Ballpark is reduced, allowing more time for the roof to remain open, which in turn allows more sunlight on the grass.

SEATING AND TICKETS

Sightlines in Bank One Ballpark are second to none. More than 80 percent of the seats are inside the foul poles, and there is no upper deck around the outfield. What's more, the seats down the foul lines beyond the infield are slightly canted toward the infield so that no fan will have to twist his or her body to look toward second base and the pitcher's mound.

All lower-deck seating is directly accessible from the lower concourse, which is at the same level as the outside pedestrian entry plazas and gates. The concourse itself is open to the playing field so fans can stay in touch with the game while visiting the concession stands, merchandise stores or other amenities.

The Infiniti Diamond Level provides exclusive locations and amenities. Lounges and dining areas serving approximately 4,400 club seats are featured. Above the club seats are 69 private luxury suites, which offer the utmost in comfort and catering.

The upper concourse seats approximately 20,000 fans. Escalators on the west side of the Ballpark can take fans to either of the upper levels.

VERSATILITY

Primarily known for baseball, Bank One Ballpark has hosted a wide range of events in its 7 years of operation.

The list includes concerts, religious convocations, the Arizona National Boat Show and two annual motocross events. The Ballpark has also served as the site of the Fiesta Bowl National Band Championship each of the last five years. The Ballpark was also the site of the first-ever outdoor college basketball game, as Arizona State's women's basketball team hosted Tennessee on December 27, 2000.

Bank One Ballpark also serves as the home of college football's Insight Bowl. Operated by the Fiesta Bowl, the event brings together representatives of the Big East and Pacific 10 Conferences. This past December 28, Oregon State defeated Notre Dame, 38-21, before a record crowd of 45,917.

MASTERCARD POOL PAVILION

The MasterCard Pool Pavilion has undergone a facelift for 2005.

After 7 years and over 20,000 visitors, one of the most popular features of Bank One Ballpark has a new look, courtesy of Brian Morris and WE FIX UGLY POOLS. The new pool will feature a more functional use of space, allowing for greater flexibility and additional areas to view the game.

The pool and spa sit nearly four feet above the ground, allowing fans in the pool to enjoy an unobstructed view of the action on the field. Natural stone finishes, including canterra and flagstone create the look and feel of an Arizona backyard. The Pavilion also features a new private bar area, plasma televisions and plush patio seating.

The remodeling project, which included a complete demolition of the original pool, was completed in 6 weeks.

Located behind the outfield wall in right-center, the MasterCard Pool Pavilion sits 415 feet from home plate. This, of course, means home runs will occasionally find their way into the Pavilion. When a Diamondback homers into the Pavilion, water cannons fire streams of water 30 to 35 feet into the air.

For the trivia buffs, we offer this note: the first player to homer into the MasterCard Pool Pavilion was Mark Grace. He hit the noteworthy home run as a member of the Chicago Cubs on May 12, 1998.

FOOD

You name it, and you can find it at the nearly quarter mile of concession stands in the Bank One Ballpark concourses, but the dining experience begins before fans go through the Ballpark gates.

Fans entering the Ballpark through the main gates will notice Sliders, located on the west side of the Ballpark Plaza. Sliders features a traditional menu of sandwiches, salads and pizza, and is a popular pre and post-game destination.

Among the concession stands on the concourses are those that feature McDonald's, Peter Piper Pizza, Blimpie's Subs and Garcia's Mexican Food. In addition, specialty ice cream, yogurt, smoothies, shaved ice and specialty popcorn are also available. Fielder's Choice offers fans a wide selection of fresh fruits and vegetables.

Both the upper and lower concourses feature Taste of the Majors, a concession stand which offers food items associated with each National League city.

One of the unique offerings is Big Dawgs, a stand featuring grilled foot long hot dogs with a variety of toppings that range from onion rings and French Fries to cole slaw.

Friday's Front Row Sports Grill continues to be a popular year-round destination for Ballpark visitors. Friday's offers fine food and beverages, along with patio seating during Diamondbacks' games. The restaurant is open every day except Christmas.

The upper concourse features two Miller Lite beer gardens, which overlook the playing field.

The Arizona Baseball Club, located in right field on the Infiniti Diamond Level, provides fine dining and a spectacular view for fans with club seats or luxury suites.

PARKING

Bank One Ballpark utilizes the established Copper Square parking infrastructure for its guests. An attached 1,500-car parking garage provides parking for guests on the Infiniti Diamond Level. Away from the park, downtown Phoenix offers some 33,000 parking spaces within a 15-minute walk of the Ballpark. The Diamondbacks estimate that about 15,000 spaces are needed to accommodate a sellout crowd.

Pedestrian access to the Ballpark is with a bridge over the railroad tracks just south of the Ballpark on 4th Street. The bridge is connected to the Ballpark Parking Garage, and is equipped with elevators for the physically challenged.

The Ballpark's Copper Square location also makes getting to and from a game easier. BOB is located minutes from five major freeways. The Ballpark will also be located along the route of the Metro Light Rail system, set for initial construction later this year.

FOX SPORTS NET DIAMONDTOWN

Fans making their way along the Ballpark's main concourse can experience baseball's history and tradition through Fox Sports Net's DiamondTown. A graphic timeline and three-dimensional exhibits give fans 10 themed areas featuring the best of baseball and Diamondbacks history.

PETER PIPER PLAYHOUSE

Kids can find all kinds of entertainment, baseball and otherwise, at the Peter Piper Playhouse, located behind center field. The Playhouse offers fans a variety of games, similar to those found at Peter Piper Pizza locations, and gives fans of all ages a chance to meet Baxter in his home. Baxter appears in his "den" during each Diamondbacks' game to pose for pictures and sign autographs.

MUSIC

As is the case with the overall atmosphere of Bank One Ballpark, music at Diamondbacks' game is a blend of the old and the new. Bobby Freeman provides traditional organ music. Freeman also served as ballpark organist for the Pacific Coast League Phoenix Firebirds before joining the Diamondbacks in 1998.

Fans will find Bobby in the Main Team Shop prior to games, serenading fans, before moving to his press-level location during the game.

In addition to the organ, Diamondbacks' Audio Engineer Eric Hanson "plays the hits" through a variety of current songs. As is the case in many ballparks, Diamondbacks' players are serenaded with their favorite tunes as they come to bat or enter the field. Each player is asked to identify his favorite song, and Hanson works through his vast archives to find the tune.

Grant Trenbeath Head Groundskeeper

Things haven't changed when it comes to the turf at Bank One Ballpark. Very little of it needs to be replaced year to year, and that's due to the excellent work of groundskeeper Grant Trenbeath.

Trenbeath and his staff replaced 4,000 square feet of sod in 2004, just 700 square feet more than the year before. The low figure is a tribute to Trenbeath's continued dedication to his craft. It hasn't gone unnoticed among players, who ranked the Bank One Ballpark surface the 2nd best in the National League in a 2003 poll commissioned by Sports Illustrated.

Trenbeath has been a pioneer in handling grass in a retractable roof venue. He has served as a consultant to other retractable roof venues in Major League Baseball, sharing his expertise on how to balance maintaining a strong playing surface with the need for fan comfort.

Trenbeath has worked in turf management for 12 years, spending three seasons with the Oakland Athletics' minor league affiliate in Medford, Oregon, then joining the A's as head groundskeeper for their minor league complex and spring training for three seasons before joining the Diamondbacks seven months prior to their inaugural season.

Trenbeath brings a player's perspective to turf management, having played baseball while attending Willamette University in Oregon. Grant and his wife, Trina, welcomed Annika to their family on August 16, 2004. They make their home in Chandler.

Diamondbacks in the Community

Established in 1997, before the Arizona Diamondbacks ever played a major league game, Arizona Diamondbacks Charities focuses on the three areas of need: homelessness, indigent healthcare and children's programs of all types, including education and youth baseball field development.

A 13-member board of Diamondback and Maricopa County appointees are responsible for annually approving all grant applications. Gifts are given through two different grant cycles. Program grants (gifts of approximately $5,000) are given to Arizona non-profits for program funding. The deadline for this application is December 15 of each year. The other is our Grand Slam Award, a $100,000 gift that will be given to one Arizona non-profit. The deadline for the Grand Slam Award is November 15 of each year.

Arizona Diamondbacks Charities generated over $1.4 million in 2004 to be distributed before the beginning of the 2005 season. Funds for Arizona Diamondbacks Charities are raised through events such as the annual Diamondbacks Charities Golf Classic, "Shirts Off Our D'backs," Broadcast Auctions and other team related activities.

The Arizona Diamondbacks take great pride in being recognized as a leader in community giving. Our commitment to the needs of our state will continue to be a cornerstone of our corporate mission.

Education

The game of baseball requires athletic skills, teamwork and knowledge of the game. Playing sports also reinforces values of perseverance, character and self-confidence. These skills are important not only in the game of sports but in academics, relationships and life. The Diamondbacks set out to share these lessons with the community by hosting events and programs to remind youth and adults of the importance of education and setting goals.

Luis Gonzalez's "Kids Going Gonzo For School"

Luis Gonzalez and the Diamondbacks rewarded economically disadvantaged urban students for attendance, effort in school, and living by "Gonzo's Ground Rules." Partnering with Communities In Schools of Arizona and Teach for America, this program is also designed to support and develop quality teaching in areas of need. More than 120 classrooms and over 3,200 students were invited to attend a Diamondbacks game. Each child receives a T-shirt, a free meal from Blimpie and milk from Shamrock Farms. In addition, a lucky group of 50 students have the opportunity to meet Luis prior to the game and participate in an on-field pre-game ceremony.

Read Your Way To The Ballpark

Since 2000, Arizona Diamondbacks Charities and The Arizona Republic joined with 13 public library districts and 46 individual libraries in Maricopa County to present Read Your Way To The Ballpark, a summer reading program for children and their families. More than 90,000 kids participate in the program annually, which features a game board with incentive points as you start at your library and end up at the BOB. Kids ultimately work toward winning a free ticket to a Diamondbacks game.

"Cover To Cover" Reading Program

This program is based on the Diamondbacks' goal to encourage kids to "finish what they start" and more specifically that children develop a commitment to, and passion for, reading. Each season, 1,400 students from 12 schools statewide participate in the program. The Diamondbacks host each school for a game, treating them to luxury bus transportation, a free meal, an autograph, a game ticket and a T-shirt.

Spring Training for Special Pre-School Athletes

More than 500 special-needs pre-schoolers participate in this event which features twelve baseball oriented training stations hosted by Arizona Diamondbacks and Arizona State University ballplayers in addition to Major League Baseball Alumni. Each child receives a medal of distinction presented by the Diamondbacks.

Bike to BOB

The Diamondbacks know the importance of wearing a helmet when at bat and when on a bicycle. As part of a bike safety educational campaign, the Diamondbacks and Maricopa County's Clean Air Campaign host "Bike to BOB" where hundreds of cyclists ride their bicycles from Steele Indian School Park to the Ballpark for a Diamondbacks game.

Holiday Angel Party

The Diamondbacks host an annual Holiday Angel Party at the Ballpark inviting children from local shelters to enjoy games, food and special visits from Diamondbacks players and Santa Claus. In partnership with George and Laura Duerr of Ashley Manor, each child also receives a gift and a nutritious lunch. Additionally, Diamondbacks Charities provides a brand new pair of shoes for each child.

Community Programs

The Diamondbacks sponsor a variety of programs throughout the year inviting members of the community, from children to senior citizens, to share in the excitement of baseball and instill a sense of community pride. Through teamwork, these programs have accomplished various missions that include improving the lives of those who are less fortunate and educating the community of important social issues.

Season Ticket Donations

The Diamondbacks donate more than 8,000 tickets per year to non-profit organizations and individuals who would not otherwise be able to attend a game due to financial or physical limitations. Diamondbacks season ticket holders also share in the spirit of generosity by donating any otherwise unused tickets to the Diamondbacks Community Affairs Department. Through this unique donation program, thousands of additional tickets were distributed to underprivileged Arizonans.

Community Corner

The Diamondbacks teamed up with non-profit organizations and charitable causes to host Community Corner, a program that educates Ballpark visitors on a variety of issues. During home games, the Diamondbacks invite organizations to share information and help raise community awareness about their causes by having fans visit them at the Community Corner kiosk in the ballpark.

Diamondbacks Wives

The wives of Diamondbacks players and front office executives are consistently active in the community by providing their name, enthusiasm and support to many projects and important causes. The Diamondbacks Wives host a series of community events to raise money and awareness for various social issues.

Back to School Clothing Drive

Wives of the Arizona Diamondbacks host an "Undies Drive" each season for disadvantaged youth. Fans donate new packages of socks and underwear, which benefits the Back To School Clothing Drive Association. In 2004, more than 13,650 pieces of socks and underwear were generated, which provided more than half of the Valley's need.

MDA and ALS Broadcast Auctions

The Diamondbacks Wives team up with Arizona Diamondbacks Charities, the Muscular Dystrophy Association and the ALS Association for auctions during Diamondbacks broadcasts. Broadcast Auctions in 2004 raised more than $80,000 for these charities.

Arizona Diamondbacks Charities and Fundraising Events

The Diamondbacks host several fundraising events during the year to benefit Arizona Diamondbacks Charities and the charitable organizations it represents. Proceeds raised from these events go back to the community by providing grants for statewide non-profit organizations focusing their efforts on youth educations and development, the homeless and healthcare for the indigent.

Arizona Diamondbacks Charities

Arizona Diamondbacks Charities was established in 1997, before the Arizona Diamondbacks ever played a game. $1.4 million was generated in 2004 to be distributed, via a grant application process, before the beginning of the 2005 season.

Shirts Off Our D-backs

The Diamondbacks host this annual event during the last regular season home game. 40 lucky fans are presented with autographed jerseys from Diamondbacks players and coaches on field. Two-dollar scratch-off cards are sold throughout the Ballpark raising, on average, more than $100,000 annually for Arizona Diamondbacks Charities and the Valley of the Sun United Way.

Diamondbacks Charities Golf Classic

This event gives participants the opportunity to play golf at the exquisite Superstition Mountain Golf and Country Club. Participants are treated to a one-of-a-kind experience - playing golf with Arizona Diamondbacks players and coaches.

The Diamondbacks Community Affairs department offers a variety of programs for the community. Fan mail and requests for player appearances, donations, and sponsorships must be submitted in writing, addressed to the following:

The Diamondbacks have made a commitment to sharing with the community one of the skills they know best, baseball. Our players' dedication, enthusiasm and respect for the game are visible both on and off the field. Through our organization's community outreach efforts, we strive to revitalize the spirit of baseball and softball to youth in inner cities, renovate fields in underprivileged communities and provide support and training for junior athletes.

"Diamonds Back" Youth Field Program

Arizona Diamondbacks Charities implemented this program for constructing new and rebuilding current youth fields for baseball and softball. The fields are selected by Arizona Diamondbacks Charities based on need, usage, and ownership and maintenance abilities. Upon completion, fields are donated to an owner who will maintain the facility and regulate usage.

A baseball field can bring together neighborhoods and families. It is a place for making friends and making memories. It is a place for learning a game and learning lessons of life. Through Arizona Diamondbacks Charities, the "Diamonds Back" Field Program is committed to supporting and enhancing youth baseball in our state. This program's sole mission is to design and build youth ball fields so that more children can experience the great game of baseball. Arizona Diamondbacks Charities, our Diamondbacks players and community partners such as APS are creating diamonds from dirt, and making a Major League difference in the lives of Arizona's youth.

Execution

Funding for the "Diamonds Back" Youth Field Program comes from corporate sponsors, player participation and Arizona Diamondbacks Charities Youth Baseball Fund, as well as in-kind and donated services and materials. A design and construction team will build fields, led by Nelsen Architects and Summit Builders as general contractor.

An application and selection process will determine most fields. Interested parties must complete and submit a "Diamonds Back" Youth Field application form. This application is also available for any smaller grants for youth baseball and softball needs. To request an application, write to Chris Carlton, Baseball Outreach & Development Coordinator, Arizona Diamondbacks, P.O. Box 2095, Phoenix, AZ 85001.

Fields may include: backstop, full fencing, dugouts, bleachers, bullpens, irrigation, fully turfed playing field, warning tracks, electric scoreboard, scorer's table and storage unit and lighting system. Projects will depend on existing infrastructure, needs and future funding.

Training Centers

The Arizona Diamondbacks Training Centers are a series of traveling youth baseball and softball camps focusing on developing youth baseball/softball skills the "Diamondbacks Way." The camps are aimed at providing instruction in all aspects of baseball and softball to youth, ages 7-16, while continuing to promote the enjoyment, participation and interest in baseball throughout Arizona. The Training Centers run concurrently with school vacation periods, including spring, summer, intersession and holiday breaks.

Little League Baseball District Days

This unique fundraising program was made available to specific Little League Districts throughout Arizona. Little Leagues are given the opportunity to sell group discounted tickets to little leaguers and their families, with fundraiser rebates going back to each league. Participating Little Leagues and their uniformed players are invited to participate on the field at a Diamondbacks game for a pre-game parade, along with a ceremony and check presentation to the district.

Inter-tribal Invitational

To support baseball in the Native American Community, the Diamondbacks host their annual inter-tribal baseball tournament. This event brings together 34 teams from twelve Native American communities throughout Arizona and culminates in a presentation of the tribal communities at a Diamondbacks game.

D. Baxter the Bobcat

Mascot

Ht: 6-0

Wt: 200

Introduced: June 23, 2000

Residence: Baxter's Den at Bank One Ballpark

D. Baxter the Bobcat came out of the bag on June 23, 2000, at Bank One Ballpark. The idea for the mascot came from Brantley Bell, son of Diamondback bench coach and former second baseman Jay Bell, who explained to his dad that the team should have a "BOB" cat as a mascot since the team plays in the BOB (Bank One Ballpark). Jay informed management about his son's idea and the mascot was developed.

Today, Baxter has gained acceptance throughout the baseball world for his athleticism and an infamous "fur" ball. In addition to his numerous game-day responsibilities, Baxter also serves as an ambassador for the Diamondbacks organization, venturing off the field to visit hospitals, schools, community festivals, and corporate functions throughout the Valley and the state of Arizona. During the 4th and 5th innings of every home game, Baxter can be found in his Den, signing autographs and taking photographs with all of his adoring fans. Baxter's Den is located in the Peter Piper Playhouse on the main concourse beyond centerfield.

For more information on Baxter, call (602) 462-6630.

Joe Black

On May 17, 2002, Major League Baseball and the Arizona Diamondbacks suffered a great loss with the passing of Joseph Black, Jr.

He began his playing career in the Negro Leagues and shuffled through various professional leagues before making his Major League debut in 1952 with the Brooklyn Dodgers as a teammate of Jackie Robinson. In his rookie season, Joe made baseball history when he became the first African-American pitcher to win a World Series game and was eventually named the National League Rookie of the Year.

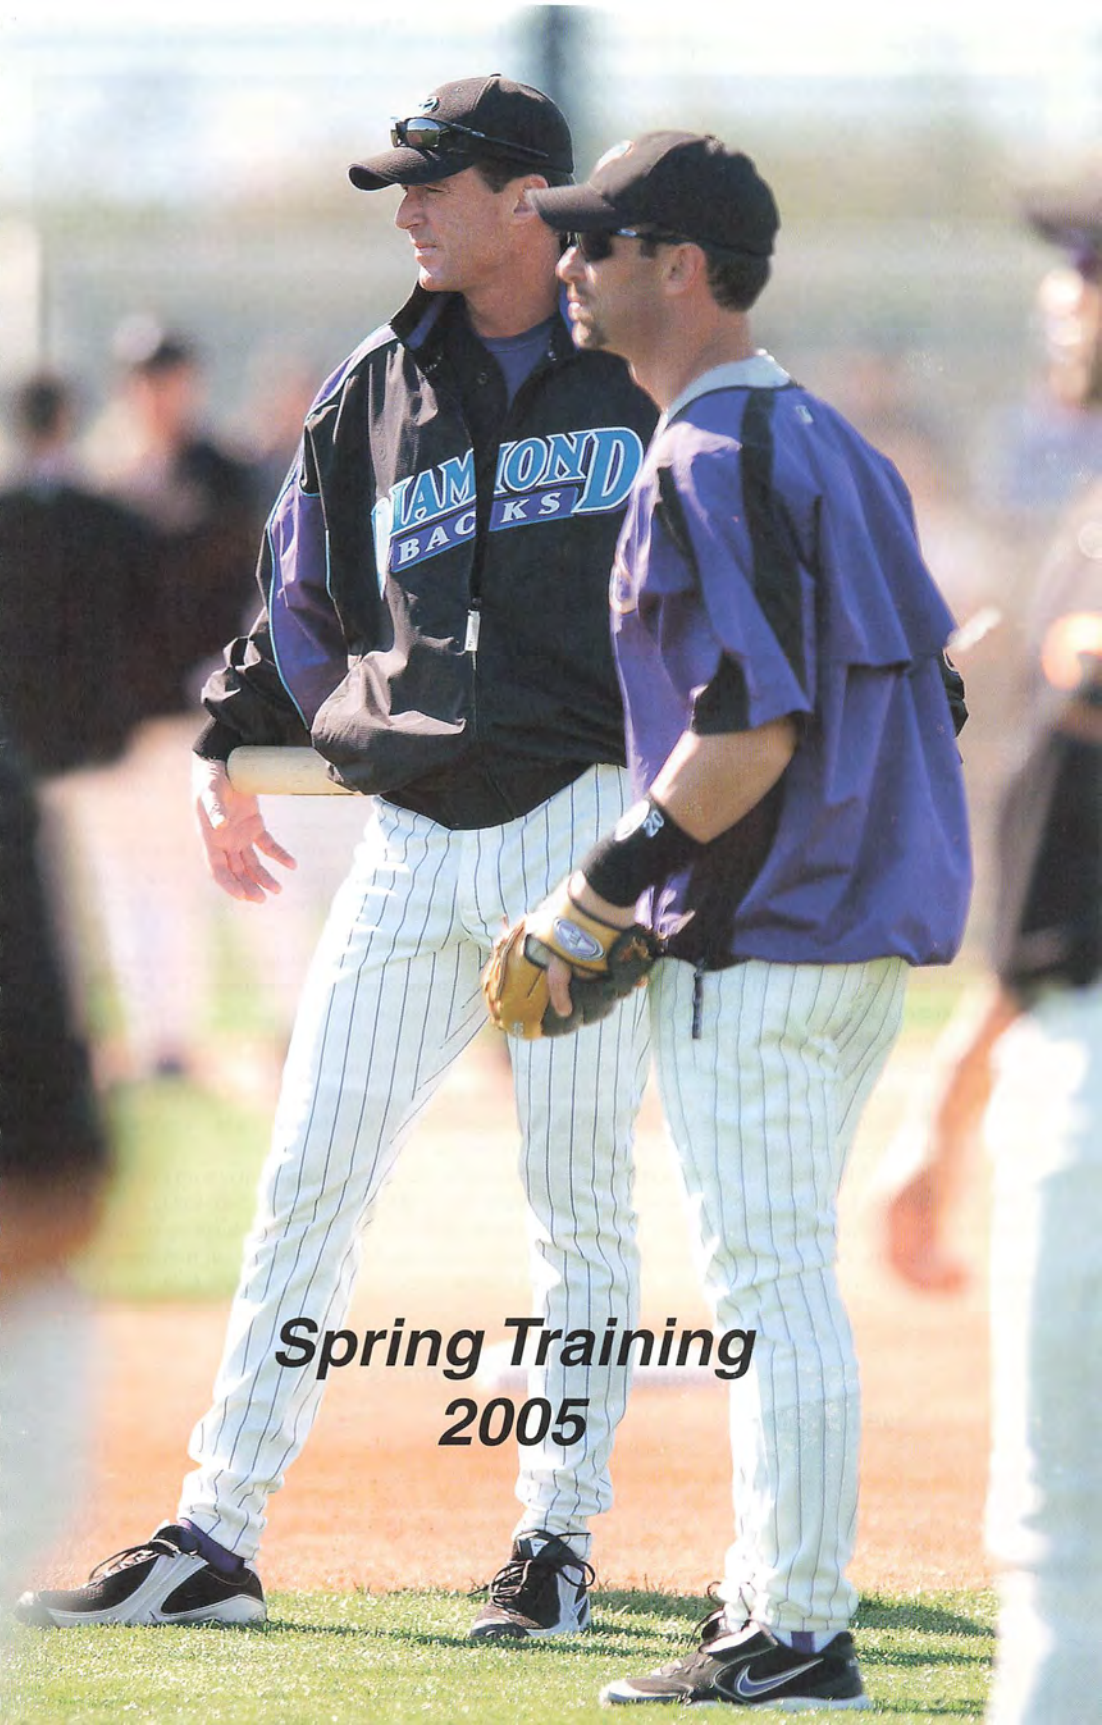

Joe remained an integral part of baseball following his playing days. As Vice President of B.A.T., the Baseball Assistance Team, he dedicated his time to helping fellow baseball players who had fallen on hard times. He contributed his vast knowledge of the game as a consultant to the Commissioner of Major League Baseball. A resident of Phoenix, he worked in the Arizona Diamondbacks' Community Affairs Department, sharing his stories as a guest speaker for numerous community groups.

Beyond baseball, Joe was a pioneer in the business world and worked tirelessly to impact the civil and human rights advancements for minorities.

In remembrance of Joe, a baseball bearing his name hangs from the rafters of Bank One Ballpark, along with the retired number of his former Brooklyn Dodger teammate Jackie Robinson.

The Arizona Fall League will honor Joe's memory with the Joe Black Trophy, awarded to the league's Most Valuable Player. Ken Harvey (Kansas City Royals) of the Scottsdale Scorpions was the inaugural honoree in 2002. Jason Dubois (Chicago Cubs) of the AFL-champion Mesa Solar Sox garnered the honors in 2003. Chris Shelton (Detroit Tigers) of the Grand Canyon Rapids was named the 2004 award winner.

The Diamondbacks and Chicago White Sox share Tucson Electric Park during the month of March, with thousands of fans from both the Valley and Windy City making the trip to the Old Pueblo for exhibition action. T.E.P. seats 11,000 which includes room for 3,000 fans on the lawn beyond the outfield fence.

The Diamondbacks not only have the good fortune of training less than two hours away from Bank One Ballpark, they work in one of the top-of-the-line spring facilities in baseball. Tucson Electric Park is the centerpiece of the Pima County Kino Sports Complex, that also includes six-field practice facilities for both the Diamondbacks and Chicago White Sox.

Tucson Electric Park has a capacity of 11,000, including 8,000 seats in the main grandstand and another 3,000 available on the outfield lawn. Also the summer home of the Tucson Sidewinders, T.E.P. features a major league clubhouse that the D'Backs use in the spring, and clubhouses for visiting clubs and umpires. The home clubhouse also has an indoor batting cage located on the lower level on the way to the playing field.

During the spring session, the Diamondbacks will dress daily in the major league clubhouse at Tucson Electric Park, while doing the majority of their work at the minor league complex across Ajo Way. Once the exhibition season begins, Arizona will take batting practice either on the stadium field, or on a diamond behind T.E.P., where the D'Backs also have a half-field for infield work.

The spring of 2005 marks the 59th year for spring training in the Tucson community, with the Cleveland Indians calling the Old Pueblo home from 1947-92. While the D'Backs and White Sox work at the Kino Complex, the Colorado Rockies took over Hi Corbett Field in 1993 and are in their 12th spring there.

Tucson Electric Park has a symmetrical playing surface, measuring 340 feet down each foul line and 405 to straightaway centerfield. The spring home for the Diamondbacks is located at 2500 East Ajo Way in Tucson.

BATTING CHAMPIONSHIP QUALIFICATIONS: To win a batting title a player must have 502 or more actual plate appearances, the equivalent of 3.1 appearances for each of the 162 scheduled games.

DISABLED LISTS:

(1) 15-DAY DISABLED LIST--The minimum period of inactivity is 15 calendar days. There is no limit on the number of players that may be on the list at one time.

(2) EMERGENCY DISABLED LIST--The minimum period of inactivity is 60 calendar days. There is no limit on the number of players on this list at one time, but this list may only be used when the club is at the maximum limit of 40 players under control. Players on the 60-day list do not count against the 40-man roster.

EARNED RUN AVERAGE CHAMPION QUALIFICATIONS: To win the ERA title a pitcher must have at least as many innings pitched as the number of games scheduled for each club in his league that season and have the lowest ERA.

MAJOR LEAGUE YEAR: 172 days constitutes a full year of major league service.

PINCH HITTING: A player shall be considered a pinch-hitter only if he enters the game as a substitute batter and then only on his first time at bat, which must be before he becomes a fielder. If the team bats around in the inning and a pinch hitter comes up a second time, he will not be considered a pinch hitter the second time.

ROOKIE QUALIFICATIONS: A player shall be considered a rookie unless, during a previous season or seasons, he has:

(1) Exceeded 130 at bats or 50 innings pitched in the major leagues, or

(2) Accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a major league club or clubs during the period of the 25-man roster (excluding time in military service).

SAVE RULE: A pitcher shall be credited with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions:

(1) He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club, and

(2) He is not the winning pitcher, and

(3) He qualifies under one of the following conditions:

(a) He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches at least one inning, or

(b) He enters the game regardless of the count, with the potential tying run either on base, at bat, or on deck (that is, the potential tying run is either already on base or is one of the first two batsmen he faces), or

(c) He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

SUSPENDED GAMES: For the purpose of this rule, all performances in the completion of a suspended game shall be considered as occurring on original date of this game.

WAIVER REGULATIONS: From 30 days after the start of the season, players are available for claiming off waivers in reverse order of standings, at the time waivers expire. Otherwise, players are available for claiming off waivers in reverse order of standings at the close of the preceding season. With respect to trades, no waivers are necessary from 5 p.m. (ET) the day after the scheduled end of the regular season through July 31. Waivers are necessary from August 1 through the day after the scheduled end of the regular season.

How to Figure

BATTING AVERAGE: Divide the number of at bats into the number of hits.

EARNED RUN AVERAGE: Multiply the number of earned runs by nine, take that number and divide it by the total innings pitched.

FIELDING PERCENTAGE: Divide the total number of putouts and assists by total chances (putouts, assists and errors).

MAGIC NUMBERS: Determine the number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

ON-BASE PERCENTAGE: Add the total of hits, walks and hit by pitches and divide by the total of at bats, walks, hit by pitches and sacrifice flies.

SLUGGING PERCENTAGE: Divide total bases by the total times at bat. (At bats do not include walks, sacrifices, hit by pitcher, or times awarded first base by interference or obstruction).

WINNING PERCENTAGE: Divide the number of games won by the total games won and lost.
